

Wildfire has finally caught the attention of state

FILE PHOTO.

Living in the foothills of the Eastern Cascades we are all keenly aware of the danger and devastation of wildfire. Over the last month I have been inundated with press releases and information about wildfires and their effect on Washington state. The impacts go far beyond the costs of fighting the fires and the loss of private property when homes are destroyed.

BILL FORHAN
PUBLISHER

As Senator Brad Hawkins has said, “the state has paid hundreds of millions in recent years reimbursing the costs of wildfires. And that does not even factor in the negative long-term economic impact that wildfires have had on communities in our district, including the impact on our all-important tourism or recreational opportunities. There are also emotional costs and losses that cannot be quantified, as courageous firefighters from our area have sadly lost their lives or been severely injured battling these blazes. Finally, there is a quality-of-life impact caused by wildfires, as smoke can blanket a region, making it dangerous for people to be outdoors and difficult for many to breathe.”

When fires are active and the valleys are filled with the smell of smoke we all have seen how tourists avoid our area. For communities like Chelan, Entiat, Leavenworth and Brewster the loss of revenue from the summer tourist season can make for a long winter.

According to Hawkins last year the Department of Natural Resources responded to 1640 fires. Those fires burned 813,000 acres, 400,000 of those or nearly half were in Okanogan and Douglas counties. The Cold Springs and Pearl Hill fires destroyed over 100 homes. Add in the devastating fires in the back to back years of 2014 and 2015 in Chelan, Pateros, Entiat and Brewster and it is undeniable that our region has had more than its share of devastating wildfires.

In 2017, the legislature passed Senate Bill 5546 directing the state DNR to set up a framework for evaluating and treating fire-prone lands. That law sets specific goals for assessing and treating over 1 million acres over 16 years. The process will rely primarily on prescribed burning, previously called controlled burning, and strategic thinning.

Senator Hawkins and DNR Commissioner Hilary Franz admit that the effort to address the problem in high risk counties like Chelan and Okanogan will take more than a state program. They encourage all local residents to become actively engaged in developing Fire Wise programs in their communities.

For her part Franz has initiated a program called “Wildfire Ready Neighbors.” This six-week pilot program will have a staggered rollout in three high-risk counties that:

- Drives people to assess risks and take action to make their properties more wildfire ready;
- Raises awareness and interest in receiving free forest health consultations and home assessments;
- Builds understanding of local/state resources and contractors available to assist with risk reduction activities;
- Grows and deepens community relationships and partnerships around issues of wildfire and

Commissioner Gering addresses issues of STR’s

BY GARY BÉGIN,

Managing Editor, NCW Media

MANSON – The Manson Community Council (MCC) met via Zoom Tuesday, April 20 and heard from invited guest and Manson resident Chelan County Commissioner Tiffany Gering.

Gering was peppered with questions related to a variety of topics, including the contentious Short Term Rental (STR) situation where some STR residents are causing pushback from permanent residents because of alleged illegal behavior.

According to Gering, Chelan County Community Development Director Jim Brown is desperately trying to hire enough building inspectors to reduce the load of more than 300 registrations to become eligible as STR properties before the tourist season kicks into full swing this coming Memorial Day.

Naked guy in yard is a short term renter’

Chelan Commissioner Gering

Gering said even the small enclave of Entiat has a record number of properties with owners wanting to become STR eligible.

At stake is a huge financial windfall for the property owners, if their homes are approved, but also a trickle-down economic effect for towns like Entiat, but especially for the Chelan/Manson and Leavenworth/Plain areas of the county.

Owners of STR properties can make hundreds of dollars in just a few days as many Washingtonians from the west coast are eager to have accommodations in or near Lake Chelan, Lake Wenatchee, the Columbia, Wenatchee, Icicle, and Entiat Rivers for outdoor recreational use during their summer vacations.

Now that the risk of catching or spreading the COVID-19 pandemic has greatly diminished because of vaccinations and so-called “herd immunity,” communities that were devastated financially by the 2020 outbreak are still striving to make ends meet and attract tourists that normally call Chelan County their summer getaway.

Gering said that Chelan County Assessor Deanna Walter was eager to educate her department in the challenge of assessing the value of newly minted STR homes and to work with Brown in learning the criteria used to designate these properties as STR’s.

At one point during her talk to the MCC, Gering said “that naked guy in your yard, is a short term renter,” in reference to the types of behavior not associated with normal law abiding community activities.

Residents in Plain (Lake Wenatchee), Leavenworth, Chelan/

Manson (Lake Chelan) have complained about nefarious actions taken by STR renters while here on vacation, much of it due to alcohol and marijuana infused young adults abandoning their civic proprieties as if they were in Las Vegas.

Chelan County Sheriff Brian Burnett, a previous MCC speaker, has recommended residents shoot video or still photos of illegal activities to memorialize any incidents they feel are outside the law.

In his talk earlier this year, Burnett said the policing of STR residents, at this time, would be done during normal working hours Monday through Friday, about 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., but that residents with immediate and emergency issues should still call 911 (Rivercom).

County residents with complaints about Short Term Renter behavior will have their complaints serviced by a Sheriff’s deputy as soon as possible during the next available workday.

This means if someone does see a “naked man” in a yard on a Friday night, the report would not be investigated until the following Monday morning.

Although some local permanent residents have expressed displeasure with this scheme, Burnett assured them that this policing formula was just the beginnings of a program that still needs to be worked out as the summer goes on and that the future of STR code enforcement is still in the planning stages.

Burnett requested time to iron out the kinks in the meantime. He suggested evening and weekend shifts might be possible, but that these special deputies, although trained in a police academy like other deputies, are mainly code enforcers. For normal criminal or medical emergency calls, regular patrol deputies would be answering the calls as dispatched by Rivercom.

The STR controversy has several elements attached to it, mainly parking, garbage, lewd behavior, dog waste and late night noise for which locals are upset about feeling that their neighborhoods are being denigrated by outsiders who can make a mess and then leave town without suffering any consequences.

These citizens and groups are demanding more enforcement of noise, parking and other codes already on the books to quell the out of town visitor’s penchant for raucous actions while here on vacations.

On the other hand, many homeowners and especially businesses, welcome the influx of millions of dollars into the economy and are especially keen on harvesting these revenues in light of the 2020 economic devastation.

Council rejects pool bid

BY KIRK BECKENDORF

At the April 12 the Cashmere City Council meeting Mayor Jim Fletcher announced that only one bid was received to repair the pool gutter. He said the $463,161 bid from Combine Construction was through the roof. He recommended that the city fill the pool and continue with band-aid approaches to minimize leakage. The Council took his suggestion and voted to reject the bid, as the city explores temporary solutions and the option of a more competitive bid process.

Authorization for RH2 Engineering to proceed with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) crosswalk ramp design for Pioneer Ave. was unanimously approved by the Council. The ramps are part of the Safe Routes to School project and will provide accessible ramps at the southeast quadrant of Pioneer Avenue and Mission Creek Road, and the northwest and southwest quadrants of Pioneer Avenue and Chapel Street. The $7,500 design task is scheduled to be completed by April 30.

The Council voted to table a proposal that would allow the Confederated Tribes of Colville Nation (Tribes) to become a voting member of the Chelan-Douglas Transportation Council (CDTC). The proposal would amend the existing interlocal agreement to comply with state law that requires federally recognized tribes that have reservation or trust lands within the planning area. Cashmere is a member of the CDTC, whose members “work together as a unified region to develop strategic plans for better roads, bridges, trails, buses, railroads and airports.” City Council member, Daniel Scott, said that the

Missing Kokanee And Tagged Trout

By JOHN KRUSE

Lake Roosevelt Kokanee and More:

Several readers have recently contacted me about the lack of Kokanee at Lake Roosevelt so far this year. This prompted me to reach out to Chris Donley, the regional Fish Program Director for the Washington Dept. of Fish and Wildlife, to ask him about Kokanee and other species found in this impoundment of the Columbia River.

Donley says, "There are some Kokanee in the reservoir this year but by no means as many as we have seen in the past few. Couple the lower abundance with an odd water year and drawdown scenario and it has contributed to tougher fishing for Kokanee. It's important to note that some of our avid Kokanee anglers have had a great late winter/early spring, which tells me there are some fish there for the taking.

Donley continued stating, "Roosevelt Kokanee fishing is driven off fish that entrain in from other reservoirs. Some years they are abundant and some years they aren't. Water elevation, flows, hydro-

Kokanee catches like these have been hard to come by this year at Lake Roosevelt operations and predation determine what survives in Lake Roosevelt and also what stays in the reservoir long enough to grow to harvestable size and ultimately get caught. Because there are so many variables impacting the fishery it is always inconsistent in its productivity. This is nothing new."

Donley is often asked why WDFW doesn't stock Kokanee in Lake Roosevelt. His reply? "We have for many years and saw almost no return on those stocked fish. Most, if not all, were lost to entrainment out of the reservoir or were consumed by predatory warmwater fishes."

As for other fishing, Donley says, "Trout fishing has been good all winter and should be good this spring as water warms. (It's been a little on and off and I would guess it relates to water elevation and a weird water year", affecting the trout in the same way it's affecting the Kokanee. As for catching those trout Donley suggests, "Sometimes trolling is really effective and sometimes shore fishing in bays and shallow areas has been more productive. I suspect as water warms fish will move off shore and be more consistently available to trollers."

Finally, when it comes to the walleye at Lake Roosevelt, Donley states, "If you are where the fish are, it's been good. The Spokane Arm has been good for the last two months and will likely fish well through early June. The bulk of the fish move into the arm in late winter in preparation to spawn in April and then start a northward migration to Kettle Falls beginning in mid-May so anglers will want to follow those fish upstream as they progress."

Statewide Trout Derby:

With all of the lowland lakes open for trout fishing on April 24, you'll want to keep an eye out for any fish you catch with an orange tag attached to their fin. The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife is once again having a statewide trout derby that runs through October 31 and that tag will get you into a nice prize or gift card. Over 70 businesses are participating in the trout derby this year, donating $38,000 worth of prizes. A thousand tagged trout can be found in over 100 lakes around the state this year. If you catch one of these trout, you fill out the information from the tag online, submit it, and your prize will soon be headed your way. You can find that form and also find out what lakes have tagged fish in them by going to <https://wdfw.wa.gov/fishing/contests/trout-derby#rules-info>.

resiliency; and, • Creates a model for replicable and resiliency programs that can be utilized by community partners in addition to their own existing programs or efforts.

To join, community members simply sign up at www.wildfireready.com. At no cost to the community member, a wildfire expert will visit their property and develop a detailed action plan for wildfire preparedness. The plan includes steps they can take immediately and information about local resources and contractors to help get them started.

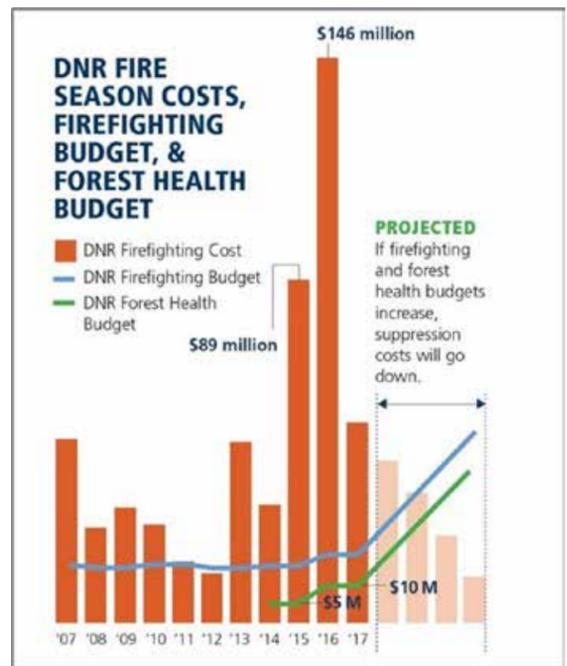

Wildfires often spark fires miles away. Fire officials say 90 percent of homes and buildings are lost as a result of wildfire embers blown by winds. Local residents may remember how fires were started in downtown Wenatchee by flames from a wildfire up in the foothills just a few years ago.

The Department of Natural Resources has encouraged landowners to be Firewise by taking steps to prepare the area around their home making it more defensible in case of a wildland fire. DNR claims studies show that 80 percent of the homes lost, as a result of a wildland fire, could have been saved if brush around the home had been cleared and a defensible space had been created.

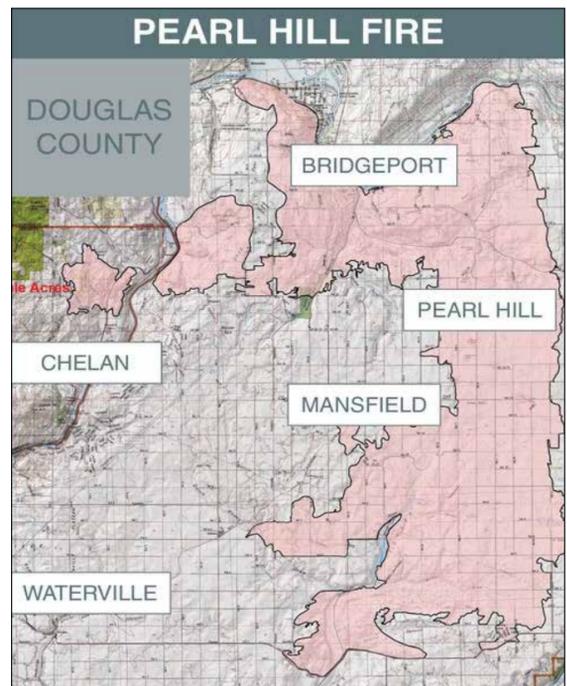

Senator Hawkins and Commissioner Franz both admit that fire suppression efforts must become more aggressive. Too often in the past fires were allowed to burn until there was no way to put them out until a heavy rain or even snowfall ended it naturally.

Some of the programs being implemented by DNR provide financial assistance. For example, landowners up the Chumstick and Eagle Creek areas outside of Leavenworth can get financial assistance for approved programs to make their properties less prone to wildland fire. Small Forest landowners should contact the State Department of Natural Resources to see if they are eligible.

My neighbor swears by cod liver oil and says I should try it. Could it improve my health?

Taking cod liver oil may help if you are deficient in vitamin A or vitamin D because it is an excellent source of these two fat-soluble vitamins.

According to the United States Pharmacopeia (USP), the official recipe for Cod Liver Oil is "a thin, oily liquid with a characteristic, slightly fishy odor and a definitely fishy taste." It was made by "steaming the livers of the Atlantic cod, then straining the oil that rises to the top of the vat or kettle."

Cod liver oil didn't start out as a medicine. A byproduct of the Norwegian fishing industry, cod liver oil was initially applied to horse hooves as a conditioner and rubbed into leather goods to soften them.

In the 1800s, rickets was a common childhood disease that caused severe bone deformities. When German physicians discovered that they could cure rickets by giving children cod liver oil internally, it caused a sensation. In older people, swallowing cod liver oil helped relieve joint aches, painful gout, and "obstinate constipation."

By 1851, cod liver oil was declared "one of the most esteemed remedies currently available." Doctors strongly recommended it, but children hated taking it. Suggestions on improving the "fishy" taste of cod liver oil began to show up in the medical and pharmacy references of that period.

The 19th edition of The United States Dispensary, published in 1907, contains this advice about cod liver oil: "It may be taken alone or mixed with some vehicle calculated to conceal its taste and obviate nausea. Peppermint oil has been found to be helpful."

Another suggestion was to "chew a small piece of orange peel before and after taking the medicine." This should be effective in masking the taste of fish oil or just about anything else!

Like other types of fish oil like salmon oil, taking cod liver oil can help ease stiff joints and minor muscle aches.

Cod liver oil may improve your health if your diet is low in either vitamin A or D. Your body requires vitamin D to incorporate calcium into your new bone tissue. A severe nutritional deficiency of vitamin D causes rickets in children and osteomalacia in adults.

New bone is not rigid enough to support the body weight of a growing child without enough vitamin D, creating crooked bones and skeletal deformities. In contrast, in adults, vitamin D deficiency causes weak bones, called osteomalacia. Vitamin A deficiency can cause growth retardation, night blindness, and increased susceptibility to infections.

The official recipe for cod liver oil listed in the United States Pharmacopoeia (USP) is Cod Liver Oil, USP. Each teaspoonful contains 850 USP units of Vitamin A and 85 USP units of Vitamin D plus approximately 1 gram of Omega-3 essential fatty acids, a concentration similar to that found in salmon oil.

The dose of cod liver oil recommended back in the day was one teaspoonful 3-4 times daily for children and one tablespoonful (3 teaspoonfuls, or 15ml) 3-4 times a day for adults.

The amount of Omega-3 fatty acids in cod liver oil varies, with formulas using Atlantic cod having the most and those from Pacific cod having little to none. Interestingly, cod liver oil was considered helpful in chronic rheumatism (joint or muscle aches). At least one old-time cod liver oil product contained nearly the same concentration of Omega-3 fatty acids as found in today's salmon oil supplements.

In the 1930s, the United States began adding vitamin A and D to milk to reduce the high prevalence of rickets seen in children. Every 8 ounce serving of cow's milk has 25% of the recommended daily intake of vitamin D and 10% of the recommended daily intake of vitamin A. Most ready-to-eat cereals in the US are fortified with 10% of the recommended daily intake of vitamin A and D. Rickets is now very rare in the United States.

Will taking cod liver oil improve your health? It may help you get more Vitamin D and Omega 3 fatty acids. It also contains high concentrations of vitamin A, which you may not need.

Instead of an oily, fishy-smelling liquid, today's cod liver oil is available as capsules, similar to fish oil. There are many cod liver oil formulas available in addition to the original USP version. Refer to the vitamins A, D, and Omega 3 fatty acid content listed on each label for best results.

Council rejects pool bid

Tribes receive a tax rebate from the state for gas sales tax sold at stations on their lands. He asked if providing the Tribes with a membership and vote would be fair to other CDTC members, or if it would allow the Tribes to double dip into transportation funding. Major Jim Fletcher said he did not have enough information to be able to answer that question. He added that any funds that the tribe would receive as being a member of the CDTC would have to be spent in either Chelan or Douglas counties. Council member Jayne Stephenson asked if the city council could get a map showing tribal lands in the two counties. Member Chris Carlson suggested that the motion be tabled until additional information could be obtained.

not paid, that the money goes to the state.

Fletcher told the Council that the overhead garage doors in the heated portion of the public works building are in need of replacement. He said that due to their condition they are left open frequently, which is a security concern. The City has received two bids to replace the doors. Door Tech was the lowest bidder that met the requirements, at $22,684.30. Jones said that $20,000 was budgeted. The Council unanimously voted to have the doors replaced.

In progress reports, Carlson said he had attended the Cashmere Planning Commission meeting and that they are still wrestling with the best approach to regulating Accessory Dwelling Units. Fletcher suggested allowing them in areas that are already zoned for duplexes, but that he is wanting to see what happens at the state legislative level so that he is not in a big hurry to finalize the decision.

Fletcher announced that he has approved a permit for a Farmer's Market to use Simpson Park. He said he is planning to issue a request for proposals for a manager to lease the Riverside Center. But he said he wasn't sure what sort of response the city will receive due to continued restrictions on large gatherings due to COVID.

Mob Rules

The multitude rejoices in thinking that justice has been served and I stand on the outside, not so convinced.

Let's be real, the trial of Derek Chauvin was a sham. He wasn't "innocent until proven guilty" as our judicial system asserts, rather in the court of public opinion, Chauvin was a guilty man and no evidence could prove otherwise.

The court of public opinion is nothing short of mob rule and when you have politicians, celebrities, and other influencers inciting people to "stay on the street" and "get more confrontational" if their desired outcome doesn't happen, then you no longer have a fair legal system. Instead, you have a tampered one and the judicial system dies.

What we all witnessed last week was not a step forward in our country, nor did it advance the cause of combating systemic racism. It was an act of injustice that sets a dangerous precedent for our future. If a mob that holds to a particular ideology can threaten, harass and influence what is supposed to be "impartial" and "fair" then there is no end to what it can do.

And that should concern every one of us.

Please don't misunderstand me, Derek Chauvin was no saint. In fact, there were no saints in this situation nor were there any martyrs. The incident that unfolded a year ago was tragic and could have been prevented. However, in the court of law, every citizen is entitled and guaranteed the right to a fair trial regardless.

More and more lately, I am reminded of the words of Christ in Matthew 5:6 say, "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied." As Christians, righteousness is a constant longing within our hearts. We hunger and thirst for it within our lives and we desire to see it happen in the world around us. Christians endeavor to be a just people because the Bible teaches that the Law of God is good and holy (Rom. 7:12, 1 Tim. 1:8) and applies equally to all people. When God's Law is rejected, denied, or broken by sinful men, it elicits mourning and grief within the soul of the believer. To put it simply, Christians aren't and should never be okay with injustice in any form.

Yet, going back to Matthew 5:6 and the last part of the verse where it says, "...shall be satisfied.", when will that satisfaction happen? It may happen in some part here and there in this world, but ultimately it will occur when Christ makes all things new at the very end of the age.

Our world has been broken by sin and that fallenness pervades into every sphere of life, including the American justice system. However, our response to that brokenness is not to take matters into our own hands, burn down buildings, or riot in the street. Rather we are to trust God who judges justly and believe the Bible when it says in Romans 12:19, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord."

Whatever happens here—all the injustice, unfair treatment, corruption, etc.—will be dealt with and all accounts will be settled by God. No sin will escape his wrath or remain unpunished but true justice will prevail because God is a just judge.

As we witness the breakdown of our institutions by unjust and unruly mobs, we must remember that mob rule will have an end. Jesus is King and he is putting all things under his feet. Those who perpetrate injustice, corruption, bribery, and those who think they can strong-arm and manipulate the system, must repent or face the justice of Christ.

Although the verdict was read and a sentence was given to Derek Chauvin, this is not the end of the matter. The consequences of this trial will play out in the years to come and we should brace ourselves for more hungering and thirsting for righteousness. At the same time, we should eagerly expect and pray for the day when those longings for justice will be satisfied by Christ.

OBITUARY

Jerry Edward Hite

July 18, 1934 - April 12, 2021

Jerry Edward Hite passed away on April 12, 2021 after a rapid decline caused by complications from Alzheimer's disease. During the duration of his illness, Jerry continued to carry with him the warm humor he was known for. Even with this affliction, Jerry was able to put staff at ease, with many calling out his wit and warmth from even the briefest of encounters.

Jerry was born on July 18, 1934 in Cashmere, Washington. He was the oldest child of James and Clarice Hite. His early years were formed by both the Hite and Shotwell clans, as he played along the banks of the Shotwell ditch.

At Wenatchee High School, Jerry developed into a first-rate trumpet player and shutterbug. His senior year was consumed with defending his first chair in band, jazz band, and being an under-aged member of the Cardinal's Dance Band. He often played at the Eagle's Club, with his music teachers, late into the night. Jerry graduated with honors from Wenatchee High School in 1952.

Jerry attended the local Junior College, followed by studies at Washington State University. But he interrupted his education in 1954 to serve in the military. Continuing his trumpet playing, Jerry was asked to join the 3rd Armored Division Band. Based on the photos and stories told, Jerry packed many adventures into his time in Germany.

Returning to WSU in 1956, Jerry married Alice Goodman of Wenatchee on New Year's Eve, before buckling down to his studies. He finished his degree in Mechanical Engineering and landed on the Dean's list in 1959.

Leaving Pullman, Jerry and Alice pointed their Triumph Spitfire towards Salt Lake City, where Jerry started his life's work in the Aerospace industry for Sperry. Their first child Jeffery was born in July of 1960, shortly before moving back to Washington State. The family settled in the Bellevue area, where they have remained.

Jerry and Alice welcomed their second child Kimberly to the family in July of 1961. The family was completed four years later with the birth of their youngest son John (February 1965). Afterwards only random dogs, guppies and various birds joined the family.

ELDEC corporate hired Jerry in 1968 to help develop new products for the financially troubled company, what we call a start-up today. Many of the commercial jets still flying contain ELDEC fuel flow meters designed by Jerry over his 28-year career with the firm. Jerry retired in 1992.

Photography remained a life-long passion, even though his children would open the door to the darkroom without knocking. His photographic interest varied from sports, where he freelanced for the Seattle Sounders and Seattle Super Sonics, to professional wedding photography.

Jerry is survived by his wife Alice Hite, brother Joe Hite, his three children; Jeffery, Kimberly and John; 12 grandchildren and 9 great grandchildren. Jerry was preceded in death by his sisters Carol Trussler and Lynn Hite, and great-granddaughter Rose Morrison.

Jerry has been laid to rest among many generations of family members in the Cashmere cemetery.

We are here to serve families in Leavenworth, Peshastin, Plain and the entire Upper Valley.
