Town Hall meeting focuses on Lake Chelan

BY ERIN ROSSELL, STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - Water quality, supply and sustainment was the topic of the City's second town hall meeting, Thursday, April 19.

The meeting included presentations by Mike Kaputa of Chelan County Natural Resources Department, Phil Long of the Lake Chelan Research Institute (LCRI), Marcie Clement of Chelan County PUD, John Olson of Friends of Lake Chelan and Jake Youngren of the City of Chelan. Each presentation touched on an issue or concern for Chelan's proudest asset, it's lake.

Initiating the night's presentations was Mike Kaputa on Lake Chelan's water quality and supply. "What we're trying to do differently," he explained, "in the Watershed Planning Unit and those of us working on water quality, is approach problems (such as irregular data) from a longterm data trend analysis." Using a long-term approach allows for a greater amount of data to be collected, and a larger number of variables to be factored into any data retrieved. Once the data is understood, he explained, the groups will then be able to better come up with local solutions. "We want to take a very deliberate, scientific approach around understanding what's going on with water quality," he stated, "and then if it does look like it's trending negatively, for whatever reason, then we want to be able to respond to that." The major efforts of the Watershed Planning Unit currently include a long-term water quality monitoring program, he continued, "and we started doing annual, monthly sampling over the last couple of years," he added, "with partners who have contributed to that effort." Recently, however, there have been more discussions on the possibility of the presence of aquatic invasive species in Lake Chelan.

The invasive species, including the Zebra and Quagga Mussels, can be transported to the lake on or in other watercrafts such as boats. "It is a point of concern," said Kaputa, "we're not over reacting to it, but it is something we need CHELAN - Fire and rescue commissioners and staff gathered for their regular meeting, Wednesday, April 11 at Station 71.

Initiating the meeting's agenda was Fire Chief Tim Lemon with the Chief's Report. "Response calls from March," he began, "we're up 10 from last year for the month of March, already had two brush fires and assisted on a structure fire in Manson." The district has also participated in three automatic aid calls, he added, as well as seeing eight overlapping calls so far this month. Overlapping calls refer to an instance when firefighters are at one scene and a call comes in for assistance to another scene. "Overall, in January, February and March," he pointed out, "year-to-date, we're up 47 calls from what we did last year." The district has been reviewing the calls to try and understand the Covering the operations side of the department, Deputy Chief Mark Donnell began by discussing staffing and volunteer levels. "The recruit class right now," he began, "stands at up to 30 members, for all three departments of Chelan, Entiat and Orondo." The recruits have completed classroom training and are getting ready to begin field exercises, he said. "Hopefully within the next couple of weeks we will be able to red card certify them," he expressed, "so that they'll at least be capable of doing wildland with wildland season coming." Recruit class graduation is scheduled to take place Thursday, June 14 at Station 71.

Annexation proposals were discussed briefly during the regular meeting. The Chelan Falls and Navarre Coulee annexations are ready to go and talk to the assessors, explained Lemon. Friday, April 20, a meeting also took place with residents of the South Shore area to discuss to go through the process, however are still waiting to hear back from the Knapps Coulee area.

Moving into resolutions, Lemon reapproached Resolution 2018-03, which focused on surplus items in the district. These items include the iPads looking to be replaced by Surface Pros and miscelrequest of Commissioner Phil Moller to allow time for review of the items to be considered a surplus. After review, the adoption of the resolution was passed by commissioners unanimously.

Concluding the unfinished business, was a discussion on the vacant commissioner seat two position. "We've had six applicants on file," said Lemon, "and have copies of those for each of the board members to take a look at and come to a consensus on an individual." Commissioners will have the next month to review the applications with the hope of narrowing down the candidates to a single individual.

Upcoming events for the district include the Commissioner's Conference in Chelan, Saturday, June 2 and the Recruit Class 2018-01 Graduation, Thursday, June 14. Before moving on from calendar items, however, Commissioner Moller took a moment to mention the invitation of the family of the fallen police officer out of Pierce County, Photos by Erin Rossell he explained. "We'll have that family over here to honor him in the parade," he stated, "which will probably end up being a large contingency of police officers."

After completing discussion of the agenda items, Commissioners Russ Jones and Moller opened up a conversation amongst each other, as policy doesn't provide for commissioners to communicate on district related items outside of public meetings or hearings. One particularly noteworthy item included addressing the possibility of moving the time of the regular commissioner's meetings. While no action can be taken during this time, it is a thought that will be further discussed and looked into for further down the road.

Chelan Fire and Rescue 7 commissioners meet for regular meetings every second Wednesday of the month beginning at 4 p.m. The next scheduled meeting will be Wednesday, May 9.

Michele LaRue resurrects vintage voices at NCRL performances

SUBMITTED BY MICHELLE MCNIEL, NORTH CENTRAL REGIONAL LIBRARY

CHELAN - Professional actress Michéle LaRue is bringing her repertoire of stories from America's Gilded Age to several North Central Regional Library branches and the Washington State Apple Blossom Festival stage this spring.

LaRue will perform four stories of her 30 Tales Well Told lineup in what is billed as a story hour for grownups. The four stories are:

Someone Must Wash the Dishes, an anti-suffrage satire written in 1912 by prominent pro-Suffragist and Unitarian minister Marie Jenney Howe, which satirizes arguments against women's right to vote that were seen as accurate in their day but ridiculous today.

Gettysburg: One Woman's War, which views the American Civil War from a female perspective, introducing Mary Bowman on the day the battle of Gettysburg began. The program dramatizes three tales from novelist Elsie Singmaster's classic Gettysburg: Stories of the Red Harvest and the Aftermath published in 1913.

The Apple Tree, a comic celebration of spring and poor housekeeping. In this story written in 1903 by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, the collision of two very different couples — one obsessively good at housekeeping and the other not so much reveals the true value of a glorious spring day.

A Pair of Silk Stockings, the story of Little Mrs. Sommers, who is swept away by an impromptu holiday from home.

All four stories harken back to a time when literature was written for the ear, LaRue explained.

"Long before radio, family members and friends shared stories aloud - reading by kerosene lamp in farm houses, or by gaslight in Victorian parlors," LaRue said. "Over the years, during my performances, I've seen contemporary adults light up like children hearing a new story. Despite TV and films, the internet and special effects, we still crave to simply listen to a tale well told."

LaRue will perform at the following locations:

• April 26, 6 p.m., Twisp Public Library, The Apple Tree and A Pair of Silk Stockings.

• April 27, 3:30 p.m., Pateros Public Library, The Apple Tree and A Pair of Silk Stockings.

Next to present information and concerns was Phil Long with the Research Institute. Leading into his presentation, Long presented an outline addressing threats to Chelan's water quality and how our lake is comparable to other lakes of significance in the western United States.

"We are the third deepest lake in the U.S.," Long began, "but we lack this long-term monitoring." There were no water quality measurements performed between 2007 and 2016. The LCRI was created in 2016 to ensure that gaps, such as the nine years previous, didn't occur and to promote a forward-moving exploration and research program.

Long's presentation also addressed a lingering question for many in the community. With such a pristine lake, why such concern that it warrants a town hall meeting? "What are the threats to our high-water clarity, low nutrients, low algae and low contaminants," he began, "I've broken these down into two categories," he continued, "natural, things we don't control, and human impacts, which we potentially have a chance at controlling." Under natural threats, things such as forest fires, pollen deposition and bird defecation were among the several concerns. On the man-caused side of threats, concerns such as leaky or failed septic systems, fuel hydrocarbons Phil Long, Lake Chelan Research Institute from powered-watercrafts and boats, as well as invasive species were included.

Studies conducted currently to gather information on the lake by LCRI include monthly water clarity testing, monthly nutrient concentration testing, temperature measure at 15-minute intervals and key water quality parameter readings at 15-minute intervals which include temperature, electrical conductivity, dissolved oxygen, turbidity, chlorophyll and blue-green algae.

Marcie Clement, with the Chelan County PUD, provided a presentation on the utility district's hydroelectric project. The project, she explained, comes with licensing requirements, governed by the Federal Power Act and Clean Water Act. The conditions for attainment of the license require protection, enhancement and mitigation of the water. The PUD participates with several other water-quality orientated groups throughout the valley, including the Watershed Planning Units in Lake Chelan, Entiat and Wenatchee, as well as Fishery Forums with Chelan River and Lake Chelan.

Access to the lake was next to be addressed during the informational presentations. John Olson, of Friends of Lake Chelan, began by voicing the group's concerns on the impact from the everlooming population growth and the current and future lack of access to the lake. His presentation pointed out that no individual or entity can say exactly how many people are coming into Chelan. The Lake Chelan Community Open Space Vision was referred to by Olson, utilizing several of the statements as to the growing concern for the lack of public access to the water. The last segment of open land with lake access, he emphasized, is the three fingers. "Only the lower end of the lake provides any physically accessible shoreline," explained his presentation, "of that shoreline, 99 percent is privately owned, yet the public owns 100 percent of the lake."

Lady Trojans face dual defeat from Lake Roosevelt

SUBMITTED BY HEAD COACH HAYLI LIBBEY-THOMPSON AND ATHLETIC DIRECTOR ERIC SIVERTSON

MANSON - The Manson Trojan softball team hosted Lake Roosevelt on Thursday, April 19, for a rare weekday double header and dropped both games to the tough Raider team.

1st game: Manson 2- Lake Roosevelt 28

Alexis Stotko pitched the first game- ending with 1 strike out and walked 2.

Scoring runs for the Trojans were Paige Schoenwald and Melanie Marin.

Alexis Stotko and Veronica Lulo each marked up hits in the game.

Paige Schoenwald also had a great catch on an infield pop fly and Mara Vargas had a great instinctive catch on a hard-hit line drive to third.

2nd Game: Manson 1 - Lake Roosevelt 34

Lexie Stotko pitches a strike to a Lake Roosevelt batter, Thursday, April 19 in a double-header against the Raiders. The Lady Trojans were defeated in both games with final scores of 2-28 and 1-34.

Salena Joiner had the Trojan's first hit of the second game and Melanie Marin added two more for the Trojans.

Josephine Thompson scored the only run of the game.

The Defensive highlight for the day was the Trojan's first double play of the season- a nice play initiated by shortstop, Josephine Thompson, to Mara Vargas at 2nd, who threw to catcher, Salena Joiner, for the second out.

Bryanna Harris also caught a pop fly to end the game for the Trojans.

Oliver Ellingson intercepts a throw-in by the Bears, denying Brewster an immediate shot attempt.

Manson Trojans face back to back losses

Slide into third place in league

SUBMITTED BY HEAD COACH JARED MUMLEY AND ATHLETIC DIRECTOR ERIC SIVERTSON

MANSON - The Manson Trojans fought hard against the Brewster Bears on Tuesday night, April 17, at the Manson Athletic Complex (MAC) but fell to the league leaders 4-1. Brewster began the game with complete domination of the midfield with frequent forays into the Manson box. Sophomore goalkeeper Arturo Valdovinos was called into action early with a couple of fine saves. The continued pressure, however, was too much for the Trojans to handle and the Bears took the lead 15 minutes into the first half. Brewster continued to pressure Manson and dominate possession and were rewarded with two more wellworked goals before halftime. Manson began to play themselves back into the game in the second half, but it was the Bears who struck again. This time off of a corner kick that the Manson defense allowed to slip through the box where the Brewster defender was waiting to slam the ball home.

Down 4-0 however, Manson never gave up and were rewarded for their hard work and discipline with a goal by junior Jose Vasquez who was played through by Eberardo Aguilar and calmly finished past the Bear's goalkeeper. In the end Manson loses its second league match, once again to Brewster, but maintains its position in second place.

Hosting the Liberty Bell Lions, Thursday, April 19, the Manson Trojan Boys soccer team fell to their second consecutive league loss after a thrilling penalty kick shootout with the Mountain Lions of Liberty Bell. The game was tight in the first half with both teams taking turns controlling possession but little in the way of goal scoring chances. It was a physical and tense and Liberty Bell came to play. In the second half Manson began taking a little more control and took the lead after a good pass from Eduardo Escelara to Eberardo Aguilar who finished smartly into the bottom left corner. The game was firmly under Manson's control but with fifteen minutes to go Liberty Bell found themselves in the Manson box and after a few hesitations by the Manson defense the Mountain Lions managed to get the ball in the net to tie the game. Manson pressed on for the winning goal, but it wouldn't come which led to two scoreless periods of overtime followed by a penalty shootout. After five shots for each team the shootout moved to sudden death. Liberty Bell won the game on the 10th kick of the penalty shootout. Manson still remains in control of their own playoff destiny but have three difficult league road games ahead.

Saturday, April 21 at Bridgeport. The Manson boys' soccer team fell to their third consecutive league defeat on the road to Bridgeport. The Mustangs of Bridgeport dominated the game from start to finish with tenacious defending and energetic runs which caused the Manson Trojans trouble all day long. Manson had difficulty getting the ball in the attacking half before the Mustangs would quickly steal away the ball. Bridgeport scored about 15 minutes into the first half and then again with about 20 minutes to go in the game. Manson got one goal back through Sophomore Abelardo Sanchez but it was too little too late as Bridgeport successfully defended their home field.

CHELAN Track and Field Submitted by Head Coach Erik Romero

At Easton, Saturday, April 21 This past weekend we had a different format for our track athletes. Not only did they wake up a little earlier than normal, about 4 am or so, to catch a bus at 5 am for a trip over the mountains to Snohomish for the Nike Eason Invite. We also didn't take our normal amount of athletes Most Saturday meets are two entries per event. At Snohomish it was by QUALIFYING marks, heights, distances, etc. That is why we only had 12 kids attend the meet. The athletes were as follows

Ava Dickes - 400,200 and 4x100 Molly Oswald - 100, 400, 4x100 Matea Ivory - 200, 4x100 Lucy Bordner - Triple Jump and 4x100 Maritza Blanco - Shot Put Hailee Huddleston - Javelin Ashlyn Sanderson - 1600 Meter Run Ella Polley - 1600 Meter Run Olivia Nygreen - 800, Discus Emilie Barnes - 800 Bert Mendivil - Long and Triple Jump Chris Knight - 3200 Meter Run With a long morning and Seattle type weather, our athletes didn't perform as well as they wanted too. But we did compete well and were able to face some very tough competition Molly Oswald started us off in the 400 meter dash with a Season Best of 1:04.42 and then she ran the 100 meter dash shortly afterwards. Her time of 13.78 was a little off from her forward to competing in some upcoming meets against some good distance runners.

As you can read, we had some success in some areas, but not satisfied with the result. Our team walked away with perspective of what it takes to be good program. We look forward to a tough week of practice with some rest in between to help out our MS Program run their home meet. Saturday, April 28th, we get to travel over the mountains again. Except this time, we will be heading over Snoqualime Pass rather than Stevens. We will be attending the 10th annual BCS meet at Interlake HS. Thank you again to the parents that made the trip over and we look forward closing out the month of April on a strong note

At Tonasket, Tuesday, April 17 I want to first off say thank you to every one who came up to Tonasket to root and cheer on our kids in what started out as an overcast day then slowly turned to a chilly night in Okanogan County. We had one of our small track meets with 8 other schools in attendance. These types of meets allow our students to compete in multiple events and also travel around the NCW area. We had to get a second vehicle because we had some many kids traveling on our bus. This is a good problem to have for a Track Coach. We had lots to be excited about. As we start gearing toward our League and District meets in May, we had a lot of kids in some marguee events. We had a good performance from Bert came in at 1:10.04. We had a number of girls compete in the 1600-meter run. Emilie Barnes, Ashlyn Sanderson, Geo Granados, Olivia Nygreen and Mieraya Garibay all ran well as individuals and also as a team. Geo placed 7th and her time was 6:41.32, Olivia Placed 5th with a time of 6:20.87, Barnes placed 4th with a time of 6:15.14 and Garibay placed 2nd with a time of 5:59.39 Nice job girls

Our team of Ava Dickes, Matea Ivory, Elly Collins and Molly Oswald placed first in the Girls 4x200. Their time of 1:51.19 is a good time with hand offs to work on.

- Our girls 4x100 team also placed first - Lucy Bordner, Matea Ivory, Molly Oswald and Elly Collins also placed first... Their time of 53 seconds is a good time.
- We had a number of kids across the board get some good marks and we are looking to take a small group to Snohomish for the NIKE Eason Invite. This meet not only do you have to be top two on your team for some events, but you also must meet specific standards for your event. We look forward to a good weekend for kids and also so much needed rest as well for some kids this weekend.
