Nothing fishy here - Salmon 'School Days' a success

Both parents and children alike were intrigued by the Native American station.

Packs of elementary students streamed in for the Salmon Festival's School Days on September 20 and September 21 in Leavenworth. Salmon Festival hosts the children in an attempt to harness in their attention to the wildlife that surrounds them while simultaneously making the event fun oriented. The Get Out of Class Free card only made the excitement for the kids at a higher frequency, as the giggles and squeals echoed from the clumps of students taking in Reptile Man and posing with the Salmon mascot. The two School Days is a unique, hands on opportunity - not a mainstream educational experience that the kids were observably hooked on.

The field trip for the surrounding school districts, including Cascade, took place at the Leavenworth Fish Hatchery and was the perfect setting to illuminate the wildlife education and host the large number of children. The School Days gave the students an exclusive chance to learn what happens beneath the surface of the river without the push and pull of the public crowds that often ferments from festivals. There was no need to stand on tip toes to catch a glimpse of exhibits or straining to see around adults since it was closed off to the public and reserved for North Central Washington schools. Kids wandered from different stations wide eyed and eager.

"This is magical because these are huge birds, the eagles and the owls, they do a wonderful presentation," said Corky Broadus, longtime Salmon Festival volunteer referring to one of many different exhibits for the kids to get hands on. "It's the Sardis Raptor Center Exhibit."

The Community Chalk Art caught the attention of some students while the Salmon Storytelling Tent kept others riveted inside a blow up fish. Children flocked to different stations but all learned something regardless of where they landed. At one station, a volunteer from Grand Coulee Dam taught a crowd of kids about dams and had a miniature exhibit for the kids to peer at. Some of the children milled around the Fish Guts station whereas others stared into the aquarium to see a variety of fish from local streams. Using fun activities that filtered out educational facts is the key component for the Salmon Festival's School Days.

"The whole mission is to connect people with nature - all ages, all ethnic groups and just get them outdoors," said Broadus

For the kids that came home from school that day flushed with the excitement from exploring the Native American exhibit and spouted off facts about the hatchery, had an opportunity to extend their invitation to the Salmon Festival for the rest of the family. Saturday, September 22 was the day that the Salmon Festival was open to the public.

Steele still has 'work to do,' wants to remain in State House

By GARY BÉGIN

Michael Steele wants to remain the 12th Legislative District State Representative for another term. The Chelan native recently spoke to Wenatchee Business Journal Managing Editor Gary Bégin about the various issues he plans on tackling if reelected. His answers follow:

Wenatchee Business Journal: What new 12th District issues (if any) are you bringing to the table in Olympia, should you get re-elected? Michael Steele: I am very passionate about workforce housing and finding state level solutions to address this ongoing issue. I also want to continue to work on career connected learning, Career and Technical Education and Steam policies.

CVR: Do you have goal for the next session?

Steele: I want to continue working on the policies mentioned above. I will continue to serve on the Capital Budget Committee and want secure funding for several ongoing projects throughout the 12th Legislative District.

CVR: Do you have any answers or remedies regarding wildfires?

Steele: I have scheduled a meeting with Commissioner Franz, Maia Bellon, the Director of the Department of Ecology and the Superintendent of the Forest Service to see how our state and federal agencies can work better together in order to achieve greater prescribed burning goals.

CVR: Do you have any specific platform to share with the readers?

Steele: My platform continues to be job creation, economic growth and continuing to working on improving the lives of all individuals in the 12th District.

CVR: Do you feel your experience in attracting tourists to Lake Chelan is a help in understanding tourism's importance to the 12th District?

Steele: Absolutely. Tourism is the second largest economic driver here in our district, behind agriculture. Communities in the Methow, Lake Chelan, Wenatchee and Leavenworth are remarkable examples of how tourism can positively impact economies.

Chelan County Sheriff's Deputy Tyler seeks to oust her boss

BY GARY BÉGIN

NCW Media Managing Editor
Chelan County Sheriff's Deputy Jennifer Tyler launched a last minute effort to oust current Sheriff Brian Burnett by staging a write-in campaign in the primary election. To make it to the November general election, she had to get at least 1 percent of the total votes, but she managed to receive more than 4 percent.

NCW Media Managing Editor Gary Bégin interviewed Tyler to see why she was running and learn more about the candidate and her goals.

NCW Media: Why are you running for Chelan County Sheriff?

Jennifer Tyler: The initial reason for filing was for one person to know I appreciated their support. After a record 620 write-ins were received, I realized that it is clear, the citizens of Chelan County want a change. I want to be that change.

NCW Media: Your opponent is well known and you are not. How will you overcome that obstacle?

Tyler: I disagree that I am not well known. I have served Chelan County citizens as a patrol Deputy for over 12 years. I have served on the night shifts of Chelan County with due diligence. My civil action against the Sheriff has also made headlines throughout the state. It is not very common that an employee takes on her boss in such an aggressive manner as I did with the jury trial in Douglas County earlier this year. It is also rare to have such a successful outcome.

NCW Media: What law enforcement experience do you have?

Tyler: It's the only profession I have known since I was 19 years old. I have over 23 years as a public servant to my community. There is no element of the profession that I haven't done and I've done it well.

NCW Media: Will you be making reforms to the CCSO if elected?

Tyler: Yes I believe that each new administration brings their own philosophies to the table. These will come from my own work ethics which include being willing to listen to others, and not make decisions based on my own personal preferences. My priorities are etched around fairness, lawfulness, and public service.

NCW Media: What especially do you want to change or fix?

Tyler: Clearly, there is an issue with CCSO upholding employment law within the work place. The Civil Rights Act was implemented in 1964. There should be no misunderstanding what it should mean to have equal protection under the law. Our current administration has been found guilty by a jury of violating that law. And, is on track to defend their employment actions in a second civil litigation trial in federal court brought by another employee. The cost of these civil law violations to the Chelan County taxpayers is astronomical. It is paramount that someone put a stop to these injustices. I know how to make that happen by simply following the law.

NCW Media: You have won a suit against the male dominated agency, do you think it will be held against you if you win?

Tyler: To me winning the Sheriff seat is the only option I have left in hopes of being treated as an equal.

NCW Media: Are there special programs you plan to install such as diversity or gender training?

Tyler: Currently there are only 3 women on a 50 commission force. I do, however, believe how we should look at the hiring practices of the department and how we recruit qualified applicants. I believe an elected female Sheriff will attract those minority candidates because they know they will be treated fairly.

NCW Media: We have a 30 percent Hispanic population. Are you planing anything to reach that demographic from the law enforcement point of view?

Tyler: It's funny you ask because I was already considering running for Sheriff in four years, and have already started to learn Spanish. I believe it's important for me to speak to all people I serve. If elected, that ideology will continue and training will be paramount as I see an immense need in the law enforcement realm in both safety and service to the Hispanic community. Aside from the language barrier, growing up in a diverse home myself, I know the different cultures require different approaches.

NCW Media: Are drugs the biggest problem in Chelan County?

Tyler: I recently attended a woman's Republican dinner in Wenatchee. This same question was asked of Sheriff Burnett. He stated that opioid addiction was our number one problem. However, we currently have no adequate interdiction enforcement in place to combat the flow of large amounts of narcotics being smuggled into Chelan County. This is a topic I can speak about all day as there is no family who is untouched by this horrific epidemic.

NCW Media: Tell the readers about yourself.

Tyler: I consider myself to be pretty simple. By simple I mean treat others the way you want to be treated. Do for someone else before you do for yourself. To me those things should be second nature for someone who wears a badge on their chest and a flag on their sleeve who took an oath to Chelan County to uphold the law, protect our neighbors, and serve with fairness. Who I am as an individual disappears when I put on my uniform. Being dubbed the People's Candidate is a title in which I feel most honored to have. I hope and pray to become the People's Sheriff on November 6th.

Mott seeks Chelan County District Court bench

BY GARY BÉGIN

Lawyer Kyle Mott is seeking to win the Chelan County District Court race in November. The CVR's Managing Editor Gary Bégin interviewed him recently about his goals if elected. What follows are his answers:

CVR: Why do you want to become a District Court judge?

Kyle Mott: I want to be a judge because I truly believe in our system of justice and want the responsibility of seeing to it that true justice is served for all who appear before the court. A judge has a key role in providing fair and impartial proceedings, seeing to it that people are treated equally, and making each person feel respected and heard. It's an awesome responsibility, and one that I would welcome. Beyond that, I think being a judge would be an incredibly satisfying job. I have great interest in seeing our laws and case precedents being applied to the unique facts of each case to reach a just outcome. Lastly, I want to bring a fresh perspective and a new energy to our court. We have had three former prosecutors in a row serve as judges in Chelan County District Court, and I think it is important to have a balance of perspectives and experiences on the bench.

CVR: What do you want to hold up to voters as an example of your legal prowess?

Mott: I'm proud that I served as the Senior Law Clerk to Judges Lesley Allan, Alicia Nakata, and T.W. "Chip" Small in Chelan County Superior Court, and that I was selected to serve as the chair of this year's Washington State Bar Association Trial Advocacy Program. I also am honored to serve on the board of Chelan-Douglas County Volunteer Attorney Services. However, I think my biggest accomplishment is being a contender in this election. I filed against a sitting judge because I wanted to bring a fresh perspective to the bench and give voters the opportunity to make a change. Since announcing my candidacy, my former opponent decided to retire, and two others then joined the race. After the primary, one of those opponents, Roberto Castro, gave me his endorsement. I've also received the backing of retired Chelan County Superior Court Judges John Bridges, Chip Small, and Carol Wardell, retired court commissioner Bart Vandegriff, Buell Hawkins, Dr. Jorge Chacon, at least 30 of my attorney colleagues, and over 5,600 voters in the primary election. Receiving this kind of support after sticking my neck

Chelsea's Christianity

All eyes are on the Supreme Court. For the first time in many years, Brent Kavanaugh's appointment could cement a Conservative pro-life majority within the highest court of our nation. This also means that for the first time in a long time, something can actually be done about Roe v. Wade.

A WALK WITH PASTOR JOHN SMITH

Roe v. Wade, the 1973 ruling which legitimized child sacrifice as a constitutional right under the guise of "reproductive freedom", is thrust back into the spotlight and many Liberals feel that the crown jewel of their platform is being threatened.

This sudden groundswell of support for Roe has brought about the usual cast of characters—Hollywood, Progressives, Academia and none other than Chelsea Clinton.

It is no surprise that Chelsea Clinton is an avid supporter of abortion but what shocks me is that she also considers herself to be a committed Christian.

In a statement regarding the new threat to possibly overturn Roe v. Wade, she said this, "That's unconscionable to me. And also, I'm sure that this will unleash another wave of hate in my direction, but as a deeply religious person, it's also un-Christian to me."

It is not only unconscionable to overturn Roe v. Wade, but also un-Christian?

Regardless of the politics that swirls around the abortion debate, one thing must be understood: abortion is not a political issue.

It's a theological one.

Abortion, at its root, is an attack on the image of God present within humanity but also on the very character of God, Himself.

God is the God of life and blesses the world with children. When God creates life within the mother's womb, knitting and piecing together a person He is saying very clearly to a couple, "I am blessing you with this child." Then in response, thousands of people make the choice to murder the child in the womb and champion it as virtuous and a fundamental right.

Do we think God doesn't take notice or merely winks at that level of disrespect to Him and His creation?

The answer is no. God is not ambivalent or silent about the desecration of human life that happens in every abortion. He hates it and stores up wrath against it (Prov. 6:17, Rom. 2:5).

Abortion is antithetical to Christianity. In other words, abortion and Christianity don't mix and to those who would suggest otherwise, as a pastor, I would lovingly ask them to examine themselves.

Take abortion's message in comparison to the gospel. Abortion says to the helpless, "I need to live so you die for me." While on the other hand, the gospel according to Jesus says, "you need to live so I will die for you."

That's what Christianity is—a religion of love.

Love is the supreme ethic within the Christian worldview. As Jesus says in John 13:34, "a new commandment I give to you, that you love one another." In another instance, when asked by a lawyer what is the greatest commandment, Jesus responds to love God and to love our neighbor which is the entire summary of the Law and the Prophets (Matt. 22:34-40).

Who is our neighbor? Everyone, including the unborn.

And last time I checked, engaging in or advocating for the systematic murder of the littlest neighbors among us is not loving nor is it Christian.

To support abortion of any kind is a very un-Christian thing to do, according to Jesus and it must be repented of.

If Chelsea Clinton's expression of Christianity includes promoting abortion and condemning those who would stand for life, then she ought to take heed to the Word of God, when it says, "Woe to those who call evil good and good evil" (Isa. 5:20).

Chelsea Clinton is wrong about Christianity.

If she wants to consider herself to be a "champion of choice" or stand for shedding the innocent blood, in America, as it stands now, she has a right to do so.

Just don't consider it Christian.

Because it is not.

Former 'Land-Trust' exec wants to be county commissioner

By GARY BÉGIN

In our continuing series of candidate profiles, giving those brave enough to run for elected office a venue to express their ideas, NCW Media's Managing Editor Gary Bégin interviewed more than 20 prospective office holders so far. This installment features Chelan County Commission candidate Bob Bugert.

NCW Media asked Bugert a series of questions recently now that he survived a five-horse field in the primary.

NCW Media: What is it that you bring to the table as opposed to your opponent?

Bugert: I HAVE EXPERIENCE--lots of it. I have been working on local issues for many years. I have 30+ years of professional experience managing large professional staff, handling complex budgets, multi-party negotiations, and working with local governments, members of Congress, the State Legislature, and the Governor's Office. I have the experience to be immediately effective.

I KNOW THE JOB. I have worked closely with county commissioners for most of my career. As Executive Director of the Chelan-Douglas Land Trust, I worked regularly with commissioners in Chelan, Douglas, and Okanogan counties. In Chelan County I've worked with our commissioners on specific local issues. In my ten years' work for the Governor's Office, I worked directly with county commissioners and other elected officials throughout eastern Washington. For 25 years I have worked with dozens--if not a hundred--county commissioners. I have partnered with them in hundreds of public meetings. I know first hand what a commissioner deals with, and have a solid understanding of what makes a good commissioner.

I HAVE A PROVEN TRACK RECORD. I have been working on issues that are important to our community--ranging from transportation to housing to land use--for many years. These issues are not new to me and I am the best-positioned to be immediately effective.

I BELIEVE IN GIVING BACK. When my children were in school I was a soccer coach and active band booster. I drove the band truck to regional competitions and spent summers at the band's concession stand selling hotdogs. I was well known at my children's schools.

Since my children have grown, I have committed myself to volunteering with many community organizations. My interest in improving transportation in the county led me to volunteer on the Link Transit Strategy Team and Wenatchee Valley Transportation Council. My interest in education led me to volunteer with the Wenatchee Public Library Capital Campaign, raising money to renovate the library. My interest in affordable housing led me to volunteer with Habitat for Humanity. My belief that recreation brings tourist dollars led me to serve on the Board of TREAD, a nonprofit focused on outdoor recreation.

I have a long history of working to make Chelan County a great place to live. I am now ready to take that commitment to a higher level--as your County Commissioner.

NCW Media: Does your platform have specific help for tourism?

Bugert: I have been working on outdoor recreation for many years. There is a clear and documented economic benefit of recreation -- it brings dollars to our community as people come to boat, fish, bike, hunt, ski, parasail, zipline, golf, and participate in the wide variety of recreational opportunities our county offers. We need to capitalize on the fact we have good access to great recreation!

When I led the Land Trust, we completed a $8.7 million campaign to create an extensive trails system in the Wenatchee Foothills. People who come to bike, hike, birdwatch or hunt bring considerable sales tax benefits to our communities.

I have also been working with the Greater Wenatchee Chamber of Commerce and Port of Chelan County to strengthen our outdoor recreation economy. This has direct benefits to restaurants, motels, and other services in our communities. I am currently on the Board of Wenatchee Valley TREAD, the newly-formed nonprofit to promote outdoor recreation and tourism in Chelan and Douglas counties. Our work is done with the financial support and partnership of the Chamber of Commerce and Port of Chelan County, and many recreation businesses and nonprofits in the area. Our goal is to promote recreation to improve the quality of life

OBITUARY

Gordon Irle

After a lifetime of community service, Gordon K. Irle passed from this world on September 14th at the age of 86. He was born in Cle Elum in 1931 and grew up there and in Port Townsend. He was active in Boy Scouts and attained the rank of Eagle. Following high school Gordon earned a Masters degree in education from Central Washington University with an emphasis in physics. He met Janice Ferrill while at college whom he married in 1954.

Following a stint in the Air Force, Gordon and Janice settled in Cashmere in 1957. Gordon began his teaching career at Cashmere High School where he taught chemistry, physics and photography, retiring in 1988. In later years he and Janice enjoyed many trips abroad, including several adventurous bicycle tours of Europe. An avid outdoorsman, Gordon enjoyed hiking, fishing and hunting and especially skiing, serving 30 years on the Mission Ridge Ski Patrol.

Gordon will be best remembered for his tireless efforts to serve the community. A longtime city councilman, he served two terms as Mayor of Cashmere, was instrumental in developing mass transit (Link) for Wenatchee Valley and was board chair for Chelan County Democrats. His service included 50 years as a Mason and acting as Advisor and Grand Deputy for Rainbow Girls. In 1992, the Cashmere Chamber of Commerce awarded him Citizen of the Year.

Gordon was also a businessman. He purchased his first rental home in Cashmere in the mid-60's, acquiring more than 20 properties and creating Irle Rentals.

Gordon leaves behind Janice, his wife of 64 years, children Patricia, Carolyn, Gary and David, his brother Roger, five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. A memorial service celebrating Gordon's life will be held on Saturday, October 6th at 2:00pm at Cashmere Middle School.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Chelan-Douglas Land Trust.

We are here to serve families in Leavenworth, Peshastin, Plain and the entire Upper Valley.

NCW Media Inc.'s Obituary and Memorial Policy

An obituary is a way for family members to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the larger community of the deceased.

Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data. Memorials are another way of letting the community know about the life and memories of the person who has died. A memorial is different from an obituary. An obituary is usually current while a memorial can be written later.

For publication in the Cashmere Valley Record or The Leavenworth Echo, an obituary or memorial needs to be typed and emailed to editor@leavenworthecho.com no later than 4 p.m. Friday for the next week's issue. Funeral homes and chapels can submit obituaries by noon on Monday, except holidays.

Obituaries are priced per word while the charge for memorial ads are by the column-inch. Cost of the obituary/memorial is due at the time of placement.

Cashmere Cross Country grinds it out at Wenatchee Invitational

SUBMITTED BY JEFF KENOYER

Here are the results for Saturday's (9/22) Wenatchee Invitational Cross Country race held in Walla Walla Point Park in Wenatchee: <https://www.athletic.net/CrossCountry/meet/144089/results>

Conditions and competition were good. For the first time the race was 5km in length rather than 3 miles. Five kilometers is only 0.1 mile further but that is the distance of the state meet race course. It is also nice to compare times to 5km races we have previously run.

Girls JV results: 105 runners

6th Erin Kinser 22:29.8
9th Tristan Hoffman 23:13.3
13th Bella Fox 23:43.8
27th Jessie Nixon 24:51.8
All these girls are first year high school competitors and are running well. Each is challenging to be one of our top seven runners on varsity.

Boys JV results: 239 runners

225th Daniel Carnline 28:23.8

Daniel is a first year cross country runner and is a sprinter in track. He has cut 1:06 from his first 5km time at Moses Lake two weeks ago.

Girls Varsity results: 93 runners.

There were twelve complete teams with at least five runners competing. Cashmere finished 5th with 126 points. Bothell was first scoring 64 points. Fourth place Wenatchee had 124 points.

9th Syd Smith 20:37.6
17th Eleanor Nelson 20:54.4
34th Gabby Terrell-Lewis 21:49.6
46th Johanna Christensen 22:23.9 (though a longer course, Johanna cut 12 seconds from her previous best Wenatchee Invite time)
47th Brittany Dowell 22:25.5
53rd Adria Torrence 22:52.2
71st Yailin Pina 23:46

Boys Varsity results: 128 runners.

There were nineteen complete teams in the meet. Cashmere finished 13th with 345 points.
17th Rob McManus 17:22.4

(two seconds faster than his three mile Wenatchee Invite time last season)

37th Sam Kinser 17:59.4
80th Aaron Guerrero 19:07.5
93rd Nolan Grimmert 19:29.4
122nd Tyson Seidensticker 22:08 (Tyson has run in four Wenatchee Invites. This year's 5km (3.1 mile) time is better than his other three races that were 3.0 miles in length)
It was a challenging week for the teams. Previous to the Wenatchee Invitational the teams ran at the Okanogan Invitational on Tuesday 9/18. That race was held on the Omak Golf Course and was also 5 km in length. athletic.net/CrossCountry/Results/Meet.aspx?Meet=144839&show=all

Girls JV results: 14 runners.

1st Tristan Hoffman 23:14
2nd Bella Fox 23:32
3rd Kyle Foster 24:35
5th Willow Tonseth 26:26
Boys JV results: 53 runners
1st James Terrell-Lewis 19:44
2nd Henry Nelson 19:44
14th Erick Martinez 21:33
26th Tyson Seidensticker 22:38 (1:31 course personal record)

38th Oscar Oropeza 24:00
45th Aiden Campbell 26:02
53rd Daniel Carnline 27:57

Girls Varsity results: 41 runners.

The girls team earned the 1st place trophy for the second year in a row.
3rd Syd Smith 20:27
5th Eleanor Nelson 21:24
8th Brittany Dowell 22:37 (10 second course personal record)
10th Gabby Terrell-Lewis 23:04
11th Johanna Christensen 23:05 (55 second PR)
12th Yailin Pina 23:30

Boys Varsity results: 69 runners.

Cashmere finished in 4th place behind league rivals Cascade, Omak and Okanogan.

12th Sam Kinser 17:51
31st Kyler Knoll 19:02 (30 second PR)
49th Aaron Guerrero 19:47

Sophomore Gabby Terrell-Lewis (143) and junior Eleanor Nelson (139) who are both state meet veterans.

and health in the region, and to develop recreation-based jobs as part of a strong and diverse economic mix that supports this region.

As a County Commissioner, I will continue to work with the chambers of commerce, port districts, and our cities to strengthen that approach. My goal is to bring all stakeholders together (motorized, non-motorized, water, snow and land) to provide the best outdoor recreation experiences in our communities, improving the quality of life for everyone who lives in or visits the region.

NCW Media: Does your platform have specific help for NCW agriculture?

Bugert: Agriculture is the backbone of our economy, and it is facing many pressures, from farm worker shortage to tariffs and international trade. Some issues are out of our local control, yet there are some where we can make a difference.

Water use and efficiency is one area in which the county can play a role. In my work as the Governor's Eastern Washington representative to the Salmon Recovery Funding Board, I have been involved in projects to increase the efficiency of local irrigation. The Funding Board is responsible for providing roughly $2 million in grants each year to Chelan, Douglas and Okanogan counties for restoring and protecting salmon habitat. Some of the funded projects have improved our county's irrigation infrastructure, resulting in more reliable water supplies to our farmers. Funds have also strengthened the sports fishing industry (increasing tourist dollars to the county) and improved our resilience to climate change.

Climate scientists predict a change in precipitation patterns in the Cascades, which ultimately affects stream flows and irrigation water supply. As our glaciers recede and precipitation comes more in the form of rain, stream flows will increase in winter (when it is not needed), and decrease in summer, when it is vitally needed for irrigation.

In Chelan County we do not have an extensive system of water storage for summer irrigation. We should explore opportunities to make water available in late summer that benefit agriculture, our cities, and our salmon.

I feel strongly that we need to be proactive about climate change. The scientific evidence is clear that human-caused climate change is occurring through carbon pollution. I believe climate change will have a negative economic impact on the county if we do not step up to address this issue. To take no action--on the philosophy that it will harm our economy--is shortsighted, wishful thinking.

Snowpack is our life blood, providing water for our most important industries: hydropower, irrigated agriculture, snowmobiling and skiing, and fisheries resources--as well as providing for a diverse and growing recreational economy. We must be more proactive in this effort. Like our previous efforts to develop local solutions to recover salmon, we must show leadership in addressing this challenge.

Thanks to our PUD, Chelan County is in a remarkably unique position to benefit--greatly--from a transition to a regional economy based on clean energy. Our transportation, public transit, irrigation water supply, and agricultural product delivery could advance into a new and productive era, if we are proactive about climate change adaptation. Partnerships are imperative--and very possible--to make this happen. Together, we can build a stronger community--through creative and proactive partnerships.

United Way of Chelan and Douglas Counties: Emergency Food and Shelter Funds Available

United Way of Chelan and Douglas Counties has been awarded federal funds made available through the Department of Homeland Security Federal Emergency Management Agency under the Emergency Food and Shelter National Board Program. Chelan County has been allocated $13,078 and Douglas County will receive $25,663 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in each county.

The selection was made by a National Board that is chaired by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency and consists of representatives from American Red Cross; Catholic Charities, USA; National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA; The Jewish Federations of North America, The Salvation Army; and, United Way Worldwide. The Local Board was charged to distribute funds appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country. A Local Board will determine how the funds awarded to Chelan and Douglas Counties are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service agencies in the area. The Local Board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds made available under this phase of the program.

Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local agencies chosen to receive funds must: 1) be private voluntary non-profits or units of government, 2) be eligible to receive Federal funds, 3) have an accounting system, 4) practice nondiscrimination, 5) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and 6) if they are a private voluntary organization, have a voluntary board. Qualifying agencies are urged to apply. United Way of Chelan and Douglas Counties has distributed Emergency Food and Shelter funds previously.

Agencies interested in applying for Emergency Food and Shelter Program funds can access the application at uwcdc.org/apply_EFSP through November 2.

If you require assistance, please contact Bobbie Hughes at 662-8261. The deadline for applications is November 2.

out and entering this election is incredibly humbling and it keeps me motivated each day.

CVR: Are there specific issues the to address regarding the court system?

Mott: Speaking solely as to Chelan County District Court, I believe there needs to be more of an emphasis on alternate sentencing (such as electronic home monitoring and community service). A district court does not hear felony cases, but instead deals with the lesser misdemeanor and gross misdemeanor crimes. Many people appearing in district court on criminal matters have not made criminal behavior a habit or a lifestyle, and are good candidates for electronic home monitoring or community service. Increased usage of alternate sentencing would also result in cost savings. The approximate cost per bed day at the Chelan County Jail is $87 as of 2017, meaning a person sentenced to 10 days in jail on a probation violation for driving without a valid license would essentially cost taxpayers $870. I believe that Chelan County could put that money to a better use. Further, substantial jail time can derail a person's efforts at obtaining housing or employment, or otherwise impede positive progress, so it should be generally reserved for more frequent or violent offenders. I believe that part of the goal of appropriate sentencing should be to get a person out of the criminal justice system, rather than trap them in it.

CVR: What is the biggest law enforcement issue that you see everyday?

Mott: Overall, I think the biggest issue facing our local law enforcement is drugs. However, drug possession, manufacturing, and delivery cases are felony matters that are exclusively seen in superior court. I think the most common thread seen in district court criminal cases is poverty. Sometimes poverty is just in the background of the case and doesn't play an active role in the criminal behavior, but other times it does. The effects of poverty can often be compounded by substance abuse and/or mental illness. People with enough financial resources generally have a better ability to address these kinds of issues, but those unable to afford or acquire appropriate treatment sometimes end up engaging in criminal behaviors as a result.

CVR: Do you have any specific programs you want to install if you get elected?

Mott: I would like to spearhead a relicensing program to get eligible drivers lawfully back on the road, while reducing the number of Driving While License Suspended 3rd Degree cases processed through our court. Currently, Driving While License Suspended 3rd Degree is the most frequently charged crime in Chelan County District Court. This crime is committed when a person drives while his or her license is suspended, but eligible for reinstatement, and the most common reason for the suspension is unpaid traffic infractions. People with available money generally pay off their tickets and think nothing more of it, but those truly unable to pay have their fines sent to collections and their license suspended. There can be a snowball effect when the person is cited for driving on a suspended license, because they face the possibility of jail time, missed work, and more financial obligations. Missed work and more financial obligations only put the person further in the hole and less likely to reinstate his or her driving privileges.

Reinstatement programs have successfully been instituted in jurisdictions across the country, including in Spokane and King Counties. These programs help drivers get their driver's licenses reinstated using a simpler process and without involving collections agencies. Additionally, a Spokane County study showed the reinstatement program resulted in the county receiving payments on fines that were previously designated as "uncollectible". Lastly, a reduction in the number of suspended drivers on the road allows law enforcement, prosecutors, and defense attorneys to focus on more serious crimes, and allows court time and resources to be dedicated to other matters.

CVR: Tell our readers about yourself:

Mott: I'm an Eastmont High School graduate living in Wenatchee with my wife, Morgan. We are expecting our first child, a boy, this December. I graduated from Gonzaga University with a degree in Business Administration and a minor in Spanish, and later attended law school at Chapman University, in Orange, California. I enjoy watching Gonzaga basketball and Seattle sports, and I think The Rolling Stones are the greatest band of all time. I love the Pacific Northwest and all it has to offer, and I hope to get back into fishing when time will allow.

Steele

CVR: How will you as a rural Republican, work with urban Democrats in getting compromise on key issues like over-reaching government business regulations?

Steele: I have already been seen as a collaborator and someone that is willing to work across party lines to achieve good policy. Building relationships and working in a professional bi-partisan manner is the best way to achieve policies that benefit the whole state, urban and rural.

CVR: Can you as a state legislator, influence the state's federal delegation to rid us of tariffs, especially on fruit?

Steele: I have expressed my concerns over tariffs and their impacts here in the 12th District to our federal delegation. I know they all share the same concerns and are working toward solutions.

CVR: Feel free to mention anything you like such as family, education, hobbies, passions, etc.:

Steele: I have been honored to serve the people of the 12th District. I am excited and encouraged by the support I have received and I look forward to returning to Olympia as a continued advocate for the people of the 12th.
