LEAVENWORTH - The countdown is underway for Leavenworth's iconic annual autumn celebration, the Autumn Leaf Festival, set to return to downtown Leavenworth this weekend.

Since it was established, this festival has ingrained itself in the community's identity, attracting visitors from across the Pacific Northwest.

At its core, the Autumn Leaf Festival pays homage to the vibrant fall foliage, the shifting seasons, and the natural beauty of the area.

The festival's lineup is as colorful as the foliage itself. Festival board president Jessie Swider said attendees can look forward to an array of attractions.

"It's a ton of fun," Swider said. "We get bands, floats, and acts from all over the Pacific Northwest. So it's just a really great celebration that matches the spirit of our town and the communities all around our region. It's going to be a beautiful day and it should just be really fun and festive."

These attractions encompass a parade, clown performances, a circus, live musical acts, food vendors, and more.

The Grand Parade, commencing at noon downtown on Saturday, stands as the festival's pinnacle event, featuring over 70 participants this year.

This year, the festival boasts two grand marshals, Carl and Sheila Bergren. Both Carl and Sheila have long been dedicated supporters of the local arts community, generously contributing hours to advance arts and culture in the Leavenworth area.

The Autumn Leaf Festival Royal Lady, April Watson, a proud Leavenworth resident with deep-rooted ties to the region, carries on the festival's tradition. Her grandmother-in-law, Pauline Watson, her mother-in-law, Nancy Watson, and her aunt Cindy Hassinger have all previously held the esteemed title of Royal Lady.

The festivities extend throughout the weekend, promising an unforgettable experience for all. The festival maintains its family-friendly atmosphere, with admission being free to all.

Dual Grand Marshals Carl and Sheila Bergren Lead 60th Autumn Leaf Parade

By MARLENE FARRELL
Special to Ward Media

LEAVENWORTH - Longtime locals Carl and Sheila Bergren will be seen leading the Autumn Leaf Parade as its Grand Marshals. It's fitting for the 60th anniversary of the Autumn Leaf Festival that the Bergrens share the role rather than having only one Grand Marshal, which is more customary.

Charlotte Ley, the Washington State Autumn Leaf Festival Association (ALFA) parade chair, explained that the organization wanted to honor someone from the arts community who has given back "behind the scenes." Carl and Sheila Bergren both fit that description, so the ALFA board agreed to recognize them both.

Carl Bergren, 93, was born and raised in Leavenworth, with homesteading family lines extending further back. After graduating from high school, Carl Bergren moved to California for college and enjoyed a long career as a commercial artist and graphic designer. When he and Sheila Bergren moved back to Leavenworth in 1989, ostensibly to retire, they joined several organizations, rolled up their sleeves and got to work. Carl Bergren became a dedicated Village Art in the Park (VAIP) artist, selling his framed pen and ink sketches of Leavenworth structures, which are works of elegant precision. He served on the board for years, helping VAIP establish and fund scholarships for graduating high schoolers planning to major in art in college.

When considering Sheila Bergren's impact, the list is extensive. She helped found Friends of Northwest Hatcheries, and through that became instrumental in the success of the Wenatchee River Salmon Festival for three decades. She has volunteered over the years for Upper Valley Arts, which hosted concerts before newer venues were established, the Free Clinic run by Upper Valley MEND, Senior Meals delivered to homes, and Cascade Medical Foundation (CMF). For the latter, Sheila Bergren's golf expertise aided CMF as they held their first golf tournament, which is now an annual event that raises thousands of dollars for the hospital.

Carl and Sheila Bergren show their love for Leavenworth through their many volunteer endeavors which enrich the lives of residents and visitors alike. Beyond the people, place is important to them, and they spent years exploring the mountains around town, and Carl Bergren can recount his own hike through the Enchantments, on a lark from Shield Lake, back in 1955, when he encountered no other person but caught several fish.

The Bergrens have participated in the Autumn Leaf Festival parade in prior years, driving a golf cart along with fellow members of the Leavenworth Golf Club. They were surprised and delighted by the call from Ley asking them to be Grand Marshals. They will be at the front, waving from a convertible, energizing the crowd for the long line up of floats, bands, troupes of horses and dancers, and civic groups to come.

The number of entries in the parade this year is 71. "We don't have to talk people into it," Ley explained, referring to the Leavenworth's popularity as a parade destination for high school bands and other groups.

The honorees this year also include Royal Lady April Watson, who will greet the crowds, along with a few past Royal Ladies, from a float that has traveled the parade circuit over the last six months. Siblings Janey and Evan McCauley will MC the parade, in nod to the legacy of their father, Terry McCauley, who MCed the Autumn Leaf Festival parade for years and offered his legal services pro bono to ALFA and other local entities.

The festivities begin on Friday when the Royal Bavarians host a dinner at the Enzian for dignitaries from sister cities as well as the Bergrens, Watson, and the McCauleys.

As to this recognition, Sheila Bergren said, "We're looking forward to it. It will be an honor to represent the community we love."

The Grand Parade, commencing at noon downtown on Saturday, stands as the festival's pinnacle event..

Local Resilience: The Power of Shopping Locally

In an era where convenience often trumps community, it's important that we take a moment to reflect on the significance of shopping locally. As the CEO and Publisher of Ward Media, I have witnessed firsthand the vital role local businesses play in our North Central Washington communities. In this edition of "From the Publisher," we explore the importance of supporting our neighbors and fostering economic growth right here at home.

From the Publisher
TERRY WARD

A Stronger Community

Our region is more than just a collection of towns; it's a diverse tapestry of people, cultures, and traditions. The heart of any community lies in its local businesses, which infuse character and identity into our towns. When you shop locally, you're not just making a transaction; you're investing in the vibrancy and uniqueness of our area.

Local businesses often source their products and services within the community, creating a web of interconnectedness. This not only strengthens our local economy but also promotes sustainability and resilience. When you support a local business, you're supporting your friends and neighbors, and that creates a sense of belonging that transcends mere commerce.

Economic Growth and Job Creation

Beyond the warm familiarity of local businesses lies a cold, hard fact: they are the backbone of our regional economy. They provide jobs to our community members, contribute to tax revenues, and bolster economic growth. Every dollar spent at a local business has a multiplier effect, circulating through our community and creating a domino effect of economic well-being.

By choosing to shop locally, you're actively participating in the growth of our communities. Your support allows these businesses to thrive and expand, which, in turn, leads to more job opportunities and a brighter economic future for North Central Washington.

Unique and Personalized Experiences

Local businesses offer something that online giants can never replicate - a personal touch. When you walk into a local store, you're often greeted by familiar faces who know you by name. They can provide tailored recommendations, share stories about the community, and make your shopping experience truly unique.

Local businesses often stock items that reflect the local culture and heritage. From handmade crafts to specialty foods, these businesses showcase the essence of our region. When you shop locally, you're not just buying a product; you're taking home a piece of our community's identity.

A Call to Action

As the seasons change and the holidays approach, I encourage each and every one of us to make a conscious effort

OBITUARY & MEMORIAL POLICIES

Ward Media, LLC: Leavenworth Echo, Cashmere Valley Record, Lake Chelan Mirror, Quad City Herald. An Obituary is a way for family member(s) to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the community of the passing of the loved one. Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data. Memorials are another way to let the community know about the life and memories of the person who has passed. A Memorial is different from an Obituary. An Obituary is usually current, while a Memorial can be written later. Obituaries and Memorials need to be typed and emailed as a Word Document. They can be placed in one or more papers - all publish weekly on Wednesday. Obituaries are priced by the number of words and include one color photo and go online at no extra charge. Memorials are priced per column inch. Please call for cost. *Payment is due at the time of placement. *Exception: Chapels, funeral homes who have an account, can be billed. There is no charge for a Death Notice - information is limited. Deadline is 4 p.m. on Friday - some exceptions may apply. Please call 509-548-5286 for more information Or email obits@ward.media
