County, SSVF partner to help veterans in NCW region

CHELAN VALLEY - Number 22. For people that work for a veterans affair system, that number hits home. "We know that 22 veterans commit suicide daily," Veterans Service Coordinator for Chelan County Tony Sandoval said after a meeting at Apple Cup Cafe on Thursday, July 13. "There are two demographics, the younger generation coming back from war, and also veterans on the tail end of the Korean and Vietnam war. They all have a lot of pain and (are) not getting much help, but if vets get plugged into a VA system, that number goes down to 10."

Giddy-up

Moments to last a lifetime: A journey home

By ERIN ROSSELL, STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - A homecoming story that could make author Nicholas Sparks himself envious are few and far between, but for Chelan native Brooke (Jenkins) and her husband Zachary Dodson, the storyline wrote itself. The journey began with a surprise homecoming planned by Brooke's parents, Keith and Deena Jenkins, and husband Zach. However, as we all know, life does not always work out as planned. And sometimes, the obstacles life throws at us make the small blessings even sweeter.

As part of the Army, Zach is stationed out of Ft. Lewis, Wash., but has been deployed in the Middle East for the past nine months. While on deployment, Brooke came home to Chelan to stay with her parents. In the midst of moving her belongings from Ft. Lewis to Chelan, the Dodson's realized that there would soon be a new edition to their new family.

After nine months of deployment, Zach and in-laws Keith and Deena planned a surprise homecoming for Brooke, to have her husband home for Christmas and the birth of their first child. Originally, the plan had the father-to-be arriving Wednesday, Dec. 20. Zach boarded the plane Tuesday, Dec. 19 and was on his way home when, half way across Saudi Arabia, the pilot came across the intercom, explaining that a flap had broken on the plane and it was necessary to turn the plane around. The delay lasted exactly 24 hours said Zach.

Once he landed in Baltimore, he ran into yet another 24-hour layover. "I was on the phone trying to get my flight bumped up," explained Zach, "when mom (Deena) called. I figured I'd just call her back," he laughed remembering the moment. "I got my flight bumped up and called her back," he added, "she told me 'Brooke's gone into labor, we're heading to the hospital.'" As he sat in the Baltimore airport, with his wife hundreds of miles away in labor, he was on his phone, coaching the exhausted Brooke through labor using video call, Deena explained. "It was easier having him at least be able to video," Brooke expressed, "because it at least felt like he was in the room. Mostly because my

Ridgeview Place: Ready to redefine lives

By ERIN ROSSELL, STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - Ridgeview Place is making great strides in establishing not just a home, but a life and family for those with special needs. With the build reaching completion in August, and now being fully furnished, the home is ready to be filled with roommates. "The structure itself is just the beginning of the story," stated Ridgeview Place Creator Al Lorenz previously, "the meaning and purpose come from the people, the relationships, and the involvement of the community ... as we go forward, we are building the systems to make each day go smoothly, hiring staff, and creating exceptional employment for the residents."

Part of the exceptional employment offered to the residents is the opportunity in a share of Lakeline LLC, which assembles and distributes pistol accessories. As each new resident buys their quarter share in the home, they will also be purchasing 25 percent of the business as well. "It's a six-digit income for them (the residents), so they're in the upper percentage," explained Lorenz, "as owners of the company, what it should go into is their trust. Most of their compensation will be paid as dividends on their stock, which can go right into their trust and not affect their benefits." With Supplemental Security Income (SSI) if you're over a certain income limit, it comes directly out of your benefits "one-for-one", benefits that go toward paying for caregivers and other necessities, (so) "if you're making normal wages than it's hardly worth it, that's why we set this up, where the residents here own the company," he explained. Lorenz also explained why the choice for pistol parts, as people have asked, "they're small and we can sit around the table and put it together," he said, "so, we can involve four or five people easily, and we can set it up to what people can be successful at, and we can define tasks and they get a lot better at it." The accessories for pistols that are manufactured and shipped are small, "so that makes it practical, and we can do a lot of business out of that sized space." The income earned through the business would be applied to the resident's third-party trust, and the 25 percent share of the house would work the same way.

The house is also a LLC and each resident, once filled, will own 25 percent of the house. "By owning the house ... that's what keeps it from being a group home or an adult home," Lorenz explained, "where you have DSHS and a lot of overhead in dealing with that. We exceed all their requirements, but we don't want to do all the reporting and stuff, and we don't have to ... this takes all the regulations out of it." This in-home care method is similar to an elderly person receiving care in their own home. "Those regulations are there for a reason ... there was an issue with investors buying a bunch of dumpy old homes, putting some elderly people in there, and had standard care in a firetrap," he stated in regard to state regulations on adult homes. "So, this is a eyes were closed the entire time," she joked, "I was just so tired, but it really felt like he was there even though he wasn't." Deena glowed while expressing the moment, "it was amazing, it was just such a gift to be able to be there for her and support her and be there where he couldn't be and find ways to include him the best that we could." Having to turn his phone off to board the plane, Zach sat, waiting for takeoff, when the man sitting next to him on the flight suggested he call his wife one last time. "As soon as I turned my phone on," he explained, "I got the message." The text message included a photo of his just born son laying on Brooke's chest.

Zachary Dodson II was born at a healthy seven pounds and 21 inches on Thursday, Dec. 21 at 2:29 a.m., 24 hours prior to Zach's arrival home. The new family will soon head back to Ft. Lewis to finish out a little over a year that Zach has left in the Army.

different thing," he added, "the families and everyone is involved, there's no third parties in this." The concerns the state would have in a residential care setting wouldn't apply Lorenz explained, "it's not like we're investors trying to make money off this thing, it's a deal for our family members." The families involved will all be on a board, so to speak, making decisions collectively.

Criteria considered for special needs individuals and their families that may be interested in joining Ridgeview Place are very simple and straightforward. "Imagine individuals with developmental disabilities ... having a 'family' of close friends," Lorenz described in a previous article. The home will be comprised of all males in an effort to avoid any complication, "But there's another four acres next door," he joked, "we've had families contact us that have daughters and we've told them if you want to do the exact same thing next door, we'll give you all the stuff, you can go do it and you can build one there for girls and we can work together on the employment stuff." The right individual would not only be male, but also be special needs of some sort, "typical things people have heard of would be like Down (syndrome) or autism, that sort of developmental disabilities," he stated, adding, "and, we're looking for a compatible group, we want this to be a really fun place, and it is a fun place, so not only the residents need to be compatible ... but the families also have to be compatible." The joining of the Ridgeview Place family is a commitment expressed Lorenz, "we'll be dealing with each other ... you've got a couple generations of families that need to get along."

After the holiday rush comes to pass, the search for in-home caregivers will

Chelan Fire and Rescue Chief opens up about Union Valley Fire

Explains intent behind requested false alarm ordinance

BY ERIN ROSSELL, STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – Chelan Fire and Rescue (CFR) 7 Fire Chief Tim Lemon spoke on the recent Union Valley fire and request for false alarm ordinance in an exclusive interview with Lake Chelan Mirror staff.

Tuesday, Dec. 26, just before 10:30 p.m. Rivercom received a call from a male resident in the Union Valley area of Chelan, stating he smelled smoke and his bedroom door felt hot. Due to physical limitations, the man was unable to get himself and his dog out of the back bedroom, where he was calling from. "We had a couple deputies in the area that were able to respond," explained Lemon, "the deputies got there first and they were able to get the man out his bedroom window." Within 12 minutes the first fire unit arrived and "initiated a transitional attack," he stated, then clarified, "meaning they knocked down all the outside fire then moved inside and knocked down all the inside fire."

Within 24 minutes of the first fire engine's arrival, the fire was brought under control according to the release provided by CFR 7. While the fire was being controlled, EMS arrived and evaluated the gentleman, then shuttled him to the hospital where he was admitted overnight, Lemon said, "the guys went in and gone the dog out without a problem as well, so the dog is fine and the gentleman that was in the house was rescued and he's fine."

The damage was limited to the utility room and is considered re-buildable. According to initial evaluation, the resident had attempted to thaw out frozen pipes with the use of a heating device similar to a commercial heat gun. If you encounter frozen pipes during the winter seasons, "call your plumber," advised the chief, "let them take care of that stuff, they're the experts."

False Alarm Ordinance

The request for a False Alarm Ordinance has been discussed over the last couple of commissioner meetings at Station 7. The ordinance, if approved and adopted, would result in some cost to the residence or place of business that fire support was dispatched to.

"We've submitted it to the county fire marshal and the City, and it's on my agenda to visit with the city administrator after the first of the year," explained Lemon, "so yeah, we would like to see it move forward, but False Alarm Ordinances aren't always a popular ordinance because they create a negative tool to bring about compliance." The intent for the ordinance, however, is not so much for a cost recovery from the charges incurred on each dispatch, but more of a tool for residents and businesses to maintain their system. "They can either pay us a penalty or you can maintain your system and not pay us and have it work the way it's designed," he stated simply, "even if we were to penalize, usually these ordinances would say something to the effect that you can use the same equivalent amount to fix your system and we'll go that route, or fix your system and we'll credit up to the full amount back to you." So, the whole focus is maintaining your system, making sure it works right. The primary concern with the systems is seen more in residences than businesses, explained Lemon.

The department completes system inspections throughout the businesses, but often residential alarms may go faulty and get turned off and left off rather than fixing the system.

HDCA 'unwraps' box downtown

Photos by Erin Rossell

Historic Downtown Chelan Association (HDCA) unveiled the newest aesthetic feature in downtown Chelan on Friday, Dec. 22. The electrical box at the corner of Woodin Avenue and Sanders Street has been wrapped with historical images of the Chelan area. Left to right are: Ron McGaughey of the Lake Chelan Historical Society, Crystal Austin, HDCA Board President Linda Van Lunsen and Jennifer Keitzman, Program and Event Coordinator for HDCA.

Right: One of the four panels on the box depicts early brick buildings on Woodin Avenue, which are still in place today. Another panel shows a building that was built in 1890, where the electrical box now sits. The other two show photos of the town and early settlers of the area.

Chelan was very well built for a typical frontier town. The early brick buildings are still in place on Woodin Avenue.

OBITUARIES

Annie Rose Veroske (Olson) Hendrickson

a pianist for school musical concerts and productions, and loved being on the CHS girls basketball team.

After graduating from Chelan High School in 1941, Susie went to Spokane to attend beauty school for several months. On October 8, 1942 she and her high school sweetheart Ray Olson were married in Wenatchee at her sister Helen's home.

Vicki Eileen was born to the couple in Seattle, August of 1943. With WWII raging, Ray received his draft notice and he enlisted in the Navy. While he served his country on a hospital ship in the South Pacific, his wife Susie and daughter lived in Entiat with her parents.

Later the family settled in the Lake Chelan Valley, and John was born in August of 1947 in Wenatchee. The Olson's built their own home in Lakeside, and Susie spent most autumns packing apples at local apple sheds. In between times, she led a Blue Bird club, played the piano and pump organ at the Little Stone Church for services, and was active member in the VFW and the PTA.

After the family moved to a new home in Chelan, she joined forces with Child Evangelism Fellowship. Susie led weekly Good News Club meetings in her home for several years, helping children have fun while learning Bible stories and how to follow Jesus.

Susie Olson completed her cosmetology training in Wenatchee in 1959, and began her career as a cosmetologist in Chelan and later Wenatchee. She relocated to Wenatchee after her children graduated from Chelan High School. In Wenatchee she provided leadership for the local cosmetologists' organization.

Rose and Roy Hendrickson were married on January 3, 1973 at Calvary Bible Church. They enjoyed 44 years of marriage, successfully blending their two families from their home in East Wenatchee.

While managing her beauty shops, Rose continued to teach Sunday School, work with the Salvation Army, and serve as church organist at Calvary Bible Church. She spent several summers as camp cook at Solid Rock Bible Camp near Soldotna, Alaska and a church camp for youth near Mazama.

Rose was very involved and supportive of her children, Vicki and John.

They have fond memories of a childhood that was lively and fun—picking wildflowers, going to the Lakeside Park every summer day for an afternoon of swimming and frolicking, camping trips with cousins up the Entiat River, scaring neighborhood children on Halloween, growing and canning fruits and vegetables, bringing May Day baskets to elderly neighbors. They would eventually flourish educationally and professionally because of Rose's role as a dutiful, attentive parent—who even baked cookies in the afternoons, so that is what they would smell when they first came through the door after school.

Retirement brought an end to Rose's creative outlets of hairdressing and church music. She then began other artistic pursuits, learning to create beautiful paintings with oils, pastels and water colors. Her work was on display at several venues and she was an active member of Cascade Artists.

In 1993, Rose began her long struggle with several episodes of cancer. She was valiant and uncomplaining as she endured many bouts of chemotherapy and radiation. After she and Roy moved into Colonial Vista, her final battle began and she was well served by Hospice Care.

Rose was predeceased by her parents, her brothers Jack and Fred, and her sister Helen. She is survived by her husband Roy of Wenatchee; brother Bill (Wilma) Veroske of Portland; her children, Vicki (Bob) Carr and John Olson of Chelan; stepson Eric (Jennifer) Hendrickson of Newport, Wash.; stepdaughter Anna (Reverend Donald) Short of Othello; stepdaughter Susan Hendrickson of Wenatchee; grandson Steven Olson Shaw of Chelan; many nieces, nephews and step-grandchildren; and Mercedes Soliman of the Philippine Islands, a dear pen friend Rose acquired in high school.

Rose Hendrickson's memorial service will be at Calvary Bible Church on Saturday January 6 at 10:30 a.m. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Calvary Bible Church, 605 First Street, Wenatchee WA 98801; or Child Evangelism Fellowship, 800 Orondo Street in Wenatchee.

Arrangements were under the direction of the Chapel of the Valley in East Wenatchee.

Chelan Holiday Hoops Tournament brings two nights of action

By ERIN ROSSELL, STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – The Goats hosted their seventh annual 'Holiday Hoops Tournament' beginning early afternoon Wednesday, Dec. 27 and concluded Thursday night, Dec. 28, with a championship match between both boys and girls' Goats against Adna.

The Lady Goats welcomed the Lady Lions, of Concrete, for their first game Wednesday. Chelan successfully sank multiple three-pointers, managed multiple steals and ultimately denied the Lions any points by the end of the first half. With a final score of 64-4, the Lady Goats would go on to play the Lady Pirates, of Adna, for the championship the next night, which the Lady Goats won, blowing Adna out with a final score of 52-25.

In the boys' hoops, Chelan took on the Life

Christian Eagles in their first match-up of the tournament. The intensive battle continued through the quarters, resulting in a victory for the Goats with a final score of 55-53, advancing Chelan into a championship match with Adna. The championship match was a hard-fought, defensive battle for the Goats, who were accurate with shots and aggressive defensively against the Adna Pirates. The Pirates' fast ball handling and on-point shooting, however, proved to be a difficult challenge for the Goats. After four nail-biting quarters, the Goats were unable to make a gain on the Pirates, concluding the championship game with a final score of Goats 47 to the Pirates' 68.

The Goats will travel to the Cascade Kodiaks in Leavenworth for their next games, Wednesday, Jan. 3 beginning with girls' varsity at 6 p.m.

Perfect Engagement Photos

Congratulations, you're engaged. This is such an exciting time as you and your now fiance join together and make plans to share the rest of your lives together.

Green Shoot Media

After celebrating with friends and loved ones, one of the first things you will want to do is capture the moment in engagement photos.

You've most likely seen engagement photos before – the good, the bad and the outright cringe-worthy. To avoid the latter, consider the following elements.

Do Your Research

Choosing a local photographer is key. Look through portfolios and other engagement sessions each professional has photographed.

Keep in mind that many photographers include an engagement photo shoot in their wedding photo package, so you will save in the long run if you book the same photographer for your wedding as your engagement session.

Schedule Early

There are many benefits to snapping your engagement photos as early as possible. Not only will you want to capture the moment while your emotions of excitement are at their peak, but if you have them in hand early, you can incorporate them into your save-the-date cards and your wedding website or publish it with an engagement announcement in the local paper.

Even if you choose to do none of these things, it will be one task complete. This will give you the free time to focus your attention elsewhere later – when you will need to make many decisions very quickly.

Choose a Style

Your engagement photos should reflect who you and your fiance are as a couple.

You, your fiance and your photographer should discuss overall style and location, as well as any outfit changes you might have planned.

Keep in mind how you plan to use the photos, as well as who will want them. Think of what you wouldn't want hanging on your grandmother's wall.

Plan Your Outfits

Stick with styles that complement one another and stay within the same color pallet. You also want to avoid looking like a "matching set."

Many brides-to-be incorporate white attire into their engagement sessions, which is a classic choice and allows the groom to choose colors he is comfortable in, as everything matches white.

Have Key Info in Hand
You should know your wedding colors and have your venue booked and your own gown ordered. All of these items will impact the style and hue of the gowns you choose.

Will you be choosing the gown or have you decided to allow your maids to choose their own (with your final approval, of course)? Do you want your maids in the same style?

Will they be wearing various colors or hues of the same color? Know the answers to each of these questions before stepping foot inside a bridal salon.

Look through many photos before you begin shopping. Also keep in mind, as much as you love them, your friends are not models (unless they are) — so what you see in photos will look different in person and on each individual person.

Consider the Cost
Not everyone is going to have the same budget, and a compassionate bride-to-be will be mindful of this. Unless you are picking up the tab, don't choose a pricey gown. Not everyone views your wedding as the investment you see it as.

Be Flexible
This applies both to your expectations of the dress and your maids. Keep in mind that the color you see in a magazine might be slightly different in person. Be flexible in terms of what is will look good on different skin tones. Remember, as much as you might love a color, above all, you want everyone to look their best.

Nothing can cause more drama than choosing bridesmaids dresses — especially if you have a large bridal party or opinionated attendants.

The smart bride understands that this aspect of her wedding is less about her and more about her maids.

Order at the Right Time
Many dresses require one to three months to ship, so be sure to allow for this. After the dresses arrive, you also will need time for your maids to pick them up (unless they are being shipped directly) and for the gowns to be altered. So don't wait too long before checking this item off the bridal to-do list.

All About the Hair

Green Shoot Media

But don't fret just yet. Follow these tips and tricks, and you are sure to be happy with the results.

Updo — or Down?
Before you choose a hairstyle, you must take into consideration the style of your gown, as well as the overall tone you are hoping to set for your wedding. Your hairstyle should complement these aspects — not compete with them.

Your face shape also will play a role in your overall decision. Just remember, the goal is to look like the

Your hair is a central component of the overall bridal look. What you choose to do with it — and adorn it with — can dramatically change your finished appearance. How you look will be an obvious focus of wedding planning since everyone else's eyes will be on you.

best version of yourself — not someone completely different. So consider styles that don't stray far from your everyday look.

If you regularly wear your naturally wavy hair loose, a simple side-swept bun with a long veil will look more appropriate than tight ringlets and a tiara.

Veils: The Long and Short of It

The veil has become a classic wedding accoutrement and is available in many lengths, styles and fabrics. Consider the style of your dress when choosing a veil; ideally, these items will be purchased at the same time.

Will you want to show off the back of the dress? Stick with a veil of sheer silk netting. Is your dress an ankle-length, vintage chic stunner? A birdcage veil is the likely choice. When choosing a hairstyle, be sure it allows for the veil of your choice to be easily secured.

Headpieces and Hair Jewelry

Another option is to forgo the veil altogether. Baubles designed specifically with your locks in mind are getting more and more popular.

Think golden floral combs, delicate headbands and whimsical bun wreaths. You can leave behind jewels and metals of all kind, and go floral; a wreath of delicate rosebuds or one elegant magnolia bloom can add a breath-taking touch of romance.

An Intimate Affair

Green Shoot Media

Get Married Where You Want

Think of all the gorgeous venues you could either price yourself out of, or not be able to fit into due to the size of your party. Keeping your guest list small gives you more options.

It also opens up venues that don't traditionally host weddings — or charge "wedding prices." Think of places such as an art museum, a zoo or a greenhouse.

Spend More Quality Time With Guests

An intimate wedding typically has less than 75 guests, which means you will have a lot more time to spend with each person.

Walk around to each table and personally thank people for coming. Depending on the size of your party, consider seating everyone at one long table — creating an intimate dinner party atmosphere.

Do More With Your Money

Small weddings can cost less, saving you thousands. Alternatively, you could spend the same amount as you would have set aside for a larger affair and splurge on the luxurious extras you want most.

A smaller wedding can be a way for you to ensure your guests have a night they will always remember, and that you have the wedding you always dreamed about.

Put Your Money Toward Your Future

Your wedding day is a magical day and will most likely always hold a distinct place in your heart. But remember, it is just one day.

Hosting a smaller wedding means you are free to put additional money toward future goals, such as putting a down payment on a house or saving to start a family. Remember, your lives together are just beginning.

A small, intimate wedding has loads of romance to it — as well as many other advantages. While the large wedding has become a staple of contemporary American culture, the small wedding is making a comeback, and for good reason. Before you set your final budget and guest list, consider the following motivations for staying small.

Plan an Elegant Bridal Tea

Spring is the perfect time to host an elegant bridal tea. Whether you are a bridesmaid or the mother of the bride or groom looking to honor the bride-to-be — or are a bride yourself — consider hosting a fancy get-together.

Green Shoot Media

It is inexpensive, chic and fairly easy to pull off without additional stress.

Save on Rental Fees

You can save a significant amount of money by hosting the tea at someone's home rather than at an event center or restaurant. Sunny spring weather means everyone should be comfortable in a backyard or patio setup.

You will just need to be sure to have enough seating for everyone, which might require renting a few tables and extra chairs.

Capitalize on Spring Flowers

An outdoor affair also provides plenty of natural decor. Afraid of rain? Flowers such as peonies are bountiful in spring, and their large blooms mean you only need one or two at each table to create a stunning effect.

Roses also are a classic choice, with many varieties blooming in early spring. Any flower you choose, however, will add feminine flare and complement the tea service.

Use Family China

While the betrothed couple might not be registering for china, you can bet that their grandmothers — and the grandmothers of close friends — did so, still have it and hardly ever use it.

Many women will most likely be happy to contribute to the occasion and let you borrow their settings. Be sure to keep track of which patterns belong to who, and return them promptly and hand washed. (Most china is too delicate for a dishwasher.)

Don't Forget the Tea Alternatives

Not everyone is fond of tea, so be sure to have alternatives to offer to guests.

For hot beverages that also can be sipped out of china, offer coffee or hot chocolate (a delicacy consumed year-round in many other countries), as well as cold beverages such as lemonade, or water garnished with cucumber or mint.

Marriage in the Movies

We enjoy every crazy bridesmaid, every heartfelt moment between a bride and her mother, and the general fuss that goes into and surrounds the wedding planning process.

The following three movies, released 10 years apart from each other, focus their respective narratives on the wedding planning process. They also demonstrate how much has changed — and hasn't — when it comes to planning the perfect wedding.

Father of the Bride (1991)

Is there any bride-to-be more perfect than Annie Banks McKenzie? Yes, the original 1950 version is a classic, but there is something about the aura that Kimberly Williams brings to the role that has every modern girl wanting to be just like her.

Plus, her storybook house was made for a backyard wedding. This movie oozes wedding inspiration, and borrowing ideas from it is basically required.

The wedding-themed romantic comedy is a beloved genre — and brings with it a range of emotion.

The Wedding Planner (2001)

What's a girl got to do to stay married? Wedding planner Mary nails marital issues to wedding choices. While she plans lavish affairs for her clients, her would-be courthouse wedding and classic boat neck dress have a simple-elegance to them that you can't not appreciate.

Even though this is not the wedding she ultimately follows through on, her style is effortless — and brides-to-be will covet her style along with her love affair with love.

Bridesmaids (2011)

This movie gets real with the drama that comes with the typical wedding. Meet yet another Annie, only this one is a bridesmaid who just happens to be down on her luck.

She is the made of honor in her best friend's wedding, where she must plan festivities with the other maids, including Helen, who is seemingly perfect in every way.

Brides, take note. Bride Lillie definitely could have been more sensitive to both friends. Also, don't eat questionable fare before a fitting. Lessons abound in this romantic comedy.

How to Pick the Perfect Engagement Ring

(StatePoint) An engagement ring is at once a symbol of love and commitment and also a reflection of a woman's personal style. For the engaged-to-be who hasn't quite determined the perfect sparkler for herself, articulating an engagement ring style can seem challenging.

That's where a trusted jeweler like Jared The Galleria Of Jewelry can help, where sales associates are committed to helping every happily ever after begin with the perfect ring – and that means taking the time to understand every future bride's personal taste. Here are a few tips to help determine what your engagement ring style may be.

Timeless Beauty

For the woman who prefers a more traditional style (think clean designs and sophisticated patterns), a classic engagement ring may be the perfect fit. A great example of this is the solitaire setting, which focuses on highlighting the gorgeous center stone, offering an elegant statement. A modern take on this classic would be the halo setting where an outline of diamonds encircles and enhances the center stone for a slight twist on tradition.

A Touch of Romance

The woman who thoughtfully selects every accessory to offer the perfect complement to any look knows it's all about the details. An engagement ring with ornate design and intricate craftsmanship offers a distinct, vintage feel inspired by and echoing the most romantic eras of the past. From milgrain finishing to delicate antiquing, these subtle touches offer something extra special – which is fitting for such an important piece of jewelry.

Forever Fashion Forward

The fashionista prides herself on being one-of-a-kind, so her engagement ring obviously has to follow suit. From embracing fancy shape center stones (like pear, emerald, marquise, and oval) to standing out with a gorgeous rose gold or mixed metal setting, there are many options to ensure the engagement ring is as head-turning as the woman wearing it.

If you are still unsure of the style that's right for you – fear not, retailers like Jared The Galleria Of Jewelry can be a good place to go for inspiration. They have a huge selection of the most popular collections and styles and even offer the option for you to design the perfect engagement ring yourself. Every Jared store offers a Custom Design Studio where customers can bring their jewelry dreams to life. Certified diamondologists and master craftsmen work directly with each customer to create a completely original piece of jewelry. Once aligned on the general design, the customer is able to customize from selecting the type and color of metal to deciding on the shape and cut of the diamond. More information can be found at Jared.com.

For what may be the most important piece of jewelry you will ever wear, take the time to understand your options, and find a piece that suits your style completely.

Thank You Card Etiquette

Receiving wedding gifts is an added joy of getting married. Writing thank-you notes for each of these gifts, however, can be a challenge.

Green Shoot Media

This is especially true if you receive a large number of gifts. Not to worry, with this simple guide, your thank-yous will be thoughtfully written and in the mail in no time.

Who to Thank

Everyone who has given you a gift should receive your thanks. Be sure to add anyone who helped in planning, organizing, and decorating or ran errands on your behalf. Your wedding would not have been what it was without help.

Start by making a list. This will ensure you don't forget anyone and makes it easy to cross off each name as cards are written.

When to Send

For every gift you receive before your big day, you have a couple of weeks to post a thank you note. For every gift received at or after your wedding, you generally have a few months.

This is not to say you should wait until the end of this etiquette deadline. Try to send your thank-you notes out as quickly as possible – ideally within the first few weeks after you return from your honeymoon.

What to Say

As a culture, we have always struggled with the best way to say, "thank you." The best way to pen a mass quantity of thank-you notes is to stick with a simple formula, with a touch of personalization.

Start with a simple greeting:

Dear _____,

Then express your gratitude: Thank you so much for _____.

Next, mention the gift by name and add a personal detail. This could be how you plan on using or displaying the gift. If the person has given money, describe how you plan to spend it.

Follow up this sentence by stating when you hope to see the person again, what the person means to you, or just that you're thinking of her.

Finally, end with your regards.

Making it Fun

You can relieve much of your anxiety about the task by making the experience an enjoyable one. Start off by stocking up on some beautiful stationery.

Thank-you cards are items you will need again and again, so you can take advantage of bulk deals without worrying about waste.

Make it an "event." Put on some fun music, pour a glass of wine and pick up your favorite pen. Don't forget to split the task with your beloved.

Rep. Mike Steele relocates to Olympia in preparation for 2018 session, announces legislative priorities

SUBMITTED BY ASHLEY STUBBS, PUBLIC INFORMATION

OLYMPIA - Freshman lawmaker Rep. Mike Steele-Chelan, has closed his district office in Chelan and relocated to Olympia in preparation for the 2018 legislative session. Since May, Steele's district office has served as a centralized location for community members to meet with him and ask questions, discuss policies or simply learn more about the legislative process.

"Hearing from the community is imperative," said Steele.

"This summer, I had the chance to meet with small business owners, farmers, teachers and families to discuss critical policies that will have a direct impact on our community. From water rights and economic development, to funding for public schools, every personal story I hear helps me better serve the people."

Although his move to Olympia will take him away from Chelan, Steele says his commitment to accessibility remains unchanged.

"I especially enjoy hearing from folks when I'm in Olympia.

It helps me stay in step with the local dynamics unfolding each day."

Ultimately, Steele is optimistic the 2018 legislative session will be succinct. 2017 was not only the longest session on record, but it also left two major pieces of business unfinished: a solution to the water rights blunder known as Hirst, and a budget to fund capital projects.

Both will be top priorities for the Chelan lawmaker in the new year.

From now until mid-March, 12th District residents wishing to contact Steele may email him directly at mike.steele@leg.wa.gov or call his office at (360)786-7832. Local residents finding themselves in Olympia are also welcome to stop by the Capitol, but are encouraged to call ahead and arrange a visit.

The 2018 legislative session will convene on Jan. 8 and is scheduled to run for 60 consecutive days.

RIGHT: Steele says accessibility should be a top priority for any elected official.

Like millions of God-fearing Americans, reading the Bible is an everyday path to a better life spiritually, a way to get closer to Him, but did you know that same sacred text hides guidelines intended for the devout to become wealthy! Yes fellow Christians, Jews and Muslims who read the Good Book (and even heathens, Agnostics and Athe-ists) can now take advantage of Pastor Phil's Deemed Holy Guide to Wealth as Prophesied in the King James Bible. For example, did you know that in the Book of Effesians there's one special verse that's worth thousands? Let Pastor Phil explain. This groundbreaking tome reveals what the hieroglyphics really mean if held in a certain light. Pastor Phil all but guarantees your financial wealth will grow by leaps and bounds if his interpretations of Holy Scripture are understood and followed up on using the special divining glass that comes along with this fabulous 111-page book Order your path to wealth and happiness today! Somewhere in the Bible it states the Lord sayeth to "help thineselves to the riches of the earth that I hath provided." • Need help establishing credit after unfortunate choices?

We all have suffered times in our lives when we just couldn't pay our bills no matter how hard we try. Remember that time your wife said the mortgage was due and so you went on a three-day bender with the mail-lady in Vegas and came home with lipstick and booze on your shirt because you knew you had already blown the mortgage money on scratch-off tickets and too many hours at the Legion bar? Well now there's help available to repair your irresponsible lifestyle. Just send $100 exactly, no more, no less, to Dr. Jimmie's Credit Repair and Dr. J will immediately, upon the clearance of your check or money order, send you his credit card verified and solemnified by the Bank of Which-taw. Yes friends, I, Dr. J, feel your pain and want to help. In fact I was telling my wife that I believe my calling in life it to fleecce, er I mean free, the people from unwanted debts and bad credit reports by sending everyone my $100 credit card to help rebuild that thing we all must safeguard: Your good name. Send $100 today to the Bank of Which-taw, PO Box 666, Blue Skies, Arkansas. (Cash accepted)

• Foot fungus? Get Fun-B-Gone today!

Millions of us suffer the embarrassment and social separation caused by foot fungus. A friend of mine served on submarines in the U.S. Navy for 20 years. That man gave his life to serve his country, but when he retired he had to admit this ravaging malady was destroying his love life. Enter Fun-B-Gone! This patented and most assuredly proprietary formulation was invented by that same aforementioned sailor who happens to be - me! That's right folks, I was the one whose first date ended in disaster once the shoes and socks came off. I had to do something. After all, I was flush with bank once I left the sea service. I had to do something with that small fortune burning a whole in my pocket - that meant I had to find a regular squeeze who knew how to take advantage of a man and his spare change, eh? That very night, alone and sobbing in my kitchen, I accidentally spilled some apple cider vinegar into my Jim Beem and voila! Just a 1/2 a bottle later I felt something funny down below - in my toes I mean. The foot fungus I had suffered with for so many years was disappearing right before my bloodshot eyes! I was finally free of that anchor I carried on my back throughout my Naval career. Friends, I want you to also experience the joy of disappearing fungi just like I did. Send $63.45 plus $17.55 for shipping and handling to: Sailor Jack's Fun-B-Gone, PO Box 666, Blue Skies, Arkansas.

Happy New Year! Wishing you and yours plenty of Blue Skies in 2018! ... and "let the farce be with you" me Hard-ees. --Gary
