Cashmere Bulldogs crush Chelan Goats to keep Bronze Shoe

The Cashmere Bulldogs retained the coveted Bronze Shoe trophy by beating the Chelan Mountain Goats 30-7 on their home turf Friday, Oct. 5 marking four years in a row the 'Dawgs get to chew on the Shoe.

Despite the rain, Cashmere's passing game caused much chagrin in the Goats porous defense resulting in many big gains for the home team. Although it is called a rivalry, the Bulldogs continued to dominate the 65-year tradition winning for the 52nd time out of 65 years.

The Bulldogs scored first after Chelan fumbled and junior Javi Renta kicked a 32-yard field goal giving them a 3-0 lead.

The Goats came back and went downfield 53 yards for a touchdown and their only lead of the game.

The Bulldogs came back immediately and went 71 yards and scored on a 20-yard pass play from quarterback Sam Philips to Mason Landdeck.

After another field goal by Renya, the Bulldogs recovered another Goat fumble and scored another touchdown on a quarterback sneak as the first half ended with a score of 20-7

Cashmere sealed the Goats' fate by scoring again to start the second half after Phillips and Landdeck paired up again on a 47-yard touchdown pass to give the Bulldogs a commanding 27-7 lead.

Renya added one more field goal to make it 30-7.

Bulldog Coach Brian Bremer said he was "proud" of his team. The win marked the first "Shoe" victory for Bremer, who is in his first year as Varsity head coach for the 'Dawgs.

Bremer said the trophy was to be shared by the whole community, not just the school or football team.

This Friday finds the Bulldogs versus the Okanogan Bulldogs in Okanogan.

CHELAN PUD NEWS RELEASE

Chelan PUD customers may be contacted for a phone and online survey running Oct. 9-26. Chelan PUD is joining public utility districts across the state in supporting a statewide survey of electric utility customers to better understand public opinion and experiences.

Professional researchers with Cocker-Fennessy will be making calls, reaching out online and providing a publicly available link to PUD customers, on behalf of the Washington PUD Association. We hope that customers can take a few minutes to answer the short survey – customer experiences and perspectives are extremely important to us.

- A few things about the survey:
  - It is for research purposes, only. We are not selling anything
  - It is voluntary – you do not have to participate if you don't want to
  - Responses are anonymous; personal information will not be released to any third parties
  - The research firm is using its databases and publicly available data to reach potential respondents. NO customer information was provided by Chelan PUD for purposes of conducting the survey
- If you would like to participate in the survey (and we hope you do!), go to <https://survey.logitgroup.com/S/E/1/376926?p=&urlimport=1&questlist=Q2;Q2A&Q2=4&Q2A=2> ) starting Oct. 9.

If you have any questions, please contact the Washington Public Utility Districts Association at 360-741-2675 or Liz Anderson, Washington PUD Association at landerson@wpuda.org.

Burnett wants to stay as Chelan County Sheriff

By GARY BÉGIN

Chelan County Sheriff Brian Burnett wants to remain our sheriff, but he faces an opponent in the November general election. CVR Managing Editor Gary Bégin asked Burnett a few questions as to his future plans for the department should he be reelected. His answers follow:

CVR: Why do you still want to be sheriff?

Sheriff Brian Burnett: I have an amazing command staff (Undersheriff, Chief of Patrol, Chief of Special Operations, Chief Civil Deputy and my Administrative Assistant) who are really the leaders of our agency along with many others. Four of these five are in their early forty's with a lot of time to serve in their careers. I truly believe that the foundation that has been laid over the last eight years has set the Chelan County Sheriff's Office for success but there are still many things we have left to work towards in making the Chelan County Sheriff's Office, what I call, "The Destination Agency" in all of North Central Washington. I'm committed to dedicating at least two more terms (eight years) as Sheriff so I can continue doing the things that will best assist the Sheriff's Office and citizens of Chelan County to provide the best level of law enforcement service available.

CVR: Are there specific projects or outreach you wish to complete in your next term?

Burnett: The Sheriff's Office has been working the last couple of years on updating our current policy and procedure manual that was last updated in 2006. We are just a few policies away, working with our Deputies Association, on finalizing and implementing a brand new online program called Lexipol. Lexipol is a program that maintains and updates best practices and model policies to meet the Washington State Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs (WASPC) model policy and standards. Part of this program is a program we just started two months ago called the daily training bulletins, which is scenario based along with the appropriate policy with a multiple choice / true or false question. This program is designed to keep the employee educated on current policies that specifically applies to our office and staff. Washington State County Risk Pool offers discounts to the program when we maintain 80% compliance on all employees completing their monthly training bulletins. This in turn equals better trained and educated employees that should reduce liability to the county while providing a better level of service to our citizens that we serve.

Following the implementation of Lexipol we will start working towards a state accreditation process through WASPC. This process will make sure we are using model policies in all areas of our agency.

CVR: Tell the reader anything you wish about yourself—church, hobbies, family, education, etc.:

Burnett: I was born and raised in Chelan County, graduating from Cascade High School. I'm married

Democrats promise more politics of power

Hoping to ride a "blue wave" back into D.C., Democrats have pulled out all of the stops to regain their power at the Federal level. But what exactly are they promising to do with that power? Have you heard any positive promises that will improve life for "we the people?"

BILL FORHAN
PUBLISHER

Kim Schrier promises to keep politics out of the Doctor/Patient relationship. She supports Obamacare but blames Republicans for the out of control rise in premiums. She does admit that accepting all Medicare patients would bankrupt her practice. So exactly where does she stand on the health care issue? Seems she wants the Federal money but doesn't want the government to tell doctors and patients exactly how to use that money.

To be fair, the Republicans could have repealed Obamacare and didn't do it. Obamacare was, is and will remain unsustainable. It will implode and neither candidate is likely to change that.

Following the disgusting Brett Kavanaugh debacle, Democrats have lost significant respect and well they should. I have likened the episode to political rape. Rape has little to do with sex it is more about anger, power and intimidation. What was done to Kavanaugh had little to do with his qualifications. It was simply a last ditch effort to prevent his confirmation at any cost.

It is not the first time that Democrats have resorted to the politics of personal destruction to defeat a political opponent. But in my experience it was clearly the worst.

Do we really want to allow this kind of political theater to drive our national debate?

What is clear is there is no such thing as bipartisanship in politics today. Given that reality, the only way we can influence the behavior of either party is to reject any candidate that is willing to put D or an R after their name. Once elected, they will be expected to vote as a block along the party line. So you are no longer voting for an individual. You are voting for the party.

So, in this election I am encouraging all Republicans and Independents to support the Republican ticket and make sure you get out and vote. Democrats should either vote for Republicans as a protest against the Democrat's tactics or stay home. It is the only way we can truly send a message that change is needed.

Will the 'Blue Wave' engulf North Central Washington?

There has been much talk about the so-called "Blue Wave," a Democrat Party overwhelming victory from coast to coast in the mid-term elections this November 6.

APPLES TO APPLES
GARY BÉGIN
NCW MEDIA
MANAGING EDITOR

There is no doubt that the "blue" party, aptly named if water is involved, will most likely take over many seats in Congress if the current polls are to be believed, but how much of a wave will it really be?

Here, in the conservative bastion of North Central Washington, will Democrat Kim Schrier take the "red" seat occupied by Dave Reichert or will Republican Dino Rossi win? It is a known fact that the population centers of the western (liberal) part of the state can easily dominate the sparse rural population of Chelan and Douglas counties. Schrier has been spending a fortune on direct mail advertising and television ads. I probably have been receiving one of her color two-sided campaign brochures at least twice a week in the mail.

I have received almost nothing from Rossi, but third party anti-Schrier ads are extant on TV.

Does it mean that Dino is assured of my vote and she is not or that Dino has less money to burn than Schrier? Maybe her "third party" PAC friends are eager to turn Reichert's seat blue for the first time in many years, but whatever the answer, which of these two are actually understanding of rural Washingtonians?

Both Rossi and Schrier have visited Wenatchee during the campaign season and both claim they are willing to work with the other side to get bills passed for rural citizens.

Rossi has many years of political experience while Schrier is one of the new faces that have come out to run for office ever since the Trump phenomena took place.

In case you missed it, Donald Trump has given hope to all Americans of every stripe that they too can run ... and win ... an election for public office.

Admittedly, many of these new found "politicians" were motivated by anti-Trump feelings, but just as many are motivated by the idea of democracy in action.

Considering the time, dedication and money involved in running for public office, I don't see this exciting new era in our republic as an anomaly, but as something that I hope continues far into the future.

If so, then gone are the days that only the good ' boys win a seat in Congress or on the local county commission. The "common" citizen has a real chance of putting themselves in positions of real responsibility and power.

These are exciting times for all of us and I haven't a clue if the tide will allow all ships to rise or if indeed, the "Blue Wave" will submerge the Grand Old Party and take control of Congress. Perhaps that includes both Houses, i.e., the Senate and the Congress. Then in 2020 the presidency and that will complete the flipping of the three branches of government. Remember, even incumbent Republicans and Democrats have been losing primaries to their own people who have the guts to fight the status quo. Those races included both pro and anti Trump forces.

The 2018 and the 2020 races promise to be transformative for at least the first 20 - 50 years of this century. Let the games begin.

Shon Smith vies for Chelan County Commission

By GARY BÉGIN

This has been a record-setting year for the sheer number of candidates running for various offices in Washington state and across America. Restaurateur Shon Smith is running for Chelan County Commission in November. He survived a five-man field in the August primary. Smith, owner of the Wok-About Grills in Leavenworth and Wenatchee, answered a few questions posed to him by NCW Media Managing Editor Gary Bégin recently. Here are his answers:

together, put on a pot of coffee and drop me an invite, I'd be happy attend!

NCW Media: Now that you have made it through the primary, how will you change or focus your campaign?

Shon Smith: Since the primary brought five great candidates to the table, I am honored to be in the top two for the general election on November 6. Judging by the primary numbers, the majority of District 2 is on the conservative end of the spectrum. Although I was the only one to register as a Republican, three of the other candidates carried the common-sense values our communities hold dear: life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness! It is obvious that we all have a concern for the environment (especially forest health), and the need for low-income housing, but my focus is on Workforce Housing, the jobs that creates, and the tax base job creators bring into our Valley. While attending the last few months of Commissioner Meetings and almost daily community events, it has been an eye-opener as to how diverse our community and its passions are! I have chosen not to go door-to-door and interrupt the privacy and family time we long for once we get home from our busy day. And judging by the amount of invitations I receive to come to events, I think residents appreciate this approach! Get your fiends

NCW Media: What is it that you bring to the table as opposed to your opponent?

Smith: When considering running for Commissioner, I weighed the pros and cons of entering public office as opposed to staying solely in the private sector. I realized that as a Commissioner I would be giving up opportunities to grow my existing businesses by adding focus on the bigger picture: management of the County's business. My wife and I built the Wok-About Grill in 1997 in Wenatchee, and expanded to Leavenworth in 2014. We still have many of the original employees who started with us 21 years ago, and have been able to promote them to leadership positions and give them the opportunity to grow as well. The experience I've gained in a small-business environment with just a few employees gave me the ability to expand and provide jobs to 63 folks, including several heads of households in our towns. I know they appreciate the opportunity to provide for their families and to begin their adult lives buying homes and starting families. I'd like to bring that fostering environment to the County as well, encouraging others to take pride in what they do. The biggest difference between my opponent and myself is the fact that I sign the front of paychecks, not the back!

OBITUARY

Shirley Leane
(Driskell) Strand

Harvey Strand, a relationship lasting 65 years.

Upon graduation in 1953 they married. Their first dwelling was a tent in the forests of northern Idaho. She plied her skills in quantity cookery to feed 125 hungry college men who worked in the hills. Leaving behind the open skies of central Idaho and the forests in north Idaho, her next dwelling was (an apartment) in a major city and employment as a teller at a savings and loan in downtown Seattle. The next challenge was adapting to a transit bus system. One clear morning on the way to downtown, Shirley stood up, viewed the snow covered Cascades saying, "look, the mountains are out!" revealing she's a newcomer.

Shirley's first home was purchased by her husband while she remained in California with her children. Confirmation for the purchase was made when her request was honored, "does that house have sidewalks?" Shirley was a loving mother, delighted in serving food to family or friend, enjoyed church gatherings where she and friends prepared food for fellowship dinners. Bible Study Fellowship was central to her life along with the Girl Scouts. She would take them camping and hiking. Having the heart of a Servant, she gave thought to others often before considering needs of her own. When relocation of refugee families to the U. S. provided an opportunity for Shirley and others to sponsor a large family, she took a family into her home, transported them and "mothered, as needed." She saw everyone as a friend, enjoying their company. She wasn't one for being part of a group unless it involved fabrics and quilting. Sensing the needs within a family, Shirley proposed a sewing class for young girls, imparting skills for a lifetime. Another witness to her kindness was that she complemented others and gave repeated words of encouragement.

In retirement, after living 40 years in the West side of the Cascades, the East side beckoned. Having earlier made an inroad for relocating, this movement was made with heartache followed by a blossoming with a new location and new friends. Shirley thrilled at seeing snow fall, delighted in clearing walk-ways, playing in the snow just as in her childhood.

In the East, Shirley had her most prolific period of designing and assembling quilts. She felt there was Love in every stitch, quilts mostly made for others, family and persons in need. Her quilts were hand stitched until her last years when she began working with an artistic machine quilter. A quilt was never sold, just given with Love. An exception was made for a quilt designed and constructed for an auction to benefit Cascade Medical Center Foundation.

Issues of health began to control her life. Bible study and church affiliations fluctuated as a result. However, the desire to maintain her relationship to the Lord never faltered. After extended care at home, she left her view of the Wenatchee River and spent her last days under the care of Mountain Meadows, Memory Care.

Shirley was a lovely lady, gracious and kind. She is survived by her spouse, daughters Sandra (James) Thomas, Karen Strand (Ralph Tindell) and son Roger (Anne) Strand. She was blessed by four grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Survived by brothers Byron Driskell, Richard Driskell and sister Annette Bunce, predeceased by brother Thomas Driskell.

A memorial service will be held at the United Methodist Church in Leavenworth, Washington on Thursday, October 18, 2018 at 1:30 p.m.

Can Salvation be lost?

Can you lose your salvation?

To borrow a quote from Dr. John MacArthur "If you could lose your salvation, you would."

Yet this is a serious question for some and unfortunately, due to some group's misapplication of certain Biblical truths, the answer to that question is muddled or just plain wrong.

One of the greatest themes of the Bible is the security found in God. Time and time again throughout the Psalms, God is mentioned as a "strong tower" (Ps. 18:10), "refuge" (Ps. 61:3), and "fortress" (Ps. 91:2). It was the security in God articulated in Psalm 46 that inspired the famed Reformer, Martin Luther, to pen one of the greatest hymns ever given to the church, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God".

Only in God is there true security. Carry that truth into the what Christians mean by "salvation" and you have an anchor for the troubled soul.

God saves and the power exerted in that salvation is incomprehensible. And yet, God's salvific power doesn't stop at an initial one-time event, but carries throughout the Christian's life. In other words, God saves you and God keeps you saved.

Philippians 1:6 says "He who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ". If God has done a genuine work of spiritual regeneration in an individual's heart, he will finish what he has started.

This is what theologians call, "preservation of the saints"—that God will preserve those who are his, keeping them, by his own power, from losing their salvation (Jude 24).

Now, what do we do with people who at one time, professed a belief in Christ and yet have seemed to have "fallen away". Did they somehow lose their salvation or at least, walked away from it?

In speaking about this issue, people tend to respond "Jesus will never take you out of his hand but you can sure walk away from it". As if to say, that our finite and frail selves are more powerful than the grip of the indomitable and eternal Christ.

This might come as a shock to some, but according to the Bible, if someone walks away from their faith, they never truly had it to begin with.

A WALK WITH PASTOR JOHN SMITH

The Apostle John spoke of this very instance in 1 John 2:9, about people who at one time were believers but now stand in opposition and rejection of Christianity. In these individual's apostasy and not continuing on in the faith, they reveal that "they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us."

What about if there isn't necessarily a repudiation or rejection of Jesus rather a besetting sin or even a great fall? Does that besetting sin or fall suddenly cut an individual from grace and they find themselves without salvation?

To be sure, the open flagrant practice of sin is cause for a concern, especially if there is no brokenness or godly sorrow that accompanies it (Hebrews 10:26, 1 John 3:9). But can a truly born-again believer, sin so much that God cuts them off?

The answer is no. Jesus said "Whoever comes to me I will never cast out" and "no one is able to snatch them out of my Father's hand" (John 6:37, 10:29). When an individual enters into a right relationship with Jesus Christ through trusting in his work alone, according to Jesus, that relationship is permanent. Born-again Christian, you will never slip through God's fingers, nor will God ever drop you.

As I think more deeply about this question, there are real pastoral implications to its answer. In my experience, the one who wonders "Can I lose my salvation?" are people who sincerely want to please God and do not want to disappoint him. For some reason, whether it be a particular struggle in some area or perhaps even the aftermath of a fall into sin, they question their salvation.

However, even though we all struggle with sin (big or small), the great hope is that God will and is sustaining us through the struggle. Christians can and do at times have radical falls into sin, but according to the Bible, a true Christian will never fall so far from grace that they lose their salvation.

"Now unto him, that is able to keep you from falling and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy" (Jude 24).

NCW Media Inc.'s Obituary and Memorial Policy

An obituary is a way for family members to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the larger community of the deceased.

Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data. Memorials are another way of letting the community know about the life and memories of the person who has died. A memorial is different from an obituary. An obituary is usually current while a memorial can be written later.

For publication in the Cashmere Valley Record or The Leavenworth Echo, an obituary or memorial needs to be typed and emailed to editor@leavenworthecho.com no later than 4 p.m. Friday for the next week's issue. Funeral homes and chapels can submit obituaries by noon on Monday, except holidays.

Obituaries are priced per word while the charge for memorial ads are by the column-inch. Cost of the obituary/memorial is due at the time of placement.

Leavenworth Invitational Cross Country results

SUBMITTED BY JEFF KENOYER

Cashmere Cross Country Coach

Here are the results from Saturday's (10/6) Leavenworth Invitational cross country race held at the Ski Hill in Leavenworth: athletic.net/CrossCountry/meet/144295/results The course is 2.8 miles and follows many of the trails and roads used by cross country skiers in the winter. The race starts at the base of the Bunny Hill ski slope, loops through the forest twice and ends at the top of the Bunny Hill. Racers get to run up the hill three times during the race.

Girls Results: 227 runners.

At the Leavenworth Invitational all the girls run together. There is not a separate Junior Varsity race. It is nice because the coaches get to watch the teammates compete head to head in the same race. It is tough for runners because if one gets a bad start there are many, many other girls to work around to get back into the race.

There were 17 complete teams. First place Liberty Bell had 51 points followed by Selah with 64 points. Cashmere girls finished 3rd with 101 points followed by Eastmont (119 points), Roosevelt (151 points) and Shorecrest (173 points).

United Way of Chelan and Douglas Counties: Emergency Food and Shelter Funds Available

United Way of Chelan and Douglas Counties has been awarded federal funds made available through the Department of Homeland Security Federal Emergency Management agency under the Emergency Food and Shelter National Board Program. Chelan County has been allocated $13,078 and Douglas County will receive $25,663 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in each county.

The selection was made by a National Board that is chaired by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency and consists of representatives from American Red Cross; Catholic Charities, USA; National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA; The Jewish Federations of North America, The Salvation Army; and, United Way Worldwide. The Local Board was charged to distribute funds appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country. A Local Board will determine how the funds awarded to Chelan and Douglas Counties are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service agencies in the area. The Local Board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds made available under this phase of the program.

Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local agencies chosen to receive funds must: 1) be private voluntary non-profits or units of government, 2) be eligible to receive Federal funds, 3) have an accounting system, 4) practice nondiscrimination, 5) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and 6) if they are a private voluntary organization, have a voluntary board. Qualifying agencies are urged to apply. United Way of Chelan and Douglas Counties has distributed Emergency Food and Shelter funds previously. Agencies interested in applying for Emergency Food and Shelter Program funds can access the application at uwcdc.org/apply\_EFSP through November 2.

If you require assistance, please contact Bobbie Hughes at 662-8261. The deadline for applications is November 2.

Oct. 15 tax-filing extension deadline approaches for millions of taxpayers

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service today urged taxpayers who requested the six-month filing extension to double check their tax returns and file on or before the mid-October deadline. IRS e-file and Free File are excellent filing options and are still available.

More than 14 million taxpayers filed for an extension in 2018 and, although Oct. 15 is the last day for most people to file, some may have more time. They include:

- Members of the military and others serving in combat zone localities still have more time. They typically have until at least 180 days after they leave the combat zone to both file returns and pay any taxes due.

- Taxpayers in several disaster area localities who already had valid extensions now have more time to file. Currently, taxpayers in parts of California, North Carolina, South Carolina and Texas qualify for this relief. For details, see the disaster relief page on IRS.gov. However, like other extension filers, these taxpayers were required to pay what they owed by April 18, which was this year's filing deadline for 2017 tax returns.

Recordkeeping and Adjusted Gross Income

As a reminder, taxpayers should keep a copy of their tax returns and supporting documents for a minimum of three years. It's more important than ever for taxpayers to have prior-year tax returns available as the IRS made changes last year to protect taxpayers and authenticate their identity. To authenticate their identities, taxpayers will need to enter either of two items: their prior-year AGI or their prior-year self-select PIN and their date of birth. If married filing jointly, both taxpayers must authenticate their identities with this information.

Extension filers should also plan ahead if they are using a software product for the first time as using an electronic PIN is no longer an option.

Those who lack access to their prior-year tax returns can go to irs.gov/transcript and use Get Transcript Online or Get Transcript by Mail to get last year's AGI.

A 'Paycheck Checkup' is important

The Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, enacted in December, made major changes to the tax law. Any of these far-reaching changes could have an impact on the refund many taxpayers will receive when they file their 2018 tax return.

The agency urges taxpayers on extension to complete a "Paycheck Checkup" now so that if a withholding amount adjustment is necessary, there's more time for withholding to take place during the last quarter of the year. Waiting means there are fewer pay periods to withhold the necessary federal tax — so more tax will have to be withheld from each remaining paycheck.

Withholding Calculator

This handy tool, available on IRS.gov, will help taxpayers determine if they should complete a new Form W-4 and, if so, what information to enter on a new Form W-4 for necessary withholding adjustments. It's helpful if taxpayers have their completed 2017 tax return available when using the Withholding Calculator to estimate the amount of income, deductions, adjustments and credits to enter. Filers also need their most recent pay stubs to compute the employee's withholding taken from their pay so far this year.

Quick and easy payment options

IRS Direct Pay offers taxpayers a fast and easy way to pay what they owe. Direct Pay is free and allows individuals to securely pay their tax bills or make quarterly estimated tax payments online directly from checking or savings accounts without any fees or pre-registration.

Taxpayers can also pay by debit or credit card. While the IRS does not charge a fee for this service, the payment processor will. Other payment options include the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (enrollment is required) and Electronic Funds Withdrawal which is available when e-filing. Taxpayers can also pay what they owe using the IRS2Go mobile app. Those choosing to pay by check or money order should make the payment out to the "United States Treasury."

Individual taxpayers can go to IRS.gov/account and login to view their balance, payment history, pay their taxes and access tax records through Get Transcript. Before setting up an account, taxpayers should review Secure Access: How to Register for Certain Online Self-Help Tools to make sure they have the information needed to verify their identities.
