Phase 2 COVID policy allows Libraries to reopen

SUBMITTED BY MICHELLE MCNIEL

NCW Libraries reopened the libraries to in-person visits on Tuesday, Feb. 16. Customers will once again be able to browse the shelves, access computer stations, read the newspaper, or pick out a DVD. Gov. Jay Inslee announced on Thursday that most of the state including all five counties in the library district will move to Phase 2 of the state's reopening next week.

Several safety measures are already in place in the libraries. Customers will be required to wear a mask, practice social distancing, and limit their visit to around thirty minutes. In accordance with state mandated guidelines, all of the library buildings will have a 25 percent occupancy limit.

For library patrons who prefer minimal contact service, curbside pickup will continue to be offered at all branches. The library is also working to expand service hours and availability, which it plans to launch in March.

NCW Libraries will continue to offer a wide variety of resources and programs online at newlibraries.org and on its Facebook page. Upcoming virtual programs include STEM workshops, Book-It-Theater performances, author visits, and more.

Fact Check: COVID19 policies and the vaccine

A conversation on current events

BILL FORHAN
PUBLISHER

I opened my email this morning to read an article by none other than the New York Times regarding the wisdom of "coronavirus absolutism." Their lead on the article is:

"In a public health emergency, absolutism is a very tempting response: People should cease all behavior that creates additional risk."

"That instinct led to calls for gay men to stop having sex during the AIDS crisis. It has also spurred campaigns for teen abstinence, to reduce sexually transmitted diseases and pregnancies. And to fight obesity, people have been drawn to fads like the elimination of trans fats or carbohydrates."

"These days, there is a new absolutist health fad: the discouragement — or even prohibition — of any behavior that seems to increase the risk of coronavirus infection, even minutely."

The NYT article goes on to question the effectiveness of wearing masks outdoors, making the point that "Worldwide scientists have not documented any instances of outdoor transmission unless people were in close conversation."

It seems that now that the election is over the highly liberal NYT is ready to question the efficacy of lockdowns, closing schools and wearing masks. Movements have begun in New York and California to remove the governors there for abuse of their emergency powers that have not effectively reduced the spread of the virus or reduced the death rates.

Our own governor, Jay Inslee, is now approving relaxation of his restrictive phase programs. North Central Washington was just approved to move to phase 2 even though our region is not even close to obtaining his goal of 25 cases per 100,000 population.

The current official position of most of the Health Care industry and the government is that we must continue to wear masks and self-isolate until the bulk of our society is vaccinated against the virus. In words just coined by the NYT we must continue to follow the practice of coronavirus absolutism. Any information that runs contrary or critical of that position must be crushed. It must be declared unscientific and a commitment to accept more deaths as the inevitable result of non-compliance.

There are of course other voices in this battle. One such voice is Dr. Simone Gold. Gold is a board certified, emergency room doctor and attorney. Dr. Gold is a Chicago Medical School graduate with a Stanford University Law School Degree. She completed her residency at Stony Brook University Hospital in New York. She has written a book on her fight against the medical cancel culture titled, I Do Not Consent. She founded an organization named, America's Frontline Doctors. You can find more information on her organization at AFDLS.com.

Dr. Gold takes exception to the current policies of how best to address treatment of COVID19. She believes decisions about how best to treat a patient with COVID should be left to the patient's individual physician. Dr. Gold does say that it is blatantly false to say there are no effective treatments for COVID patients. She is highly suspicious of the "vaccines" which she describes as Experimental Biological Agents.

It should come as no surprise that for her opposition to the official positions of the Medical establishment Dr. Gold has been severely punished. She has been fired by two of the hospitals where she practiced medicine for twenty years. The reason was she prescribed Hydroxychloroquine for the treatment of COVID patients.

Dr. Gold clearly states it is a lie to say there are no treatments for COVID19. Hydroxychloroquine and Ivermectin have both been shown to be effective treatments. Hydroxychloroquine has been an FDA approved drug for 65 years. In much of the World, it does not even require a prescription. It is available over the counter.

Many will remember that President Trump was treated with these drugs when he tested positive and recovered quickly.

Before you dismiss Dr. Gold as a crackpot non-conformist you might want to hear her position on COVID and the medical professions response.

Dr. Gold says that the way the government and medical agencies have responded to this virus is nothing short of a crime against humanity. She points out that there is a physician in the Netherlands that is bringing a lawsuit in the Hague claiming just that.

Dr. Gold says the worst thing about the current disinformation about COVID19 is the level of fear that has been spread across the country and the globe about this virus. The fact is what are the chances that if you contract the disease you will die? She says, if you are under 20, your survival ability is 99.97%; for 20 - 49 years old the survival ability is 99.98%; 50 - 69 is 99.5%; over 70 your survival rate approaches 95% with no treatment. The dirty little secret here according to Dr. Simone is that if you take early treatment the symptoms are mild, and you can recover quickly.

Dr. Gold points out that the truth is people over 70 are already approaching the end of their lives. Most have other co-morbidities that already compromise their health so it is true that COVID19 can be the final condition that ends their life. It's tragic but many older people die of simple things like a common cold or pneumonia. She once had an elderly patient that died of a nosebleed.

Dr. Gold has reservations about the "vaccine" which she likes to call an Experimental Biological Agent. She believes it was rushed through too quickly and not adequately tested. She points out that a previous COVID vaccine was developed for SARS-1, which is 78% similar to COVID19. They are both "COVID" viruses. To date there are 7 identified COVID viruses according to Dr. Gold, none of which have an effective vaccine. She includes the common cold in the list of COVID type viruses. The SARS-1 vaccine was never released after animal testing found it didn't work.

Dr. Gold raises two concerns about the current vaccine. The first is she has a concern about the vaccines effect on human reproduction. She points out that two doctors in Europe have raised concerns about how the drug impacts the placenta. This issue is not totally clear. Even Dr. Gold admits that it is one of those questions that we don't know what we don't know yet. The CDC says there is no risk although they admit that they have detected some cell modification on the outside lining of the placenta. The new vaccines make it appear as though you are permanently infected with COVID19 and no one is sure about how that will affect future pregnancies.

Her second concern is related to

City Council reviews facility repairs and a proposed Farmers Market

The Feb 8 meeting of the Cashmere City Council meeting began with an Executive Session to discuss an issue of potential litigation.

Director of Operations, Steve Croci, announced that the contract for pool repairs is ready to go out for bid with a completion date set for July 1. However, he added that if COVID restrictions would allow it to be open, he does not want to keep people out of the pool during the summer. He asked the Council their thoughts about putting off the repairs until Sept. Council member Dave Erickson said that Wenatchee is planning to open their pool this summer, with lots of restrictions. Member Daniel Scott supported the idea of putting the work off until late summer or fall, adding that the swim team is a major user of the pool and uses it early in the season.

A contract to provide space to the Food Bank is mostly ready according to Mayor Jim Fletcher. The cost of rent to the Food Bank, for a portion of the yellow garage, next to the

Papa Dré sets the record straight

It was the Year of COVID-19 and Papa Dré wanted things to be clear before he passed in a New Orleans hospital room last August at age 86. He wanted to be sure he knew the world and that it needed some serious fixin' as they say in Southeast Texas and 'round 'dare in da Bayou.

He sometimes didn't hear well and couldn't read lips of Anglaise (Englishmen) so he would often just smile when he saw your lips move or heard a sound like someone was trying to talk in a foreign language while eating peanut butter and crackers.

Papa D still had a bucket list, even at his young age.

Talking with Papa Dré (short for his middle name André), was always a trill somewhat akin to a roller coaster ride mixed in with bumper cars, cotton candy, Dixie longnecks and whatever fried food lagniappe was to be ett.

One of his dreams was to start a frog farm and harvest the legs for sale to restaurants around the country, but Dré also wanted to make sure the "little guys" running dem food trucks and showin' up at all the neighborhood fetes and garage sales and tailgatin' parties were also in on what he predicted would be a frenzy for these sauteed morsels of garlic & butter mouth candy.

He was tinkin' this could be as big as the Rubik's Cube or Frisbees or Pet Rock or any number of useless things consumers flocked to. His claim to fame was taste, uniqueness, nutritious, simple and fun.

Dré was a meat eater and that meant pretty well everything. No! He would shout at any fool willing to say such a dumb thing. No! It don't taste like chicken.

'Dis here beats chicken any day, but ya gotta kill a swampfull of frogs to get a decent meal for 20 friends at a Super Bowl party or LSU tailgatin' party. Because frog farming ain't cheap and it sometimes be labor intensive when harvest time come 'round, every "munt" on a weekly basis and then every day of that week. Dré figured the only way to get the cost down for the average blue collar swampdog as he himself be, was to grow dem critters on a vast scale. Maybe create the whirlds largest frog farm. Then by sheer force of scale (he dun learned dat on an epilepticode of Shark Tank) Dré would conquer the price point and vastly appreciate the margins and maybe even do franchising or sell the whole ting to Popeyes Louisiana Chicken or dis or dat and on he went.

After about tree hour of barbecue fried catfish, 20-pound of spicy crawdad boiled with salt podata and ¼ cobbs of sweetcorn and a keg of Dixie, wid sum dirty rice on da side, we knew we had dun fixed all de problem of da planet.

We all had quite a talk that crazy Sunday afternoon in old Chalmette. When Dré was in his 20's back in the day of hippies & Vietnam, he had always heard the phrase "STD is the Razor Edge." He was playin' back his memories of yoot.

I almost hamstrung a tonsil after 'splainin' forever that he was tinkin of "STP was the racer's edge" as promoted by Andy Granatelli. "Granatelli," Dré said. "Wasn't he one of dem Dons in de Gawdfada."

Old Pape Dré, we gonna

miss him fa sure.

I lived in the city of New Orleans in old Algiers from 1981-1984. I will always miss the food, Mardi Gras and the music. The people and that culture is perhaps, no, without a doubt, the most unique large community of its kind in America bar none. The Amish are cool and so too the Native Tribal cultures extant nationwide. The Mennonites are cool too and so are the Chinatowns and Little Italys, etc. Now go visit Nawlins and see for you self.

Dat remin's me, what is the loneliest bayou in the whirld? Bayou Self, son, yep dat be da place, Bayou Self.

State should encourage schools to think differently about 'learning loss'

The Washington State Constitution describes education as its "paramount duty," and the Legislature dedicates half of its $54 billion operating budget to K-12 education. Each year, lawmakers fiercely debate educational reform topics from school funding, graduation standards, and collective bargaining to levy reform, curriculum choices, and testing requirements. More recently, as a result of the COVID pandemic, school districts are focused on remote learning, technology needs, and safe reopening.

COMMUNITY VOICES
By BRAD HAWKINS

taxpayer funds from a return on investment perspective to resign ourselves to a schedule year after year that leaves students across our state with three months of no instruction and a month of reteaching every September? If we could redesign the school calendar today, wouldn't we do things very differently?

These are the questions I am attempting to answer in my Senate Bill 5147, a bill co-sponsored by many legislators, including committee chairs and leadership members from both parties. The bill includes a financial incentive for any district that chooses to voluntarily apportion their existing 180 state-funded school days over a full year. This will likely require multiple three-week breaks throughout the year or a few one-month breaks. The bill was recently approved by the Senate's Early Learning and K-12 Education Committee. The bill has another hearing this afternoon before the Senate's Ways and Means Committee, which develops the Senate's budget proposal. Many stakeholders are expected to testify, including local educational leaders Michelle Price, superintendent of the North Central Educational Service District, Gene Sharratt former superintendent and Washington State cabinet member, and Tom Venable, superintendent of the Methow Valley School District.

Both the Early Learning and K-12 Education Committee and Ways and Means Committee are working to address "learning loss" this legislative session. Learning loss is something that will, unfortunately, impact nearly every student across Washington state due to the COVID pandemic and the less-than-ideal circumstances associated with statewide remote learning. Some students could spend most of their remaining K-12 years just trying to catch up to their pre-pandemic academic learning trajectory. Sadly, many students will be burdened by COVID's educational impacts for many years to come.

The COVID educational impacts will burden most students for many years and likely will be compounded by the continual learning loss in future years, which occurs every summer as a result of outdated school calendars historically designed to accommodate our agricultural needs. Our current school calendar was created to allow students to have a three-month summer break to assist their families on their farms but became commonly accepted over time and now goes largely unquestioned. It's now time to think about transformational changes that could help every student across Washington.

With my bipartisan effort outlined in Senate Bill 5147, I'm calling on my colleagues in the Legislature to think differently about how to improve our educational delivery system. If we cannot do it now, as we prepare to pull ourselves out of this pandemic, when will we ever be able to? Fortunately, my legislative colleagues and I are not alone. Our Superintendent of Public Instruction Chris Reykdal identifies "balancing the school calendar" as one of his "10 strategic changes" for our schools, and I agree. In a January 8 letter to the governor and legislators, Superintendent Reykdal urged us to explore options to help our schools "become the highest performing public education system in the nation."

I do not think we get there by taking a long break every summer.

ATTENTION AMERICANS! If you haven't seen Mike Lindell's (yes, the Pillow Guy) video documentary outlining the fraud during the past Presidential election, you should. All Americans should be made aware of the questions raised by many experts who gave evidence of the irregularities in the vote counts of many voting districts. You may, or may not agree with the conclusions reached, but you must recognize that a large number of our citizens (tens of millions) believe that fraud played a role in the final vote tally. We must insist that an overhaul of our election process be conducted so that we can trust our elections are above reproach and fair for all. God Bless the USA.

The Council unanimously voted to approve upgrades to the SCADA system, which will remotely monitor and control operations at the water/wastewater facilities. According to city documents, the goal of the new systems will be to reduce the risk of system failures, to monitor Chlorine levels, allow for remote operations of select components of the water/wastewater systems and to collect data to monitor the need for preventative maintenance. The total capital costs for the water system upgrades is estimated at $331,000. The city had budgeted $50,000 for 2021. The estimated costs for the wastewater SCADA improvements is $132,750, the city had also budgeted $50,000 for these upgrades for 2021.

Previously council members had asked about doing the upgrade a little at a time rather than all at once. Croci explained that there are multiple benefits to having the work completed all at once. He said that there will be some cost savings by having all of the work completed at one time and the new technology and equipment will be more uniform and compatible. Clayton Anderson, a consultant with RH2 Engineering, added that there is a lot of overhead costs associated with setting up and closing out individual projects. Council member Chris Carlson said that he was originally questioning the benefits of upgrading the SCADA system, but after taking a tour of the systems and becoming better informed, he had altered his opinion and said that upgrades are needed. Council member Daniel Scott said his big concern is cybersecurity, that the new system can help address that issue. He asked if the project will be able to be spread across a 2 year budget cycle. Fletcher replied that they will carry over the budget into the following year. Anderson said the installation would maybe begin in Nov. or Dec. of 2021. Carlson told the Council that in his experience contractor pricing spikes by about 25% during the summer. Anderson replied that if possible they would try not to bid out the project during the summer and that the work lends itself to off season timing.

In other business, the Council unanimously approved two items. They voted to amend a contract with Pace Engineering to replace an additional 360 feet of sewer line on Sullivan St., from Yakima St. north to Pioneer Ave. The additional design and engineering cost will be $11,218. Also approved was an interlocal agreement with the Housing Authority of Chelan County to administer $5025 in annual funds that will benefit low income housing within the city.

Croci told the Council that on Feb. 22 there would be a joint meeting between the Council and Cashmere Planning Commission. A list of proposed topics include: potential code changes regulating accessory dwelling units, short term rentals, and possible changes to roadway design requirements to encourage development. Fletcher added that we keep talking about preserving the small town look and feel of Cashmere. He recommended that during these discussions addressing new city ordinances, the Council should keep in mind what we want the character of Cashmere to be like.

Fletcher told the Council that he had been approached by a small group who is interested in running a Farmer's Market in downtown. The group proposed closing the downtown portion of Cottage Ave from 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. every Sunday from May - Oct. Fletcher said his initial thought is to not close Cottage Avenue for such a long period of time, but if it would benefit downtown businesses it might be something to consider, but he wanted to get the Council's viewpoint. Council member Dave Erickson asked about the option of a trial run and other possible locations. Carlson said he would like to hear from the downtown businesses.

the issue of liability protection for the manufacturers of the vaccine. Dr. Gold says it is not that she believes they don't care but that they are less likely to be as careful with their testing and release of the drug as they would be if they could be held liable.

America's Front Line Doctors make the following recommendations regarding the taking of the current vaccines:

1. If you are under age 20 the Experimental Vaccine is prohibited. Their reasoning is we do not know the long-term effects on fertility, and we do know this virus does not really affect young people.

2. From age 20 - 50 if you are healthy, they strongly discourage taking the vaccine. They discourage the taking of the drug because of the low risk of death to this group and the unknown risks of causing problems from auto-immune disease and an unknown risk of lifelong infertility.
3. If you are age 50 - 70 and in otherwise good health AFLDS strongly discourages taking the "vaccine." If you are 50 - 70 with other comorbidities they still discourage use of the drug as they believe the use of other treatments like hydroxychloroquine are available.

4. Over age 70 and above it is based on your own personal risk assessment. If you are otherwise healthy, they discourage taking the vaccine. If you have other comorbidities, they still discourage it but recognize it is a personal call based on your individual situation.

In the interest of full disclosure, The CDC, FDA, and a most government agencies do not agree with Dr. Gold or America's Front Line Doctors. Dr. Gold has been de-listed from Twitter, YouTube, and Facebook. You can view one of her videos on Rumble. Finally, it is important to note that Dr. Gold was arrested last week for being one of the people who entered the Capitol Building on Jan 6. She was not accused of supporting the violence. She was simply charged with unlawfully entering a restricted area.

The Washington Outdoors Report

Outdoors Round-Up
 BY JOHN KRUSE
NORTH CENTRAL WASHINGTON

Travis Dawson at Sportsman's Warehouse in East Wenatchee says Fish Lake in Chelan County is giving up numerous perch under the ice and while they are not big there are a few nice sized trout being caught there as well. Lake Chelan is fishing well for Kokanee right now. Anglers have been catching most of them around 25 Mile Creek State Park. Rufus Woods Reservoir is fishing very good for triplaids but expect crowded boat launches if you go, because the word has gotten out about this winter fishery for big rainbows.

NORTHEAST WASHINGTON

Freddie Giannecchini at Clark's All-Sports in Colville says boaters fishing on Lake Roosevelt have done better than shore anglers lately for walleye but even out of the boat, walleye catches have been moderate as best. Some of the ice-fishing lakes have been giving up trout and perch though many anglers are close mouthed as to which ones they are fishing. However, it is no secret Curlew Lake is fishing very well for perch right now under the ice. A variety of different lures to include Swedish Pimples are working here.

COLUMBIA BASIN

Pete Fischer at MarDon Resort reports the chilly and breezy weather has kept most anglers off of Potholes Reservoir but the Seep Lakes below the reservoir are a good bet and less windy option. Fishing at both Corral and Long Lakes has been decent recently and producing some nice catches of rainbow trout. Still fishing Powerbait or a marshmallow/worm combo about 18-inches off the bottom with a sliding egg sinker is a good way to catch these fish.

 The waterfowl hunting season wrapped up on Feb. 6 with a special youth and military hunting day. Levi Meseberg with MarDon Resort and Paul Wood, an active-duty service member from Fairchild Air Force Base, took a group of six kids out for a great day of duck hunting at Potholes Reservoir that included a healthy harvest of diving and puddle ducks and a bonus goose.

TRI-STATE OUTFITTERS CLOSING

The Tri-State Outfitters Store in Moses Lake, open since 1982, will be closing its doors for good on May 12. Three other Tri-State Outfitters stores in Montana and Idaho will remain open. According to store manager Sandy Keller, there will be some clearance sales but the majority of the store inventory will be shipped to the other company stores. Tri-State Outfitters Vice President Mike Perrin was asked about why this particular store was closing. He said their business does not own the building the store is located in and the lease on the building was

Are you a “Christian Nationalist”?

Lately, I have been seeing quite a few articles and blog posts about the problem of Christian nationalism. What is “Christian Nationalism,” you ask? It is the conflating of Christianity and national politics whereas the ultimate goal is to make America a “Heaven on Earth.” The extreme form of Christian nationalism depicts Jesus draped in an American flag, wearing a MAGA marketplace. And when a Christian is vocal about the condition of the State, calling for its repentance and obedience to the Law of God, the Pietist proves to be a faithful ally and points the finger at the Christian, accusing them of being “divisive” and submitting to partisan politics and not to the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Yes, Christian nationalism is a problem but it is not the problem. The phrase “Christian nationalism” has been thrown around these days as a smear to any Christian who loves America and has a concern for the trajectory of this country. If you have a flag in your front yard, a political bumper sticker on your minivan, talk Conservative politics, own a gun, and a Bible, congratulations you are now branded as a “Christian nationalist.” As a Christian nationalist, you are now viewed as deluded, deplorable, and dangerous. You are a dissenter to the State and now you either must be “reprogrammed” to conform to the pushed narrative or be silenced.

Along with the Great Commission, we have been given a message to proclaim and that is, “Christ is Lord!” It is not being a Christian nationalist to work to see the Law of God and the Lordship of Jesus Christ influence and touch every sphere of our nation, including politics. It’s just normative historic Christianity. The Christian worldview has always been about the Kingdom of God advancing in all areas of life. After all, it was the very first sermon preached in the gospel of Mark where Jesus says, “Behold the Kingdom of God is at hand...” (Mk. 1:15) and a matter of emphasis in the gospel of Matthew.

I don’t see Christian nationalism as the problem, considering a very small minority, in my experience, fall in line with the definition I provided above, rather I see the hyper-Pietistic sect of Christendom as the bigger issue. They are those who jump on board with secularists, bloggers, and pundits to condemn Christians who care about our nation and slander them as “Christian nationalists.” These Pietists possess a truncated, ineffective, private religiosity that offers nothing to the society in which they live. It is a hypocritical, powerless expression of Christianity—completely milquetoast.

Secularists and anti-Christian governments love Pietists because they are non-threatening and passive. They keep their “religion” indoors and never take it to the

Yet, submitting to Jesus means following his command to teach the nations everything that he has commanded (Matt. 28:20). Christians are called to disciple nations which invariably includes governors and governing entities. It is not so much about making an idealistic Christian utopia but seeing that righteousness, according to God’s standard, prevails within society. God’s Law is not a source of oppression or tyranny, rather it protects liberty and ensures justice and equity to all people.

Using the term “Christian nationalist” is just another tactic to silence and denigrate Christians with a robust and comprehensive Biblical worldview. The phrase has been broadened to such an extent, that any hint of “God” or “Bible” in your political perspective calls for your immediate dismissal from the public square. We should all be aware of this because as things continue to develop in our country, to be branded as a “Christian nationalist” won’t just mean that you are banned from certain social media platforms or maligned in blog articles from well-intentioned Pietists, no, the repercussions will be more severe.

COVID Vaccination and Comfort Food

I got my second COVID vaccination on a Tuesday morning a couple of weeks ago. The day after I received my first COVID vaccine, I noticed my arm aching like someone had punched me when I wasn’t looking. After the second shot, my left arm ached even more. I was VERY GLAD I chose to have my vaccine in my non-dominant arm!

Waking up the morning after my second vaccination, not only did my left arm ache crave when you feel crummy. I wanted COMFORT FOOD. My very favorite comfort food is Tuna Melt Quesadillas. It’s my own invention, and very simple, only 5 ingredients.

By the next morning, I felt completely recovered from my post-COVID vaccine blues. I hope you don’t have any significant reaction to YOUR vaccine.

But whether you experience a day of recovery or not, you are welcome to try this out.

Tuna Melt Quesadillas

From Louise Achey, The Medication Insider

- 5-6 flour tortillas, burrito size
- 1 can (7 oz) tuna, well drained
- 7 ounces sauerkraut, well drained
- 1 tsp mayonnaise or salad dressing (approximately)
- ½-1 cup, shredded or sliced cheese

Mix the tuna and sauerkraut together in a mixing bowl. You can add less sauerkraut if you prefer, but it helps to the tuna stick together.

Add just enough mayonnaise to help the tuna bind together. This will depend on how well you drain the tuna and sauerkraut, because you want the tuna/sauerkraut mixture damp but not wet.

Warm the tortilla on a griddle or flat pan, both sides. Spoon the tuna mixture on half of the tortilla, leaving about a ½ inch border around the edges. You can make them thicker or thinner by how thick your tuna layer is.

Sprinkle the grated cheese or place cheese slices over the tuna. Again, you can adjust the amount of cheese you like.

Fold the other tortilla half back over the tuna and cheese

Grill, weighing down the tortilla with a flat-bottomed pan. I use the top of a double boiler pan.

Flip over to grill the cheese side last, then take off the heat and let it cool before cutting into wedges. When eating, beware, they often drip!

I like to make extra for the next day, then heat them up in an air fryer or microwave.

You can use whatever cheese you prefer. Mild cheddar, sharp cheddar, swiss, even white cheese like Manchego all works well.

coming up. In Perrin’s words, “It came down to whether it made sense to renew that lease based on the current numbers being generated by that store”. Perrin said they do regret closing this store because they love the staff and the clientele who shop there and several customers have reached out to him to express their sadness about this closure.

COLUMBIA RIVER GORGE

Manager Brandy Moore at Gorge Outfitters Supply in Rufus says catch and release sturgeon fishing is going well below John Day Dam. Walleye fishing has also been productive (both day and night) on the Columbia from The Dalles to Boardman. Trolling crankbaits has been effective and the Walleye Deep Bandit is the hot plug in both dark and chrome colors. Try putting a little garlic scent on this plug for added attraction. One or two people have caught walleye over ten pounds recently and some nice smallmouth bass are being caught too by walleye anglers.

Obituary & Memorial Policies

NCW Media, Inc.: Leavenworth Echo, Cashmere Valley Record, Lake Chelan Mirror, Quad City Herald

An Obituary is a way for family member(s) to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the community of the passing of the loved one. Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data.

Memorials are another way to let the community know about the life and memories of the person who has passed. A Memorial is different from an Obituary. An Obituary is usually current, while a Memorial can be written later.

Obituaries and Memorials need to be typed and emailed as a Word Document. They can be placed in one or more papers - all publish weekly on Wednesday.

Obituaries are priced by the number of words and include one color photo and go online at no extra charge. Memorials are priced per column inch. Please call for cost. *Payment is due at the time of placement. *Exception: Chapels, funeral homes who have an account, can be billed. There is no charge for a Death Notice - information is limited.

Deadline is 4 p.m. on Friday - some exceptions may apply.

Wrap Up

Washington Wine Growers convention goes virtual March 9, 18

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON WINEGROWERS ASSOCIATION

The Washington Winegrowers Association annual convention, WineVit™, will be virtual with sessions spread out between March 9 and 18. Specific session times, dates, and speakers will be posted soon. The virtual event will provide cutting-edge presentations, networking opportunities, information on trends and products in the market and access to industry suppliers.

After an unprecedented 2020, a special focus will be on the State of the Industry session as oversupply coupled with a pandemic have created challenges and opportunities. Speakers will discuss industry trends, global supply and demand chains, the latest research and future projects.

Though virtual, the annual convention celebrates the Washington wine industry's collective resilience, dedication to connections without boundaries, and

USDA offers farm loans for underserved, beginning farmers

SUBMITTED BY USDA

WENATCHEE - The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) reminds producers that FSA offers farm ownership and farm operating loans to underserved applicants as well as beginning farmers and ranchers. Underserved or beginning farmers and ranchers who cannot obtain commercial credit from a bank can apply for FSA direct or guaranteed loans.

"Farming and ranching is a capital-intensive business and FSA is committed to helping producers start and maintain their agricultural operations," said Jon Wyss, FSA State Executive Director in Washington State. "FSA loans are designed to make sure that everyone has access to credit including underserved and beginning farmers and ranchers. Last year, FSA in Washington obligated $35.7 million in loans to underserved borrowers and beginning farmers and ranchers."

USDA defines underserved applicants as a group whose members have been subjected to racial, ethnic or gender prejudice because of their identity as members of the group without regard to their individual qualities. For farm loan program purposes, underserved groups are American Indians or Alaskan Natives, Asians, Blacks or African Americans, Native Hawaiians or other Pacific Islanders, Hispanics, and women.

In order to qualify as a beginning farmer, the individual or entity must meet the eligibility requirements outlined for direct or guaranteed loans. Additionally, individuals and all entity members must have operated a farm for less than 10 years. Applicants must materially or substantially participate in the operation. For farm ownership purposes, the applicant must not own a farm greater than 30 percent of the average size farm in the county at the time of application. All direct farm ownership applicants must have participated in the business operations of a farm for at least three years out of the last 10 years prior to the date the application is submitted to FSA. Substitutions for as much as the full three years of experience may be made based on education, business management experience, military experience, participation with a qualified mentor, and farm management experience as a hired laborer. Your local FSA office will be able to provide more details on acceptable substitutions.

If the applicant is an entity, all members must be related by blood or marriage and all entity members must be eligible beginning farmers. At least one of the members must have three years or more experience in the business operations of a farm prior to the date the application is submitted.

Direct loans are made to applicants by FSA. Guaranteed loans are made by lending institutions who arrange for FSA to guarantee the loan. FSA can guarantee up to 95 percent of the loss of principal and interest on a loan. The FSA guarantee allows lenders to make agricultural credit available to producers who do not meet the lender's normal underwriting criteria.

The direct and guaranteed loan program offers two types of loans: farm ownership loans and farm operating loans.

Farm ownership loan funds may be used to purchase or enlarge a farm or ranch; purchase easements or rights of way needed in the farm's operation; build or improve buildings such as a dwelling or barn; promote soil and water conservation and development; and pay closing costs.

Farm operating loan funds may be used to purchase livestock, poultry, farm equipment, fertilizer, and other materials necessary to operate a farm. Operating loan funds can also be used for family living expenses; refinancing debts under certain conditions; paying salaries for hired farm laborers; installing or improving water systems for home, livestock or irrigation use; and other similar improvements.

Repayment terms for direct operating loans are scheduled from one to seven years. Financing for direct farm ownership loans cannot exceed 40 years. Interest rates for direct loans are set periodically according to the government's cost of borrowing. Guaranteed loan terms and interest rates are set by the lender.

For more information on FSA's farm loan programs and underserved and beginning farmer guidelines, please contact your local FSA office or visit farmers.gov.

New USDA projects funded to support the Washington tree fruit industry

WRITTEN BY FAITH CRITZER, WSU FOOD SAFETY, DECEMBER 2020

Members of the Tree Fruit Extension team have been working hard to secure federal funding for challenges facing the industry. They are part of national teams and represent $16.9 million in total federal support from the USDA Specialty Crop Research Initiative. The three projects will focus on precision crop load management, fire blight, and food safety, and are all geared towards identifying effective solutions that improve the resiliency of the tree fruit industry in the future. You can read more about each below.

Precision Crop Load Management for Apples

Project Director – Terrance Robinson, Cornell University
Other PIs – Stefano Musacchi and Karen Lewis, Washington State University; Tory Schmidt, Washington Tree Fruit Research Commission

Controlling the final fruit number on an apple tree is one of the most economically critical management practices in apple growing. Optimizing fruit numbers within a narrow, economically optimum range is currently imprecisely done by pruning, chemical thinning and remedial hand thinning which is very expensive. We have previously developed ideas and tactics to precisely control crop load by calculating the optimum fruit number per tree, manually counting buds, flowers and fruits and by using various computer models we have developed (carbon balance model, fruit growth rate model, and the pollen tube growth model) to help growers achieve the optimum number of fruits per tree; however, the process is tedious and time-consuming. This project will further develop precision crop load management tools consisting of computer models, machine vision, robotics, and decision support tools to allow apple growers to accurately calculate a target fruit number for each tree and then quickly count flower buds and later fruitlets using machine vision and geo-referenced maps to guide the severity of pruning and later guide bloom and post-bloom chemical thinning, and lastly to guide human workers when hand thinning to maximize crop value.

Comprehensive fire blight management systems for the United States.

Project Director – George Sundin, Michigan State University
Other PIs – Tianna DuPont and Karina Gallardo, Washington State University

A team of the leading fire blight research and extension scientists from across the nation will be working together to develop novel and effective management strategies.

New Specialty Crop Research Initiative grant invests $5.1 million to improve fire blight management with more than $600,000 directed to WA research and extension. A team of the leading fire blight research and extension scientists from across the nation will be working together to develop novel and effective management strategies. The goal is to develop a comprehensive strategy for effective fire blight management optimizing shoot and blossom blight management, understanding and managing the systemic phase of fire blight, developing a pre-breeding line of fire blight resistant varieties, providing economic analysis, and a nationally coordinated outreach program. The team will use innovative techniques, for example, they will use advanced transcriptomics to study the most effective use of defense elicitors. National coordination will multiply efforts, to more quickly find effective strategies. For example, products tested in multiple regions with diverse environmental conditions will provide in-depth information to dissect variable efficacy and model the most effective use and timings. Demonstration trials will provide answers to longstanding questions to grower questions from cutting blight to defense elicitors.

Cost-Effective Management of Food Safety Risks

Project Director – Michelle Danyluk, University of Florida
Other PIs – Faith Critzer and Troy Peters, Washington State University

This work will provide the fresh produce industry with tools to effectively manage food safety risks while making the most efficient use of available resources. We will identify the important factors (and their uncertainties) that drive risk and are candidates for interventions. Key sources of uncertainty will be addressed by empirical data collection and analysis. The immediate outcome of this research will be integrated, publicly available decision analysis tools to aid in pathogen control on produce that supports decision-making by all stakeholders. This will support increased transparency and collaboration among federal partners, industry, and consumer groups. We will model cost-effectiveness ratios of possible interventions, taking into account the preventable incidence of illness and economic costs of disease, as well as the costs and benefits to industry. Since different stakeholders consider different aspects of the costs and benefits of interventions, evaluations will be presented from different perspectives, including societal and industry perspectives and the results will be available at different levels of aggregation. The framework will provide opportunities to evaluate produce safety regulatory policies using the most recent scientific data. Critzer and Peters will contribute to work in preharvest water, postharvest handling, and outreach activities with others representing the tree fruit industry on the stakeholder advisory board. The project team is currently soliciting input which will help drive priorities from those in the produce and allied industries, you can participate at <https://go.rutgers.edu/4tuxsrdf>.
