

Brewster Food Bank requests donor support

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – The Brewster Food Bank has issued a request for support from community businesses and citizens as the disparity between donations coming in and expenses going out continues to threaten the organization’s survival.

On August 30, the Brewster Food Bank Advisory Committee released a letter that reviewed the group’s mission, thanked those who have donated in the past for their generous support, and explained the present state of operations.

“Because regular monthly expenses have been exceeding donations, we need to appeal to our generous community members for contributions to sustain our mission,” the letter reads, “We’re asking businesses, institutions and individuals in the community who value the Food Bank and the services it provides to the less fortunate in the area to donate funds to continue our good work.”

The bulk of the food distributed by the local food bank comes from Northwest Harvest, The Emergency Good Assistance Program (TEFAP) added to substantial donations from Brewster Marketplace, Safeway local fruit processors, gardeners, food drives, and various organizations.

Money donations are few at this time, said director Neil McKee.

“We have a local church that is contributing $150 a month and a local woman donating $20 a month,” McKee said. “Those are the only regular donations right now.”

The Brewster Food Bank equally serves 85 -130 families on a weekly basis from Pateros, Brewster and Bridgeport and operates independently of the owner of the building that provides its space.

Donations in any amount are welcome and supporters are encouraged to consider giving on a monthly basis. The Brewster Food Bank is located at 301 Fourth St. South in Brewster. The mailing address is P.O.B. 826, Brewster, WA 98812. Questions may be directed to Neil McKee at 509-322-1009, or Earl Patterson at 509-845-3895.

Brewster hires new police department chief

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – City Council members approved Omak Police detective Marcos Ruiz as the city’s new police chief during their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 9. Ruiz, who served with the Brewster department for 14 years prior to accepting a position at Omak is expected to be ready to assume his new position in about 30 days.

Officer Adam Nichols has been serving as interim chief since the resignation of Nattalie Cariker on August 31. Cariker accepted a position as an investigator with the Department of Social and Health Services in Omak.

Brewster Chamber of Commerce president Anna Marie Dalbey addressed the council concerning recent calls she has received from citizens complaining of individuals loitering around homes, the Columbia Cove and eating out of garbage cans at McDonalds. Dalbey said she was asked what the city ordinances and laws are that apply to vagrancy.

Interim police chief Adam Nichols

Council member Manny Hurtado said he heard from the same people and discovered that the incident in question occurred outside Brewster city limits and was therefore the jurisdiction of the county sheriff.

Mayor Art Smyth said city officials are aware of the few individuals in town who are homeless but refuse to accept offered assistance or services.

“I myself am around town constantly looking at things,” said Smyth. “If I had noticed these problems, people would have already heard about it.”

City defrosts snow removal policy, purchases new Bobcat

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

PATEROS – With the snow season not far off, the public works is turning its attention to the city’s snow removal policy and the use of existing equipment to respond to city and street needs during the winter months.

City administrator/public works supervisor Jord Wilson told city council members that the dump truck the city purchased a few years ago came equipped with a sanding unit and anti-icing unit “that was about a $60,000 piece of equipment,” Wilson said.

Wilson said he consulted a specialist knowledgeable with anti-icing equipment and was advised that with a little attention, the anti-icing unit is ready to go. Accordingly, Wilson added anti-icing activities to this year’s snow policy.

“September is the month that we remind residents of the snow policy and the parking policy,” Wilson said.

The public works team has been working on a plan to get the most efficient use out of the snow removal equipment the city has available. A new Bobcat 5600 vehicle will help, and the city set aside $50,000 in its 2019 budget for purchase of a public works vehicle. Pateros is part of the state bid process so can forego the process of requesting three separate equipment vendor quotes. After a healthy municipal bid discount of $19,555 is deducted from the Bobcat’s list price of $66,298 through Rowe’s Tractor in Wenatchee, the city will pay $50,575.93, including taxes for the new machine.

In other council business members approved a resolution to authorize water reservoir contractor Tapani, Inc. to repair a cemetery irrigation water line at a cost of $2,200.

The council also approved a resolution for additional changes to the landscape design and flagpole lighting for the Well House 4 project for an amount no to exceed $2,374.62. Landscaping is due to be completed this week, but the contractor has requested an additional 26 days to complete the structure owing to work change orders.

While the city is still receiving complaints of manganese in the water. Wilson said the manganese level is very, very low and contamination complaints are declining.

Okanogan County publishes Prop. 2 webpage

By MIKE MALTAIS

OKANOGAN – A new informational website that provides facts to the public about upcoming Proposition 2, Okanogan County Sales Tax for Emergency Communications Systems and Facilities on the November general election ballot has been published by the Okanogan County Sheriff’s Office and Okanogan County.

The website, okcoec.com, highlights many factual aspects surrounding the need to upgrade the county’s aging emergency system, including:

- Existing radio repeater equipment is based on 40-year-old technology.
- Existing radio repeater equipment is at end of life and manufacturer support ends 2020.
- No replacement parts for repairs. - Radio repeaters and the radio system are used by all Fire, EMS and Police first responders in Okanogan County.

Courtesy Okanogan County Sheriff’s Office

The emergency communications end-of-production, end-of maintenance map illustrates site status of repeaters throughout the county.

• Radio system is crowded due to a 19.6% increase in the volume of events (2011-2018) that Fire, EMS and Police agencies respond to.

• Radio system failures due to old equipment equals increased risk to citizens, property damage, personal injury and risk of injury to first responders.

Proposition 2 will appear on the Nov. 5 general election ballot.

City clerk/treasurer Misty Ruiz reminded the council that it is not illegal to be homeless.

Dalbey said that she has not seen the problem herself but felt that because of the calls she received, felt compelled to bring the issue to the attention of council members.

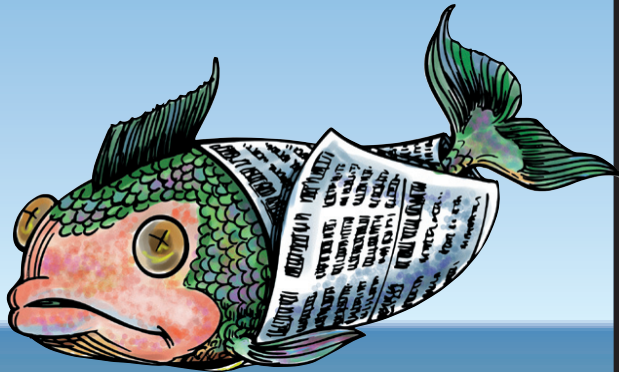

City legal counsel Chuck Zimmerman said he has never heard a concern expressed from the mayor or council members regarding a vagrancy problem existing in Brewster.

Interim chief Nichols said there are a couple of homeless people around town who have declined offered help.

"We don't allow them to spend the night in the park; we don't allow them to do what you see in the big cities, but they're always there," said Nichols. "The best thing I can tell you is to have those people call us right away because that's something we need to know."

Asked about a growing drug use problem, Nichols said that is a nationwide reality "and we have our fair share in Brewster," but added he has not noticed a marked increase in activity here.

Welcome to the 29th Annual Salmon Festival!

By BRANDI CHARLES

This year marks the 29th anniversary of the Salmon Festival at the Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery. Corky Broaddus has been a part of the festival for 22 years and talks with pride about what it stands for and how much it has grown. It was one of the first nature festivals in the country and serves as a model for programs nationwide. What is unique about Salmon Festival is it promotes outdoor recreation while providing high quality natural resource education in a fun, family-friendly environment. The first two days of Salmon Festival are dedicated to the students. Over 2,500 children from more than 85 classrooms are expected to visit on Thursday and Friday. For many schools this will be the only field trip they take all year long so the staff aims to make their experience extra special. Salmon Festival is expanding this year and one of the highlights will be representatives from 20 Native American tribes; including the local Wenatchis, on hand to share a wide variety of knowledge and skills. Salmon preparation, drumming, dancing, basket making, canoeing and storytelling are just a few of the areas that will be covered by the tribal representatives. The participation of the Native American community is of the utmost importance as the fish hatchery is located on traditional Aboriginal lands. As a part of the local community since 1991 locals are well aware of the value of the of the Salmon Festival but the word has spread far and wide. The event has been the recipient of several awards over the years including the International Festival and Events Association's “Best Children's Program” award. Staff and volunteers work tirelessly year-round to make the festival happen. Corky Broaddus says that without the help of the volunteers the Salmon Festival would not happen. She made special mention of the high school students that are eager to come and get their hands dirty every year to help out. This year Cascade High School will be receiving the Volunteer of the Year award, having worked to make the festival a success since it's inception. Broaddus says that every year she sees a number of visitors who came to the festival as children and high schoolers back to visit with their own families and that's one of the many reasons why she volunteers year after year. There are many organizations that partner with the Fish Hatchery to make Salmon Festival successful. The Chelan County PUD and their River Ramble activities will be available for students on September 19-20, with some also available on the free family day on Saturday. A few of these activities include the 30 foot long Salmon Storytelling Tent and a traditional drumming demonstration. The curators of the Salmon Festival want it to be an inter-generational experience where grandparents can come with the little ones and learn and play together. With so many distractions for young people that encourage them to sit and stare at a screen, Salmon Festival is a rare free opportunity for the whole family to have fun and learn new things while enjoying the great outdoors.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

By JOHN KRUSE

THE PERFECT TIME OF YEAR FOR A HIKE

There’s something about September if you like to hike the mountains and forests of our state. Perhaps it’s the crisp feel of the air in the morning in the lowlands and in the mountains throughout the day. Maybe it’s the softer light that shows off the pastel of changing colors of the foliage to yellow and scarlet. Or maybe it’s just the fact that hordes of summer hikers are by and large off the trails after Labor Day.

Whatever the reason, it’s a good month to go hiking. One great destination this time of year is found at Stuart Lake in the Alpine Lakes Wilderness. The trailhead to Stuart and Colchuck Lake southeast of Leavenworth is a popular one, so much so the U.S. Forest Service had to institute a no-parking policy along the side of the gravel road leading to the parking lot. Having said that, if you can visit mid-week, you’ll still find quite a few cars at the trailhead but surprisingly few hikers heading towards Stuart Lake as their destination. The reason? Most hikers are heading up the trail 2 ¼ miles to Mountaineer Creek and taking a left on a trail that takes them to Colchuck Lake. This lake is a beautiful destination in its own right and also the gateway, via Aasgard Pass on the far side of the lake, to the Upper Enchantments that draw thousands of hardy visitors every year.

Of the hikers that stay straight on the trail to Stuart Lake you’ll find many of them are climbers, not interested in spending time at the lake but instead, interesting in testing themselves on the granite rock face of nearby Mount Stuart. That’s why, even with a parking lot full of cars, you may find yourself alone or with very little company along the shoreline of Stuart Lake.

Take the time and linger over the picnic lunch you hopefully brought along to enjoy after the 4 ½ mile hike in with a 1,665-foot elevation gain from the trailhead. The views of the lake and towering mountains are amazing and at this time of year you’ll see the changing colors of the larch trees turning from green to bright yellow to gold.

The fishing for cutthroat trout can be good too. Try casting a 1/8-ounce Roostertail, Mepps or Promise Keeper spinner or if fly fishing, an attractor fly like a Royal Wulff to draw strikes. The trout population is healthy but not endless so if you want to keep a couple for a shore lunch over a gas stove that’s fine but otherwise consider catching and releasing these fish that measure anywhere from 7 to 13 inches in size.

A Forest Service Recreation Pass is required in your vehicle for the Stuart Lake trailhead. You’ll also need an overnight permit (available but in high demand) from the Leavenworth Ranger District Office or through an online lottery since Stuart Lake lies within the Enchantment Zone of the Alpine Lakes Wilderness. On the other hand, you only need to fill out a free permit at the trailhead and deposit the stub into the box there for a day hike.

MORE SEPTEMBER HIKES

Looking for other fall hiking opportunities? We reached out to Anna Roth with the Washington Trails Association to learn about some of her favorites which include:

NE WASHINGTON – WHISTLER CANYON TRAIL – This little-known destination is located near Oroville. You’ll burn some calories as you gain up to 3,000 feet of elevation along this 12-mile long trail which is part of the Pacific Northwest Trail. Its open to hikers and horses and offers stunning views of the Okanogan Valley and Osoyoos Lake along with a chance to see a variety of wildlife species from wild turkey to mule deer to mountain goats.

OLYMPIC PENINSULA – QUINULT NATIONAL RECREATION TRAILS – Located near Lake Quinalt, enjoy a 4.25-mile round trip hike that takes you along an interpretive nature loop amongst giant Sitka spruce and western hemlock. Other parts of the trail follow the shore of Lake Quinalt and alongside Falls Creek. This is a family friendly hike with only 350 feet of elevation gain.

If you go hiking this September remember there are several hunting seasons underway in our National Forests so hot pink and blaze orange are not only fashionable, but smart choices for hikers to wear. If you want other ideas about where to go hiking this fall, check out the online hiking guide at www.wta.org

Dr. Fred Schnibbe

A Celebration of Life for Dr. Fred Schnibbe will be held Sunday, September 22, at 11 a.m. at the Walla Walla University Seventh-day Adventist Church in College Place, Wash.

He passed away Aug. 16 at Park Manor. He was 94.

Fred Charles Schnibbe was born July 14, 1925 to Fred Herman and Johanna Maier Schnibbe in Brooklyn, New York. He graduated from the School of Automotive Trades. He was drafted into the army during World War II. He became a medical technician, and was assigned to the first established Army Evacuation Hospital in Europe. He became fascinated with things medical while helping treating wounded soldiers in Austria and Germany.

In 1946, he followed his sister west to attend Walla Walla College. He had become an X-ray tech overseas so took call at both Walla Walla General and St. Mary’s Hospitals.

He married Verona Montanye on June 20, 1948, soon after she graduated. And she continued to work in the registrar’s office, while he completed his junior and senior years. He was accepted into medical school at Loma Linda California, and graduated in 1954 from College of Medical Evangelists, now Loma Linda University School of Medicine.

After interning at Portland Adventist Hospital, he answered a call to practice in Twisp, Washington in the foothills of the North Cascades, 40 miles from the county hospital in Brewster. More medical help arrived in the Methow valley before older son Bob was ready to start church school. And Fred accepted the invitation of Dr. Harold Stout and Harold Lamberton to join them in practice to form the community medical center near the hospital and Seventh-day Adventist church and school in Brewster. It was a special relationship and all kept up with continuing medical education and a very lively practice. The Brewster Seventh-day Adventist congregation met for several years in the school gymnasium and when they decided to build a new church Fred, a church elder, was named building committee chairman.

Schnibbe specialized in baby boys: Robert Kent, born in 1952 in Los Angeles (medical school on divided campus), Richard Brent, Portland 1954, Dale Brewster, 1956. Fred retired several times, but finally for real in December 1994. He did continue to assist in surgery which he quit in 2002. In 2008, they sold Hidden Pines Ranch and moved to College Place, among relatives and old college friends. They volunteered at Walla Walla General Hospital and the Walla Walla University Haystad Alumni Center. They were also greeters at the WWU Church.

Fred was preceded in death by son Dr. Robert Schnibbe, his parents, sister Viola Drum, brother Bill Schnibbe.

Surviving are wife Verona, daughter-in-law Dee Ann Schnibbe, son Richard and wife Winnie, son Dr. Dale and wife Ann, granddaughters Liesl, Heidi Hayes, Tonya Burnham, grandsons Eric and Jacob Schnibbe, great-grandchildren Koen and Addison Hayes, Cole and Oliver Burnham, twins James Madlyn and Poppy Mae Schnibbe, brother Dick and wife Ann, brother-in-law Mike Montanye and sister-in-law Florence Montanye and sister-in-law Marge Schnibbe, several nieces and nephews.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to Gospel Outreach. Box 8. College Place or charity of choice.

Bridgeport Mustangs split Liberty Bell, Odessa in season opener

By Mike Maltais
Staff Writer

WINTHROP – The Mustangs eight-man varsity football team took the game to Liberty Bell in its non-league season opener on Sept. 6 and handed the Mountain Lions their first loss of the year, 32-20, before they were through. Bridgeport led 12-2 at the end of the first half and outscored Liberty Bell, 20-18 in the second to win going away.

Mustangs quarterback JJ Flores threw three touchdowns on six-for-eight passing and carried the ball 12 times for two more TDs. Flores connected with receivers Julio Sanchez for two touchdowns and Edwin Bucio for a third.

Sanchez led the Mustangs' defense with 18 tackles while teammates Chris Newman, Gilberto Padilla, and Enrique Morales pulled down nine Tigers. Odessa, coming off a 76-8 win over Pomeroy the previous week, handed the Mustangs an 88-6 loss.

“Bridgeport’s only touchdown came on the first play of the second half,” said head coach John McDougal. “Julio Sanchez caught a tipped pass from Christopher Newman and took it 62 yards.”

Bridgeport moved from 11-man to eight-man football this year and, along with Liberty Bell, expanded the Central Washington 1B League roster to nine teams, the others being Soap Lake, Almira-Coulee-Hartline, Pateros, Wilber-Creston, Odessa, Waterville-Mansfield, and Entiat.

The Mustangs’ varsity includes seven seniors, Julio Sanchez, Edwin Bucio, Gilberto Padilla, Jonathan (JJ) Flores, Enrique Morales, Miguel Mendoza, and Miguelangel Orozco. Juniors Francisco Torres, Daniel Galvin, and Luis Velasco, and sophomore Christopher Newman round out the lineup.

McDougal takes the reins as head coach this season after serving as assistant coach last year. First year assistant coach Luke Luttrell also serves as head coach of Middle School track and field.

The Mustangs have set a goal to qualify for the state playoffs, something the BHS football program hasn’t repeated since 1980.

Fillies open soccer season with 9-3 Pateros win

By Mike Maltais
Staff Writer

BRIDGEPORT – The Fillies varsity soccer team got its season off in a winning fashion with a 9-3 victory over visiting Pateros on Sept. 10, scoring early and building on that momentum to never surrender its lead.

“This was a great start to our season,” said head coach Gabe Gonzalez. “The returning starters and new players got playing time and were able to show what they have learned so far this season.”

Junior Karla Torres stuck first and quickly scoring in the first two minutes of the game off an assist from Jackie Lombera. Barely three minutes later, Lombera scored Bridgeport’s second goal.

With 11 minutes off the clock Alondra Jimenez took an assist from Torres to put the Fillies up, 3-0.

Lombera provided her second assist of the first half to Lesli Moreno who got Bridgeport’s fourth goal in the 12th minute of play.

Pateros answered with two goals in the 21st and 26th minute of the first half.

Lombera scored her second goal and Bridgeport’s fifth in the first half in the 33rd minute of play.

With a 5-2 lead heading into the second half, the Fillies were far from done. Jimenez scored in the 42nd minutes off a Lombera assist, and a minute later Torres scored her second goal of the game. In the space of three short minutes, the Fillies scored three times, the third in the 44th minute when Lesli Moreno connected off an assist from Neida Gonzalez.

Torres scored Bridgeport’s final goal in the 52nd minute and Pateros found the net for the final goal in the 79th minute.

Becky Hernandez guarded Bridgeport’s goal during the first half and was credited with one save. Melissa Rodriguez took over as goalkeeper in the second half and made two saves.

The Fillies took 25 shots on goal, three times as many as their opponents who managed eight.

Long time head coach Gonzalez said his team did not lose a single player to graduation last June. With the Fillies returning at full strength and with All-League players, Torres, Lombera, and Maria Santana, they are ready to face last year’s Central Washington 2B League champion Liberty Bell who was on the home schedule for Tuesday, Sept. 17. The Lady Mountain Lions defeated Bridgeport in the district playoffs last season.

Fillies team preview

By Mike Maltais
Staff Writer

BREWSTER – The Bridgeport Fillies varsity volleyball team opened its season with non-league match at Brewster last Thursday, Sept. 12, and had their hands full against a 2018 state veteran that showed the strength of a largely intact core of players returning from last year

Brewster swept the Fillies, 3-0, with individual set scores of 25-2, 25-5, and 25-13. The Lady Bears dominated the net with kills from seniors Karste Wright, Brooklynne Boesel, and Sammi Emigh. The Fillies delivered a number of impressive digs on hard-hit Brewster strikes and began to find their rhythm in the third set, leading Brewster early in the contest.

Brewster lost only one senior from last year’s fifth-place state team and brings five seniors, three juniors and three freshmen to this season’s varsity lineup.

The Fillies lost five seniors to graduation but have five of six juniors returning this season; Maria Belen Rosas, Fani Medel, Yareli Palacios, Giselle Garcia, and Yojaira Velazquez, the latter pair All-League Honorable Mentions last year. Juniors Maritza Bravo, Jazmin Garcia, and Verania Velazquez are also veterans from last year as are sophomores Myrka Ibarra and Jocelyn Rios.

Bridgeport finished in the bottom half of the Central Washington 2B League ladder last year and is in the hunt for a spot on one of the higher rungs this season with new head and assistant coaches.

Head coach Suni Gill was the assistant volleyball coach last year and has new-hire Zoe Basley as her assistant. Baxley graduated Humboldt State University in 2015 and recently earned her Masters from Whitworth. She also teaches first grade at Bridgeport.

Brewster’s junior varsity and C-squad won their games as well, but the Fillies made them work for it winning a set in each of the three-match series.

Shockers in search of first football season win

By Mike Maltais
STAFF WRITER

WATERVILLE – Coming off an 8-2 season last year, the Waterville-Mansfield High School varsity football team is looking for a much better finish this year under coach Tayn Kendrick and assistant coaches Jody Flaget and Dell Mires.

The Shockers are among the nine Central Washington 1B teams playing eight-man football this season. With the addition of Liberty Bell and Bridgeport to this year's eight-man ranks it should be an interesting league to watch.

Waterville-Mansfield barely lost its opening season game on the road at Northport, 42-40, on Sept. 7. Things didn't get much better when the Shockers hosted Liberty Bell last Friday, Sept. 13, and came up short, 32-6.

The Shockers' other CW1B opponents this season include Odessa, Soap Lake, Almira-Coulee-Hartline (ACH), Entiat, Pateros and Wilber-Creston, the latter they face on the road this Friday, Sept. 20. Two of their league rivals, ACH and Odessa, have been state champions the past two years.

Included in the Shockers' lineup this season are four Mansfield athletes, Xavier Tedder, Yovanni Baltazar, Caiden Price, and Trevor Moore.

Lady Shockers volleyball opens on a winning note

By Mike Maltais
STAFF WRITER

WATERVILLE – The Waterville-Mansfield High School Lady Shockers varsity volleyball team has been a force to reckon with in its first two games of the 2019 season, defeating Liberty Bell and Entiat at home, 3-1, and 3-0 respectively.

In spite of losing two Central Washington 2B All-League seniors last year, Second Team pick Ari Saucedo, and Honorable Mention Ali Mires, the junior-heavy Lady Shockers appear to putting their eight CW2B league rivals that any team that plans to make it to the post-season playoffs will have to get by Waterville-Mansfield to do it. Those opponents include Tonasket, Oroville, Soap Lake, Manson, Brewster, Bridgeport and Lake Roosevelt in addition to the Mountain Lions and Lady Tigers.

The varsity roster has just one senior, Sarah Mullen, this year along with two sophomores and a freshman so the Lady Shockers are looking at a strong team next year as well.

The Lady Shockers head coach is Andrea Toomey with assistant Emma Johnson.

Waterville-Mansfield was scheduled to meet Bridgeport on the road, Tuesday, Sept. 17. The Lady Shockers will host Lake Roosevelt at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 19, travel to Oroville on Saturday, Sept. 21, followed by Almira-Coulee-Hartline at Coulee City on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

BREWSTER – The Lady Bears varsity soccer team hosted 1A Okanogan from the Caribou Trail League at its non-league home opener but was unable to counter the Lady Bulldogs’ goal attacks as the visitors dominated the scoring, 7-1.

Okanogan employed an effective attack strategy that included good passes to the open player who had the best shot at making a score.

Brewster was scheduled to host Oroville for its Central Washington 2B League opener a Tuesday, Sept. 17. The Lady Bears will travel to Lake Roosevelt for their first road game on Thursday, Sept. 19.

Stage 1 fire restrictions lifted; campfires and woodcutting allowed

SUBMITTED BY USFS

WENATCHEE - Forest visitors will be able to enjoy campfires in most areas of the national forest soon.

Stage 1 public use fire restrictions, namely restrictions on the use of campfires in dispersed recreation areas, that have been in effect in the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest will be lifted on Friday, September 13, 2019. This means recreationists will be able to have wood and charcoal campfires in all areas of the national forest that are normally open to campfires.

“With the recent precipitation, higher humidity, and colder nighttime temperatures, we felt it is now appropriate to lift all remaining campfire bans,” said Rob Allen, fire management officer for the Okanogan-Wenatchee

National Forest. “We very much appreciate the public’s understanding and cooperation while the campfire bans were in place.”

Forest visitors still need to be aware that fire hazard still exists, especially if warmer weather returns, Allen added. Visitors should be careful with all fires, including hunter warming fires, and make sure they are completely out and cold to the touch before leaving their campsite.

The improved weather has also influenced the Industrial Fire Precaution Level (IFPL) that governs woodcutting in the Okanogan-Wenatchee Forest. Also on Friday, the IFPL will go to Level 1 which allows woodcutting all day long. Go to <https://www.dnr.wa.gov/ifpl> for current IFPL information.
