Gnomes of Cashmere celebrate five years, holds treasure hunt

By AL STOVER

Folks who stroll around Cashmere may spot tiny doors or rooms no larger than six inches in businesses and local landmarks. These doors and buildings belong to Gnomes of Cashmere.

Gina Imperato, Cashmere Chamber of Commerce Chamber Manager, notes the Gnomes of Cashmere is a free, family-friendly, self-guided walking tour that takes residents and visitors through different businesses and locations throughout the city. Imperato noted that the tour has grown from 12 stops to 40, with many local businesses participating in the fun.

Folks may have to look high or low to find the doors and rooms, while others are easy to spot in window fronts or outdoors. and are a miniature replica of that location.

The Gnomes of Cashmere also host activities during the year, such as a rock hunt and storytime at the Cashmere Public Library, as well as participates in local events.

Erika Pina has been a Gnomes of Cashmere committee member for three years. She originally helped Imperato with ideas before she was asked to join the group. Pina is also on the Cashmere Chamber.

“Entering the five years has been a blessing for the gnomes,” Pina said.

Another Gnomes of Cashmere committee member Karen Christensen has been with the organization for a little over two years. Christensen had heard of the gnomes when she and her family moved to Cashmere nearly four years ago and saw the gnome doors around town. She attended a storytime at the library where she met Gnomes committee member Lisa Lawless who introduced Christensen to Imparto.

While most of the original Gnomes of Cashmere committee members have left the organization due to life reasons, Christensen feels the Gnomes of Cashmere continues to gain momentum through exposure on social media.

“There are lot of people interested in the gnomes,” Christensen added. “Word is spreading about these gnome houses and people come to see them.”

One of the major activities for the organization is the Find Your Way Gnome Treasure Hunt on Aug. 3. The treasure hunt, which is in its second year, is a family-friendly event in downtown Cashmere from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Folks can retrieve maps with clues at the group’s downtown booth or participating businesses. Once they have retrieved all 11 treasure chests, they can mark their map. Participants who turn in a completed map will be entered in for a grand prize giveaway.

Pina said the Gnomes of Cashmere created the treasure hunt as a fun activity for kids in the summer that was not time consuming, easy to complete and allowed them to utilize

Cashmere council approves Crunch Pak road maintenance agreement

By AL STOVER

The Cashmere City Council breezed through a light agenda at their July 22 meeting.

In one of the only two action items of the evening, the council voted 4-0 to approve a road maintenance agreement between the city and Crunch Pak. Daniel Scott was absent from the meeting.

The purpose of the agreement is to authorize Crunch Pak to provide street maintenance and improvements on city streets it uses, including Foster Street and a portion of Chapel Street located north of Mission Creek and Sunset Highway.

According to the document, Crunch Pak requested permission from the city to oversee maintenance on those roads. The company will perform snow and ice removal and maintain streets during the winter time. It will also keep streets clear of obstructions, such as fallen trees and branches, as well as manage vegetation so it does not interfere with public use.

The agreement states that Crunch Pak will also repair potholes and patch pavement. The document also notes that Crunch Pak will cover the costs of maintaining the roads, and the work they do will remain consistent with the city’s street maintenance standards.

While Crunch Pak will be responsible for maintenance, the company will collaborate with the city regarding any major improvements on the streets.

“If there’s a big overlay project, we will work with them to pave it,” added Director of Operations Steve Croci. “They’re (Front and Chapel streets) not priority streets for the city, so they don’t get taken care of as much as others.”

In the second action item of the evening, the council authorized Mayor Jim Fletcher to sign a pre-employment transition services work experience agreement with Skill Source regarding trainee Skyler Wierima. According to the agreement, the city will provide instruction on tasks assigned in the plan to the trainee and evaluate their competence in performing them.

The agreement also notes that the trainee will not replace any laid-off staff or terminated employees, nor will they be involved in political activities during work hours.

Croci noted that Wierima is a Cashmere High School student and Skill Source will be responsible for paying his wages. He added that Wierima met with maintenance and water crews, who are interested in taking the CHS student under their wing.

“He’s interested, he wants to learn, he wants to work,” Croci said. We’ll expose him to different things (around the city). He said he does not want to sit at an office and work at a desk.”

In progress reports, Croci provided an update about the Chapel Street project. He noted that crews hit three water lines and managed to take care of two rather quickly. The third was a six-inch water main. It took “a little while to figure out and we eventually shut it off.”

Croci added that crews will replace some of the rusty water lines.

“With what happened with these breaks we will may get a bill from the contractor because they were not marked (in the work),” he said.

As for the Sherman Water Reservoir, Croci said he met with Bethlehem Construction, who had two designs for replacement roofs. Staff should have a cost estimate on the replacement roof in the next week. He added that the city’s insurance provider contacted him because of the project’s estimated cost and they want to send another insurance adjuster to Cashmere to investigate the claim.

“If they have to have another party come out and look at it, it means they haven’t said no,” Croci added.

Other business:

- Fletcher purposed forming a citizens committee regarding buildings and utilizing building space within the city.
- He also suggested the council and staff schedule another focus committee meeting similar to the one they held earlier in the year.

Singers Invited: Village Voices Season Opener Picnic

The Leavenworth Villages Voices (LVV) invites returning and prospective members to the fifth annual Season Opener Picnic on Monday, Aug. 12, at 6 p.m. at Lions Club Park in Leavenworth. LVV members will provide the food and beverages, while prospective members are invited to attend as guests—and to bring their singing voices.

The picnic is a great way to enjoy a late summer evening outside and to enable returning members to reconnect before rehearsals start. The greatest benefit, though, is offering an opportunity for people who are considering joining the group to learn more before coming to the first rehearsal for the 2019 season. There will be plenty of good food, some entertainment from the LVV Women’s Ensemble, and opportunities to mingle and (of course) sing.

The Leavenworth Village Voices is a community choir that performs during the Christmas season. There are no auditions and formal music training is not required. It is helpful to know how to read music, but not essential. Practice CDs are also provided to help members learn their music by ear.

Larry Henderson, who will embark on his 19th season directing the choir, is dedicated to achieving performance excellence while ensuring the group remains a community choir for those who love to sing. The only real requirements are committing to regularly attending rehearsals, practicing between rehearsals, memorizing one’s music, and being available for concert dates.

In addition to the annual “Christmas in the Mountains” concert series, the choir performs at the Christmas Lighting Festival and carols in small groups downtown to spread holiday cheer. LVV also does private concerts for tour groups, churches, and caregiving facilities and performs for charity events. The LVV Women’s Ensemble—a subset of the choir that practices year-round—performs in concerts, festivals, and other functions throughout the year, including the Festival of Choirs in the spring.

The Leavenworth Village Voices is a nonprofit organization founded in 1982 by the late Eleanor Culling. She dreamt of forming a community choir of men and women who share a passion for singing. The LVV is proud to keep Culling’s dream alive, with the group commencing its 37th season. Members love to share the joy and peace of Christmas music while contributing to Leavenworth’s Bavarian theme and festive atmosphere.

LVV rehearsals take place on Monday evenings from 7 – 9 p.m. at the Leavenworth Community United Methodist Church, located at 418 Evans Street in Leavenworth. Rehearsals begin August 19. For additional information, visit the Leavenworth Village Voices on Facebook or at www.leavenworthvillagevoices.org.

The 2019 “Christmas in the Mountains” concert series will be held at the Leavenworth Church of the Nazarene on Friday, December 6, Friday, December 13, and Sunday, December 15. Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance at the Leavenworth Chamber of Commerce by calling (509) 548-5807.

Ignore the homeless, but they are citizens too

I drove through downtown Wenatchee the other day and lo and behold, a bunch of musicians were setting up a stage and getting ready to play.

It was some kind of Summer-time music series funded by the city or the chamber or whatever. It really is a moot point who or what funded it. Taxpayer, grant, private or combinations of money was spent to attract people.

Ironically, the stage was surrounded on three sides

APPLES TO APPLES
GARY BÉGIN
MANAGING EDITOR

by homeless people, complete with shopping carts, bags, plastic sheeting and their entire Earthly belongings. The fourth side was facing Wenatchee Avenue.

Some were lying prone on the park grass and some were sitting up and some were fast asleep.

The old lady I saw looked “spaced out” and disheveled, but who wouldn’t be after spending weeks and months at a time sleeping on the streets? Besides, her “old” might really be 40 who just looks like 70.

The dumpster behind the museum is often used as a toilet station for these unfortunates.

Is it just me or is it a brave new gruffness in our societal compassions? Economically, any normal city wants to attract people to town to see events and spend money.

Supposedly, large events will put “heads in beds” and then “everyone prospers” or at least that is the theory.

In reality, tourists have a major similarity with the homeless. They too are transient and “only here for the season.”

Perhaps the only difference is that tourists hang out in hotels, RV’s and B ‘n’ B’s, while the homeless are lucky to find a corner out of the wind or a soup kitchen/shelter like Hospitality House. Tourists may stay for a day or a week, but the homeless are in perpetual hell, escaping poverty, physical and mental illness often only through county jail or death.

Even though I love and support the good folks at HH, they run a “sober” shelter for men ... and don’t allow pets either.

Believe it or not, those three facts eliminates many homeless who can’t escape their personal “drug-of-choice” or those with a stray cat or dog as a companion on the lonely streets at night.

Another believe it or not, there are actual husband/wife and even kids that are all homeless together.

It was obvious that this particular music event was mainly for and attended by local residents, but that isn’t the point.

The streets of Cashmere, Chelan, Manson, Leavenworth, etc. are more or less free of homeless persons because they all seem to migrate to Wenatchee by default or design.

I will talk to Wenatchee Mayor Frank Kuntz and see what he plans to do about it. Read a future edition of your town’s only local community weekly paper to see what he has in mind.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Disgruntled LINK Transit Employee

LINK is being debased by one of its own employees! Chris Piepel, why didn’t you inform the public that you worked for LINK Transit? “Don’t bite the hand that feeds you!” When you resort to badmouthing your own company, there may be some dire consequences for your disloyalty. I understand that you want the Link Transit Proposal to fail so you would not have to work on weekends or holidays - what a selfish, self-centered reason. There are many other successful companies’ employees such as servicemen/women, law enforcement, firefighters and countless others that must work hours they dislike. LINK provides a wonderful service to those who need to get to work, to the Doctor, get groceries, etc. LINK Transit drivers are the best on the road and they are thoughtful, friendly, and patient. Although, I have a car, I prefer riding on LINK instead of driving. I no longer have stress factors with traffic since I no longer drive. For you people that do drive, please just once park your car, and take the time to be a rider on LINK. It will help you relax, take the cars off the road, and help you provide cleaner air. Please vote yes on the LINK Transit proposition - help hire more good employees for a great company!

Myra Roy, Cashmere

Vote yes on Link Prop 1

I am now in my second 3-year term on the Board of Directors for the Chelan County Housing Authority. I attend once a month meetings in Wenatchee. My most pleasurable method of transportation is a ride on the Link bus. As a senior, I pay $1.50 to ride from the Lake Chelan Valley to Wenatchee, and the same for the return trip. Driving my car would cost much more.

On the Link bus I read Housing Authority reports and financial statements which I will need to approve, then I sit back with the morning newspaper and the crossword puzzle which experts tell me will help stave off the onset of Alzheimer’s. Sometimes I reflect on what color blue the Columbia River will be today, how many Wenatchee Valley College tech center students will be on the bus, or how many Stemilt or clinic workers will be on board.

Some dark, gloomy winter days, I hop on the Link bus just to go to Wenatchee to window shop, go to lunch, then take in a matinee movie. It’s a welcome winter break at times.

Now we are asked to vote on Link Proposition 1, which is on the ballot voters recently received in the mail. An improved and expanded public transportation service like the Link bus system will offer local residents an opportunity to help alleviate the snarl of traffic in the Lake Chelan Valley and Highway 97A. The cost will be minimal, and help students, agricultural workers, service personnel and others who must live where rents are cheaper, but commute to their jobs. Vote yes!

Vicki Olson Carr, Chelan

Free MMR Vaccine Now Available for Child Care Workers

OLYMPIA - The Department of Health is collaborating with Safeway Inc. and Albertsons Companies LLC and with the Department of Children, Youth, and Families to offer free measles, mumps, and rubella (MMR) vaccination for uninsured child care workers and volunteers. As of July 28, 2019, Washington state law will require staff and volunteers of licensed child care centers to be immunized against measles. Fifteen Albertsons and Safeway pharmacies across the state will offer MMR vaccine free of charge through June 2020 to uninsured child care staff and volunteers who need it. The pharmacies will also waive the administration fee. The cost and fees will also be waived for those who are underinsured and cannot afford the vaccine. Find the list of participating locations on the Department of Health's website. Child care staff and volunteers who have insurance also have options to get vaccinated. MMR vaccine for those age 19 and older is covered by most insurance companies and by Medicare and Apple Health (Medicaid). Learn more about the cost and coverage of adult vaccines. Washington also provides recommended vaccines at no cost to everyone under the age of 19. The effort is a collaboration between Safeway and Albertsons; the Department of Health; the Department of Children, Youth, and Families; and the Washington State Pharmacy Association.

Cashmere resident killed in crash

FROM STAFF REPORTS

The Chelan County Sheriff's Office confirmed that Jose M. Arroyo-Mejia, 29, of Cashmere, was killed in an vehicular collision.

In a July 22 news release, Chelan County Sheriff Brian Burnett reported that deputies and EMS services responded to a traffic collision near the intersection of Stine Hill and Pine Flats Loop roads, west of Cashmere, on July 20 at approximately 3:40 p.m. The release noted that deputies received a report about a small, dark-colored vehicle, later identified as a 2008 Subaru Impreza, was seen going fast, eastbound on Stine Hill Road.

A short time later, reporting parties informed Rivercom dispatchers hearing an explosion and that the vehicle was in pieces with the subject trapped underneath it.

Deputies and EMS confirmed the vehicle's lone occupant was killed during the crash. Crews closed Stine Hill Road for several hours during the investigation. The road was reopened at around 6:30 p.m.

Chelan County Coroner Wayne Harris arrived at the scene and took position of the deceased. Officials later identified the victim as Arroyo-Mejia.

During the initial investigation, deputies determined that Arroyo-Mejia was traveling well above the 45 miles per hour speed limit when the vehicle failed to make a sweeping left curve, left the edge of the roadway and struck a speed limit sign and culvert. It then flew into a rock outcropping before flipping back onto the roadway and into a guardrail.

The incident is still under investigation.

By Bill Forhan

Hello, Dolly! is a 1964 musical with music and lyrics by Jerry Herman based on a play by Thornton Wilder.

For those unfamiliar with the story Dolly Levi, played by Dorothy Rosenthal Pierce, is a widow who makes her living through matchmaking and other sidelines. She is currently on a mission to find a wife for "half-a-millionaire" Horace Vandergelder, owner of Vandergelder's Hay and Feed in Yonkers, New York.

Vandergelder is looking for a wife because in the politically incorrect 1890's It Takes a Woman to cheerfully do all of the household chores. Horace, played by John Mausser, is joined by his two miserly paid employees, Cornelius Hackl and Barnaby Tucker, and the male chorus joyfully singing about all of the chores a good 1890's wife is expected to complete.

Dolly sends Horace ahead to New York where he plans to propose to Irene Molloy, played by Stephanie Etherington, owner of a hat shop.

Cornelius, played by Christopher Puckett, is a 33 year old store clerk that has never been kissed so Dolly convinces him and his assistant Barnaby Tucker, played by Mason Atwood, to take the train to New York and to Irene Molloy's hat shop.

What becomes clear is that Dolly plans to marry the "half-a-millionaire" herself by asking for a sign of approval from her deceased husband Ephram.

Modern patrons will undoubtedly be questioning how the irrepressible Dolly could ever find happiness in the arms of Horace but in the end the sign comes in a surprising way.

Leavenworth Summer Theater's production of the American classic Hello, Dolly!

opened at the Hatchery Park Stage, Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery on July 17. It's a delightful evening of music, dancing and laughter in the LST tradition. You do not want to miss this wonderful show. Remaining performances are at 8 p.m. August, 1, 7, 9, 13, 17, 22, 27 and 30. Tickets are available by calling the box office at 509-548-2000.

Dorothy Rosenthal Pierce plays the lead as Dolly Levi, matchmaker and all around busy body. Dorothy is a K-12 drama teacher in from Edmonds, WA where she is a long time member of an interactive improv group and the Broads of Broadway.

Horace Vandergelder is played by long time LST favorite John Mausser whose previous roles included performances in The Drowsy Chaperone, Beauty and the Beast, Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat and It's a Wonderful Life.

Stephanie Etherington plays Irene Molloy. Stephanie attended the American Musical and Dramatic Academy. She performed in New York and California before returning to her home stage in the magical Cascades. She previously played Maria in The Sound of Music.

Cornelius Hackl is played by Christopher Puckett. Puckett is a graduate of Seattle Pacific University and the Bard College Conservatory of Music. He works as a music director and voice teacher in Seattle. His previous performances included Henry Higgins in My Fair Lady and Jesus in Godspell.

The costumes for this show are incredible and the costume changes are nothing short of amazing. The music is delightfully performed with humor and style. The orchestra is lead by Joel Iwassa, Wenatchee Valley College Music Director.

Stemilt supports community via multiple efforts

Stemilt honors Washington Apple Education Foundation

STEMILT NEWS RELEASE

Even a busy cherry season hasn't kept Stemilt from slowing down its local community support.

"The month of July started off with fun community events for Stemilt in the Wenatchee Valley," explains Brianna Shales, Stemilt's communications manager. "With the holiday last week, we joined the Wenatchee Valley Chamber of Commerce during their Wenatchee Valley 4th of July Celebrations. Then, later in the week, we presented our large donation to the Washington Apple Education Foundation for their scholarship funds."

Stemilt sponsored and donated cherries to the Cherry Spitting Contest at the Wenatchee Valley 4th of July Celebrations, where contestants of all ages tried to spit the cherry pit as far as they could. The winner of the contest spit his pit an upwards of 20 feet!

"It was really great to see such an enthusiastic crowd participating," states Shales. "The holidays really bring this community together and being able to support something that involves our delicious dark-sweet cherries is something we are more than happy to do."

Stemilt also donated a check for $100,000 to the Washington Apple Education Foundation (WAEF) on Friday. WAEF is a local organization that works to impact lives through access to educational opportunities. The non-profit awarded more than $1 million in scholarships to 310 students last year. Stemilt has been partnering with WAEF for nearly 25 years and raises funds through Stemilt's TKM Golf Tournament and the company's Community Investment Committee.

Stemilt has multiple scholarships that children of its employees can apply for, plus one other that is open for all children whose parents work in the ag industry. Stemilt's scholarships are used at accredited universities.

"WAEF offers many kids an opportunity to pursue higher education and work towards achieving their career goals," says Shales. "It is a cause we strongly believe in and it is a great avenue to give back to these future local leaders."

Stemilt's community contributions fall under the company's program, Responsible Choice which was created by Stemilt founder, Tom Mathison back in 1989. Tom's vision was to leave Earth as good as Stemilt could, and even better if possible. He was a strong believer in good merit and hard work.

"Tom believed in his community and wanted to ensure we could contribute to its success as much as we could," says Shales. "And West, Tom's grandson and president of Stemilt, has worked tirelessly to ensure that we keep that philosophy alive throughout our company today."

About Stemilt

Stemilt Growers is a leading tree fruit growing, packing and shipping company based in Wenatchee, Washington. Owned and operated by the Mathison family, Stemilt is the leading shipper of sweet cherries and one of the nation's largest suppliers of organic tree fruits. Stemilt has also demonstrated a commitment to sustainable agriculture and social responsibility since 1989, when founder Tom Mathison launched the company's Responsible Choice program. # Difference between antiperspirant, deodorant glands, both can be triggered by either excessive body temperature or the stress of anxiety, fear, or pain.

Ask...
Dr. Louise

Although the sweat from your eccrine glands is odorless when secreted, it creates an odor when the bacteria that live on your skin digest it. Eccrine sweat also makes the smellier sweat from your apocrine glands much more noticeable.

There are 4 ways you can combat the body odor and wetness created by sweating. The first way is by using good hygiene like showering or bathing regularly, which removes both types of sweat deposited on your skin before it can be digested by bacteria, and also reduces the number of bacteria on your skin available to digest it.

You can also block perspiration from landing on your skin by applying an antiperspirant product to the areas that have the most sweat glands, like your underarms.

Two other ways to prevent development of body odor from sweat include inhibiting bacterial digestion of the sweat already on your skin by applying an antimicrobial, and by using a fragrance to offset body odor.

All topical antiperspirants are compounds called astringents. When applied to the skin, astringents cause proteins on your skin cells to clump up. This clumping action blocks the sweat ducts on your skin, keeping that particular area of skin more dry. Since astringents also work as antimicrobials by interfering with the bacteria living on your skin, all antiperspirants also work as deodorants.

Most antiperspirants contain salts of aluminum, either alone or in combination with zinc. The most desirable antiperspirants keep skin dry without caking or flaking off, damaging fabrics, or causing skin irritation. The most common antiperspirant ingredients used today are aluminum zirconium, aluminum chloride, and aluminum sulfate, also called alum.

Because of the increased concentration of aluminum in the brains of people with Alzheimer's dementia, there is concern that daily use of antiperspirants containing aluminum could increase your risk of developing Alzheimer's. You can minimize your exposure to aluminum by using a deodorant-only product or a "natural" antiperspirant that does not contain alum or aluminum salts.

Underarm deodorants without antiperspirants are antimicrobial compounds capable of interfering with the digestion of sweat by bacteria on your skin. Vitamin E and benzalkonium chloride are the most common antimicrobials used in underarm deodorants.

Benzalkonium chloride is a mild astringent and antimicrobial agent widely used in products for skin and mucous membranes and also as a preservative commonly used in contact lens solutions and nonprescription eye drops.

Here are 3 Tips for Choosing an Underarm Antiperspirant and Deodorant:

1. Choose between an antiperspirant/deodorant or deodorant only product.
2. I often use just a deodorant because while antiperspirants keep my armpits dry, it sometimes backfires with my entire back becoming totally soaked in sweat.
3. Make your choice based on what scent you like, not by your gender.

The strength and chemical composition of underarm antiperspirant/deodorant products is identical for those marketed for men and women. The only difference between them is the fragrance used.

3. There are stronger antiperspirant products available without a prescription.

You can use a "clinical strength" antiperspirant product which contains 20% aluminum zirconium instead of the typical 15%, or try the non-prescription antiperspirant Drysol®, which contains 20% aluminum chloride hexahydrate in concentrated ethyl alcohol.

A crazy buggy summer: Tips for dealing with insect invasions

(STATEPOINT) - Spotting more bugs than usual around the house? While a pest problem can cause embarrassment and concern, this summer you can take comfort in the fact that not only are you not alone, there are new ways of dealing with insects that can help you manage the problem without harsh chemicals.

"A warm winter and a humid, wet spring set the stage for insect populations to thrive this summer, and that is what people are experiencing right now," says Dr. Josh Benoit, an entomologist at the University of Cincinnati Department of Biological Sciences.

Seconding this sentiment is the National Pest Management Association, which early on, projected that termites, cockroaches, ants, mosquitoes and other insects would thrive in regions nationwide this season.

Finding a roach in the home ranked number one in terms of "Grossness," beating out cleaning the toilet, cleaning the gutters and removing hair from the shower drain, in a recent survey conducted by Zevo, a maker of bug killer sprays and traps that are safe for use around people and pets when used as directed. But beyond the "ew" factor, households will want to manage pest problems for health and safety reasons.

"Cockroaches and filth flies can serve as mechanical vectors for diseases," points out Dr. Benoit. "And ticks, mosquitoes, and kissing bugs can transmit pathogens that cause diseases."

- Keep food sealed and stored properly. Get rid of crumbs around the kitchen or anywhere else you eat around the house. Regularly sweeping and wiping down counters can help.
- Prevent buildup of moisture on surfaces and remove standing water to prevent mosquito (and other bug) breeding around the home.
- Never bring in unwashed, used furniture and other objects. Before introducing such items into your home, inspect them carefully.
- Over 90 percent of people are concerned with having bugs in their home, but almost an equal amount are concerned with using traditional insecticide products, according to a Zevo survey, making sprays that don't contain harsh chemicals a household essential. Made from friendly ingredients, Zevo Instant Action Spray, for example, features essential oils that target nerve receptors active only in insects, not people or pets.
- Bugs often enter homes through garages and open doors. Set up a line of defense by keeping windows, doors and garages closed as much as possible, and by placing chemical-free traps, such as Zevo flying insect traps, in your garage or other areas that get high bug traffic. The traps plug into outlets around the home and use multi-spectrum light technology and a body heat attractant to lure pesky flying bugs to their doom. Though they work 24/7, they are especially effective at night when there are fewer competing light sources. For more information, visit www.zevoinsect.com.
