Chuck Borg presents veterans plaque, book to Pateros school, city

By MIKE MALTAIS

PATEROS – When Pateros High School alumnus and retired Air Force Colonel Chuck Borg addressed the Veterans Day assembly as guest speaker last Friday, Nov. 8, he brought with him a couple of special gifts that he described and presented to his alma mater.

One is an engraved plaque honoring Pateros veterans who have served in the armed forces from the city's earliest days through the current global war on terror. The other is an accompanying bound volume titled: There Were No Young People – They Were All At War, commemorating Pateros veterans in stories and photos.

The veterans plaque is decorated with four service medals and a photo of the USS Missouri taken in Tokyo Bay by Pateros graduate PFC Dave Reynaud on Sept. 2, 1945 at the end of World War II. Engraved in the body of the plaque are words which say in part:

"In the early 20th Century several veterans of the Spanish-American War of 1898 settled in Pateros. Others served in Europe in the bloody trench warfare of World War I, 1917-18. When Japan attacked our Naval fleet in Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, America was thrust into World War II, which raged on for four years. More than 150 men and women from this area joined up. When they came home in 1945, 20 had been wounded in action. Eighteen had been decorated for valor. Three had survived the horrors of enemy prison camps."

The plaque refers readers to the accompanying bound volume which tells the stories of those Pateros veterans

Incumbent Conklin remains Bridgeport mayor

By MIKE MALTAIS

BRIDGEPORT – Preliminary vote totals from the Nov. 5 general election in Douglas County reveal that incumbent mayor Janet Conklin will retain her office despite a strong challenge from opponent Esiquio (Zeke) Martinez.

Conklin, who is entering her third complete four-year term is leading Martinez with 87 of 157 votes counted or 55.41 percent to 70 votes or 44.59 percent for her opponent. Sources at the office of the Douglas County Auditor said the results will be certified on Nov. 26.

Conklin served six years as a Bridgeport City Council member and mayor pro-tem before she was appointed to fill the position of the sitting mayor following a recall campaign. She served out as interim mayor before being elected to her first of two terms in that position.

Conklin's roots run deep in the community when family move to Bridgeport when she was seven years old. She later married Ed Conklin who was born and raised in Bridgeport and whose father, Wilber "Web" Conklin was a deputy sheriff and community leader after whom Conklin Landing is named.

While the mayor grew up with the town, she told The Quad last Monday, Nov. 11, that she would like to retain Bridgeport's small community atmosphere as improvements are made to its business, housing and infrastructure needs. Two recent improvements under Conklin's watch include the new 17-space RV park at Conklin Landing and a second city water reservoir that is still in the development stage. She said she hopes to champion more home construction and eventually even a motel during her upcoming term.

Asked what she considered her biggest contributions was during her current term of office, Conklin said it was her and council efforts to "clean up the town." It is not an easy job balancing rights of property owners against measures to make the city more attractive for residents and visitors alike.

"I believe in the Constitution 100 percent," said Conklin. "You can't just go on someone's property and tell them what to do."

Still, council recently passed junk vehicle and animal control ordinances and, with help from a code enforcement specialist and a part-time animal control officer, is nudging property owners to address eyesores and unlicensed pets.

"I want Bridgeport to be a destination city, not a gateway city," Conklin said of future development plans.

Columbia River Quilters honor Mansfield vet Bill Bayless

By MIKE MALTAIS

MANSFIELD – The Columbia River Quilters have established an annual tradition of honoring area military veterans from Pateros to Mansfield. This year during the Veterans Day tribute at Mansfield High School last Thursday, Nov. 8, Mansfield High School graduate and Air Force veteran Bill Bayless was the recipient of a Columbia River Quilters heirloom.

Quilters spokeswoman Lisa Schluneger delivered some prepared remarks about Bayless's military service prior to the quilt presentation.

Bayless joined the U.S. Air Force in August 1961 following graduation from Mansfield High School in 1960. After completing basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas, he qualified for a top-secret clearance for a 28-week course in non-Morse communication and Russian language at Goodfellow, AFB, San Angelo, Texas.

The USAFSS recruited only the best of its personnel – the top one-half of one percent – for its secretive and tight-knit branch during the Cold War that specialized in monitoring, collecting, and interpreting electronic traffic often from Soviet and Eastern bloc countries.

For the next two years Bayless served with the 6989th communications squadron of the U.S. Air Force Security Service (USAFSS) based in Japan.

"Intelligence was often analyzed in the field and the results transmitted to the National Security Agency for further analysis and distribution to other intelligence recipients," said Schluneger. "It would have been one of Bill's responsibilities to monitor and collect information during the Cuban Missile Crisis as he was stationed there at the time." While stationed overseas Bayless, a section supervisor of 24 receivers and 12 printers was part of a squadron that worked 24/7 in a well-guarded, barb-wired, barricaded, windowless compound. As one of four flights, Bayless worked a schedule of three days on, 1.5

who returned from World War II.

During his address Borg mentioned "Fourteen different families with three sons saw all sons in service in World War II." He specifically acknowledged the Laurie family who had one daughter, Laurie, and three sons, Cyril, James, and John, all Pateros High School graduates, who served in the Air Force in World War II. Family matriarch, Paula Laurie Peckham, now in her early 90's, was also on hand at the ceremony.

Peckham is the wife of the late Walt Peckham, a World War II veteran who was born in Pateros in 1926 and died on Sept. 27, just weeks before Veterans Day this year. Borg eulogized Peckham's war service in the U.S. Navy "as an armed guard in the Navy's unique program to arm and protect merchant ships carrying men and supplies to the battles across the Pacific."

"It was hazardous duty and Walt's ship was torpedoed by a Japanese submarine in January 1945," said Borg. "Walt survived and returned home to spend a lifetime in support of veterans. His war-

BREWSTER – Broadcaster and historian Feliks Banel will speak at the Brewster public library at 6 p.m., Dec. 5, as part of a four-stop Humanities Washington tour of North Central Regional Library (NCRL) branches during the first week of December.

Banel's topic, Storm Warning: Historic Weather in the Evergreen State will address Washington state's darkest weather days and most famous storms, said NCRL Communications Manager

Broadcaster and historian Feliks Banel

Michelle McNeil in a media release. With the aid of archival photos and media clips Banel will take his audience back in time to relive stories of those who survived some of the Pacific Northwest's worst weather events din recorded history.

"Participants will be encouraged to share their own memories of how they survived being snowed in, washed out, or left without power in the way of a big storm," said McNeil, "and why we remember those moments for the rest of our lives."

Banel, a writer and producer, is editor of the Washington State Historical Society's quarterly magazine, Columbia. He has been a host and contributor for KIRO Radio on subjects of Northwest history and culture. Banel also created the history series This NOT Just In, for KUOW Public Radio, and produces documentaries for the Seattle Channel, McNeil said.

Banel will also appear at NCRL branches in Manson at 5 p.m., Dec. 4; Curlew at 6 p.m., Dec. 6; and Oroville at 2 p.m., Dec. 7.

OPINION

Americans can't afford insurance -- and Obamacare is to blame

By SALLY C. PIPES

The number of uninsured Americans rose in 2018 for the first time since the Affordable Care Act passed in 2010, according to the Census Bureau.

Obamacare's defenders were quick to blame the change on meddling by the Trump administration. But the real culprit is the law's faulty design.

Since the first exchange plans went into effect in 2014, Obamacare has delivered higher premiums and deductibles for Americans who don't get coverage from their employers. As a result, millions have fled the Obamacare exchanges over the past few years. Today, only people who receive government subsidies can afford exchange plans.

Currently, Americans who make less than 400 percent of the federal poverty level but do not qualify for Medicaid are eligible for subsidies. These subsidies are generous. For example, a family of four with $50,000 in annual income could get a $15,855 plan for just $3,250 -- or $271 per month.

Just under half of Americans are eligible for subsidies. The rest are out of luck, and face monthly premiums routinely exceeding $1,000.

As a result, many people are deciding not to shop for coverage on Obamacare's exchanges. Between 2016 and 2018, unsubsidized enrollment plummeted by 2.5 million -- a 40 percent decline from around 6.2 million to 3.7 million. Eighty seven percent of people with exchange coverage received subsidies in 2019.

The cost of exchange coverage has soared because of Obamacare's many rules, mandates, and regulations. Obamacare requires every plan sold on the exchanges to cover a list of 10 "essential health benefits," from pediatric vision care to substance abuse treatment. Such comprehensive coverage is expensive. It's also unappealing to many people, particularly young folks for whom these benefits seem far from "essential."

Obamacare also forces insurers to charge everyone of a certain age the same rate, regardless of their health status.

These mandates have raised costs for insurers, which they've passed on to enrollees in the form of higher premiums. In 2017, average exchange premiums rose 21 percent. Not surprisingly, exchange enrollment fell by 10 percent that same year. Americans who didn't qualify for subsidies accounted for roughly 85 percent of this decrease.

An additional 1.2 million unsubsidized patients exited the exchanges in 2018, when premiums rose by 26 percent.

Fortunately, there's at least one option still available to those who can't afford the plans on Obamacare's exchanges -- short-term, limited duration insurance. These policies are exempt from Obamacare's mandates. Insurers don't have to cover every essential health benefit and can price plans based on a beneficiary's risk.

As a result, short-term plans are far more affordable. One analysis found that premiums for the cheapest short-term plans are 80 percent lower than those for the least expensive Obamacare plans.

And thanks to a rule change by the Trump administration, Americans can purchase short-term plans that last up to 364 days. Insurers can also renew those policies for up to three years. Previously, short-term plans only lasted three months and couldn't be renewed.

As the next open enrollment period approaches, it's clearer than ever that Obamacare has failed. The law's mandates were supposed to help every American get insurance. Instead, they've made it impossible for almost anyone to purchase coverage without a government subsidy. So much for the "Affordable" Care Act.

Bridgeport earns 'Risk Management' award

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

BRIDGEPORT—The Association of Washington Cities Risk Management Service Agency (RMSA) at its annual meeting last September presented the City of Bridgeport with its Risk Management Award in recognition of the city's performance of the complexities of efficient and effective daily operations.

"The AWC RMSA is a municipal risk pool protecting the employees, assets and officials of Washington's cities, towns, and special purpose districts," an AWC media release said. "We strive to solve problems before they happen and protect your future when they do." RMSA issues awards in three different categories each of which acknowledges "the hard work and dedication our members put into proactively managing their risks and keeping their community safe," the release said. RMSA acknowledges that the daily operations of running a city or town are complex but that actively managing risks helps keep the city running smoothly while promoting stronger, more resilient communities. "AWC RMSA commends Bridgeport for its dedication to good risk management practices," the notification letter said.

Greenland: Golf courses, Oil wells on every glacier America First is his mantra

So, yes, people who are Trump adherents will remain Trump adherents forever as no Democrat has ever had the guts to publicly announce that America (that's us and our welfare) should always come first.

Republicans and conservatives have always known this. Success for everyone on every religion, race, culture demographic, whatever.

Success for all and all for the country. When President Trump shows his own desires to keep himself successful he is manifesting what all Americans have always wanted - the freedom to succeed. A fair and level playing field. All of us together.

Was it wrong for him to demand NATO allies pay their fair share? No.

Is it wrong for him to ask rich countries like Japan and Germany pay for our forces to defend them? No.

I support President Trump's plan to purchase Greenland. It is a smart move if we can get it. Anyone who has a mere inkling of American history will realize that we bought Alaska and that purchase has helped to make America even richer than ever.

APPLES TO APPLES
Gary Bégin

Rich in natural resources and, apparently television shows, Alaska was a smart buy, but at the time it was called Seward's Folly or Seward's Icebox. That was because the purchase was recommended by then Secretary of State William Seward and it cost $7 million (2 cents an acre).

Guess what country sold it to us? Russia. Ironic, eh, but the Czar needed money. We will reap that "folly" until the end of times.

We also bought something called the Louisiana Purchase. That deal doubled the size of the country. Napoleon needed money.

The Louisiana Purchase was the acquisition of a massive chunk of land by the United States from France in 1803 for $15 million dollars ($18 per square mile). Google it. You'll see it was far more than just present day Louisiana.

Eventually we had the "Manifest Destiny," a philosophy that held that the United States was destined by God, to expand its dominion and spread democracy and capitalism across the entire North American continent.

People mocked President Trump when he suggested we buy Greenland, but buying huge chunks of real estate has always been a good deal for the country.

In fact, as our President knows intimately, buying land is an indicator of smart wealth management. Real estate has always been a precious commodity for any empire. America could easily absorb a huge land mass like Greenland and turn it into a bastion of human habitation bursting with new adventures, heralding a new Manifest Destiny.

Undoubtedly Greenland has a wealth of natural resources. Why not a "new Alaska"? Why not allow President Trump to pursue a greater good for the masses.

I support President Trump, a man of vision, and wish him continued success in his fight to keep this country free of parasites, foreign and domestic. Most of us are sick of one-sided relationships, whether by deadbeat neighbors or other countries.

Perhaps the first American colonists to Greenland could be the millions of illegal residents already here. God Speed, I say to them! Go forth and prosper and so shall we all.

Then, when these hard working millions send their money home, home will be back here on the "mainland" and all boats shall rise with the tide of continued American success.

This would be a fine legacy for our future generations, not socialism. Teach the masses to tuna fish, not by giving them cans of StarKist.

Maybe one day when Denmark is desperate and needs money, it will be our chance to do some wheeling and dealing, i.e., land grabbing?

That could happen. the Danes don't need that chunk of ice anyway.

Bears beat Cougars in crossover, on to state

Onalaska up next

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

WHITE SWAN – The Brewster Bears varsity football team, combining a strong offensive attack and some big plays on defense, kept its state hopes alive with a 60-46 loser-out win over the Cougars in a crossover game at White Swan last Friday, Nov. 8. “We did a good job offensively only having to punt twice,” said head coach Jake Johanson of the 562 total yards the Bears gained. Contributing to Brewster’s offensive punch was sophomore wide receiver Adiah Najera who carried the ball 22 times for 199 yards and three touchdowns. Senior quarterback

Mason Kelly kept the ball seven times for short yardage but the 21 yards he gained included three TDs. Freshman running back Clayton Isensee ran for 58 yards on 14 carries and added another score. Isensee has a great game for a freshman,” said Johanson, “and our offensive line led by Rodolfo Madrid, Anthony Olvera, Anthony Talavera, Bryan Talavera, Cristian

Duran and Mario Guzman paved the way for 308 yards rushing on the night.” Kelly connected on five of nine passes for 109 yards that included an interception and touchdown. Junior wide receiver Logan McGuire caught one of those strikes for a score and freshman wide receiver Nico Maldonado pulled down his only reception for a 44-yard TD. Gebbers also connected on two-for-two passing and a touchdown. “Defensively we made some big plays and made some big hits that we have been waiting for all season,” Johanson said. Junior linebacker Arne Arevalo was credited with 21 combined tackles and a forced fumble. Isensee had 17 combined tackles and half of a quarterback sack. Najera had seven combined tackles, a QB sack and two forced fumbles. Kelly intercepted a pass, had three combined tackles and a fumble recovery. The Bears, seeded 16th in state rankings, have a tall challenge in the first round of the WIAA state tournament facing No. 1 ranked Onalaska at 8 p.m., Friday, Nov. 15, at Onalaska Memorial Football field.

Lady Bears rout Raiders for CW2B volleyball championship

BREWSTER – The league-leading Lady Bears varsity volleyball team lost only two of 39 sets to Central Washington 2B league opponents during regular and post-season play on the road to clinch the CW2B league championship trophy with a 3-1 match win over Lake Roosevelt on Tuesday, Nov. 5. The third-ranked Lady Raiders (6-1) eliminated No. 6 Tonasket (3-4), and surprised second-ranked Liberty Bell, 3-0, to advance to the championship round against Brewster. In their only other meeting during the regular season, the Lady Bears defeated Lake Roosevelt, 3-0, on Oct. 17. Lake Roosevelt made the Lady Bears work for their hardware with an opening set 25-22 to put Brewster on notice that there was another team in the house to take seriously. The Lady Bears rose to the occasion and won set two by the largest margin of the series, 25-8 after falling behind 3-1 early in the contest. Set three was almost a point-by-point tradeoff with ties at 1-1, 2 apiece, 4-all, 5-5 and the final tie at 17-17. The Lady Raiders, with the help of a vocal cheering section, leading at most stops until Brewster took the reins at 18-17 and powered through to the 25-20 win. The third-set loss seemed to take some of the fire out of Lake Roosevelt with its back against the wall as the Lady Bears took an early 4-0 lead in the fourth set. The Lady Raiders let the gap grow to 15-3 before they started to rally. However, a 12-point deficit against an opponent that has been as consistent as the Lady Bears have been all season is a formidable challenge and one the Lady Raiders did not have the reserves to reverse. Brewster kept on the pressure and powered to a 25-11 final. The win guaranteed the Lady Bears a berth at state as they travelled to Wenatchee to take on Tri-Cities Prep in a District 5/6 glue crossover match on Thursday evening, Nov. 7. The Lady Cougars came to the match with a second-place ranking and 7-1 record in the 10-team

Eastern Washington Athletic Conference. All three sets were close between two well-matched teams, but Tri-Cities put together a string of three strong performances to edge the Lady Bears, 20-25, 23-25, and 18-25. The Lady Bears will play Colfax at 1:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 14, in the opening round of state competition at the Yakima SunDome. The only other CW2B team to make it into state play is Lake Roosevelt who will face Kalama. Brewster placed sixth at state in 2017 and fifth last year.

Mustangs aim for state quarterfinals berth

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

BRIDGEPORT – The Mustangs varsity football team remains in the hunt for a berth in the state 1B quarterfinals after posting a 50-28 win on the road against the Waterville-Mansfield Shockers at Waterville last Friday, Nov. 8. The win against Waterville was enough to earn us another game,” said head coach John McDougal. “We will play Almira-Coulee-Hartline in Coulee City at 2 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 16, to determine one of the eight quarterfinal spots in the playoffs.” Against the Shockers the Mustangs put up 485 rushing yards with Gilberto Padilla accounting for 248 of those with three touchdowns. Teammate Arturo Perez ran for another 121 yards and a TD. Carlos Flores scored twice while rushing for 89 yards and returned a kickoff for another score. “On defense Enrique Morales, Miguelangel Orozco, and Edwin Bucio all contributed with double digit tackles,” said McDougal. Julio Sanchez led the team, though, with 36 total tackles in the game. Perez and Flores each had an interception.”

Brewster places fifth in state cross country meet

PASCO – The Brewster High School varsity cross country team finished in fifth place at the WIAA State 1B/2B Cross Country Meet held last Saturday, Nov. 9 at Sun Willows Golf Course in Pasco. The Bears barely missed fourth place by five points won by Manson with 162 points while Brewster came in with 167. Liberty Bell was the only other Central Washington 2B school to finish in the boys’ top 10 with 211 points. The defending state champion Liberty Bell girls’ team finished second to Pope John Paul 2. The competitive field included 154 runners representing 42 schools in the 5,000-meter race.

Christmas tree permits now available for purchase online

SUBMITTED BY USFS

WENATCHEE - Bright twinkling lights, handmade ornaments, and the scent of pine in the air all bring to mind thoughts about the upcoming holiday season and the Christmas tree which is the center of many homes.

Starting November 1, it was easier to obtain a permit to cut Christmas trees from the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest. Forest visitors may purchase them in person at national forest offices, from participating vendors, or now online. The Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest is one of 13 National Forests participating in offering permits online through the Open Forest system pilot program.

Permits purchased online will have to be printed to be valid. However, this program allows people to purchase

Christmas tree permits from the comfort of their own home, or by using their mobile device, instead of traveling to a Forest Service office. Learn more online about purchasing a permit and gathering a Christmas tree at <https://openforest.fs.usda.gov>.

Free tree permits are available to fourth graders as part of the national Every Kid Outdoors initiative. Fourth graders with a valid Every Kid Outdoors pass can get one free holiday tree cutting permit from the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest. In order for students to receive a free tree permit, they must present an Every Kid Outdoors pass or a valid paper voucher printed from the Every Kid Outdoors website.

Christmas tree permits cost $5 each. Each tree permit allows a family to cut one tree, with a tree height limit of 15 feet, or dig a small live transplant tree. Permits are limited to two permits per household. The permits are non-refundable and are only good on the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest. Christmas trees cannot be harvested in Wilderness areas, campgrounds, developed recreation areas, or tree plantations.

Traditional permits are available at all ranger district offices and the forest headquarters in Wenatchee. Most forest offices are open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday; be aware, permits are not available from the Naches and Cle Elum district offices after 4 p.m.

For more information about the Christmas tree program on the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest, please contact local ranger district offices or visit the forest website at <https://go.usa.gov/xV7SG>

Stocking up for Cough and Cold Season

A couple of years ago, I spent one long, miserable week in January in bed with influenza. I coughed, I sneezed, my nose ran, and it felt like every cell in my body HURT. When I ran completely out of my cough and cold medicine I felt even WORSE. Ever since, I check my medicine cabinet before every flu season to make sure I have plenty of my favorite remedies on hand.

1. Delsym® for cough. Delsym® is a concentrated form of dextromethorphan (DM), the same active ingredient as in Robitussin DM®. Each Delsym® dose lasts for 12 hours, so taking a dose before leaving for work lasts all day. Delsym® is almost as powerful as codeine against a cough, but since it doesn't cause drowsiness it's much safer to use when driving a car or working around machinery.

2. Tylenol® for fever and headache.

I prefer taking extra-strength 500mg acetaminophen tablets for headache and fever over ibuprofen or naproxen because acetaminophen is less irritating to my stomach, especially if I'm not able to keep anything down but chicken soup.

To protect my liver, I stay within the maximum daily dose of acetaminophen, which is 8 extra-strength tablets (4 grams) daily. For those over 70 years old the recommended maximum dose is 3.1 grams, or 6 extra-strength 500mg tablets.

I won't run out of acetaminophen (Tylenol®) any time soon because my dear husband purchased a twin pack of Costco®-sized bottles last year. Because the supersized bottles don't fit in our medicine cabinet, I keep a smaller bottle of acetaminophen tablets on the shelf instead, refilling it when needed from the larger bottles I keep in a nearby closet.

3. Aleve® for body aches.

My worst influenza symptom is severe muscle aches. The last time I had the flu I SWEAR that a ninja snuck into my bedroom while I was asleep and whaled on me with their nun chunks.

I prefer non-prescription naproxen (Aleve®) over its cousin ibuprofen because naproxen lasts twice as long (8-12 hours). I hated waking up in the middle of the night when my ibuprofen wore off after only 5 hours.

Naproxen and ibuprofen work better for body aches than acetaminophen, but if you take them while dehydrated from vomiting or diarrhea, they can harm your kidneys, and they cause stomach irritation, even ulcers. People who take blood thinners like warfarin, Pradaxa®, Xarelto®, Eliquis® or Plavix® (clopidogrel) need to be especially cautious to avoid stomach bleeding. To reduce your risk, always take them with a full glass of water or some food.

4. Sudafed® for sinus and nasal congestion.

I only stock the original version of Sudafed® that contains pseudoephedrine, the one you have to sign for, because the other formulation isn't very effective. I prefer the red coated 30mg tablets over the white 60mg tablets because I have trouble sleeping when taking the higher dose.

5. Actifed® for runny nose and sneezing.

I learned about Actifed® as a hospital pharmacist many years ago. We'd get an urgent call from the surgery department, requesting we send something ASAP to dry up the runny nose of a surgeon or scrub nurse. This was before we had the prescription Atrovent® nasal spray available, which can dry up a runny nose in a flash, so instead, we sent them a couple of tablets of Actifed®, a surprisingly effective combination of the antihistamine triprolidine and the decongestant pseudoephedrine.

Pseudoephedrine relieves stuffiness while triprolidine stops the drips and decreases sneezing. Triprolidine has another benefit: unlike its antihistamine cousins diphenhydramine and doxylamine, it rarely causes drowsiness, so those surgeons didn't have to worry about nodding off in the middle of a hip replacement. Today, Actifed® is only available behind-the-counter.

6. NyQuil® for night-time multi-symptom relief.

While I prefer single ingredient products to treat my specific symptoms, if my husband gets sick he insists on "something to knock me out, so I can get some rest." The green original flavor and red cherry flavor original Nyquil® contained 5 active ingredients: acetaminophen for fever and aches, dextromethorphan for cough, pseudoephedrine for stuffy nose and sinus pressure, and both the antihistamine doxylamine and 10% alcohol to help you sleep.

After pseudoephedrine was banished behind the counter in 2006, Nyquil's® formula changed, now including several variations, using phenylephrine instead of pseudoephedrine. Nyquil® Severe Cold and Flu remains closest to its original formula.

7. Apple juice to prevent dehydration.

Instead of drinking Gatorade when losing fluids from vomiting and diarrhea, apple juice is an effective and tastier option.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

By JOHN KRUSE

Fishing:

An unexpected fishery opened up on the Icicle River Nov. 2 for coho salmon. Some 4500 fish are expected in the Wenatchee River basin, far beyond what is needed for hatchery operations. Boat anglers can launch from the Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery and fish their way downstream to fish towards the mouth of the river. Bank anglers have limited public access which includes one pull out on East Leavenworth Road and a section of the river downstream of the hatchery. Casting spinners or twitching jigs are two ways to catch coho. Be warned though, the fish have made a long journey to get here so be prepared to either catch and release them or consign them to the smoker.

Coho salmon fishing on the Icicle River near the Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery.

Staff at the South-Central Washington regional office for the Washington Dept. of Fish and Wildlife say this month is the perfect time to catch and release sturgeon in the Columbia River Gorge. That's because the lower water flows and falling water temperatures improve both the bite and the resulting fight from these fish which can reach eleven feet in length and several hundred pounds in weight.

This moose has taken up residence at the Horan Natural Area in Wenatchee.

Tim Nizich at Clark's All Sports in Colville says trout fishing throughout Lake Roosevelt has been very good. Anglers are trolling pink flies, streamers and rooster tail spinners and using lead core line to get to where the trout are in 50 to 100 feet of water. The rainbows are averaging 16 inches in size and some are reaching 20 inches in length.

Shellfish:

Dan Ayres, the Coastal Shellfish Manager for the Washington Dept. of Fish and Wildlife, says... "This year's razor clam system is going to be real gang buster! We have strong populations on almost all of our beaches and we are offering a whole lot of razor clamming dates in the months ahead. Populations are up and for the most part, there are a good number of larger clams."

The next scheduled digs (with low tide information and open beaches included) are scheduled for:

- November 14, Thursday, 7:41 pm, -0.6 feet; Long Beach, Twin Harbors, Mocrocks
- November 15, Friday, 8:22 pm, -0.5 feet; Long Beach, Twin Harbors, Copalis
- November 16, Saturday, 9:08 pm, -0.3 feet; Long Beach, Twin Harbors, Mocrocks
- November 17, Sunday, 9:59 pm, -0.1 feet; Long Beach, Twin Harbors, Copalis

Wildlife:

A moose has taken up residence in the Horan Natural Area in Wenatchee. At least two local outdoors photographers have posted pictures of the adult cow moose on social media over the last two weeks. Be sure to give this big animal space and don't crowd it. Moose can be dangerous and forcing it out of its habitat (and on to nearby city streets or highways) could be very detrimental to this animal's long-term prospects.

Jill Sessions works at Confluence State Park which manages this natural area. She is no stranger to moose, having lived in Alaska for 25 years. Sessions says, "Let the moose do its thing and don't try to approach her. It's fine to take pictures but do respect the animal. Never approach a moose or encroach on its natural area. View it from a safe distance. If you see the animal's ears pin back or if the moose lowers its head and shoulders, that's a warning you are too close and may be in danger."

PUBLIC NOTICES

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA FEDERAL ENERGY REGULATORY COMMISSION

Shell Energy North America (US), L.P
 Project No. 14795-002

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF FINAL ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT

(October 30, 2019)

In accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's (Commission) regulations, 18 C.F.R. Part 380, the Office of Energy Projects has reviewed the application for license for the Hydro Battery Pearl Hill Pumped Storage Project, which would be located on Rufus Woods Lake, near Bridgeport, Douglas County, Washington and has prepared a Final Environmental Assessment (FEA) for the project. The project would be located on state lands except for the lower reservoir and power generation and pumping equipment which would be located on Rufus Woods Lake, a reservoir operated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (Corps). The Corps, a cooperating agency for the preparation of this environmental assessment, is reviewing Shell's project for permits it would issue under Sections 10 and 14 of the Rivers and Harbors act of 1899 and Section 404 of the Clean Water Act.

The FEA contains staff's analysis of the potential environmental impacts of the project and concludes that licensing the project, with appropriate environmental protective measures, would not constitute a major federal action that would significantly affect the quality of the human environment.

A copy of the FEA is available for review at the Commission in the Public Reference Room or may be viewed on the Commission's website at <http://www.ferc.gov> using the "eLibrary" link. Enter the docket number excluding the last three digits in the docket number field to access the document. For assistance, contact FERC Online Support at FERCOnlineSupport@ferc.gov, (866) 208-3676 (toll free), or (202) 502-8659 (TTY).

You may also register online at <http://www.ferc.gov/docs-filing/esubscription.asp> to be notified via email of new filings and issuances related to this or other pending projects. For assistance, contact FERC Online Support.

For further information, contact Ryan Hansen at (202) 502-8074 or at ryan.hansen@ferc.gov.
