Chelan Fire and Rescue talks budget, new hires, recalls

BY ERIN ROSSELL, STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – Chelan Fire and Rescue (CFR) District 7 commissioners met Wednesday, Nov. 8, for a regular monthly meeting, as well as a public hearing on the station's 2018 Budget.

After an itemized breakdown of revenue, expenses, and allocations, CFR 7 will be looking at a revenue base of $3,329,000 with approximately $2,457,000 going toward expenses, the end of the year balance for 2018 is estimated to be around $872,000 in the general fund, which is a little less than what was started with this year according to Fire Chief Tim Lemon.

As the meeting progressed into the monthly meeting agenda, Assistant Chief Mark Donnell provided an update on volunteer and permanent firefighter status. In completing the chief exam and interview, a conditional offer has been made to Austin Murdock of Chelan, and comes fully certified as EMT and Firefighter said Donnell. Murdock will be joining the fire and rescue crew toward the end of November, "he was pleased as peaches when I called to offer him the position," chuckled Donnell. In lieutenant promotion testing, Donnell stated that written tests have been completed and are in the midst of finalizing the last portions of the assessments. Those who pass the lieutenant's exam will be placed on a list that will be referred to for future openings and will also be used for acting positions. Starting in 2018, each shift will have a lieutenant and an eligible acting lieutenant. Another highly important topic discussed during the meeting was the emergency

PUD commissioners choose Henderson site for new substation

SUBMITTED BY SUZANNE HARTMAN, CHELAN PUD

WENATCHEE – Chelan County PUD commissioners Monday (Nov. 6) voted unanimously to move forward on plans to purchase property on Henderson Road for the purpose of siting the new North Shore Lake Chelan substation. Fewer than a dozen residents from the Chelan area attended the extended meeting held at 5:30 p.m. at the Confluence Technology Center.

General Manager Steve Wright highlighted some of the questions that the community had put forward in the last few weeks and Project Manager Gary Rice provided some new cost analysis information that was performed after residents asked the PUD to look at some additional site considerations.

Commissioners heard public comment from those who wished to speak. In all, five people talked about their concern with the Henderson site. Public comment was closed and Commission President Randy Smith asked PUD Counsel Erik Wahlquist to provide some guidance to the Board on next steps. Wahlquist explained several options available to the Commission.

Commissioner Smith expressed the Board's appreciation for the many community members who participated in more than two years of engagement to find a solution satisfactory to everyone and expressed regret that turned out not to be possible and a hard choice needed to be made in order to keep the lights on across the north shore. Of the 18 alternative areas studied, the Henderson option has the lowest impact on nearby landowners with minimal cost impact for all PUD customer-

WENATCHEE – Prior to the unanimous decision to move forward with the Henderson site at the Chelan County PUD Commissioner's meeting, Monday, Nov. 6 in Wenatchee, public comments were heard for one last say before site selection came to a conclusion. Public commentary included:

Alex Thomason, of Pateros – "There are cost projections that I feel are not complete ... What is the estimated resell value of the second lot that Henderson is requiring purchase of? What is the cost of the expansion of Henderson Road? What are the expected easement acquisition costs? City Council discusses old bridge, funds, during work session

CHELAN – Council members commenced a work session Tuesday, Nov. 7, at City Hall to discuss capital and special requests.

In discussing capital requests, the Woodin Avenue bridge financial overview was brought into focus. After the previous council meeting, three potential lighting addi-tudes were brought to the attention of City Engineer Jake Youngren. The three lighting proposals included a Ground Fault Circuit Interrupter (GFI) receptacles on each light pole, a LED strip light that would cover the length of the railings, and lighting for the piers. "They all came back more than I would've anticipated, but the one that was of most interest was the (GFI) receptures," said Youngren. "The receptacles would be more utilitarian," added Mayor Mike Cooney, and provided the annual bridge dance as an example for the use of the GFI outlets. The receptacles would cost approximately $55,000 for construction and installation of the receptacles. "This isn't a common application on a bridge," explained Youngren, "but it's a unique situation."

During the work session, councilmembers and city staff also discussed talking to Historical Downtown Chelan Association (HDCA) about the possibility of partnering in the bridge project.

Moving the topic to special requests, new funding requests from Chelan County Housing Authority were re-

Kelly's bids farewell to employee

Patty Fink retires after 40 years with store

CHELAN -- Kelly's Ace Hardware, located on Woodin Avenue in Chelan, has been a part of downtown Chelan for close to 60 years. Over the last 40 years customers and co-workers were greeted with the friendly face of Patty Fink. After devoting four decades to Kelly's, Fink has retired, as of Oct. 1, and plans on enjoying the rest of her work-free life, wanting to have "fun while I'm still young," she joked, and added that she hopes to be able to explore the United States.

May of 1977, Fink began working at Kelly's Ace Hardware as a Front Clerk/Sales Associate. Over the years, she progressed through the company working in nearly all departments, with the exception of plumbing and paint, "I refused to cut and thread the piping," she laughed and explained her lack of desire for those departments. After some time, she began assuming more managerial based tasks, eventually assuming the role of Head Bookkeeper after her mother, Eunice Lewis, who previously held the position, retired in 1988.

Co-owner of Kelly's, Gene Kelly, directly oversaw Fink's work performance, "she's a terrific worker," said Kelly, "she pretty much did everything around here." Kelly, who has been part owner for the past 59 years, spoke on his appreciation for Fink's dedication over the span of the 40 years she was employed there, "I'm the only one that's been here longer than her," he said, chuckling at the thought.

Owners and employees celbrated Fink's career with a dinner party held at Wapato Point Cellars in Manson, Thursday, Oct. 26 in which nearly 30 friends and family were in attendance as she begins a life of retirement.

Boyd Road shop goes up in flames

Filled with motor vehicles, total loss

MANSON - Good job to all involved (CF&R, CCFPD 5, DCFPD 4), a strong response (23 personnel) and firefighters were able to keep the fire from spreading to other structures and brush. This fire was in Chelan County Fire District 5 jurisdiction, but due to the seamless operation of the two districts and assistance from Orondo Fire Department the losses were limited to the building of origin.

Commissioner Ann Congdon moved to authorize the General Manager to exercise the District's option to acquire the Henderson properties. Commissioner McKenna seconded the motion and went on to say that he still owns a home in Manson and was a resident of the North Shore community for many years. In the time since the Wapato and Union Valley substations were built, there have been 44 developments along the North Shore – all of them have been “borrowing” power from the existing substations. McKenna expressed that he feels the location selected will provide the best service with the least visual impact to neighbors.

Commissioner Bolz added that his obligation as a Commissioner is to take into consideration that his decisions affect the well-being of 48,000 customer-owners. The substation decision is one that has long-term implications for the whole District. He went on to say that the District has been financially disciplined and came out of the most recent recession with a resolve to protect the financial health of the organization. He expressed concern that the District faces an uncertain financial future in terms of revenue and that the Public Utility District does not have ‘deep pockets.’ He added his appreciation for those who have been involved in this process for more than two years, including the focus group members, the broader community, the Mayor and Council, and how thankful he is for the professional knowledge and expertise of PUD staff in providing a thoughtful and transparent process.

Commissioner Arseneault acknowledged that the existing substations are reaching 80 percent capacity and we know that we are heading into another cold winter that will put additional stress on the current system. In speaking to those in attendance, he expressed that it's important to remember that it's not just new development that has added to the additional load, but all of the electronics that each and every one of us use daily. He went on to add that the PUD searched for the “perfect” location and we invited the public along on this two-year journey with countless meetings and comments and discussions, and that staff has done incredible work to get us to the point where we are tonight. Arseneault said that it is time to move forward to meet the power demands of the north shore.

Commissioner Congdon added her regret that a perfect site couldn't be found that met everyone's criteria. She expressed that she felt personally responsible to bring the motion forward to be able to move on with resolution and with the hope that the PUD can find ways to mitigate the impact on any neighbors.

Commissioner Smith closed the comments, adding that Commissioners never want to disappoint any customer-owner, yet in order to fairly represent all residents of Chelan County, there has to be compromise. He added that he is hopeful that the talented staff at the PUD can continue to work with all stakeholders to make this substation a showcase for what substations can be in a residential view area and that the Lake Chelan North Shore Substation becomes a world-class model for other utilities.

On a 5-0 vote, the motion was approved and the extended session adjourned at 7:40 p.m.

In other business, commissioners:

- Received a briefing on the 2018 budget that reflects no electric rate increase for the sixth straight year. Staff will come back on Nov. 20, with additional details, but initial figures released today show continued investment in the District's key generating assets driving a $128 million Capital budget – the highest in several years since work on the juvenile fish by-pass at Rocky Reach Dam. The budget reflects the significant modernization work to be done at Rock Island, continued work on the large turbine units at Rocky Reach, planned improvements to the surge tank at Chelan dam, as well as debt reduction plans. 2018 net surplus energy forecasts show a $9.5 million decrease from the 2017 budget, but the District's long-term “cost-plus” power contracts help to reduce the impact of lower wholesale revenues. The District will continue to pay down debt and is on track to meet its 2019 goal of a less than 35 percent debt ratio. Overall, the 2018 budget shows a positive bottom line of $71.5 million. The investment priorities for 2018 focus on increasing long-term value for customer-owners.

- Heard that the District is close to reaching 15,000 high-speed fiber customers. The goal is to reach the 15,000 customer mark by the end of the year. In an effort to achieve that goal, the District is offering an incentive for customers who sign up before Dec. 15. New customers signing up by Dec. 15 will entered into a drawing for a chance to win an iPad. Currently, the District has 14,821 customers;

- Welcomed iFiber as a “Triple Play” fiber service provider – meaning that they can provide Chelan County PUD customers with internet, phone and television services. iFiber has offices at 303 S. Mission in Wenatchee. They currently work with public utilities in seven Washington counties: Mason, Kitsap, Douglas, Grant, Franklin and Pend Oreille;

- Received the Third Quarter Financial update and Balance Scorecard results showing that the District is on track with overall revenue forecasts higher than budget due to colder weather earlier in 2017 driving up power use and increased revenues from its long-term “cost-plus” power contract charges. Operating expenses are also lower than budgeted contributing to the strong net revenue forecast for 2017;

- Approved moving forward with a $4 million contract increase to TCF Architects from Tacoma and a $1 million contract increase to RH2 Engineering of Wenatchee to move forward on the design of five new buildings and renovation of 19 existing buildings at Rock Island; and seven new buildings and renovation of 18 existing buildings at Rocky Reach. TCF and RH2 have been working with the District for more than 22 months on the strategic facilities planning effort. This expanded service agreement is for work at Rock Island and Rocky Reach only and does not include any construction activity.

During the city council meeting, on Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 6 p.m. in Council Chambers, a Comp Plan Ordinance was discussed for consideration, for inclusion of any recent changes to the 2018 Comprehensive Plan. This complex would hold up to 250 units with approximately 30 units per acre. “If that comes to fruition, the apartment complex development at Apple Blossom,” began Mayor Cooney, “it'll do several things – it might stem the tide of other development ... it might have some play on what's going to be coming down the road for development, if housing comes in,” he concluded, “it may have a ripple effect,” added Craig Gildroy agreeably.

Celebrating 20 years of giving back

By ERIN ROSSELL, STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – Apple Cup Café will once again be hosting their annual Thanksgiving Dinner, Thursday Nov. 23 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The Apple Cup Café, located at 804 E. Woodin Ave. in Chelan, will be providing a community dinner of all the traditional holiday foods, including turkey, yams, cran-

There is no charge for the dinner, “it's not necessarily just for those who need it,” explained manager Ryan Peterson, “the intention was always to be a community dinner, for the community to come in and break bread together.” Pre-orders are also being taken for Thanksgiving Dinner, just call and provide delivery location and how many plates are needed.

Twenty years ago, owner

Larry Peterson began the Thanksgiving Dinner tradition, “he always wanted to do it,” said son Ryan, “he came from a restaurant background, and always had the idea for a community Thanksgiving Dinner.” For the last 10 or so years, Ryan has carried on the tradition. In light of the 20th anniversary, Larry will be present for this year's dinner, greeting the community as they come in to share a meal.

While the volunteer signup list fills up fast, there are still several important positions that are in need of more volunteers, including delivery drivers and clean-up crew. Every year, anywhere from 400 to 500 deliveries are made on Thanksgiving Day, and up to 1,700 people served in the restaurant.

There will also be a collection for the food bank present, collecting non-perishable foods and cash donations.

Ryan Peterson and the Apple Cup Café staff would like to thank the Lake Chelan Eagles, Chelan Printing Company, Sisco Food Services, and everyone else who continues to make this tradition possible for the community.

For pre-orders call 682-2933.

Presenting the colors for the Chelan Veteran's Day Parade on Nov. 11 was local VFW Post #6853. Many braved a chilly morning to both participate and watch the parade in downtown Chelan. Among the participants were local veterans, local Cub and Boy Scouts, area fire districts #7, #5, #8, Lake Chelan EMS, Miss Lake Chelan and her attendant, Samaritan Riders and Lake Chelan Lions Club.

These three drummers provided music for the Veterans Day Parade.

Jack Goehry, who is 100, and served in the U.S. Air Force for 20 years, was able to ride in the parade on Saturday. He served in the U.S., Libya, Sicily and received the following Medals and Commendations: Distinguished Flying Cross, Silver Star, and Six Air Medals.

After the parade first responders and veterans, along with parade attendees, gathered at Chelan Fire and Rescue to warm up and enjoy hamburgers and hot dogs. They served around 280 to 300 meals with left over meat, buns, cheese etc. taken over and donated to the Chelan Food Bank. Approximately $817 was raised and will be given to VFW #6853.

Trojans take loss against DeSales Fighting Irish in first round

Conclude season with overall record of 8-2

By ERIN ROSSELL, STAFF WRITER

MANSON – After a hard-fought season, the Trojans conclude with an overall record of 8-2 after taking a loss against the DeSales Fighting Irish, Friday, Nov. 10 at the Manson Athletic Complex.

Without the ability to score against the relentless Fighting Irish defense, DeSales maintained a majority of control over the ball throughout the game, ending with a final score of Trojans 8 to DeSales 40.

“We thought the wet field would hinder their ability to throw, but once they started having success running the ball it opened up their passing game. Our defense played tough and they were on the field a lot because of our inability to move the ball on offense. To sum it up, Desales is a good team that scouted us well and came in with a great game plan,” stated Trojans’ Head Coach Joey Johanson, “the boys never gave up which is a huge testament to their character.”

William R. Fisher

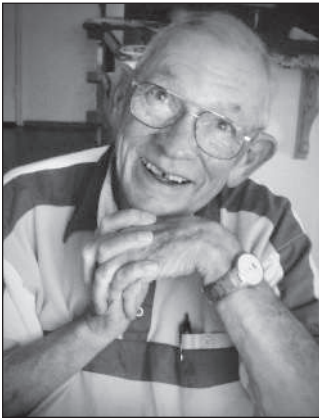

William R. Fisher went to be with the Lord on November 6, 2017 with family at his side.

Bill was born in North Little Rock, Arkansas to Ode Lee and Opal Oma Fisher in 1932. He graduated from Columbia Military Academy, Southern Methodist University and Baylor School of Medicine. After internship he joined the Navy as a flight surgeon. He was eventually assigned to Whidbey Island, from which he discovered Washington State.

He was married to Vanette Burns in 1956 and had they three children, William Jr., Adrienne, and Roberta (Bobbi). After leaving the Navy, Dr. Fisher bought his Chelan medical practice in 1962. In 1963 he, along with Dr. Beall and Dr. Berry built the Lake Chelan Clinic. In 1972 Bill was married to Susan Mayer. They had a daughter Julianne, who joined Susan's daughters Christina and Melia.

In 1986 he accepted a medical position on Kwajalein, Marshall Island. Bill practiced there until 1992, before retiring to Lake Chelan. After retirement he enjoyed golfing, traveling, and spending the winters in California.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Ann Davis

Ann Davis, age 100, formerly of 25 Mile Creek, Washington, died peacefully on September 20, 2017 in San Martin, CA. She was born in Seattle in 1917. In 2013 at 95, she decided to "escape the old folks' home," in Wenatchee, WA, and began a new adventure to live with her children in California—where she enjoyed her 100th birthday celebration surrounded by family and friends in May 2017.

After graduating from high school, she attended the University of Washington. She was married to David Davis in 1939. They settled at 25-Mile Creek on Lake Chelan, her family homestead, where they owned and operated an apple orchard.

Ann was active in the community with St. Andrew's Episcopal Church and Eastern Star. She had a busy life raising her five children and remained a lifelong learner, enjoying traveling, gardening, reading, Sudoku, sewing, and knitting. Ann was ever curious, known for her wit and dry sense of humor, her kindness, and welcoming spirit. Even at 100 years old, she was always the best dressed in the family.

She is survived by her five children: Joanne Lundby (Darrel) of Spokane, Wash.

Jim Davis of Modesto, Calif.; Judy Lisewych (Jerry) of Chelan, Wash.; John Davis of Seattle, Wash.; Jaryl Lore (Craig) of San Martin, Calif.; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, David, in 2012.

A Memorial Service will be held, November 25, 2017 in Gilroy, Calif. Another celebration of Ann's life will be held locally in the summer of 2018.
