PUD hesitant to under-ground all power lines

2 new potential substation sites

By ZACH JOHNSON
STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - The Chelan County Public Utility District (PUD) might be listening to Chelan residents in their plea to underground power lines, but PUD Commissioner Ann Congdon wouldn't bet on all of the lines in Chelan going underground.

"The answer is no," Congdon responded after being asked if the PUD was under-grounding all lines in Chelan. "There have been several requests to underground distribution lines as part of the substation discussion. But there are significant costs to under-grounding power lines."

At the last PUD meeting on May 1, Congdon said staff presented numbers for under-ground and over ground lines, but that was just the start of the conversation of considering how, when and where to underground distribution lines and who is going to pay for the increased cost.

As far as the North Shore Substation, Congdon said specific sites have still not been identified.

"But two areas, very close to the "blue line" or load center, have been highlighted," Congdon said. "Staff is in the process of talking to owners to see if they are willing to sell, so we should be able to identify two sites by the next meeting on May 15."

Although developments are being planned throughout the Chelan Valley and the current load is hovering around 80 percent capacity, Congdon said staff is confident they can adequately service all new and existing homes until the new substation is up and running.

It was estimated the substation would take around two years to construct.

"The next step is to determine if we have willing sellers, getting options and then presenting these options to the customer focus group for recommendation to the commissioners."

Golf tournaments with good causes, May 19, 21

By ZACH JOHNSON
STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - Golf season is finally upon us, which means tournaments will likely dominate the weekends on surrounding courses, and there are two tournaments with good causes coming up next week.

The first one is the Lake Chelan Lions Club 12th annual best-ball tournament, which is set to go off at Bear Mountain Ranch Golf Course on Friday, May 19 at 9:30 a.m. All of the proceeds will go toward the scholarships they award to students in the Chelan Valley each year.

Similar with other public tournaments, the day will be filled with much more than just a simple round of golf. In addition to 18 holes, two free drink tickets a lunch and sponsors at various holes the Lake Chelan Lions Club is adding some pin prizes on holes around the course.

"We have a longest drive competition, a putting contest at the practice green before everyone tees off, and four hole-in-one opportunities on the par-3 holes," Lake Chelan Lions Club member Jerry Bragg explained. "Sangster Motors is providing a new Buick as one of the hole-in-one rewards and the other three are different packages including a set of golf clubs, a golf getaway, and a golf attire shopping package that the insurance company provides.”

Once everyone comes in after their round, Bragg said one male and female will be selected to head back to the 165 yard 18th hole for an opportunity to make a hole-in-one for $100,000. After that, one individual will be randomly selected to try the same shot, but this time, for $1 million.

Hard Row to Hoe Vineyards is one of the prime sponsors of the tournament and will be providing wine for Closest to the Hole prizes and to those who win or place in the tournament.

Every golfer will also be given a goodie bag at the start of the tournament that includes a golf towel courtesy of Apple Cup Cafe, one sleeve of golf balls, a powerbar and other knick knacks.

Bragg revealed a couple former Seahawk players will compete in the tournament as well and that the registration has been extended through Tuesday, May 16 to get more golfers. You can sign up by registering online at lakechelanlionsgolf.golfregistrations.com/ng/index.cfm/b0295a8/regPages/pages/?p=b21294f6 or by sending in a check to the Lake Chelan Lions Club. The fee is $125 per player.

Coincidentally, on average the tournament draws around 125 golfers.

Players are allowed to use three mulligans each - excluded from par three holes - with the winning team having the lowest net score.

Bragg insisted the general winning score was a 61 or 62.

“We have always luck out and had beautiful weather, so I'm not telling you that we will have a gorgeous day, but usually it has been in the low 70's.

1st Annual Mia Ledbetter Memorial Golf Tournament

The $100 per player covers a round of golf with a cart, lunch and access to the driving range and putting green. All of the proceeds will go to the Mia Ledbetter Memorial Foundation which will benefit local families with sick children by assisting with their medical costs.

Just like the Lions tournament, there will be prizes, raffles and side games during the tournament as well.

Kyle Miller awarded LCSD Employee of the Year after 25 years of dedicated service

BY ZACH JOHNSON
STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - Kyle Miller has certainly earned being named the Lake Chelan School District Employee of the Year.

Aside from her daily duties in the food service department and as a janitor, Miller has helped inspire and connect with hundreds of kids over 25 years.

She attributes her ability to connect with a wide range of students to a lesson she learned from her sister one day when she was giving swimming lessons. While in the water Miller noticed the kids would gravitate more toward her sister than herself and when she asked why, her sister advised Miller to get down in the water more to get on their level.

"That was probably a defining moment," Miller pronounced. "I think you could use that at any age. Just get on their level because it builds trust, so since that day I have been conscious about getting on people's level."

One of the ways she used to practice this was by sitting down at the end of students tables during lunch.

"Everyday I would move to a different table, and you think they don't notice you or they may not like you because you are an authority figure or an adult, but actually all they want is for someone to sit with them," Miller explained.

"There were times I would sit down and say, 'I'm just sitting, you guys go ahead and talk' and they would just talk about anything. Of course with elementary school kids, when I would sit down I would get bombarded with 'hey Kyle' so the energy is different but the kids all like it when you sit with them."

Miller said there have been a few occasions students have come up to her and said they really appreciated when she used to sit with them at lunch. This is essentially what Miller loves about working with kids.

"I kind of compare working with kids like being a waitress," Miller said. "If you give kids a little bit of attention then you get a tip in the form of a hug or some trust. Kids are as easy as trying to please a customer and then you get immediate gratification, so it is not something you wait on like a paycheck. They are so rewarding and very lovable."

Even in our short time speaking in a small conference room I could tell Miller definitely has an ability to connect with students. This was evident after Miller described a myriad of stories where kids sought out Miller during the day to either work, talk or spend time with her. One girl - who used to help clean the lunchroom continued to visit during her schooling - even invited Miller to her wedding when she got older.

Overall, Miller has earned the trust from the students and support from her colleagues with her smile, positive attitude and constant approach to go above and beyond.

For those of you that don't know, Miller is the one who shovels the sidewalks from Morgen Owings Elementary to the Lake Chelan School District building.

On any given snowy day,

Miller can be found at the school around 3 a.m., completing her typical workload of cleaning the building. After finishing, Miller then zips up her coat and heads outside before firing up the snowblower and clearing the sidewalks. Once those are done, Miller shovels all of the steps and then finally de-ices everything she cleared.

"It takes a lot longer than you would think," Miller commented. "I love the snow and I love to ski and snow blow, but that is the worst part of my job because I have to get up early."

Although not her favorite and what can amount to a 12 hour day, Miller is obliged to do the work. She said that she often feels sad when the summer comes.

"I get a little anxiety and a little teary thinking that I now have to talk to my adult peers instead of the kids," Miller stated. "I love the staff and the people I work with, it feels like a home so I kind of miss it when I'm not here. There is not a day I am not appreciative for this job."

"The staff is so awesome," Miller referenced a few times in our interview. "If there is any need they all rally together and help. During my two bouts with colon cancer and chemotherapy they made sure me and my family had meals each night. And when I ran out of sick leave they donated their own leave so I could stay home and recuperate. They also include me in all aspects of their day (with the students) and that is a privilege."

Cleaning was something Miller always found herself

Kyle Miller has worked in almost all of the Lake Chelan School District buildings and built relationships with the students and staff everywhere, but she has seemed to find her niche with the elementary age kids.

doing, even in her past jobs in an office setting.

"I would be the one who was always cleaning our staff rooms or picking up the papers, so no matter what I'm always moving my hands," Miller said. "When I clean offices, I think about how they sit in small desks for eight hours and they have to sit there and think 'wow, I'm going to retire here and this is my geographical place,' for me, I get to walk miles every day so I really like the freedom and moving."

When I asked Miller how she felt to be awarded the Employee of the Year, she was characteristically modest by saying it was an honor, but that she felt there were other staff who deserved it more than her.

"I don't like thinking that I'm better than anyone else, especially in my classification because they all work really hard. So it is nice for us to have that, but they have helped me and they make me look good too, so I don't want to take anything away from them," Miller said in reference to the other janitor/food service department workers. "It is an honor, but I don't want the attention, I want to give attention to others."

First Cinco parade a hit in Chelan

Several floats and cars paraded down Woodin Avenue in honor of Cinco de Mayo on Friday, May 5. Some of their passengers included the two guitar players pictured right, Miss Lake Chelan winner Lupe Galvin (pictured below) and two older ladies tossing out candy to viewers along the street. Although it only lasted 15 minutes, over 100 people crowded the along the sidewalks to watch.

Goats run through Oroville 4-0 in first round of playoffs

By ZACH JOHNSON
STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - The Goats soccer team wasted no time in the beginning of their opening playoff match against Oroville on Friday, May 5.

In fact, by the time I got to the field, only two minutes after the scheduled kickoff time at 4:30 p.m, Chelan was already up 1-0 against the Hornets.

Their hot start continued on through the first half though as Chelan would put two more goals in the back of the net before halftime. The first one came from a rebound shot off the foot of Miguel Castro who was crashing the net. After five more minutes, Salvador Villanueva squeaked past the Oroville defenders, side stepped the goalkeeper and guided the ball into the net with the right edge of his foot.

Already up 3-0, Chelan kept their foot on the gas offensively and got a few more nice looks before heading into half with a commanding lead.

Despite having a comfortable lead, Chelan was not satisfied and upped their intensity in the second half. The Goats continued to dictate the speed and pace of the game and eventually got rewarded with another goal midway through the half.

Chelan locked down defensively from there and cruised through the last 10 minutes to hold on to the win and advance to the next round of playoffs.

The Goats took on Brewster on Tuesday, May 9, but the results were not final by the time for press.

"The Okanogan boys have a deep and talented roster, so we had to play well tonight in order to win this match, and we did," head coach Marty Rothlisberger said after the match. "I'm proud of our boys, they rose to the occasion."

The girls side were not as fortunate against the Bulldogs as they lost by a final tally of 4-1, dropping their record to 5-4 overall.

Coach Rothlisberger was still proud of how his girls battled against the second ranked girls tennis team in 1A CTL.

"The Okanogan girls are also deep and talented, and they've got the experience edge over us as well," Rothlisberger wrote after the game. "We played well, but lost more of the close sets."

Later in the week, the boys secured their fourth consecutive League Title and third consecutive undefeated season after beating Okanogan for a second consecutive time 4-1 and Cashmere 3-2.

"This group of graduating boys, Bryce Robison, Collin Hendricks, Rylan Anderson, Henry Elsner and Bradley Castro, wrapped up a four year record of 49-1," coach Rothlisberger said of his boys on senior day. "The lone loss being against Cashmere their freshman year."

Chelan will now advance into the post season play, which gets started on Thursday, May 11 at Cashmere and continues on Saturday, May 13. The winners will qualify for the State Tournament later this month.

ROUND UP

May 11-13, 2017 • 97th Annual

A Royal Proclamation

Her Majesty

hereby proclaims the appointed days of May 12 and 13, 2017, to be designated for the joyous celebration of Manson's beautiful Apple Blossoms and the abundant apple harvest they will bring. It is proclaimed that community members and visitors alike should join in the Round Up together, and participate in all the festivities that light up our town. May the Festival be filled with smiles and contentment, as old traditions are carried out, new friends are made, and the Manson Apple Blossom Festival is celebrated with vigor.

BY MANSION APPLE BLOSSOM COMMITTEE

"It is truly an honor for me to have been selected as this year's Grand Marshal! I love this community and I love the Manson Apple Blossom Festival! When the royalty stopped by to inform me that I had been chosen, I was humbly shocked, overwhelmed with emotion, left speechless, tears running. I want to personally thank all of you for bestowing such a grand honor on me?"

Pat was born in Spokane, the oldest of three children, when her dad was stationed at Fairchild Air Force Base. Her mom, Mary Lou McFadden-Johnson was born and raised in Manson, graduating from Manson High School. She moved to Spokane for college and there met and married Pat's dad. Mary Lou's parents moved to Manson with their parents, Pat's great-grandparents, in the late 1920's.

When Pat was four, her dad was deployed with the Air Force to Japan for two years. Pat, her mom, sister, Sharon, and brother, Chuck, came to live with her grandparents, Loyd and Lela McFadden, in the same home Pat and her husband, Monte live in now.

"It was during that time that I first fell in love with this community and with the Manson Apple Blossom Festival. Of all the places I later lived through my dad's career in the Air Force, Manson stayed close to my heart and supplied me with such wonderful memories, this always felt like home. My first memory of the festival was riding on the Mother's Club float as Queen, and my sister was a Princess. Like all the young girls today, I remember being totally enamored with the Royal Court and attending the coronation."

After Pat's dad returned from Japan, Pat moved with her family to Sacramento, then Southern, Calif., then Wichita, Kansas, then to California again and to Grand Forks, North Dakota, where she graduated from high school. After graduation she married and moved to Michigan where she started her family and went to college. In September 1977, Pat returned "home" to Manson. She went to work at the Manson Elementary School. In January of the next year she started teaching dance classes for children and fitness classes for adults through Wenatchee Valley College. It was that spring that she presented her first crop of dancers to the community, choreographing a dance for the entertainment during the Manson Apple Blossom Selection.

In 1981 Wapato Point Resort invited Pat

Featured Quilter Tracy Rockafellow

BY MANSON APPLE BLOSSOM COMMITTEE

Tracy Rockafellow was born in Michigan and grew up in California, Virginia and Alaska. She moved to Seattle in 1983 and lived there for 26 years. She moved to Chelan eight years ago and has two grown daughters and three grandchildren.

Shortly after moving to Chelan she went into the local quilt shop. There was a flyer advertising a Beginner Quilt Class. Tracy had been making quilts off and on over the years, but wanted to learn more. Her first quilt was a pattern found in a women's magazine and it was a simple quilt of blocks sewn together and then put together in a "pillowcase style." The quilt was then tied with yarn knots. Her oldest daughter received the quilt and used it for many, many years.

She took the Beginner Quilt classes taught by sisters Adrienne, Christy and Cinda. That is when the quilt bug really hit! Adrienne suggested she go to an Undercover Quilts Guild meeting. Tracy joined the Guild and has been a member since 2009. She has served as Guild Secretary and is currently Guild Treasurer. She has helped with many Comfort Quilts. She Guild collects donated quilts to give to people in the Chelan Valley at various times. Since taking that Beginner Quilt Class, Tracy has made many, many quilts. Both of her daughters and all three grandchildren have many quilts now. One of the things Tracy likes most about quilting is the friendships she has made with other quilters. Tracy is very honored to be the Feature Quilter.

to start teaching fitness classes during their summer season. A couple years later they asked her to teach year around which she did for the next 23 years. She continues to teach at Wapato Point during the summer season. For 25 years Pat taught children tumbling and dance followed by a Spring recital. Now she has adult fitness classes in Chelan and Manson. In 1986 she became certified with Seattle Sports Medicine and earned a Gold Certification with the American Council on Exercise passing the national certification exam the first year it was offered. Through continuing education, Pat has maintained this certification and also earned numerous specialty certifications in the area of Holistic Fitness. In 1990 Pat started teaching the American Red Cross Learn to Swim Program for the Manson Parks. She enjoyed that job each summer for the next 18 years, teaching hundreds of children how to swim and be safe around the water. Since her return to Manson, she has taught Sunday School, Vacation Bible

School, helped with Bluebirds and Camp Fire girls, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts, the Chelan Valley Players, the Manson Apple Blossom Festival and the Manson Elementary School PTAC. Pat enjoys volunteering and giving back to this community that has given so much to her and her family. One way she gives back is by choreographing and working with the candidates as they perform a dance each year for the Royalty Selection. In her leisure time she enjoys growing beautiful flower gardens, walking and spending time at the lake. Her grandmother "Lela" lovingly provided all the daycare for Pat's children as they were growing up. "I couldn't have done all I've been able to do without her! With my grandma's help and the incredible love and support my family has received from this awesome community; the schools, teachers, coaches and all the other people here who gave so generously of themselves to children. I was not only able to succeed in my career, but most importantly, succeed in raising three wonderful, loving, productive children, Kristi, Shannon and Trevor. "Thank you all so much! There's no place like home!"

In her leisure time Pat enjoys growing beautiful flower gardens, walking and spending time at the lake.

OBITUARIES

Lois Jean Miller

Malott, Chelan, Wenatchee

Lois Jean Miller, 92, passed away May 1, 2017 at Regency Wenatchee Nursing Center.

Lois and her husband, Roscoe, lived in Malott surrounded by a 4 acre orchard for 60 years. After her husband's passing in 2003, Lois moved to Heritage Heights Assisted Living in Chelan to be close to her daughter, Kathi Fedor and son-in-law Jan.

In Malott, Lois worked hard in her huge garden every year which produced a bounty of fruits and vegetables always sharing with friends. She took great pleasure in her many roses and tended to them as if they were her children. She always found time to sew school clothes, prom dresses, Christmas Tolo gowns and Rainbow formals. On a couple of occasions, she was finishing hemming a gown just minutes prior to her daughter's prom date knocking on the door. Lois canned everything that could possibly fit in a canning jar, made apple sauce from Jonathan apples, cinnamon rolls, popcorn balls and, always, fried chicken on Sunday after church. She baked beautiful pies, cakes and cupcakes for 4-H club bake sales and cakewalks.

Lois loved watching baseball on Sunday afternoons long before the Mariner's existed. She quickly became a devoted Mariner's fan and remained so to the end. She loved her many orange tabby kitties, some lasting longer than others, as we lived just past the Malott Improvement Club on Old Highway 97. We would sit and cry on the front step after each had been run over on the highway. Then we would get another orange tabby, always named "Tiger" and the whole process would begin again.

Lois was a "worrier" and could out-worry just about anybody. It didn't matter if it was in or out of her control, if she deemed it worthy then it became her worry. And then there was Nat King Cole, her very favorite singer. He could have sung the phone book and that would have been just fine with her. Pink was her color. She loved pink. It didn't matter what it was, if it was pink, she loved it and that, in a nutshell, explains our family's 1950's pink Rambler.

Lois was active in Chili-wist Club, Malott Methodist Church, Okanogan Eastern Star as Worthy Matron, Okanogan Rainbow as Mother Advisor, Okanogan Historical Society, Malott Grange, Okanogan County Historical Society, 4-H and The Good Sam's Club.

Lois is survived by her daughters Kathi Fedor and son-in-law Jan Fedor of Chelan; Charlotte Richards-Finn of Keauhou, Hawaii; a granddaughter, two grandsons, and two orange tabby grandkitties.

Memorials may be made to the Malott Methodist Church or the Malott Fire Department.

A public Memorial Service will be held on Friday, May 12, 11 a.m. at the Malott Methodist Church.

Precht-Harrison-Nearents Chapel of Okanogan is in charge of arrangements.

Norma Williams

Norma Williams formerly of Chelan, passed away peacefully April 26, 2017 in Bothell, Wash. She was born July 27, 1920 in Seattle to Bill and Grace Ibsen. She graduated from Roosevelt High School and Edison Vocational Beauty School. Norma married Jack Williams February 17, 1950 in Seattle. They moved to Chelan in 1983.

Norma was one of the founding members of The Olympic Water Ski Club (1941). She also performed with the Ski-Quatic Follies Show Troupe, which appeared in Chelan (1949). Norma enjoyed traveling, dancing, both water and snow skiing, golf, and roller-skating. She also loved participating with Chelan Valley Players. She volunteered for 15 years at Northwest Hospital in Seattle and 25 years at Lake Chelan Community Hospital, Regency Manor and Heritage Heights in Chelan.

She was preceded in death by her husband Jack Williams. She is survived by her son, Larry Williams, her daughter, Linda Hughes (Bob), 4 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Our family would like to especially thank Elizabeth Moran, Ifrain Ornelas and Laura Betanzos for their most thoughtful care of our mother.

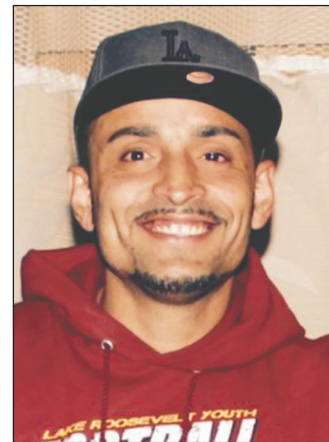

A celebration of Norma's life will be held June 1, 2017 at 1:30 p.m. at the Antioch Bible Church office "Great Room" located 12316 134th Court N.E., Redmond, Wash. 98052
