Celebrate Max's fifth birthday at the Family Fun Run 5k in Manson

BY DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

MANSON – Max is turning five. What a better way to celebrate his birthday than with the free Family Fun Run 5k on Saturday, September 15 at 9 a.m., at Wapato Point in Manson.

Max the dog became the kids' wellness program mascot five ago after Agustin Benegas and Celeste Thomas returned from different conferences in which both started thinking about incorporating a health program for the children of the community.

From there the idea of having a mascot be the image of the wellness program came about.

Max was chosen to be the ambassador after the kids from the community voted on having the dog as the mascot, the kids had three different animals to choose from and the dog was the winner.

The name Max was chosen after a lot of brainstorming from Thomas and Benegas. They wanted a name that was easy to remember and pronounce in both English and Spanish.

Funded by Lake Chelan Community Hospital Foundation, Max visits schools, libraries and community events to share the important message about nutrition and fitness.

Max teaches kids K-8 good habits, "this program helps start earlier," said Benegas.

Living Well with Diabetes workshop returns Sept. 14

BY DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – The Living Well with Diabetes workshop returns Friday, September 14 at the Lake Chelan Community Hospital.

The program originated at Stanford and it lasts for six weeks, each Friday participants will learn how to better manage their diabetes.

The free workshop runs from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the Hospital Board Room. Celest Thomas and Agustin Benegas will be running the sessions, both of them are certified leaders.

Participants will receive a free book containing lots of helpful information and they are more than welcome to bring a support partner or their caregiver to the sessions.

"This is great opportunity for people to come together and support one another," said Thomas.

This makes the second diabetes workshop offered through the LCCH, it was so popular within the community Thomas and Benegas decided to reopen the course.

"Diabetes is huge problem in the community with very high numbers," said Benegas

Thomas and Benegas will teach about healthy eating, safe exercise, managing medications, preventing low blood sugar, dealing with depression and stress and working with a healthcare team.

Each session focuses on problem-solving, decision-making and coping skills which helps with live planning and accountability, "we want to empower the patients," Thomas added.

"I really saw a lot of progress from people who were in our class, really embracing life and improving their quality of life," said Thomas.

In the works is the possibility of having evening courses and also Spanish ones to accommodate all members of the community.

Those who are interested in taking the course contact Augustin Benegas at (509) 682-8525 or email abenegas@lchc.net to sign up, only 16 spots are available.

From Government teacher to School Resource Officer

BY DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN/MANSON: Deputy Nigel Hunter is the new School Resource Officer for the Lake Chelan and Manson School Districts.

Deputy Hunter has been serving both school districts since the start of the new school year. He has been involved in law enforcement for three years.

"I started in 2001, I started in Oregon, then down to California and back up here in Washington. I was coaching and I was teaching and that was something I really enjoyed, but as I was teaching government I came to appreciate better the role of law enforcement in American society," said Deputy Hunter.

The other contributing factor for switching careers was school shootings. "They continue to increase, they continue to be

City Council gives Planning Commission feedback on important issues

BY DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – On September 4, the City of Chelan held a joint City Council and Planning Commission workshop at City Hall.

Chelan Mayor Mike Cooney opened up the workshop by thanking the Planning Commission for all the work they have done. "We want to recognize the hard work the Planning Commission does behind the scenes," said Cooney.

The evening's agenda was a long one and the Planning Commission wanted some direction from the Council. "This is a chance for us to discuss a lot of different topics," Cooney added.

The following proposals have been examined by the Planning Commission and are very complex. During the meeting Sarah Schrock presented each agenda item to the Council and then Council gave the Planning Commission feedback.

The Shoreline Master Program for short term vacation rentals – currently the ordinance doesn't speak about vacation rentals at all, now the Planning Commission is thinking about locals wanting to rent out their boats. Due to this the Commission drafted a code amendment to the Shoreline Master Program to address those concerns.

Sarah Schrock

The changes include, allowing overnight rentals on boats only in shoreline jurisdictions designed as High Intensity or in Land Use Zoning designated as Tourist Accommodation in the Aquatic Environment. Overnight rentals on boats will be limited to two to 30 days. All Overnight rentals on boats are subject to a Conditional Use permit and will also require special conditions for parking, occupancy, access and length of stay.

To this the Council had different comments, specially on waste disposal and how it will all work with a boat.

At the end it was agreed that talks with Sunset Marina should take place, that way the Commission could get a more in-depth idea of what they do when it comes down to short boat vacation rentals.

Development on former orchard lands addressed in joint workshop

BY DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – During the Sept. 4 joint workshop between the Chelan City Council and Planning Commission a discussion regarding development on former orchard lands was raised.

In response to the ongoing discussion at all levels, the Planning Commission went back to the Subdivision Code to find a way to better address the issue.

The proposal the Planning Commission came up with is a three step process.

1. Identify

2. Disclose

3. Choose a Track – Track 1 Voluntary Soil Testing or Track 2 SEPA

For example, if they answer "NO" to "was the land an orchard before 1950?" they proceed with the subdivision, if it's "YES" it will be required to have a Plat Disclosure which will read "Historical agricultural use of this land may present a health risk due to the possible presence of residual concentrations of pesticides, including lead, arsenic, or organochlorine." The applicant will go on to step three, there they have two different options. The could chose to voluntary do soil testing or through SEPA procedures.

Depending on the results of voluntary soil testing there could be three outcomes.

1. No contaminants – No further requirements, Optional Disclosure note change on plat.

2. Residual levels under DOE limits – Additional Plat Disclosure.

3. Residual levels above DOE limits – Additional Plat Disclosure and deed restrictions, Additional Dust

Mitigation and Limit soil contact through BMPs. See graphic A3.

"To have them voluntary do the soil testing to me is up front planning," said Craig Gildroy.

However it was not clear to councilmember Ray Dobbs, why they are trying to avoid SEPA.

"We are making it easier for the developer to not jump through all of the processes that SEPA has put in place and they are the experts in the area and we are having

Second Senior Living Summit to be held Wed., Sept. 26, at Senior Center

SUBMITTED BY AMANDA BALLOU, SENIOR LIVING INITIATIVE

CHELAN - "It's time to report back to the community," said Mary Murphy, Senior Living Initiative facilitator, "on what has been accomplished with the specific initiatives adopted at the Senior Living Summit held two years ago." In that 2016 Summit, attended by over 100 community members, recommendations were made to:

1) Expand services to assist more seniors to live in their homes as long as possible, such as transportation and affordable home care.

2) Build a Campus of Care that offers many services in one location near town, school, hospital, and a walkable environment, maintaining a sense of community and neighborhood.

Those two objectives became the focus for task forces of the Senior Living Initiative.

The task force working on the first objective, the expansion of services in the home, was headed by Kathy Miller. Under the umbrella of In Home Services, two programs were brought forward: Tender Loving Care for Seniors and the Chelan Valley Community Nurse programs.

The second objective, building a Campus of Care, was headed by Amanda Ballou. As CEO of Heritage Heights, she develops and executes strategy, under the direction of the Board of Directors. Heritage Heights, as local non-profit organization with a 20-year operating history, has undertaken due diligence on investment in this expansion on behalf of the community.

The upcoming Summit is open to the public. To be held on Wednesday, September 26th, from 5-7 pm at the Chelan Senior Center at 534 E. Trow, the agenda will bring the community up-to-date on the accomplishments of both task forces. The Summit has been underwritten with support from the Community Services Council, Lake Chelan Chamber of Commerce, and Heritage Heights.

Tender Loving Care for Seniors (TLC) was modeled after the successful Guardian Angel program established by our neighbors to the north, in the Methow. The TLC program was welcomed under the sponsorship of Chelan Valley Hope. TLC manager Kathy Miller will be joined by coordinator Claudia Swenson in describing the results delivered to seniors in the Chelan Valley. Funded by a grant from United Healthcare and donations from caring individuals, the TLC program has recruited and trained volunteers and has become an active support to seniors and their families, who deal with the many challenges of aging, and an advocate in raising awareness of the needs of seniors who stay in their homes.

A complimentary but separate Chelan Valley Community Nurse program, developed by Michelle Jerome under the sponsorship of the Lutheran Church, addresses more clinical needs and assessments. Both programs assist seniors in accessing other resources. Kathy, Claudia, and Michelle will share their experiences at the Summit.

On the Campus of Care initiative, Heritage Heights has taken leadership. Funded by a grant from the Community Foundation of North Central Washington, Heritage Heights' board of directors selected speaker John Shoemith, AIA, LEED AP, NACRB, of ShoemithCox Architects, PLLC, to guide the pre-design process for a Campus of Care. Sites were identified and feasibility evaluated. The Board intends to make a final decision on the site by the end of this year. The Board, through Amanda, has also reached out to explore potential partnerships with other organizations who have developed similar projects.

Speaker Bryan Ketcham represents Catholic Charities Housing Services out of Yakima, which recently dedicated an affordable housing project in Prosser, consisting of workforce housing combined with independent living. "We continue to seek out models of success," said Amanda.

The Senior Living Initiative's mission is to develop community understanding and support for a clear and shared vision "Build a Pathway of Senior Living and Care in the Chelan Valley." This vision is the foundation for a collaboration of community leaders and organizations to plan, find partners and resources, and develop senior living and care options over the next 15 years. The community as a whole is invited to review the actions that have been taken and to guide the fulfillment of programs to accomplish the vision.

The Senior Living Initiative's mission is to develop community understanding and support for a clear and shared vision "Build a Pathway of Senior Living and Care in the Chelan Valley."

Chelan Fire and Rescue awarded a third FEMA grant

SUBMITTED BY CHELAN FIRE & RESCUE

Chelan Fire and Rescue, in conjunction with Chelan County Fire Protection District 8 (Entiat) and Douglas County Fire Protection District 4 (Orondo) were notified this week that we have been awarded a third FEMA grant in the amount of $829,011. The purpose of this grant is to replace all the Self Contain Breathing Apparatus (SCBA) and spare air bottles in all three departments. This specialized piece of equipment provides firefighters with breathing air when working in an IDLH (Immediately Dangerous to Life and Health) environment such as a house fire filled with smoke or a chemical spill.

"This is a huge benefit to the local fire departments that have been using aging SCBAs with an increasing maintenance cost," said Chief Tim Lemon. Replacing all of the old SCBAs provides improved safety for all of our members and a decrease in maintenance costs. Additionally each district will see a cost savings by not having to replace out of service SCBAs.

Chelan Fire and Rescue has received three FEMA grants in the last three years:

- FEMA SAFER Grant for six firefighters fully funded for two years in the amount of $895,434
- FEMA Regional SAFER Grant for a Volunteer Recruit and Retention Coordinator fully funded for four years in the amount of $947,534
- FEMA Regional AFG for new SCBAs in the amount of $829,011

Total grant funds in the last three years: $2,671,979 actual practical interventions required and if something happened there was really nothing I could do about it ... there was little to nothing that I could do to make sure that my kids were safe in the classroom."

Hunter then wanted to be prepared for any situation in his future he could encounter. At that time he was still young and wanted to give law enforcement a try, "if I have the opportunity to do something different that would still provide for my family I would do that."

In 2015, Hunter was picked up by Chelan County Sheriff Department. "I am very grateful to be working here, because I do believe that this agency has the right idea about the role that law enforcement plays with the general public," said Hunter.

This is Hunter's first time as a SRO and he sees this new position as a new opportunity. He is responsible for the public safety, however Hunter is also there for community support.

So far his experience working for both Districts has been very positive. He claims that both Chelan and Manson Schools are very similar which makes it easier for him to leave one school and go to the next one, he wears the same "hat" at all the schools he monitors.

Currently, Deputy Hunter is working on getting to know the students at the different schools and building a healthy relationship with the staff.

A personal goal of his to understand the culture of both Chelan and Manson and what is like to be from a small town community.

Deputy Hunter encourages everyone to speak out if they sense risk or threat, "we are here to make Chelan a safer place."

On Thursday, September 27 at 6 p.m. at the Chelan Senior Center the City of Chelan will hold a Town Hall Meeting. The lead subject will be whether or not the community is interested in purchasing land on the Butte. Nine hundred and forty acres of land are for sale and Mayor Mike Cooney wants the community's input on the subject. This land could be put aside for future generations, however the city can't do it by itself. The day of the week for the meeting was incorrect in the Sept. 5 edition of the Lake Chelan Mirror.

Chelan Fire and Rescue reduces on duty career staffing in 2019

SUBMITTED BY CHELAN FIRE & RESCUE

CHELAN - Chelan Fire and Rescue will not be retaining the six SAFER Grant Firefighter/EMT positions after funding runs out on December 31, 2018. This will reduce the career duty shift staff from 12 (four per shift) employees back to six firefighters (two per shift), which provides two career firefighter on-duty 24 hours a day 87% of the time. The balance of the time is when we anticipate one of the two member crew will be off-duty on approved leave and/or hour reduction days (Kelly Days). This is the same shift staffing level the department had from 2009 through 2016.

While this is a significant reduction in staffing, CFR is working diligently to reconfigure the remaining staff and solicit additional support from our volunteer firefighters. CFR's goal is to maintain four firefighters on duty as much of the time as possible. This staffing model is heavily dependent on volunteer firefighters. This will enable us to continue to meet the requirements of WAC 296-305 Firefighter Safety Standards for interior rescue and fire fighting. The initial on-duty response will continue to be backed up by home volunteer firefighters and off duty firefighters called back to work.

In 2016 CFR ran 885 calls, in 2017 it was 938 calls, a 5.7% increase over 2016. So far in 2018 we are at 712 calls and anticipate ending the year around 1,012 calls, a 12.5% increase over 2016 call volume.

tent Discovery Plan were also addressed. The plan has two different elements that cover plan and procedures for the unanticipated discovery of cultural resources and human remains.

The Commission also presented a drafted ordinance to adopt an affordable housing program referred to as The City of Chelan Affordable Housing Program. This proposal will establish a committee, they will work with any developer and it will also establish a housing fund. It will also set the criteria for what will qualify as "affordable."

Changes to Accessory Dwelling Units were also presented, Crypto-currency and private road standards were also talked about.

The Planning Commission meets every third Wednesday at 6 p.m. at City Hall.

City items covered in the meeting:

Parks Director Karen Sargeant provided updates on the Lakeshore RV Park projects, bids for the projects opened, Parks will look at bids and will bring their recommendations to the council on September 25.

A new ordinance before the end of the year will be drafted that will require out of town business to have a state license in order to operate in the City of Chelan.

Councilmember Tim Hollingsworth was very vocal during the discussion, he stated, "obviously there was a problem, nobody wants to have people living on contaminated soils."

At the end it was agreed that the both the Council and the Planning Commission will take as much time as needed on this complex issue. However the main goal will be to address it and don't let any developer go by.

Chelan Volleyball to win it all

By DIANA PINON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – Volleyball players from Chelan High School kept themselves busy playing club and beach volleyball during the off season which will bring only positive results to the team this new school season.

“We have quite a few returners and then new ones to Varsity ... everybody else has been here,” said Volleyball Head Coach Jenifer Rainville. Varsity gained a few players, one of them is Morgyn Harrison a freshman who has been able to make the first team.

“I expect the girls to work hard, play to their potential and have fun,” said Rainville. She also believes the team can make it far into the season because they have a lot of capability.

The relationship between Rainville and the girls is great, they understand her expectations and rules “they are very respectful,” she added.

The teams and the coaches are taking this season one day at a time, “each day is a new day and the next big game is the one we have coming up, one match at a time.”

Varsity Captains Lexie Gleasman and Emma McLaren are both confident on the fact that the team’s chemistry will allow them to win games.

“We all get along well, we laugh and are competitive at the same time and we still have fun. We have one big goal at end,” said Gleasman.

This year the team wants to go further than last year, “last year we got fourth in state, hopefully we return and place higher than last time. This year we are a lot of better.” said McLaren.

This is the year of many of the girls in the team, they picture themselves winning it all with their hard work. “We hope to see a lot of people out here ... it is a lot of fun.” added McLaren.

The Lady Goats faced Wenatchee last Thursday. This is what coach had to say about their performance:

“We traveled to Wenatchee to play our first match of the season. We started out strong in set 1 then we allowed our opponent to score too many times in sets 2 and 3. The Goats were able to push through and come out with a win in three straight sets; 25-12, 25-20, 25-19. Lexie Gleasman, our senior outside hitter, took control at the net and led the Goats with 18 kills. We will be back in the gym tomorrow making some adjustments and working one day at a time.”

Lexie Gleasman 18 kills, 1 block, 5 digs and 6/6 serving
 Emma McLaren 9 kills, 2 blocks, 12 digs and 27/27 serving with 3 aces
 Elly Collins 5 kills, 2 assists, 2 digs and 9/10 serving with 2 aces
 Katie Rainville 4 kills and 1 block
 Gracie Benrud 2 kills and 3 blocks
 AJ Gueller 1 kill and 1 block
 Leanna Garfoot 19 assists, 5 digs and 6/6 serving Xitlali Cruz 8 assists, 6 digs and 10/10 serving

Chelan Girls soccer creating a culture

By DIANA PINON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – This new school year the Chelan girls soccer have 30 players, making this the first time ever the school has both a Varsity and a Junior Varsity teams.

So far the Lady Goats have been working on their fitness, team building and ball control in order to compete against other teams in the league.

The team also has new coaching staff. This is Marina Williams first time as head of the girls soccer team and she being assisted by Amaris Longmire.

Both coaches bring great ideas to the team and have the same goal in mind. They want the girls to work hard and have great sportsmanship.

However, Williams and Longmire also want the girls to build a sense of community in the team. They want the girls to become a family and create a soccer culture among the community.

At the same time the coaches are teaching the girls “ownership” by allowing them to be more responsible off and on the field.

The great always has a positive attitude and are always reflecting on the different way they can improve to be better, not individually but as a team.

The girls soccer team had their first home game at Mountain Goat Field on Saturday against Wahluke, winning 4-2.

CHS Cheer Squad

By DIANA PINON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – To hype up Chelan High School is the 2018-2019 Cheer squad.

Coaching the squad is Breanne Hanson, “This year’s group has such a strong work ethic that we were able to jump right into practices with the fight song, learning 4-5 cheers a practice, and preparing new stunts for the season,” she says.

According to Hanson, this year students showed more interest in cheer. The initial meeting 37 showed up, “when it came down to the clinics that lead up to try-outs the numbers lowered to 29, but it still was a huge jump from the previous years that I had coached.”

With seven returning cheerleaders out of the 16 squad members and one mascot the Cheer squad is ready for football season. During the winter 10 squad members will cheer on the basketball team plus the mascot. The basketball squad has six returners.

“The returning cheerleaders have been very welcoming to the new cheerleaders. The new squad members are eager to learn cheers and dances, and have such a strong work ethic it makes things run very smoothly between squad members and the learning period at the start of the season,” coach said.

The cheerleaders are interested in not only cheering but also in mastering stunts and performance dances. “I have very high expectations for the quality of work that will put forth to make sure all game and community performances will be the best Chelan has seen!,” said Hanson.

This year the squad will be hosting a Mini Goat Cheer Camp during the final home game of the season against Riverside.

A young Chelan High School Cross Country Team

By DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – The first couple of weeks of practice the Chelan Cross Country team has been preparing for a new season by running long distances every day.

With smoke still surrounding the area it has been difficult to get the team where they should be at the moment.

“We will have to make some adjustments training wise ... a lot of it is going to depend on how fast the kids can adapt,” said head coach Mark Anderson.

This year the team has a number of returning runners, “I have two kids who ran in the state meet last year ... we are young and there’s a lot of potential in this team,” said Anderson.

Anderson has been coaching Cross Country for a long time and he says that him and the kids get along just fine.

Coach Anderson also sees individual runners have a lot of success this season. The team in general is composed of mostly underclassmen and some are just starting their cross country career so coach will wait and see the growth of the team as they compete at every meet.

Mark Anderson, CHS X-C head coach

Alberto Granados

Regardless of their experience “the kids enjoy each other’s company, so far so good.”

Anderson’s goal for the team is to “get them in a position where they can challenge to race.”

The Goat’s first Cross Country home meet will be held on Oct. 2 at the Chelan State Park.

Chelan football: More returning players than ever

By DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – The Goats are back for another great year of football for Chelan High School under the guidance of head coach Travis Domser.

The team has been working hard for the upcoming season. “We’ve conditioned like never before, we got accountability like we never before, we got guys that want to be here, they are excited to go out and show their skills,” said Coach Domser.

This year the expectations are pretty high since the team has a lot of returning players. “We have a lot of returning offense, a lot of returning defense. This is a good senior group, we have 22 juniors and seniors which we haven’t had.”

As every year Domser has certain expectations for the team, “when things don’t go our way we respond in a way that will help us win football games, how we respond to that, the coaches and the players will determine the outcome of the game.”

The team is very motivated to making far this season, “we will wait and see who steps up, who makes a big play ... with this group we will go as far as we want to,” said Domser.

Smoke from the fires near by has not affected the team at all, “it is what it is, it actually helps us in some ways. It helps us with making sure we are watching a film and doing a lot of teaching. It helps to make sure we are conditioning and when you are outside you are freed up,” coach explained.

Coach Domser has pushed the team to use their minds and focus more. “We just focus on mentality, it’s about what the players can execute. They know if we block better and tackle better then we got a chance to win the game.”

The Goats are 1-0 for the season. They won their opening game against Brewster 47-27.

Coach Domser’s comments from Friday night’s game against Warden:

“I was proud of our kids and the way they fought a battle all night. It was one of those games that came down to the wire and we were right there. We made one more mistake than them and that’s on us as coaches. I’m excited to see how we bounce back this week!”

Overall it was a great night, but Coach Johanson pointed out there are a few things they still need to improve upon to be competitive in the big games. “Our tackling was a little below par, but that can be expected with inside practices due to smoke.
