Pateros Special Health, Safety Levy wins voter approval

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

PATEROS - Preliminary returns from Tuesday's April 23 Special Election show that the Pateros School 122-70J Proposition 1 Capital Levy for Health and Safety Improvements is passing with more than 62 percent of votes cast. Out of 307 votes cast 191 or 62.21 percent voted in favor and 116 or 37.79 percent voted against. A three-fifths or 60 percent approval was need for the levy to pass. The Okanogan County Auditor will certify the results on May 3.

The Pateros School District ran the levy to raise $411,190 over the next two years to complete three or more campus projects to improve health and safety issues for students. The funds raised will be used to:

Build a covered play area on the elementary playground,

Expand a second floor/ weight room over the auxiliary gym to create an indoor recess space.

Construct an ADA compliant access ramp to the Music Building.

Any remaining funds will be used for projects that support health and safety on campus.

The levy will run at $1 per thousand dollars of property valuation for two years, yielding the desired amount. The first collection will be spring of 2020 and the last collection in the fall of 2021. The Board decided to run the $1/$1,000 levy amount because it keeps the school tax rate essentially flat (except for 2019 taxes). It also helps the District compensate for the negative effect of a 2018 state law which placed a cap on how much school Districts can raise in maintenance and operations levies. Studies show that children are better behaved and do better academically when they've been physically active. In Pateros, when it's smoky, rainy or very cold (20 degrees or less, including wind chill factor), elementary student "recess" stays indoors and students sit in the hallway and watch a movie. Figures from Pateros elementary show that this school year alone that has happened 20 times—one month's worth of recess. There is no alternative space on campus for young students to play and be active. School districts are required by federal law, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), to provide handicap-accessible facilities. Pateros' older buildings have been out of compliance with this for some time, and temporary waivers have been granted as funding becomes available to make appropriate modifications. The elementary wing ADA access was completed a few years ago, but the K-12 music building remains out of compliance.

Clean-up, planting and beautification projects Arbor Day observance concludes week-long Community Roots campaign

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

PATEROS – Another successful Arbor Day observance - this one the most ambitious with five days of clean-up, planting and beautification projects - is in the books as the city concluded Earth & Arbor Day with an afternoon capstone event in Pateros Memorial Park last Friday afternoon, April 26.

Pateros Mayor Carlene Anders summarized some of the Community Roots activities that led up to Friday's finale, read the official Arbor Day Proclamation, and introduced the just-arrived 10 members of the eighth and final AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps team that will work on postwildfire restoration projects in and around Pateros Arbor Day was founded in 1872 in Nebraska with the planting of more than a million trees. So began a worldwide observance of the environmental benefits of trees and a participation by Pateros that has the city recognized as one of the state's 90 Tree Cities.

Pateros High School seniors Jahaira and Alondra Hernandez explained their week-long Earth Day Senior Project called Community Roots that included community clean-up, beautification with floral and tree plantings, and work at Alta Lake State Park with the Pateros sixth grade Outdoor Education class and other volunteers. Between Monday, April 22, and Thursday, April 25, volunteers picked up garbage around the city, planted flowers around downtown spaces like the Pateros Library, did weeding and trail work at Alta Lake State Park, and planted trees at the Pa-

A safe, secure option Three Rivers Hospital launches Drug Take-Back initiative

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

BREWSTER – A metal kiosk has been installed at Three Rivers Hospital (TRH) to allow area residents a free, safe and secure option to dispose of expired medications. It is located near the admitting desk in the emergency room at the northeast end of the building on 507 Hospital Way.

The kiosk is the result of a cooperative effort with the American Rx Group last year to bring the disposal program to Brewster. With funding from a $10,000 grant courtesy of the North Central Accountable Community of Health, TRH Chief Nursing Officer Gretchen Aguilar and Kevin Walker, PharmD, RPH, led the effort to provide the drug take-back service.

"In exchange for the grant, TRH pledged to provide a safe medication disposal method, provide community education about opioids, and increase access to naloxone, a synthetic drug used to help treat opioid addition," a TRH media release said.

The kiosk is locked and secured with a sign explaining which medications are acceptable and which are not.

"Permitted items include prescription pills, ointments, and patches; pet medications; vitamins; and over-the-counter medications," the release explained. "Items that cannot be dropped into the kiosk include syringes, inhalers, aerosol cans, thermometers, lotions or liquids, and hydrogen peroxide."

TRH Board Vice-Chair Vicki Orford was among the first to deposit expired medications into the kiosk for disposal.

"What a great service for our district," said Orford. "Not only can I get rid of my old prescriptions, but now I have

AmeriCorps NCCC team begins work assignments in Pateros. Twisp

BY MIKE MALTAIS STAFF WRITER

PATEROS – A 10-member team from the AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps arrived in Pateros last week to begin a three-month assignment that will see the Pacific Region Blue 7 team divide its work between the Okanogan County Long Term Recovery Group (OCLTRG) and TwispWorks in Twisp.

"To help OCLTRG and TwispWorks complete its mission, Blue 7 will assist in the completion of home rebuilds, work with homeowners/fire survivors to remove brush and replant yards as part of their "Green Again Campaign" in Pateros and assist in renovating and constructing a new building and work on improving the TwispWorks campus garden," a Blue 7 media release said.

TwispWorks is a 6.4-acre campus that formerly served at the Twisp headquarters for the U.S. Forest Service. It now serves as a community hub promoting and supporting the residents, businesses and industries in the Methow Valley.

"Blue 7 is thrilled to help OCLTRG and TwispWorks in their recovery and building efforts," said NCCC assistant team leader Martha Taylor. We have learned so much about Washington so far and feel welcomed by the wonderful community and our site sponsors."

Blue 7, is the eighth AmeriCorps NCCC team to volunteer with OCLTRG over the past five years. It will spend the first three-and-one-half weeks in Pateros before transitioning to Twisp.

"This is our last NCCC team having to do with the disaster,"

Local Emergency Planning Committees gather for semi-annual meeting

BY MIKE MALTAIS STAFF WRITER

OKANOGAN - The Local Emergency Planning Committees (LEPC) gathered for a meeting with the Okanogan County Department of Emergency Management on April 11 to discuss elements critical to the preparedness agenda of the local groups. More than two dozen agencies and organizations were represented for the two-hour meeting.

Among those making presentations at the LEPC gathering was Clay Thedy of the Army Corps of Engineers who reported that conditions looked good for minor to no flooding in Okanogan County in the months ahead. Dang emphasized that weather spotters are important in the county owing to mountain ranges that interfere with NOAA radar.

Emergency Management personnel endorsed that spring runoff shows no dangers of anticipated flooding but that plenty of sandbags are on hand at Okanogan County EM.

Ron Wonch of the Department of Natural Resources warned that wildfires are already kicking up. Precipitation levels are predicted to be well below normal in the county this year.

Tom Dang of the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) explained the NOAA weather systems, how his agency works and the difference between weather watches and warnings. Dang emphasized that weather spotters are important in the county owing to mountain ranges that interfere with NOAA radar.

Attendees were advised that local search and rescue is looking for volunteers. Those interested can email SAR@ co.okanogan.wa.us to learn more.

For latest county updates, citizens can check the Okanogan County Emergency Management Facebook page or call (509) 422-7206. OCEM is located at 123 Fifth Avenue North, Room 106, in Okanogan.

Director of Power Resources and Broadband Services Ron Gadeberg reported that the Nine Canyon Wind Project will not raise rates this year. Gadeberg said the district pays $69 per megawatt (MW) now, considering bonds scheduled to be paid off in 2023. Once that obligation is retired, power cost should decrease to about $25 per MW.

Gadeberg said he is in contact with Energy Northwest about possible grants to build electric vehicle charging stations in Okanogan County.

Information services manager Jerry Day reported that the district is investigating phone system upgrades and a program called Call Capture that would allow the district to outage or disconnect notices.

Brewster shuts out Tigers in battle of CW2B's top two teams

BREWSTER - The Central Washington 2B league's only two undefeated baseball teams met for the first time last Tuesday, April 23, when the 8-0 Bears hosted 9-0 Tonasket to decide who which would occupy the top spot in the standings at the end of the afternoon.

"This was one of the fastest games I have every been a part of as a coach," said Brewster head coach Todd Phillips when it was all over. "Knocked it out in an hour and five minutes.'

The Bears opened the scoring with four runs in the first inning, added seven more in the third and that was the ball game at the end of five innings.

"In the first...Joe Taylor reached base on an error and stole second," said Phillips. "(Corey) Jarrell walked and Connor Ashworth was hit by a pitch to load the bases."

Quincy Vassar singled to score two runs before Cade Gebbers drew a walk to reload them again. Ashworth scored from third on a wild pitch fol-

Tonasket:

Kade Kelpman doubled in two runs and Taylor's ground out scored another. Jarrell's out-ofthe-park shot, his first this year brought in the final two runs of the game.

"Quincy was very efficient on the mound averaging just over 10 pitches in an inning,"

"Next week's game with them is looking like it will decide who gets the number one seed into the district tournament," said Phillips. "If we take care of business this weekend, we will guarantee ourselves a spot in the state playoffs, but we have goals that are greater than that." For a team that finished second at state last year, it's not difficult to guess what one of those BRIDGEPORT - The Mustangs varsity boys' soccer team almost wore out the net on the goal defended by the visiting Oroville Hornets on Senior Night last Thursday, April 25.

Bridgeport scored four unanswered goals in the first half and added seven more in the second.

According to a report from Team spokesman Chris Gonzalez the scoring began when Diego Martinez scored with an assist from Christian Aguilar, Ramiro Espino scored with an assist from Alex Zarate, Rafael Martinez scored a goal, and Paul Torres scored with an assist from Jesus Valdovinos. In the second half Alexis Valdovinos scored a goal with an assist by Jesus Valdovinos, Osvaldo Orozco scored a goal, Alexis Valdovinos scored a goal, Christian Aguilar scored a goal with an assist from Jesus Valdovinos, Yair Diaz scored a goal with an assist by Jesus Valdovinos, Yair Diaz scored a goal, and the final goal was from Julio Sanchez with an assist by Tony Ruiz. The Mustangs honored 16 seniors for their hard work and dedication to the team.

In their final non-league on Saturday, April 27, the Mustangs outscored 1A Omak of the Caribou Trail League, 4-1 for an overall 12-1 record.

The Mustangs pushed their Central Washington 2B leagueleading record to 8-1, three games ahead of second-place Brewster. In their final nonleague game of the regular season the Mustangs hosted 1A Omak of the Caribou Trail League on Saturday, April 27, and won that match, 4-1.

Bridgeport was scheduled to meet Brewster on the road on Tuesday, April 30, for the final league game of the regular season.

In the third inning Ashworth led the charge with his third home run of the season. Vassar walked, then stole second and third bases. Gebbers walked and said Phillips. "That's what we want and expect out of our pitchers."

The coach said noted that while the Bears' bats were not exactly blazing, the team scored nearly every runner who reached base."

The Bears were scheduled to face the Tigers again at Tonasket, Tuesday, April 30. Brewster's final regular season opponent is Oroville for a doubleheader on Saturday, May 4.

BUILDING SINCE

BREWSTER - In what was almost a mirror outcome of the varsity boys' game against Tonasket last Tuesday, April 23, the Lady Bears shutout the Tonasket Lady Tigers, 12-0 in five innings to raise their league record to 10-1 atop the Central Washington 2B.

Behind the effective pitching of Sammi Emigh, base stealing on wild pitches, some key hits, and good defense, Brewster held the 9-3 Lady Tigers scoreless and shortened the game by two innings.

NFBA

Brewster was scheduled to play Tonasket on the road, Tuesday, April 30, followed by a non-league game at Omak on Friday, May 3.

As of this writing Brewster is 14-1 in league and 15-3 overall, five games ahead of secondplace Tonasket.

Little cowboys are already rodeo circuit veterans

From rough stock to roping

BY MIKE MALTAIS STAFF WRITER

NESPELEM -- Two grizzled veterans of the competition circuit were back in action last weekend when seven-year-old Louie Brotherton and his pal, six-year-old Koye Carrington, both of Brewster, turned out for multiple events at the annual Nespelem Junior Rodeo held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 26-28.

Brotherton, son of Levi and Amy Brotherton, and Carrington, son of Justin and Heather Carrington, competed in the PeeWee Division that offers five events for the six-toeight-year-old entrants: pole bending, barrel racing, goat flanking, dummy roping, and calf riding.

At first glance one would not take this pair to be other than your typical toad-handling, video-game-loving little boys, but the dinner-plate-sized trophy belt buckle worn by young Carrington and won in a roping event suggests something else entirely. Louie began competing three years ago in Caribou Trail junior Rodeo Association (CTJRA) events, according to his dad, and Koye two years ago. A photo on the group's web page, www.ctjra.com shows rows of young cowboys and cowgirls decked out in big hats and black jackets. The CTJRA season begins in April and includes five rodeos in Okanogan County through August: Tonasket (April), Nespelem (April), Omak (June), and Okanogan (June). Age divisions begin with the Little People, five and under, and go up from there to PeeWees (6-8), Juniors (9-11), Intermediate (12-14), and Seniors (15-18).

During the Nespelem Rodeo last weekend, Koye competed in the mounted events on Brumby, a five-year-old gelding that was a wild Colville Reservation mustang until he was captured and gelded before Levi Brotherton assumed ownership of the horse and broke him to ride. While he didn't break any speed records on the must ang-turned-saddlehorse, Koye completed the rounds.

"He didn't go very fast, but he did all the events and he did great," Brotherton said.

Louie rode Kid, a small quarter horse that his dad purchased "for a couple hundred dollars eight years ago," said Brotherton. "I gave him to Amy's dad who used him on the ranch."

Brewster head coach Todd Phillips said he is going to miss his senior team leaders.

"Quincy Vassar was an integral piece of our state championship run and continues to be an important cog in the machine," said Phillips. "Joe Taylor, Jeff Sonneman and Isaac Baker started playing on my legion team in seventh grade and have taken part in over 100 high school baseball wins."

Both games were played in less than ideal weather conditions with winds blowing over 20 miles per hour at times.

Phillips said the first game represented one of his team's better hitting performances of the season.

"Kade (Kelpman) did a great job on the mound." said Phillips. "We let some seniors play some positions they don't typically play so that required him to be very efficient. He worked fast and pumped strikes."

For the game, Taylor hit eight doubles, Ashworth four, and Kelly three. Sonneman had three triples and Kelly one.

Game two was another strong hitting performance for the Bears, said Phillips, who lauded the pitching performance of freshman AJ Woodward.

AJ was stellar on the mound. I thought he pitched a great game, only giving up four hits and I am especially pleased with the fact that he allowed zero walks," said Phillips. "He pitched to contact and trusted his defense to make plays behind him, which they did for the most part. AJ is going to be really good and you'll be hearing that name here a lot over the next few years," Phillips predicted.

Taylor connected on three triple-base hits and 11 doubles. Woodward had six doubles, Kelpman five, and McGuire four.

Brewster will close out its regular season with a DH on the road at Oroville on Saturday, May 4. District competition begins on May 11 at a place and date to be determined.

How to remove ear wax

Q: Which ear drops remove ear wax best?

Some people (like yours truly) are enthusiastic earwax producers and end up asking themselves this question frequently.

The medical name for earwax is cerumen, which comes from the Latin word 'cera", which means wax. But cerumen isn't really a "wax" at all. It's a sticky liquid secreted by the cells of the skin lining your ear canal, and it has an important job: protecting your eardrum by trapping dirt and dust as it works its way along the ear canal and eventually out of your ear. Along the way, earwax has an antimicrobial effect, which helps prevent infection of your ear canal.

Some people's earwax just flakes away and never causes any trouble. But for the rest of us, it can be an ongoing source of discomfort. In fact, problems with earwax are one of the most common reasons people make appointments to see their doctor.

Wearing hearing aids or ear buds increases production of ear wax and can block the normal movement of it out of your ear.

Cerumen trapped inside your ear canal can cause pressure, discomfort and hearing loss. Trying to remove ear wax by sticking cotton-tipped swabs or bobby pins into your ear canal forces it into a plug inside your ear, leading to pressure, pain and impaction.

The best way to remove ear wax is to soften the waxy plug so that it can come out on its own or be flushed out.

There are two main types of cerumen removal drops: oil-based and water-based. Oil-based "drops" include olive oil, coconut oil, and almond oil, while saline, hydrogen peroxide, glycerin, and docusate are water-based earwax softeners.

There isn't any one best ear drop for ear wax removal. A recent systematic review of products used to remove ear wax showed no clear differences between the oil-based and water-based products.

The 3 top earwax removal drops in the United States are 6.5% solutions of carbamide peroxide, available as Debrox®, Murine® and NeilMed ClearCanal®. According to a 2018 survey from US News and World Report and Pharmacy Times, 96% of American pharmacists surveyed recommend carbamide peroxide drops to soften ear wax, while the other 4% recommended glycerin drops.

Carbamide peroxide reacts with earwax to release oxygen, creating foam that liquefies the cerumen and helps it rinse away. I stopped using Debrox® because of the annoying crackling and popping sounds and unbearable tickling sensation inside my ear canal. Docusate sodium (Waxsol®) ear drops are used to soften earwax in the UK. Docusate is a stool softener or lubricant laxative, pulling liquid into hard stool to make it softer and easier to eliminate. It's believed to do the same thing to impacted cerumen. In our clinic we use docusate liquid in the ear first for 1-3 days, then flush the ear canal with warm water.

I currently use docusate 250mg capsules, snipping a hole in the end and squeezing out the contents into my ear canal, repeating up to three times a day for one or two days. The softened earwax can be flushed out gently with warm water in a bulb syringe or by rinsing it out during a warm shower.

Placing the nose of the bulb syringe along the top of the ear canal rather than in the middle helps chunks of ear wax escape. Avoid "power washing", as you can damage your ear drum with too much pressure.

Dry your ears out afterward by tipping your head and blotting with a towel, using a hair dryer on a low setting, or using ear drops designed to dry up water in your ear, Swim-Ear®, like which contains isopropyl alcohol and anhydrous glycerin.

Here Are 5 Tips to Combat Earwax:

1. Don't push cotton-tipped swabs, bobby pins or rolled napkins into your ear.

They only force ear wax further inside your ear canal, leading to impaction and pressure, pain and muffled hearing.

2. Both oil-based and waterbased drops can help soften cerumen.

It's often a trial and error process to find something that works for you.

3. Avoid using eardrops if you have ear pain, bleeding or any discharge from your ear.

Call your doctor instead. You could have an external ear infection, which requires a very different approach.

4. Don't use a Water Pik® or high-powered device to flush out your ears.

Too much pressure can damage your eardrum or force fluid past it, triggering an inner ear infection.

5. Use warm water when flushing.

Cold water is uncomfortable and can cause problems with your balance.
