Cashmere High School boys and girls are preparing for their first meet of the season on Saturday, Feb. 27 hosted by Wahluke High School in Mattawa.

It will be an interesting cross country season. This year our league includes all the high schools of Chelan, Douglas, Okanogan and Grant counties. We will compete for the regional championship against Wenatchee, Eastmont and Moses Lake not to mention our usual league rivals of Chelan, Omak, Cascade and Quincy. Throw in the powerhouse "B" schools of Liberty Bell and Manson and there will some very stiff competition for the championship! Cashmere girls won the 2020

Caribou Trail League championship which was the third consecutive team league championship for the girls. Being first in the league championship meet qualified the girls to run at the State Championship meet in Pasco. At state, Cashmere girls finished fifth place overall. Syd Smith earned a medal by placing 13th individually. We have five of our seven state runners back on the team this season so we have some experienced runners returning. Seniors Syd Smith and Andria Torrence have run in three state meets while Junior Tristan Hoffman has run in two state meets. Seniors Ellie Martin and Kylee Foster have both competed in one state meet.

The Cashmere boys finished in second place at the league championship meet last year which qualified them to compete at the state meet. Rob McManus finished 2nd overall at the state meet and the team placed 6th overall. The boys team also has several returning runners with state meet experience. Senior Rob McManus has run in three state meet and Senior Dyllion Taylor has run twice. Seniors Oscar Orozco and Kyler Knoll and Junior Henry Nelson have each competed in one state meet.

Here is the current league schedule and due to COVID metrics it is subject to change.

Saturday, February 27 Eastmont, Omak, Manson, Brewster, Omak at Wahluke

Saturday, March 6 Chelan, Cascade, Royal City, Wahluke, Omak, Quincy at Ephrata

Saturday, March 13 Wenatchee, Manson, Omak, Tonasket, Oroville at

Chelan

Saturday, March 20 Wenatchee, Cascade, Liberty Bell at Walla Walla Point Park

Thursday, March 25 Ephrata, Chelan, Cascade, Royal City, Wahluke, Omak, Quincy at Walla Walla Point Park

Thursday, April 1 North Central Washington Regional Cross Country Championship Meet at Walla Walla Point Park

Former Cashmere state competitor, college athlete and 1st grade teacher, Kea Paton Yamamoto, is the assistant coach. Former head coach John Durheim is returning as a volunteer coach this season.

Chelan County Commissioners keep watch on proposed Olympia Bills

BY GARY BÉGIN

Managing Editor, NCW Media

WENATCHEE – The February 9 meeting of the Chelan County Commission was highlighted by the overview and commentary of several House and Senate bills that may affect the county and local cities in both positive and negative ways.

SB5368 is in regards to the annexation of unincorporated territory by state code cities currently under Urban Growth Area (UGA) boundaries. The annexation must be coordinated between the city and the county it lies within and includes safeguards for continued upkeep of infrastructure, fair evaluation of potential loss or gain to residential properties and potential for revenue sharing agreements. It requires the formation of interlocal agreements. If the bill passes, cities will become eligible for the annexation sales tax credit. The bill was referred to the Senate Ways & Means Committee February 12.

The Washington State Association of Counties (WSAC)*, representing 39 Washington counties, has issued pro or con advice on many of the bills. See the WSAC website for more information (WSAC.ORG).

Commissioner Keith Overbay went through some of the proposed bills and had comments regarding a few specified bills, admitting he would take an entire day to analyze and comment on all of them.

HB1412, said Overbay, "Would cause a revenue hit" on counties and is opposed by WSAC. The bill specifically allows non-payment of fines and/or restitution if "the offender does not have the current or likely future ability to make full or partial restitution."

Overbay, a retired Washington State Patrol officer, explained the proposal to the other two commissioners Tiffany Gering and Bob Bugert. If passed, "At any time, the court may determine that the offender is not required to pay, or may relieve the offender of the required fine to pay," thus causing an obvious loss of court revenues to be distributed to county and city entities from convicted offenders.

HB1099 is also opposed by WSAC as it mandates actions by counties cannot be approved unless within guidelines of greenhouse gas emissions regulations.

The bill demands future regulations be, "... supported by scientifically credible projections and scenarios that indicate their adoption is likely to result

City of Cashmere Refinances Bonds saves $2.6 million

SUBMITTED BY MAYOR JIM FLETCHER

Cashmere -- On February 10, 2021, the City of Cashmere sold a total of $11,315,000 refunding bonds, which will refinance existing water and sewer revenue bonds, to take advantage of lower market interest rates. The refinancing will save the City's utility system $2.6 million of interest payments over the next 33 years.

D.A. Davidson & Co. in Seattle is serving as bond underwriter for the refunding bond issue. The City has been monitoring bond market conditions over the past few months, and recent low interest rates allowed the City to exceed its savings target. Interest rates averaged 2.25% on the new bonds compared to 3.25% on the bonds being refinanced.

Mayor Jim Fletcher said, "It is gratifying to be able to take advantage of low market interest rates. The bonds we refinanced paid for our new Wastewater Treatment Plant in 2013. The savings we achieved today will help keep utility rates affordable for our community ratepayers."

S&P Global Ratings assigned its rating of 'A+' to the City's 2021 bond issue, meaning the City's ability to meet its financial commitments is strong, in S&P's opinion.

S&P cited the following positive credit factors supporting the City's water and sewer system's rating:

- Good operational management practices and policies;
- Affordable rates, with discounts available to low-income seniors customers;
- Sufficient water supply and treatment capacity to meet continued demand;
- Sound financial reserves;

- Extremely strong coverage of debt service by net system revenues; and
- Lack of additional debt plans.

The strong credit rating on the City's water and sewer revenue refunding bonds can be credited with attracting investor interest in purchasing the bonds, contributing to the debt service savings. The City also enhanced savings by purchasing bond insurance on certain maturities of the bonds through Build America Mutual, which has a AA rating.

If you have an interest in learning more about the bonds, please contact the City for additional information.

in reductions of greenhouse gas emissions or per capita vehicle miles traveled.”

The proposal also requires actions taken must “substantially reduce the adverse impacts of climate change on people, property, and ecological systems through goals, policies, and programs consistent with the best available science and scientifically credible climate projections and impact scenarios that moderate or avoid harm, enhance the resiliency of natural and human systems, and enhance beneficial opportunities.”

Because of the rural nature of most of Washington state, the bill is considered to be mainly one for urban areas to consider and not practical for non-urban entities, where much greater mileage is incurred by necessary vehicular traffic, according to minority party (GOP) comments.

Another bill possibly causing angst in rural areas is the call for an addition to “community oversight” in HB1203.

“All local jurisdictions must establish a community oversight board by January 1, 2025. ... To receive complaints from community members regarding the conduct of law enforcement officers and civilian employees of the law enforcement agency.” The bill is aimed at any city or county law enforcement agency with at least 15 members on staff.

“Upon complaint of any person or on its own initiative, to investigate incidents that occur between members of the public and law enforcement officers or civilian employees of the law enforcement agency, including incidents involving: The use of force by a law enforcement officer; death or serious injury to any person held in custody; serious abuse of authority or misconduct by a law enforcement officer; allegedly discriminatory stops or other profiling activity; adversarial interactions between law enforcement officers and community members at public assemblies; and other adverse incidents related to the conduct of law enforcement officers or civilian employees of the law enforcement agency.”

The bill was referred to the House Appropriations Committee on February 9.

‘Divisive’ talk is Apple Pie ‘merican

When King George Bush the Second was in power he used to pronounce American without the confusing and obnoxious “A” so it sounded like ‘merican. Good for him. It is always good to be king and do what you please.

Back in the day, Benjamin Franklin thought the American wild turkey would be the perfect symbol of the country. We know how that turned out.

No matter. The way things “turn out” is often the result of a metamorphous of seemingly unrelated stream of consciousness ideas melding into, whether by pure serendipity or scientific method, the “perfect” solution.

Keeping that in mind, I believe the next installment of the Hollywood Jason Bourne movie franchise starring Matt Damon will be an homage to Christians worldwide and be named The Bourne Again. Either that, or the star will change his name to Matt Demon and the next movie will be titled Bourne to Raise Hades. The truth is usually hiding in the shadows, a grey zone so to speak, neither full of insight nor full of ... The Bourne Loser is the sequel, as Matt Demon leaves Las Vegas with a hole in his er, wallet.

Speaking of the CIA, now that Donald Trump’s old Atlantic City, New Jersey casino has been imploded, Vlad “the Impaler” Putin, will invite him to build a new casino in the Crimea. It will become famous for low payouts, but lots of glitz and eventually be referred to as “Crimea River” as hapless gamblers by the thousands throw their money and sometimes themselves, into the Black Sea.

A new reality television series will merge Wicked Tuna and Looney Tunes into Wicked Toona. The show’s theme song will be Mack the Fillet Knife.

Some architectural mensch’s feel that a building is the business card of the builders and that idea doesn’t bode well for big box stores. After all, thinking outside of the box is a character trait to be heralded, so that makes all those living and working in boxes incredibly boring, eh?

Some people are obsessed with other reality shows like American Idol. That’s right, “Idle,” an offshoot of “American Idol.” This show idealizes the true spirit in us all – nap time is always a good time. Can I have an amen?

Now take a hard look at a can of Spam. The concept, the product, the taste and convenience of frying pork are what marketing fortunes are made of. It’s all the rage in Hawaii and Polynesia.

Unlike turkey, a bird fashioned of Spam will not cause amnesia. It’s also the perfect food to serve at your next White Supremacist party as it can’t be eaten by Jews or Muslims, unless they are undercover FBI agents willing to go all the way with the ruse.

The strange meat in a strange little can, well, some would say knocks the taste right outta yo mouth for anything but. A remake of a famous, but gross crime movie, is going to use Spam as a featured food. Hollywood is calling it Silence of the Hams. The opening scene is in the canned meat aisle at your local Walmart.

If you ever wake up feeling pugilistic in the morning and decide on shaking those berries and twigs, try a face plant in the snow followed by a shot of Irish Coffee. You’ll be glad you did and so will your neighbors. It gives them one more reason to call America’s Most Wanted on you, convinced your behavior is that of a criminal hiding in the witness protection program, but having trouble getting with the program.

Speaking of programs, when your kid hits 18, a decision must be made. Do they become Lego engineers, astronauts or politicians? Remind them gently that all three iterations of human must deal with plastic.

I leave you now with a tale from the life of one Yessir Arafat, he of the Free Palestine crusade that died a while back. He was famous because he never slept in the same place two nights in a row. That is of course why you should join the frequent flyer club.

Because when all is sad and dunned, fiscal prudence is the best and perhaps only way to gain true independence.

Hawkins, Goehner: House ‘Wealth Tax’ bill ‘punishment’ for success

By GARY BÉGIN

OLYMPIA – A rehash of an old Democrat Party idea has come back to the state capitol for a vote. So far it is only in the House, but Senator Brad Hawkins (R-East Wenatchee) is ready with an answer if it ever comes to the state Senate.

“Improving the equity of Washington state’s tax code by creating the Washington state wealth tax and taxing extraordinary financial intangible assets — House Bill 1406, was introduced by Rep. Noel Frame (D-Seattle) in late January.

Hawkins stated, in an exclusive interview with NCW Media, that “HB 1406 is a new proposal this year, so I don’t know how far it will advance. If it does advance, it will probably be one of the final bills of the session and part of the overall budget package. Since it is a House of Representatives’ bill, there hasn’t been much talk of it yet in the Senate,” Hawkins said.

“While I certainly want everyone to pay their fair share of taxes, this one seems to be targeted toward a few people as almost a punishment for their success. Personally, I think people like Bill Gates, Jeff Bezos, the founder of Starbucks, or anyone else who is this fortunate has worked incredibly hard for their earnings, took gigantic risks, made big sacrifices throughout their business careers, and have employed a tremendous number of people in the process,” continued Hawkins.

“They happen to also be very sincere in their efforts to support others with generous foundations and personal giving. This bill seems like an effort to extract money from a handful of very successful people to fund more growth in government. To me, that sends the wrong message,” he said.

“While state revenues have taken a modest hit during the COVID pandemic, our state economy is holding steady despite efforts to keep our economy closed. Personally, rather than implementing creative new taxes to significantly grow the budget, I would favor using our $2 billion budget stabilization account reserves and making modest adjustments to balance the budget rather than more tax increases and continued spending,” said Hawkins.

“I’m not sure Washington State can keep this up if the economy and state revenues dip again due to COVID or if our state or country experiences a non-COVID recession in the future. So as much as I would like to keep an open mind about everything, I am concerned about the message this bill sends and the way it might chase off a few people from Washington, people who are among our state’s most incredible success stories,” Hawkins concluded.

Tom Olson, Washington resident and political commentator, stated on the USA Votes chat site that the Seattle Democrats’ tax bill is: “(1) Confiscatory and punitive, (2) hasn’t worked elsewhere, (3) expensive and difficult to administer, (4) will be easily circumvented by the ‘rich’ simply changing domiciles from Washington. Perhaps this should be retitled ‘Texas-Florida stimulus act?’”

In another exclusive interview with the Wenatchee Business Journal, State Representative Keith Goehner (R-Dryden) said about the “wealth Tax,” “I am not in favor of a ‘wealth tax.’ It is important to have equity in taxation, but disproportionately taxing success does not encourage additional investment in the State.”

Goehner continued, “We should be providing incentives for reinvestment in our communities by those who are best positioned to manage those investments.”

State Representative Mike Steele (R-Chelan) did not respond to an interview request by publication deadline. Keep reading NCW Media publications: Leavenworth

Echo, Lake Chelan Mirror, Cashmere Valley Record, Wenatchee Business Journal and the Quad City Herald for updates on this new tax proposition by Washington state Democrats.

Removing the Snake River dams is another bad decision

Declining salmon runs, just like global warming/climate change is just another misundersood problem that could be solved without removing any dams or spending small fortunes employing lawyers and environmentalists that do not understand the problem.

BILL FORHAN
PUBLISHER

Even if the dams are removed salmon runs will continue to decline. Why? Because the biggest problem comes from overfishing off the coasts of North America and British Columbia.

Native Americans unfortunately are part of the problem here. Before you start calling me a racist we need to examine current fishing practices. Runs were plentiful before modern fishing techniques, that is, fishing trawlers were employed by commercial fishermen many of which are Native American.

Go salmon fishing off the coast today and you are liable to get run over by trawlers sweeping nearly everything in their path into their holds.

You want to test the theory? Put a fishing ban off the coast for five years. Pay the fishermen, including the Native Americans, to park their boats. We have paid farmers not to grow wheat and other crops why not pay fishermen not to fish.

British Columbia tried a partial ban in the early 90’s and quickly saw a huge surge in salmon runs.

I appreciate the Native American culture that wants to protect the salmon, but if we don’t get a better handle on over fishing salmon will become extinct and the dams will have to be rebuilt in order to recreate clean energy, reduce flooding and provide a way for farmers to get their grain to market.

Prepared for Persecution?

James Coates, a Canadian pastor sits behind bars today. His crime? Gathering the church for consistent, regular worship on Sundays. Unable to see his family, he waits in prison as his totalitarian government decides his fate. However, being the benevolent tyrants they are, they did offer him a deal for an early release. All Pastor Coates has to do is promise 1) that he won't return to church and 2) refrain from preaching. Do that, and he can walk out of jail a free man.

A WALK WITH PASTOR JOHN SMITH

non-threatening as possible. To be known as the church with the "friendly face" (covered now by a mask) and to be the nicest gathering in town is the ultimate goal for some. Don't get me wrong, churches shouldn't strive to be jerks or obnoxious but historically speaking, "nice" churches don't get persecuted, only the faithful ones do.

But he won't and nor would any faithful minister.

What has happened to Pastor Coates is just one of the many examples of what persecution could look like in this "Brave New World"—where an unmasked, gathered church is a threat to public health and sermons about Biblical definitions regarding gender and sexuality are considered hate speech. I know of many brothers and sisters in America and Canada that have been jailed, fined, and threatened by the authorities for practicing their Biblical convictions. Even myself, have faced the frown of the State for speaking what the Bible says regarding life and the protection of the unborn.

My point: Persecution is here and it doesn't look like it's going to stop anytime soon.

Now that fact may disturb some of you because we have all enjoyed a relatively free and easy expression of Christianity. Our faith hardly costs us anything if we were honest. Yet, read what the Bible says, to follow Christ is a costly endeavor (Luke. 9:23), and "All who desire to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted" (2 Tim. 3:12). It is not a matter of "if" but "when" persecution will occur in your life. It's going to happen to you in some way or some form if it hasn't already.

As I meditate on the reality of persecution happening here, I wonder what percentage of churches are worth persecuting? It's a strange question to ask, I admit, but how many churches in our nation have been and are willing to be counted as it says in Acts 5:41, "worthy to be shamed for the name?" For the most part, there has been a concerted effort to be as safe, comfortable, and

The second thought that comes to mind when talking about persecution is preparedness. Are we prepared to face it, practically? In my pastorate, I could easily find myself in jail for the sermons I have preached and the ministry that I am involved in. In fact, it is a constant theme and a running joke here at EBC that they may have to take up an offering to bail me out of jail because I got myself in trouble for preaching the gospel. But seriously, what if your pastor gets arrested and finds himself in the very same situation as Pastor Coates? Will his family be taken care of? What about other men in the church who will take the reins and lead in the pastor's absence? If things get really bad, where, when and will you even gather as a church? These are questions for generations, that brothers and sisters throughout the world have had to answer, in places where persecution is at its fiercest like China, the Middle East, and Communist-controlled Russia. Now in 2021, that discussion comes to us here in the West.

Are you a church worth persecuting and are you ready to face it when it comes?

Pray for Pastor James Coates and for the saints that gather at Grace Life Church in Alberta Canada. Pray that we would all remain faithful when the fire of persecution comes and that we would stand, denying all before we ever deny our Lord.

OBITUARY

Jean Ann Barnhart

April 2, 1937 – February 8, 2021

Jean Ann Barnhart, a longtime resident of Cashmere, died February 8, 2021 in her home. Jean was born April 2, 1937 to Jesse James Little of Cherokee Heritage and Elsie Josephine Marie Hanson of Norwegian Heritage in Sedro Wooley, WA. Jean's father, among many other things, was a Justice of the Peace and Jean remembered couples coming to her home to get married. Jean helped her mother serve tea and desserts in her home on many occasions. When World War II began in 1941, Jean remembered having sand buckets by the door and blackouts. During the Depression, she would go to the river with her parents to pick blackberries to sell at the feed store. The family pitched in and never went hungry. Jean's mother was a teacher and she occasionally found herself in a class her mother taught. By the age of ten, Jean worked in the strawberry fields and babysat. Movies were fifteen cents and ice cream cones were five cents. She often rode her bike across town to visit her grandmother who was unable to get around much.

In high school Jean was active in G.A.A., Pep Club. Kumtax as Faculty Editor, Language Club, Tri-H-Y, and F.H.A. She was also active in Rainbow S.W. Assembly 36 as pianist, secretary, and received the honorary degree: The Grand Cross of Color. Jean graduated from Sedro Wooley High in 1955 and enrolled at Western Washington College of Education in its School of Nursing. Jean met and became engaged to Roger Barnhart who was a student-athlete there. Roger graduated in 1956 and was in the Army until the spring of 1958. They were married August 3, 1958. Roger began teaching in Cashmere that fall. Jean finished Nursing School the end of September that year and joined Roger in Cashmere. Her first job was at St. Anthony's Hospital in Wenatchee, WA. Later, St. Anthony's built Rosewood Hospital and moved to that location. Still later, it united with Deaconess Hospital and added on wings and became Central Washington Hospital. Jean was Hospital Nurse of the Year in 1986. In 1995 Jean retired from nursing after 36 and ½ years in the Obstetrics Department as a Labor and Delivery Nurse. Jean seemed to always be recognized by families who remembered that she delivered their baby or themselves who were delivered by her.

Jean loved the time she was able to spend with Roger and her children on their boat in the San Juan Islands. She loved to catch crab, gig for cod, dig for clams, and fish for salmon.

She and Roger even became Scuba Diving Certified. Jean spent countless hours in her garden and caring for her plants. She was also devoted to her Genealogy and spent hours and hours researching her ancestry. Most of the words in this obituary are her own. Jean is survived by her sons, Phil Barnhart of Portland, Mike Barnhart of Wenatchee, and Chris Barnhart of Scottsdale, AZ. She has seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Please express your thoughts and memories on the online guestbook for Jean at jonesjonesbetts.com. Arrangements by Jones & Jones – Betts Funeral Home.

Obituary & Memorial Policies

NCW Media, Inc.: Leavenworth Echo, Cashmere Valley Record, Lake Chelan Mirror, Quad City Herald

An Obituary is a way for family member(s) to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the community of the passing of the loved one. Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data.

Memorials are another way to let the community know about the life and memories of the person who has passed. A Memorial is different from an Obituary. An Obituary is usually current, while a Memorial can be written later.

Obituaries and Memorials need to be typed and emailed as a Word Document. They can be placed in one or more papers - all publish weekly on Wednesday.

Obituaries are priced by the number of words and include one color photo and go online at no extra charge. Memorials are priced per column inch. Please call for cost. *Payment is due at the time of placement. *Exception: Chapels, funeral homes who have an account, can be billed. There is no charge for a Death Notice - information is limited.

Deadline is 4 p.m. on Friday - some exceptions may apply.

FFA Week

Cashmere students begin preparing for their annual plant sale

SUBMITTED BY RUSTY FINCH

Cashmere High School FFA advisor

Cashmere FFA will be moving forward with its annual plant sale which is scheduled for May 6 - May 8.

Students are currently working in the greenhouse as our High School operates in it's a.m./p.m. hybrid model.

FFA members will compete this spring in several "virtual" Career Development Events. These competitive events include:

Creed Speaking, Public Speaking, Apple Judging, Environmental Natural Resources, Livestock Evaluation, Food Science, Dairy Products and Meats Evaluation. Cashmere FFA is also moving forward with the acquisition of animal projects for the Chelan County Fair.

Cashmere FFA will have 7 candidates applying for their

State FFA Degree. This year's applicants include:

Kyle Carney, Maggie Finch, Kaden Keogh, Jessie Nixon, Duke Odenrider, Adria Torrence & Greg Worley

This award requires students to have:

- Completed at least 3 Agriculture classes
- Earned and invested at least $1,000 from their Supervised Agricultural Experience Project
- Completed at least 25 hours of community service
- Demonstrated 10 Parliamentary Procedure motions
- Participated in at least 5 activities above the chapter level
- Have a satisfactory scholastic record

You can follow the High School and School District websites for more detailed information regarding dates and times.

Growing the Future of Agriculture through Give FFA Day - Feb. 25

INDIANAPOLIS - In the spring of 2020, teachers across the country found new ways to reach their students. The same is true for ag educators and FFA advisors.

As the country dealt with the COVID-19 pandemic, FFA advisors across the country found ways to continue sharing the message of agriculture and teaching the next generation of leaders. Through generous donations from FFA supporters, students and teachers across the country, we're able to continue to make a difference.

For more than 90 years, the organization has strived to make a difference in students' lives. FFA knows it is growing the future generation of leaders and through their programming, students can find their path to success.

Hannah Everetts, agricultural education teacher and FFA advisor in Ohio, recognizes that it is through generous supporters that she was able to continue to share the FFA message. "Thank you for recognizing that the students in our program matter and that what we do as educators matters in our classroom," she said. "Thank you, donors. Thank you for all that you do to support our classrooms all across the country."

Once again, during National FFA Week, individuals will have an opportunity to step up and support FFA and agricultural education through Give FFA Day on Thursday, Feb. 25. This year, the organization has a goal of getting 1,500 donors during the 24-hour period.

FFA corporate partners will also participate in increasing contributions by matching them dollar-for-dollar on Give FFA Day. The first $25,000 donated will be matched by Carhartt, and the second $25,000 will be matched by John Deere. Other challenges will be announced throughout the day.

In addition, former FFA members and FFA alumni are encouraged to donate $19.71 in honor of the 50th anniversary of the National FFA Alumni, which was chartered in 1971.

"Thanks to our donors, we are able to help continue to build the next generation of leaders," said Kimberly Coveney, annual fund manager of the National FFA Foundation. "Give FFA Day is an opportunity for individuals across the country to give back to an organization that is making a difference in the lives of young people while sharing the story of agriculture. Every donation counts. By coming together to give on this one day, donations of any amount are amplified."

To prepare for Give FFA day, visit FFA.org/GiveFFADay. See how you can give back to the organization.

The National FFA Organization is a school-based national youth leadership development organization of more than 760,000 student members as part of 8,700 local FFA chapters in all 50 states and Puerto Rico.
