Cashmere boys run through three-game gauntlet

By AL STOVER

The Cashmere High School boys basketball team ran through a gauntlet of competition last week with two Caribou Trail League games and a nonleague contest.

The Bulldogs began the week with an 80-54 CTL victory at Cascade on Jan. 15.

Cashmere jumped to 33-14 lead in the first quarter, including three three-pointers from Sam Phillips. The Kodiaks began to nip at the heels of the Bulldogs, outscoring them 16-9 in the second quarter to bring the scoring gap to 42-30 at halftime.

“In the last four games we were under after the first quarter so we were focused on getting a good start,” Head Coach Levi Heyen said. “To score 33 points in the first quarter is a great way to get our offense to a good start.”

Cashmere added 19 points in both the third and fourth quarters. Mason Landdeck led the Bulldogs with 27 points while Nate Phillips recorded 20 and Sam Phillips added 17.

“When those guys are scoring well, we’re a pretty dangerous team,” Heyen said. “Even on some nights we’ve had Mason score high and Sam at 15, we’ve been able to find a way to win.”

Heyen also complimented Cascade Head Coach Paul Fraker and what he has done with the Cascade program, as well as the work ethic of the Kodiaks team.

The Bulldogs finished the nonleague portion of their schedule with a 70-59 loss to South Central’s Athletic Conference Royal.

Cashmere mat squad thrashes Okanogan at double dual

By AL STOVER

Little by little, the Cashmere High School wrestling team continues to make progress on the mat. The Bulldogs completed another week of league action after going 1-1 in a Caribou Trail League double dual on Jan. 17 at Cascade.

The Bulldogs began the night with a 63-12 loss to Cascade.

Bryson Pratt scored the first points for the Bulldogs after pinning Cole Warman in the final seconds of their match.

Head Coach Ken Hoyt said Pratt’s win was his first match back after recovering from an injury. He noted Pratt wrestled sloppy on the mat, and is still not in wrestling shape, but he will get better in the coming weeks.

Tucker Weatherman followed Pratt’s win with a first-period pin over Jose Valdez.

As for the dual itself, Hoyt said he felt the Bulldogs did not extend their matches as they should have, and gave away too many opportunities on the mat.

“We need to get better,” Hoyt said. “I understand these kids are not full-time wrestlers. All but one are three-sport athletes. We’ll get better, but we still have a lot to learn.”

Cashmere rebounded from the loss to defeat Okanogan, 51-18.

After Erick Rodriguez’s forfeit win, Myles Chapman scored a pin in the first period over his opponent.

Aaron Guerrero, Blake Brown, Kaden Koegh, Duke Odenrider and Pratt all won their matches via forfeit. Weatherman scored his second pin of the evening in the second period of his match.

Iziah Oropeza earned the final points for Cashmere in the Bulldogs’ final bout of the evening.

Oropeza was down in points in the final seconds of the third period when he scored a near fall to claim a 7-5 decision over his opponent.

Hoyt noted both Chapman and Weatherman performed well on the mat, as did Oropeza, who wrestled two weight classes above his normal weight.

“He continues to get better in every match,” Hoyt added.

The Bulldog girls had a busy week with two events, the first being the Lady Dawgs Mixer in Okanogan on Jan. 15.

Debra Dodson and Maddie Fadenrecht both went 2-0 at the event.

Hoyt said Fadenrecht continues to improve as a wrestler, especially when it comes to technique. He also commended Fadenrecht’s work ethic and tenacity, which is something he said cannot be taught.

“The distance from her first year to now is the most progress I’ve seen in a wrestler, guy or girl,” Hoyt said.

Dodson and Fadenrecht also represented the Bulldog mat squad at the Grandview Invite on Jan. 19.

Fadenrecht competed in the 120-pound bracket where she went 2-2. In her first match, she tore through Mayra Claro, pinning the Chiawana wrestler in 41 seconds. After she lost in the quarterfinals, Fadenrecht

Local non-profit hoping to put permanent roots down

By KALIE DRAGO

Record Reporter

Many Cashmere residents have boxed up various food to donate to the Cashmere Food Bank - that forgotten can of corn in the corner of the pantry, grabbing double boxes of macaroni to drop off at the food bank on the way home or snagging the last few cranberry sauces on the shelf for those who can’t afford as much for their Thanksgiving feast. The Cashmere community has been very forthcoming with paying it forward for those families who need the help, but now the Food Bank is looking for something more than just kitchen staples.

“People in the Cashmere Valley know we have had support maintaining food in the food bank and now we’re just looking for a better way to serve those in need,” said Pam Leighton, Cashmere Food Bank executive director.

Over the many years that have stretched between now and the food bank’s inception, the food bank has primarily been somewhat temporarily placed until shifting to a new location.

“Because we’ve moved around a couple times over the years, I think people have gotten confused as to where we’re at,” said Leighton.

The food bank’s current location is a warehouse esque, small section of a building on Railroad Avenue owned by an outside entity. However since this current distribution and food storage area has recently been put up for sale, it has left the food bank looking at the future quizzically for its location. But the for sale sign isn’t the only element prodding the food bank to begin its quest for a permanent residency.

“We’ve expanded a bit to distribute out of that location, the building is up for sale so we don’t know if we’ll have to move once its sold,” said Leighton. “It is small. It can get crowded in there on food distribution days and we have clients that have to wait outside - regardless of how the weather is.”

With around 40-50 families shuffling in to get their items, it can get to be cramped with the traffic in the small space. This has prompted the urge to search for a larger space to better accommodate the needs of clients. However, a larger space also requires a larger sum to fund the new location.

Since the location is run by volunteers and is a non-profit, there is an obvious deficit between the budget and a pricey rent. Leighton stated that in December, households in Cashmere received a letter explaining the quest for a new landing spot.

“This was a way to let the community know what was happening and to seek possible donations. Since we’re a 501c(3), anyone who donates can claim this on tax returns and that’s our big push,” said Leighton.

Though, the food bank isn’t just banking on depending on donations and are simultaneously searching for other avenues of funding. On Thursday, January 17, Leighton said that there was a strategy meeting with facilitators to brainstorm and discuss ways to raise funds. Leighton also mentioned looking outside of donations by attempting to get grant money.

The persecution of Tim Eyeman continues

If you are going to challenge the political system be sure you have a lot of money and the help of a major law firm. Otherwise, you are in for a fight you cannot win.

It appears Attorney General Bob Ferguson continues his legal persecution of political activist Tim Eyman. Last week he requested the court declare Eyman's attorney unqualified to represent Eyman.

It seems the AG has invoked the nuclear option by convincing the court to declare no individual practitioner can keep up with the army of lawyers employed by the state. So only hours before he was to appear in court Eyman found himself without legal council.

It has been said that anyone who chooses to represent himself in court has a fool for a client. The problem is Eyman did not choose to represent himself he was forced to by the very people who have filed the actions against him.

Of course he lost the hearing on procedural grounds that he didn't follow proper court procedures. Of course he didn't. Eyman is not an attorney.

The goal of all of this appears to be nothing more than an attempt to silence Eyman. A blatant attempt to strip Eyman of his civil rights under our Constitution.

Ferguson is using the Campaign Finance Laws to persecute Eyman. Claiming penalty far outweighs other suits by the AG's office for similar violations of Campaign Finance law. A review of the Attorney General's website regarding enforcement action against campaign finance law violations shows the action against Eyman is remarkable. Only one other claim exceeds the amount sought against Eyman. That was against the Grocery Manufacturers Association for $19.1 million. The next closest claim was against the Washington Education Association for $975,000. The other 32 cases listed averaged $74,609 including AGO costs for prosecuting the cases.

In December of 2017 The Spokesman Review ran a story about how Campaign Finance complaints were becoming the newest political weapon in Washington politics. Bob Ferguson's assault on Tim Eyman is moving that weapon from the big money politics of labor unions and political parties to individual citizens who are simply seeking to petition their government for redress of their grievances. That is unconstitutional. As the chief legal officer for the state, Attorney General Robert (Bob) Ferguson should know that.

There is another political activist who has promised to bring suit against Ferguson for violation of the very Campaign Finance laws he is charging Tim Eyman with violating. Glen Morgan of WeTheGoverned.com has filed 14 claims of violation of Campaign Finance Laws by Ferguson according to a story on his website.

There is no reason that individual citizens should need to hire a major law firm to represent them when they are simply exercising their Constitutionally protected rights.

It is time for political activists and organizations that claim to support holding government accountable to come together to support Tim Eyman. Organizations like Glen Morgan's WeTheGoverned and The Freedom Foundation need to call on Ferguson, Governor Inslee and both political parties to end this travesty.

The suit needs to be dropped. The state needs to agree to pay for Eyman's current legal costs and Attorney General Bob Ferguson needs to resign. It is the only fair solution to this egregious abuse of an ordinary citizen.

In light of the Supreme Court Decision in Citizens United there is some question about the legality of the entire Campaign Finance Law and the Public Disclosure Commission.

"Good! Can't be as scary with it shut down as it is when it's open for business!"

"Bad! But, least those poor bears in national parks will have tourists to feed them!"

"Bad & Good! The shutdown's a pile o' horsepuckey~ with a pony in it somewhere!"

"Ya mean, they really did shut 'er down?!! I must'a miss'd it while I wuz huntin'!"

That law was passed as a result of a citizen's initiative but now is being used as a political weapon not a tool for citizens to make more informed decisions.

In light of the travesty being perpetrated on Tim Eyman as a result of this law it may be time for an Initiative to disband the PDC.

Gov. Inslee wants state to spend $10B more, paid for by $4B in taxes against 'the haves'

Why must it always be thus - the "haves" versus the "have nots"? In this case it is vice versa. Big government, i.e., the state of Washington, wants more tax revenue so it can spend more money.

The "Tax and Spend" Democrats are flying their colors high indeed. Governor Jay Inslee wants $10B more in spending, but his new taxes would cost nearly $4B.

This chunk of cash includes mental health and orca recovery.

Orca recovery? So now whales are more important than fiscal stability? Please God, end the madness. I love cats, dogs, horses, even whales and many other critters, but my brethren goes homeless, without medicine or food and we are paying a billion in tax money for orcas!

There are kids without shoes and single moms and the "working poor" but oh no, to heck with humanity, spend it on the whales.

We've got an opioid epidemic and local kids in gangs, water issues and fire issues and ... the list goes on.

To pay for this largesse towards our giant aquatic buddies Inslee, as if purposely trying to portray the stereotypical tax and spend liberal, is doing exactly that. It is a kick in the teeth for any hope of a serious rainy day fund being augmented by higher year-end revenues.

Just remember how we squandered all this money the next time we have a disastrous fire season as in recent years, costing us billions.

Inslee wants a capital gains tax on high income folks. He wants an increase in the business and occupation tax on professional services.

Is our Governor a drunken sailor on leave after a year at sea with more money than sense? Paraphrasing Sarah Palin -- you betcha.

budget committee in Olympia, mocked Inslee saying, "If you're an orca, a criminal, or someone who voted for the failed carbon tax ... you probably like this budget. If you're a small business owner ... or the average citizen trying to make ends meet, you probably don't."

A wise man indeed. Clothe the naked among us before feeding the fish. Is that too much to ask? Take the whale money and use it on medicine and housing and job training and highways and bridges.

Inslee also attacks "flat real estate excise rates" making them into graduated rates to pay for the court-ordered removal of barriers to fish passage.

Again with the fish thing. Those with an interest in the real estate industry, agents, home buyers and sellers alike, will be footing the bill.

He also goes on the record as being anti-success since those among us with a little gelt are penalized for their entrepreneurial spirit by taxing capital gains including sales of stocks, bonds and other assets subjecting them to a nine percent tax.

His operating, capital and transportation budgets ask for $1B on orca recovery efforts. Let that amount sink into your head for a bit. Billion is a real number, a really large number and chances are good that investing $1B in whales will not pay taxpayers back in our lifetime and maybe not even our grandchildren's.

I look forward to hearing from Representatives Keith Goehner, Michael Steele and Sen. Brad Hawkins about all this taxing and spending. Do they agree with Chandler? Exactly what are they thinking? Stay tuned to The Bottom Line.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS RELEASE

OLYMPIA -- Rep. Keith Goehner, R-Dryden, officially took the oath of office and was sworn in as a member of the Washington State House of Representatives January 14 during the opening ceremonies of the 2019 Legislature. “The opening ceremonies were very humbling. It is a great honor to serve the citizens of the 12th Legislative District,” said Goehner. “We have a lot of work to do over the next few months. However, I look forward to working with colleagues on both sides of the aisle to move this state forward.” Goehner will be serving as the assistant ranking member on the House State Government and Tribal Relations Committee. He will also serve on the Local Government and Transportation committees.

“I am very excited about my committee assignments. Spending the last sixteen years as a Chelan County Commissioner gives me a strong perspective on local government issues. The state government committee covers a lot of issues we have dealt with at the local level – state agency rulemaking, performance audits and elections,” said Goehner. “My third committee assignment is very important to our region. Transportation and traffic relief are critical as we move forward and North Central Washington continues to grow.”

Goehner encourages constituents to stay in touch during the legislative session with questions or concerns. He can be reached at his legislative office at (360) 786-7954 or keith.goehner@leg.wa.gov.

State Parks: 12 free days in 2019

PARKS COMMISSION NEWS RELEASE

The Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission will again offer 12 free days next year, in which day-use visitors won't need a Discover Pass to visit state parks by vehicle.

State Parks free days are in keeping with 2011 legislation that created the Discover Pass, which costs $30 annually or $10 for a one-day visit. The pass is required for vehicle access to state recreation lands managed by Washington State Parks, the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) and the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). The Discover Pass legislation directed State Parks to designate up to 12 free days when the pass would not be required to visit state parks. The free days apply only at state parks; the Discover Pass is still required on WDFW and DNR lands.

“We think the State Parks free days are a great way for people to try a new park or visit an old favorite,” said State Parks Director Don Hoch.

State Parks, in coordination with WDFW, will once again offer a free day on Sunday, June 9, as part of WDFW's Free Fishing Weekend. This day, combined with the June 8 free day for National Get Outdoors Day, will give visitors an entire weekend to explore state parks for free.

The 2019 State Parks free days are:

- Tuesday, Jan. 1 — First Day Hikes; New Year's Day
- Monday, Jan. 21 — Martin Luther King, Jr. Day
- Tuesday, March 19 — State Parks' 106th Birthday
- Saturday, April 20 — Springtime free day
- Monday, April 22 — Earth Day
- Saturday, June 1 — National Trails Day
- Saturday, June 8 — National Get Outdoors Day
- Sunday, June 9 — Free Fishing Day
- Sunday, Aug. 25 — National Park Service Birthday
- Saturday, Sept. 28 — National Public Lands Day
- Monday, Nov. 11 — Veterans Day
- Friday, Nov. 29 — Autumn free day

For more information about the Discover Pass, visit: discoverpass.wa.gov.

Winter recreation permit requirements

The free days do not apply to Sno-Parks. During the winter season, visitors to Sno-Parks will need Sno-Park permits, which are available for purchase online or from vendors throughout the state. For more information about winter recreation permit requirements, visit: parks.state.wa.us/winter.

Cashmere looking ahead for future crosswalks

By KALIE DRAGO

Record Reporter

‘Look both ways’, ‘Stay on the sidewalk’, ‘Wear your helmet’: These are common reminders shouted at the backs of children on their way out the door to head to school. Sometimes these cautionary tips fall on deaf ears and students that chose to walk to school sometimes forget traffic dangers.

The city of Cashmere has an upcoming project to harness in some dangers for those students who walk or ride their bicycle to school - recently approved for the Safe Routes funding, the city is planning on installing four flashing beacons on Pioneer Avenue, near Vale Elementary.

“It’s a state grant for safe walking and bicycle routes. This is to make sure that drivers are paying attention and to make it safer for kids,” said city of Cashmere mayor Jim Fletcher. “We’re trying to avoid any and all accidents. In this world, drivers are more and more distracted.”

WSDOT’s Safe Routes program offers funding to improve conditions and as a result encourage children to walk or bike to school. According to WSDOT’s website, the program started back in 2005 and has awarded funds to 291 schools across Washington state. The city of Cashmere has now been offered the same opportunity to improve safety traffic conditions as well.

There is currently a flashing light on South Division Street, but according to Fletcher the new flashing beacons will be scattered on Pioneer Avenue. There will be one in front Vale Elementary, one that somewhat aligns with Mission Creek Road, one nearby the park and one at the intersection of Pioneer and Tigner.

This is primarily due to the proximity to Vale Elementary, which is where the youngest members of the Cashmere School District family attend.

“The flashing light will have a button for kids to press before they cross,” explained Fletcher. “These locations were chosen because of the high usage of young children.”

The total estimated cost comes to $190,000 with the grant covering $180,000 and the city chipping in $10,000. However, funding won’t be available until July when the state budget becomes active.

According to Fletcher, details such as final design planning and construction bids will begin gaining traction in the fall of 2019 and then by spring 2020, the construction of the crosswalks should begin.

Van Lith breaks CHS three-pointer record

Cashmere's Hailey Van Lith, pictured during the Jan. 15 against Cascade, leads the Lady Bulldogs in every statistical category.

By AL STOVER

Cashmere High School's Hailey Van Lith added another milestone to her impressive high school basketball career. During the Lady Bulldog's 62-44 nonleague win against Medical Lake on Jan. 5, the junior point guard broke the CHS record for most three-pointers in a single game with nine.

"I was super excited (to break the record), but also super grateful that I play for a coach and a program that allows me to do things like that, and teammates who know when to give me the ball in the right spot," Van Lith said.

Head Coach Brent Darnell noted Van Lith shot an 81 percentage in three-pointers during the evening.

"I've watched a lot of high school basketball and a lot of college basketball over the years, and I've never seen a girl make nine-three pointers in a game," Darnell said. "The impressive thing with those nine three-pointers is she was playing against a Box and 1 Defense, so every three (point shot) she took was contested. She hit a couple of what we call 'catch-and-shoot threes,' but most of her threes came from making a move, taking a step back and hitting a tough shot."

Darnell said Van Lith, who was a starter as a freshman and a sophomore, leads the program in every statistical category. He explained Van Lith is the most aggressive girl he has coached, and "plays physical and strong in such high gear." Scoring is not the only strong aspect of Van Lith's game as Darnell commended her passing and defense. He also acknowledged Van Lith's high basketball IQ, experience in big-game situations and being vocal on the court.

"She's very good at communicating offense and defense, and being a cheerleader on the floor at the same time she's playing," he said. "It's been like having another coach on the floor. It's a huge advantage to us."

Van Lith already has several accolades in her high school career. It was almost a year ago when she scored 1,000 career points, a feat many athletes accomplish do not accomplish in their high school career. She earned numerous league and state honors, including the 2018 Washington Interscholastic Activities Association Class 1A MVP, the WIAA All-State Class 1A first team and All-Caribou Trail League MVP in 2017 and 2018 and Adidas All-American.

Outside of school, she has won gold medals as a member of the 2018 Youth Olympic team and 2018 FIBA U17 World Cup. She also competed on the Northwest Blazers.

Van Lith said competing in AAU basketball and the summer league has helped her get in the best shape and mindset of high competition of winter basketball.

Even with all of her accomplishments, Van Lith, the daughter of Jessica and Corey Van Lith, is grateful for everyone in the Bulldogs basketball program, from her teammates and coaches to the stat keeper.

"Living in a small town, there is a family atmosphere everywhere," Van Lith said. "My parents remind me not to forget where you come from. I'm always trying to remember that I didn't do this by myself. All these people and all of my friends pushed me to this level. I owe my success to a lot of people."

In addition to her teammates, Van Lith lists several professional athletes who have influenced her playing style and competitiveness, like WNBA superstar Diana Turasi and NBA player Kyrie Irving.

Van Lith has aspirations to play at the college level, going back to when she was little. She already has several goals she wants to accomplish in her college career, such as being a four-time National Player of the Year, winning four national championships and being selected as a first-round draft pick for the WNBA.

"When I was little, I would pray and beg that UCONN would give me a scholarship," Van Lith said. "It's just crazy to think that I can choose if I want to go there or not. It just shows that if you're willing to put in the work that you can do anything, even if you're from Cashmere, Washington. Nothing can stop you. Basketball is a process and you can never stop. I'm going to have to stay hungry to accomplish my goals."

The Lady Bulldogs recently captured the CTL league championship after their 62-6 win over Cascade on Jan. 15. Van Lith said Cashmere is set on winning the district and will not overlook the other teams in the last round of league play.

While breaking the CHS three-point single game record was another accomplishment, Van Lith's favorite memory so far in her Bulldog basketball career was one she shared with her teammates during the Monday, Jan. 7 practice.

"We do box out percentages and we have a goal of getting 70 percent as a team," Van Lith said. "We hadn't reached that (goal) this year and we would have had to run a lot in practice if we didn't get 70 percent against Medical Lake. We got 71 percent against Medical Lake. How much we celebrated after they told us the percentage and how we accomplished our goal was something special. It showed how close we are as a team."

Cashmere swimming at Kentridge and Moses Lake

By AL STOVER

Cashmere High School swimmers Aster Dotson and Tyson Seidensticker competed at the Kentridge Invitational on Jan. 12.

Dotson achieved personal bests in both the 50-yard freestyle with 24.53 seconds, and the 100 butterfly with 59.39.

Seidensticker finished the 100 freestyle with a PR of 57.83, and the 100 backstroke with a PR of 108.82.

Both swimmers were scheduled to compete at the Jan. 17 meet between Eastmont and Moses Lake. They return to competition at the Big 9 Swim and Dive League meet in Moses Lake on Jan. 24.

NCW Media Inc.'s Obituary and Memorial Policy

An obituary is a way for family members to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the larger community of the deceased.

Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data. Memorials are another way of letting the community know about the life and memories of the person who has died. A memorial is different from an obituary. An obituary is usually current while a memorial can be written later.

For publication in the Cashmere Valley Record or The Leavenworth Echo, an obituary or memorial needs to be typed and emailed to editor@leavenworthecho.com no later than 4 p.m. Friday for the next week's issue. Funeral homes and chapels can submit obituaries by noon on Monday, except holidays.

Obituaries are priced per word while the charge for memorial ads are by the column-inch. Cost of the obituary/memorial is due at the time of placement.

in a battle from the get-go as the Knights outscored them 15-12 in the first quarter. Cashmere added 16 points in the second quarter to bring the scoring gap to 35-28 in the Knights' favor. The Bulldogs continued to score double digits in the second half with 12 points in the third quarter and 19 points in the final frame. Cashmere ended the week with an 85-73 victory against Chelan on Jan. 18 in what was a tough battle in front of a packed gym. "Chelan is a good team and this is a huge rivalry," Head Coach Levi Heyen said. "It was a great crowd and environment." Cashmere started strong in the first quarter, outscoring the Goats 28-15 in the first quarter. Chelan came in the second quarter with 26 points to take a 41-39 lead in the first half. The Bulldogs continued to struggle in the third quarter, with the Goats adding 22 points while Cashmere only made 13. In the final eight minutes, Cashmere began chipping away at Chelan's lead. Landdeck's back-to-back two-pointers gave the Bulldogs a 67-65 lead. The Bulldogs added 18 more points to secure the

Lady Bulldogs secure CTL championship

By AL STOVER

The Cashmere High School girls basketball team checked one goal off their 2018-19 season list - a Caribou Trail League championship. The Lady Bulldogs claimed their sixth conference title after their 62-6 win against Cascade on Jan. 15. The victory over the Lady Kodiaks brought Cashmere's league record to 8-0. The Lady Bulldogs had defeated every other CTL team twice to outright earn the conference title. With a lock on the league championship at stake, Head Coach Brent Darnell said Cashmere was focused on coming out of the gate and winning the game against Cascade at all costs. The Lady Bulldogs jumped out to a 21-3 lead in the first quarter with Hailey Van Lith scoring 12 points. In the second quarter, Cashmere boosted their lead with 18 points to take a 39-3 lead in the first half. Cashmere added 12 points in the third quarter and 11 in the fourth frame to secure the win. Darnell noted the Lady Bulldogs played against a solid Cascade defense and commended the Lady Kodiaks' focus, work ethic and attitude throughout the game. Van Lith led the Lady Bulldogs in scoring with 25 while Ellie Alberts added 15 and Grace Hammond had 11. Grace Erdman recorded 13 rebounds. On defense, the Lady Bulldogs forced 36 turnovers to Cascade's six. "We played 11 kids tonight and had seven score, I thought we did a good job at shooting," Darnell said. "It was a fun game." Cashmere continued the week with a 75-34 thumping of Chelan in front of a packed gym on Jan. 18. The Lady Bulldogs opened with a 33-5 lead in the first quarter, including 18 points from Van Lith. "We had as good of a first quarter (in this game) as we have had all season," Darnell said. "The girls were amped up to play, it was a packed house and a great environment." Cashmere continued their momentum with 16 points in the second quarter to lead 49-23 at the first half. The Lady Bulldogs boosted their lead with 19 points in the third quarter, and seven more in the final frame. Darnell said the Lady Bulldogs played great defense in the first, third and fourth quarters. He noted the team tried to score too fast in the second quarter, which allowed Chelan to add 18 points. He also commended Cashmere's resilience and ability to come back after a slow quarter. "They take that first punch and they get back up, they're extremely competitive," Darnell added. Van Lith led Cashmere with 33 points while Grace Hammond finished with 18. Darnell noted Riley Johnson had a good game, as Peyton Brown, who came off the bench. Cashmere (9-0 CTL, 15-2 overall) traveled to Omak on Jan. 22 to face the second-ranked Lady Pioneers (5-3, 10-6). Although they already have the league title under their belts, Darnell said the team will continue to play competitively as they head into the last weeks of the regular season. "We still have a lot of basketball to play, we have to keep improving, keep our focus and keep that fire burning," Darnell added.

Student Spotlight
Student Katherine Lopez-Parkins

Reason: I would like to recognize the efforts of Katherine Lopez-Parkins. Katherine is in my Freshman English class and consistently exceeds requirements in reading comprehension and writing. She has acquired new writing skills like argumentative writing and has mastered the process of formulating an argument. She is a quiet person who accepts criticism and applies effectively. I will miss having Katherine in class next semester. Teacher: Ted Smith Parents: Dustin Parkins, Maria Lopez-Parkins Grade: 9th Activities: The school musical, "Legally Blonde" GPA: 3.7 Sports: None at this time but plan to do Softball after the musical. Future Plans: Become a young Author/Artist

Athlete Sam Phillips

Reason: Sam Phillips has been a steady force for our team all season long. He leads our team in rebounds and assists this season, and is second on the team in points and steals. Sam is a special player that combines his talent with hard work. He is able to play multiple positions for us and often ends up defending our opponent's top player. He is averaging 14 points, 8 rebounds, 5.5 assists, and 2.2 steals per game.
