Cashmere's 9-1-1 Memorial ceremony attracts hundreds of locals and tourists to solemn event

Cashmere Mayor Jim Fletcher thanked everyone for coming to honor those who lost their lives.

By GARY BÉGIN

For most people September 11, 2001, aka 9/11 - the deadliest terrorist attacks in American history, brings flashbacks to where we were and what we were doing at that exact time in our lives.

Cashmere Mayor Jim Fletcher thanked the crowd for coming and 12th District State Representative Brad Hawkins gave a short speech saying he remembers what he was doing when the attacks occurred. "I was at Pangborn waiting for an early 6 a.m. flight. We boarded the plane and then the captain said another plane had hit another tower and so he told us to deboard the aircraft," he said.

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica: September 11 attacks, also called 9/11 attacks, were a series of airline hijackings and suicide attacks committed in 2001 by 19 militants associated with the Islamic extremist group al-Qaeda against targets in the United States, the deadliest terrorist attacks on American soil in U.S. history. The attacks against New York City and Washington, D.C., caused extensive death and destruction and triggered an enormous U.S. effort to combat terrorism. Some 2,750 people were killed in New York, 184 at the Pentagon, and 40 in Pennsylvania (where one of the hijacked planes crashed after the passengers attempted to retake the plane); all 19 terrorists died. Police and fire departments in New York were especially hard-hit: hundreds had rushed to the scene of the attacks, and more than 400 police officers and firefighters were killed.

Alan Walker of Wenatchee said, "I was living in Ellensburg at the time. As probably was the case for many, the day began as normal, getting the kids ready for school/preschool (daughter 10/son 4), and I was just about ready to leave for work. Heading out the back door, my parents pulled into the driveway. Which was not unusual, dad often stopped by on his way to the coffee shop, what was different is mom was with him. I could tell something was wrong based upon their facial expressions. As they approached the house, dad said to go inside and turn on the TV. The day was no longer normal, and life was forever altered."

As of 2018, nearly 7,000 American soldiers have died and 52,000 have been wounded in Iraq and Afghanistan conflicts combined with an additional 1,720 civilian contractor deaths.

There are still American troops in Iraq, Afghanistan and Syria fighting terrorism to this day. The true cost of those wars and associated deaths will take decades to assess.

Dino Rossi: Congressional 8th District needs experienced, principled leader

By GARY BÉGIN

NCW Media Managing Editor Gary Bégin interviewed Republican 8th Congressional District candidate Dino Rossi about his views regarding a variety of issues on September 10. His answers are below:

NCW Media: Has your previous experiences given you skills you will need in D.C.?

Dino Rossi: I want every family to live the American Dream like my family was able to. As the son of a public schoolteacher and beautician, I worked my way through college with jobs in construction and as a janitor. Later, I became successful in commercial real estate, where I learned to work constructively with others to fix problems and help everyone succeed. In business, no one benefits unless everyone agrees on a deal. That is the same way I approach legislating, and I am proud at what I have been able to accomplish with that collaborative approach.

My opponent comes from the far-left Seattle "Resist" movement, which tells the world they aren't willing to work with anyone except people who already agree with them. She's marched in more protests in Seattle than parades in the 8th Congressional District and is the most far-left opponent I've ever run against.

I am the only candidate in this race with experience in government and sticking to my principles. While others talk and offer theories, I bring results and proof. In the state Senate, I wiped out a multibillion-dollar budget deficit without raising taxes, all while maintaining strong protections for seniors and those with developmental disabilities. When I get to Congress, I will remain a fiscal conservative with a social conscience.

NCW Media: What kind of relationship will you have with President Trump?

Rossi: I plan to have a positive relationship with the President that will be good for everyone in the 8th Congressional District, and a good relationship with anyone in Washington D.C. who will work in good faith to benefit Washington State. I plan to treat the President the same way I would Barack Obama or George W. Bush. I will work together when we agree on an issue and say so when we don't. I've spoken up when I've been concerned about issues that harm Washington state, like with recent concerns about tariffs and trade wars. In Washington - where we export everything from apples to airplanes - we have a lot to lose in a trade war. I will work to preserve strong trading relationships with our allies and ensure that our rivals don't push through trade deals that undermine our interests.

NCW Media: Are you able to work in this divided environment at the national level?

Rossi: I'm proud to have a proven record of working together with people from all walks of life to accomplish mutual goals -- and that I stick to my principles while doing so. Working

Bulldog Cross Country results from Saturday

By JEFF CONOVER,

CHS Cross Country Coach

Here are the complete results from Saturday's (9/15) Apple Ridge Invitational cross country race hosted by Highland High School in Cowiche: athletic.net/CrossCountry/meet/146001/results

The race courses are grassy, three mile in length former orchard roads. The Apple Ridge running area was built in an old Red Delicious apple orchard that was donated to the Highland school district. There were three different three mile in length race courses that were used on Saturday. The first race is advertised as "flat and fast", the second race course is used by two different leagues for their state qualifying meet race and the third race course has more hills than the other two courses. In all three races, boys and girls compete in the same race.

Results from all three races were included in the team scores. Usually there is one varsity race and the finish places of the top five runners for each school in the race are used to calculate the team scores. In the case of the Apple Ridge Invitational, the top two runners from each school in each of the three races are used to compute team scores. There were 27 complete teams at the race and the Cashmere girls team finished fourth overall with 66 points. Hanford (19 pts.), Selah (35 pts.) and Kennewick (54 pts.) finished ahead of us. Because of the wide range of school sizes at the meet the organizers give trophies for two divisions. The Cashmere girls won the "Small School Championship" by finishing so well. The second place small school, Royal City, scored 145 points and was 7th overall. The boys finished 8th overall scoring 129 points which was third place for small schools. Eastmont finished first with 41 points. Connell was the first place small school and second overall with 57 points.

Beyond the Frame initiative to appear at Salmon Festival

SUBMITTED BY JENNIFER KORFIATIS

The North Central Washington Beyond the Frame initiative will be hosting a Beyond the Frame community engagement opportunity at the Wenatchee River Salmon festival; discussing racial identity with school children on Thursday and Friday, and then welcoming all community members on Saturday, Sept. 22. On family day a booth welcomes everyone to come meet and make art with nationally renowned Native artist, Steven Paul Judd. From 10 am - 5 pm.

Several regional partners have joined forces to collaborate and present Beyond the Frame NCW, a project designed to explore what it means to be native in North Central Washington.

The partners involved in the North Central Washington effort include Icicle Creek Center for the Arts, the North Central Regional Library, the Wenatchee River Salmon Festival, Gallery One, the Moses Lake Museum and Art Center, Wanapum Heritage Center, the Wenatchee Valley Museum and Cultural Center and Methow Arts Alliance. Funding has been provided by the Icicle Fund.

Several initiatives to explore various aspects of the project are being scheduled, including an appearance by Native American (Kiowa-Choctaw) artist Steven Paul Judd during the Wenatchee River Salmon Festival. Judd will also be providing a public presentation at the Wenatchee Library on September 19 and working within schools in Okanogan County as part of his outreach.

Judd works with a variety of mediums from acrylics to Rubix cubes and has a specialty for engaging the communities in which he works through collective art pieces. During his funny, heart-warming presentation, listeners will hear about how Steven developed his racial identity during his formative years in rural Oklahoma. When he didn't find Native American role models in pop culture, he began creating his own through the development of characters such as "Siouxperman", the "Indigenous Hulk", and a care bear named "Pow-Wow Bear" that he drew for his sister. Steven is known nationwide for his art that combines iconic Native American images and lore with modern pop art. He's also created multiple short films and recently sold a television program to HBO. While in North Central Washington, he will be working with various groups to create collective art pieces.

Preview for 2018 Cashmere High School Cross Country team

By Jeff Kenoyer,

Cashmere High School Cross Country Coach

Here is a useful bit of information about Cashmere High School cross country and some Caribou Trail League information along with it.

Cashmere girls won the 2017 Caribou Trail League championship by four points. Okanogan finished second. Both teams competed at state. Freshman Syd Smith from Cashmere was the individual CTL champion, sophomore Eleanor Nelson was 4th in the league championship meet, freshman Gabby Terrell-Lewis was 7th, freshman Adria Torrence was 11th and junior Brittany Dowell placed 14th. All of these girls are returning this year.

At state, Cashmere girls finished ninth. Syd Smith finished 12th individually and earned a medal.

Currently Cashmere has fourteen girls on the roster: two seniors, two juniors, seven sophomores and two freshmen. Senior Brittany Dowell and Junior Eleanor Nelson have competed in the last two state meets. We have six of our seven state runners back on the team so we do have some experience returning.

The Caribou Trail League should be very competitive for the girls again this year. Only one girl that finished in the top 15 at the league championship meet graduated. There will potentially be 14 of the 15 top runners in the league returning.

The Cashmere boys won the 2017 league championship in a tie breaker over Omak. In cross country the team scores are decided by adding the finish places for the top five runners on each team. Like golf, the team with the lowest score is the winners. A perfect score is 15 points (1 + 2 + 3 + 4 + 5). Both Cashmere and Omak's top five runners scored 44 points so the position of their sixth place runners broke the tie. Senior Evan Gambill from Cashmere was the individual league champion followed by junior Sam Dotson in 5th place, freshman Rob McManus was 10th, sophomore Reid Smith was 13th and freshman Dyllion Taylor was 15th.

Both Cashmere and Omak qualified for the state meet with Cashmere finishing in 8th place at the state meet.

Cashmere has eighteen boys on the roster: three seniors, three juniors, seven sophomores and five freshmen. We have no boys on the team that have competed in more than one state meet. Of our seven state competitors from last season, one graduated, two decided to play football and one is not currently in a fall sport. We will be counting on young runners to compete well this season!

Based on potential returning athletes, Omak will be the team to beat in the boys portion of the league. Only three boys that finished in the top 15 in the CTL championship meet graduated. Omak potentially returns all seven runners.

Unlike last year the Caribou should expect to see only one boys team entry and one girls team entry to state. Last year there were two boys teams and two girls teams that qualified. It should be an interesting league meet (Tuesday October 23rd at Walla Walla Point Park in Wenatchee).

Former head coach John Durheim is returning as an assistant coach this season.

Wenatchee River Salmon Festival Directors Message 2018

Hailey Croci and Corky Broaddus
Executive Directors

Dear Residents and Friends in the Communities of the Wenatchee Valley,

The 28th Anniversary of the Wenatchee River Salmon Festival is dedicated to you! Celebrating the return of the salmon to the Wenatchee River Valley is the most important local and regional nature event of the year. From the tributaries that feed Lake Wenatchee sending glacier-fed water down the valley through Plain, Leavenworth, Peshastin, Dryden, Cashmere, Monitor and into the fresh water of the stunningly beautiful Columbia River Gorge on to the Pacific Ocean, we celebrate one of the most treasured species in this wondrous natural world of the Pacific Northwest.

The Salmon Festival is all about connecting people with nature. Living in our Wenatchee Valley are some of the most inspiring and educated local natural resource specialists and recreational leaders in the world. Salmon Fest was literally spawned in 1991 by the creative thinking of fish and wildlife biologists, tribal leaders, passionate public outreach educators, civic leaders, volunteers, non-profit organizations and multiple government agencies. This event brought together the shared vision of providing high quality outdoor education in a fun natural setting, promoting outdoor recreation, and sharing the cultural significance of salmon to all people who live, work, study, and play in our greater Wenatchee Valley backyard. We call it, "Edu-tainment".

More than 3,000 elementary students will embark on a grand field trip to our Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery for School Days, September 20 and 21. High School students will receive community service credits for assisting outdoor educators as they share their knowledge of nature with the younger ones. Families and people of all ages are welcome to come spend ALL day on Saturday, September 22 to be inspired by artists and raptors, the Reptile Man and Birds of Prey, Native American Village, music and food, hands-on interactive exhibits, outdoor recreation adventures, and much more.

The Wenatchee River Salmon Festival is free!! It is yours to enjoy nature at its finest. Please come share in a Salmon Experience you will never forget!

Thank you,
Yours truly,
Corky Broaddus and Hailey Croci

Stop by the Salmon Festival Sales Booth and check out the 28th Annual Salmon Festival T-Shirts in a variety of colors. Proceeds from t-shirt sales go to the Nancy Duree Memorial Scholarship Fund, named for dedicated activity leader and festival planner Nancy Duree. Duree was a longtime employee of the Chelan County PUD, a major partner in producing the festival.

This year's artwork for the t-shirt was created by local artist Candice Dillhoff. T-shirts were made by Leavenworth Boutique.

Entertainment Schedule

Beau Van Winkle (left) and Brittany Jean will be performing at Salmon Festival on the Main Stage at Wenatchee River Salmon Festival on September 22.

- Beau plays acoustic rock, similar to Dave Matthews or Steve Earle, with many original tunes. He will be joined by Tony Sandoval, on guitar, and Billy Turner on drums.
- Brittany Jean is an Americana singer/songwriter in the Pacific Northwest, currently living in the tiny, apple town of Brewster. Brittany stepped into a recording studio for the first time in 2012, and she has since released three albums—all recorded in Nashville, Tenn. Her newest album, "Wander With Me", was released in January, and it is her best yet. With songs about being brave and standing tall, to songs about learning to dance again, Brittany's acoustic and heartfelt music is an invitation—won't you wander with us?

Reptile Man, Scott Petersen, has been delighting Salmon Fest audiences for years.

Live on the Main Stage, we proudly present The Reptile Man, Scott Petersen, from Monroe, Washington's own Reptile Zoo. Scott, a zoologist and educator, is not a stranger to Salmon Fest. In fact, he has been with us since the beginning. He and his son, Isaac, have been a top favorite act for many years throughout the entire Pacific Northwest. They have performed and educated in more than 800 schools, multiple festivals, events and venues. You can see Scott on Disney's nationally televised "Bill Nye-The Science Guy", Q-13 Kids Club, Northwest Afternoon, "Watch This", and more.

Don't miss the opportunity to see Scott and his live cast of reptiles on stage at Hatchery Park. His programs focus on the natural sciences and teach us all about the importance of all animals in the balance of nature.

Check show times on Festival Schedule.

Fun Fish Facts for You!

with Republicans and moderate Democrats alike, I led efforts to require ignition locks for chronic drunk drivers, to keep child molesters in prison and away from children, and to stop tax hikes and keep our economy strong, just to name a few. At the same time, I'm proud to have held strong to my principles, and passed a balanced no-new-taxes budget and reduced waste, fraud, and inefficiencies in government.

I am proud of what we were able to accomplish by working together in Olympia and I plan to take the same approach to governing in Congress. After all, Washington, D.C. already has too many people yelling at each other and jockeying for meaningless partisan wins, and too few people standing for their principles.

NCW Media: What is the number one issue Congress should focus on?

Rossi: Congress needs to not undermine our economic growth and help us create more middle-class jobs for Central Washington. We should make the recent middle-class tax cuts permanent, and we need to ensure that Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid are there for the people who have paid into them their entire life and have earned their benefits.

I grew up in a household with a lot of love, but not a lot of money. I was blessed to achieve the American Dream and built a successful business career and am able to provide for my family. But too few families have the economic opportunities that they should have. We should remove some of the burdensome regulations that small businesses and family farms are forced to comply with, negotiate with our allies to modernize trade agreements that Washington's manufacturers and farmers, and ensure we're making trade deals that are good for our farmers and consumers.

NCW Media: How will you address the needs of citizens in Central Washington?

Rossi: I will listen and work with local leaders. I'm proud to be endorsed by the Washington State Farm Bureau, the Farm Bureaus in Chelan, Douglas, and Kittitas Counties, the majority of the mayors in Central Washington, many city councilmembers and County Commissioners, and the Sheriffs of Chelan, Douglas, and Kittitas County. I take those relationships seriously and listen to local leaders and voters. I know that land use decisions, water rights, and trade are essential to life in Central Washington and will stand up for you when the Federal government oversteps its bounds and makes policies that harm Central Washington.

Additionally, I will fight to protect jobs and the middle class in Central Washington. My opponent reportedly wants to remove the dams on the lower Snake River, raising power bills by as much as 15 percent per family in Central Washington. She also wants to repeal the middle-class tax cuts, raising taxes on families in Central Washington by $3,357 a year. She favors an energy tax hike that would raise the price of gas by 43 cents a gallon without allocating any new revenue to roads. Her policies would be a disaster for Central Washington, and I will stand firm against the far-left Seattle policies she's trying to model in Central Washington.

TERI MILLER RECIPE

PANZANELLA SALAD
• 3 tablespoons good olive oil • 1 small French bread or boule, cut into 1-inch cubes (6 cups) • 1 teaspoon kosher salt • 2 large, ripe tomatoes, cut into 1-inch cubes • 1 hothouse cucumber, unpeeled, seeded, and sliced 1/2-inch thick • 1 red bell pepper, seeded and cut into 1-inch cubes • 1 yellow bell pepper, seeded and cut into 1-inch cubes • 1/2 red onion, cut in 1/2 and thinly sliced • 20 large basil leaves, coarsely chopped • 3 tablespoons capers, drained

For the vinaigrette:
• 1 teaspoon finely minced garlic • 1/2 teaspoon Dijon mustard • 3 tablespoons Champagne vinegar • 1/2 cup good olive oil • 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt • 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Heat the oil in a large saute pan. Add the bread and salt; cook over low to medium heat, tossing frequently, for 10 minutes, or until nicely browned. Add more oil as needed.

For the vinaigrette, whisk all the ingredients together. In a large bowl, mix the tomatoes, cucumber, red pepper, yellow pepper, red onion, basil, and capers. Add the bread cubes and toss with the vinaigrette. Season liberally with salt and pepper. Serve, or allow the salad to sit for about half an hour for the flavors to blend.
