Pateros School approves levy, requests property rezone

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

PATEROS - The School Board unanimously approved Resolution 287 to authorize a ballot measure for a two-year capital levy to appear on the April 2019 election. The levy seeks funds for health and safety improvements to elementary learning areas including the construction of a covered play area. It would also fund renovation of the second-floor gymnasium and add a disability ramp to the music room. Ballots including the levy measure will be mailed to voters in the first week of April.

School board members also voted to request a zoning change for property it owns along U.S. 97 from light industrial to public use. The Pateros Planning Commission is reviewing property zoning within the city limits, so the board decided it is the opportune time to request the change.

School superintendent Greg Goodnight requested the zoning change to better align the property with the objectives of the school district.

One proposal for the eight-acre tract is to use the land for practice and playing fields for school sports. Currently the baseball and softball teams are limited to using the same field for practices and games.

Last fall the school added a varsity girls soccer team that presents increased demands for practice and game space.

"In 2013 the school board conducted an extensive study associated with a bond proposal that didn't pass," said Goodnight. "We can refer back to those studies as part of our decision process."

In other business, the school board approved hiring Shane Kelly as the head coach for boys' varsity baseball, and Jesse Villalobos as head coach for varsity boys' soccer. The board also approved hiring Teagan Straub as the new head coach for junior high girls' volleyball. Pateros spring sports begin on Feb. 25.

BREWSTER - Officers from the Brewster Chamber of Commerce appeared before the City Council on Wednesday, Feb. 13, to make their case for the city to provide a location on city property to hold the Culpepper & Merriweather Circus scheduled to visit on June 6.

At their February meeting on the previous Wednesday, Feb. 6, Chamber members were advised by Brewster Public Works Director Lee Webster that some council members were concerned about potential liability issues connected with holding the circus on city property.

Chamber president Anna Marie Dalbey told council members that she polled other cities in the county that host the annual circus and received not only good reports about the event but also a consensus that they

Pateros FFA students learn through new project challenges

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

PATEROS – Everywhere one turns in the Pateros High School shop there are projects of one sort or another underway. And those are in addition to the community service work that instructor Lyle Blackburn's FFA and Ag students take on.

The group recently completed a series of road marker signs delivered to the Alta Lake State Park that is still recovering from the 2014 Carlton Complex wildfire, the state's second largest, that burned through the area. Prior to the road signs, the Pateros shop students took on a multi-year project to restore or rebuild all the picnic tables the park lost in the fire.

No challenge is too large for Blackburn's class to take on as evidenced by a number of old tractors – classics actually – that the students restored. The latest project is a rare 1971 Ford short box pickup that received a new Chev 427 cubic-inch engine to replace the original 350 V-8 that was the stock powerplant. Still ahead is exterior restoration of the vehicle's black paint job and other work.

Elsewhere in the wood-working department sits an upright piano partially stripped of its coating of light green paint. The students will restore the piece to its original wood finish for a local client. Another customer asked the woodworkers to convert a round oak dining table to a low-profile coffee table.

The Pateros FFA students are effective fundraisers with their barbecue grill a regular fixture at many of the community events in their town. The group also collects aluminum cans at recycle bins located in town and at nearby Alta Lake.

Shop students modified this dining table by lowering it to the height of a coffee table for a client.

CTE Grant gives Bridgeport Ag program a boost

By MIKE MALTAIS

BRIDGEPORT – For a school with a modest student body, Bridgeport enjoys a large participation in its agriculture-related programs. One big reason is the variety of skillsets the students learn that are of valuable use later in their everyday adult lives.

Bridgeport High School

Ag teacher and FFA advisor Adam Corum said he has some 129 students enrolled in his FFA and ag classes, so it takes a leader who knows his business to keep everyone engaged and productive. Corum is in his ninth year with the Bridgeport program and spent another four at Tonasket High School where he was an alumnus.

The largest annual fundraiser and the spring event anticipated by local gardeners is the school's annual greenhouse plant sale that is scheduled this year for Friday, April 26. The Ag students started planting on Jan. 9 to have their selections ready for the big sale.

"All of our plants are grown from seed and we receive our seeds from Ball Seeds," said Corum. "We are focusing on our baskets this year as well as bedding plants and a variety of vegetables."

The plant sales proceeds pay to send many of the FFA chapter students to the annual state FFA convention scheduled for May 9-11 in Pullman. Funds from previous sales even helped fund a trip to the National FFA Convention in Indianapolis in 2017. A goal this year is to raise enough money for a 2019 trip to National.

A big boost to the school ag program came from a Career and Technological Education (CTE) grant from the state Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) earlier this year. CTE grants allow schools to invest in their high-demand career and technical programs through facilities upgrades, equipment purchases, and other actions.

Bridgeport received $65,000 that the ag students put to good use renovating the Ag greenhouse and purchasing shop equipment.

"We poured a new concrete floor in the greenhouse," said Corum, "and bought a plasma cutter for the shop."

Brewster FFA promotes shop, horticulture and community projects

BY MIKE MALTAIS

BREWSTER – Brewster High School always has a large turnout of students for its multi-faceted FFA-Ag-Horticulture-Shop programs under the guidance of instructor Todd Dezellem. With the annual plant sales, fair entries, community activities and individual/school projects there is always something innovative and productive going on between the greenhouse and shop.

Once again, this year students fashioned custom-order floral bouquets for Valentine's Day and other occasions.

Ag advisor Todd Dezellem always has a robust plant production project for his Ag class. Plantings begin early in the year from their own stocks to be ready in time for the spring greenhouse sales and sales tables at community events like Arbor Day in nearby Pateros.

The class has also been working with the Brewster Boys and Girls Club on a raised bed garden for the youngsters.

Brewster boasts a strong participation in the annual Okanogan County Fair held every September with a mix of steer and hog entries in the livestock division.

Students are also putting the finishing touches on a new garden shed that will help accommodate the school's ambitious horticulture operation.

Through the Greenhouse Buddy Partnership, students share their skills and experience with a group of kindergarteners.

MANSFIELD - Unique among the four schools in the Quad coverage area, Mansfield High School boasts a school farm on ground adjacent to the school building. The farm is still in the process of adding facilities as the demand for student projects determines. "Our farm has progressed very well," said Ag instructor Jamey Jo Steele. "We now have six pig pens and one goat pen. Over the years, we have purchased new self-feeders for each pig pen and build a pretty nice water system as well."

Steele said the next phase of farm building will include a permanent area to set up a set of digital livestock scales for the school purchased to facilitate weighing animals.

"We also have hopes to build some type of roof, Quonset hut, barn over the top of our existing pens."

Steele said the school enjoys a good turnout for its Ag and FFA programs.

"We have 18 active members in our FFA Chapter this year," said Steele. "Eight of them are returning and 10 are new. That is 60 percent of our 9-12 population."

Mansfield students patronize the North Central Washington Fair in nearby Waterville.

"Last August we had four members with pigs, one member with a goat, and one member with a steer," said Steele. "I would imagine this year we will see the same with a few more pig projects."

FFA Week from Saturday, Feb. 16 through Saturday, Feb. 23, is always a big event at this small student body located in the heart of wheat country. Among events planned as the high school again this year are a staff breakfast, Ag Olympics, and Dress Up Days. The staff breakfast is on Friday, Feb. 22. Ag Olympics involve competition between the classes in Ag-like events.

Last month the FFA group hosted a Silent Auction and Pie Sale at the Jan. 26 Homecoming festivities.

would welcome them for a return visit.

“I can sympathize with both sides because I’ve been there,” said council member Avis Erickson who recalled her interaction with the council as a community activist prior to being elected to the council.

City clerk/treasurer Misty Ruiz explained that the city secures its insurance coverage from the Washington Cities Insurance Authority (WCIA) a liability and property self-insurance pool formed in 1981 that now has more than 150 municipal members. Ruiz said the coverage limitations of the pool and other policy stipulations raise concerns on the part of risk managers whenever an event carries a higher potential for injuries or mishaps.

As the suggestion that the circus might use the school soccer field, council member

John Housden pointed out that a prior agreement between the city and Brewster School District restricted the site’s use outside of soccer activities. Several council members also noted that the field is fragile in its current state and the city and school are trying to restore its playing surface.

Webster noted that with a few days of cleanup work the acreage along Sunset Avenue the city recently purchased as a well site could be suitable in time to allow the circus to locate there. Following some discussion, the council voted to authorize Mayor Art Smyth to evaluate developments on the property and make the final decision on its suitability for the circus.

One element of the circus attractions, however, the inflatable bouncy house and inflatable slide, may be banned from use due to the list of stipulations the insurance coverage requires before approval.

Presidential candidate tax returns, felon voting, and campaign finance topic of proposed house legislation

- Petitions for a convention of states to amend the constitution
- Would require presidential candidates to release tax returns before primary
- Would automatically restore felons’ voting rights when released

By EMMA EPPERLY
WNPA OLYMPIA NEWS BUREAU

A measure calling for a constitutional amendment and laws that would tackle felon voting, campaign finance, and presidential candidate tax returns came in front of the House Committee on State Government and Tribal Relations, Friday.

House Bill 1924 would automatically restore voting rights to felons following their release from department of corrections custody. Representative Laurie Dolan, D-Olympia, is the prime sponsor of the bill.

Sam Merrill, a representative of Quaker Voice on Washington Public Policy, testified in support of the bill saying that it would simplify the process of restoring rights to citizens.

James Paribello of the Washington Voting Justice Coalition testified in support of the bill saying, “The Voting Justice Coalition strongly believes in the restoration of voting rights for those persons released from the department of corrections as the next moves towards a more just society.”

HB 1698 would require presidential candidates to release their federal income tax returns 63 days before the primary. Sponsored by Democratic representatives only, the bill would require at least the last five years of tax returns and would allow the secretary of state to redact confidential information. If candidates do not comply they would not appear on the primary ballot.

Jay Jennings from the Secretary of State’s Office testified that the bill could be seen as an attempt to amend the US Constitution through state law and would probably result in significant legal action.

Carol Butterfield of Seattle read a statement in support of the bill written by Jeffrey M. Feldman, an attorney and professor at the University of Washington Law School. In Feldman’s statement, he implied that this is a legal action that would hold up in court.

Citizen activist, Sue Edwards, who in 2017 wrote Initiative 912, which never advanced to appear on a ballot but required the same thing as HB 1698, testified in support of the bill.

House Joint Memorial 4004 asks the United States Congress and the President to call a convention of states to amend the constitution to limit independent political spending on campaigns.

The Supreme Court’s ruling in the Citizens United vs. Federal Election Commission case in 2010 removed restrictions on spending that “resulted in the unjust influence of powerful economic forces,” according to the memorial. Representative Marcus Riccelli, D-Spokane, is the prime sponsor. The bill has no Republican sponsors.

Representative Sherry Appleton D-Poulsbo, noted that there have been a significant number of requests for a convention in the past and one has yet to happen. A request for a convention must be made by two-thirds of the states on the same subject for a convention to be called.

Mike Monetta, the national director of Wolf-PAC, an organization working to amend the constitution on the issue, testified in support of the resolution.

Seattle resident Stephen Richter testified in opposition of the bill. Richter said he is fearful that a convention of states would turn into a “runaway convention” making changes not relevant to the purpose of the convention.

Testimony on the memorial continued for almost an hour. HJM 4004 is scheduled for executive session on February 19.

Pateros Billygoats pull down second in CW1B District

On to Regionals

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

EPHRATA – The Pateros Billygoats varsity basketball team placed second in the Central Washington 1B District tournament last week and won a spot as the No. 2 seed in Regional play coming up this weekend.

Pateros lost its opening round by a goat hair, to Moses Lake Christian, 67-66, in the opening round of Districts on Feb. 13. The Billygoats split two regular season games against MLCA, winning the first 68-51, but losing the second by a single point, 65-64.

“We played tough but came up short,” said head coach Marcus Stennes of the District match. “We had a chance to tie but couldn’t get it done.”

MLCA led 17-14 after the first quarter but the Billygoats caught them in a 21-point second quarter surge and 35-30 halftime lead. The Lions closed the gap by a point at the end of the third and managed to out-score Pateros 20-18 in the final quarter to win.

Andrew Gonzales with 18 points, Sam Larsen with 14, and Aiden Hall with 10 led the team in double-digit scoring.

Entiat falls

Pateros defeated Entiat, 69-51, in the semifinals on Feb. 14, after the Tigers lost opening round game to league champion Riverside Christian. Entiat is another team that split two regular season games with Pateros, winning the first 57-42 and losing the second, 54-52.

“We were able to extend our season another game with a win over Entiat,” said Stennes. “We came out cold but had a 19-point second quarter to give us the lead at half.”

During that turning-point quarter the Billygoats out-rebounded Entiat and took away any second shots on offense. The win also advanced Pateros into the second spot at Regional competition.

Ethan Freels and Gonzalez led the Billygoats with 25 and 12 points respectively. Ivan Ceniceros pulled down 12 rebounds and had five steals.

Win over MLCA

A 60-52 rematch win over Moses Lake Christian cinched second place in District for Pateros.

“We had a huge second quarter only allowing them to score five points, which gave us the lead at half,” said Stennes. “We limited their two best players in the second half to 11 points which helped us get the win.”

Freels and Larsen led the charge with 16 and 14 points respectively.

Regional competition for Pateros begins on Feb. 22 or 23 at a time and place to be determined.

CHELAN – The Brewster Lady Bears took home second place in the District 5/6 2B basketball championships following a 62-43 loss to Pasco’s Tri-Cities Prep at Chelan High School on Saturday, Feb. 16.

Brewster stayed with TCP through the first quarter trailing the Lady Jaguars 17-13, but already TCP’s standout sophomore Talia von Oelhoffen was making her presence felt. The 2018 National Athletic Association of Private Schools Division 3 Player of the Year hit a pair of three-pointers on her way to scoring 12 of TCP’s 17 first-quarter points.

Brewster’s Michaun Kelpman with seven points, Kim Nila with four, and Kelsey Ochoa with two, kept the Central Washington 2B League champs in contention.

The Lady Bears lost a little ground in the second quarter but still remained within striking distance, 29-22, at the end of the first half. Ochoa with a pair of threes and Mikenna Kelpman with a single kept Brewster close. Brewster was missing the services of Brooklyne Boesel who is recovering from a concussion

In the third quarter, the undefeated Lady Jaguars, ranked first in the top state 2B standings, logged their best quarter outscoring Brewster by 13, 20-7, taking a 49-29 lead into the final eight minutes. Von Oelhoffen added another 12 points to her game-high 35 as TCP held the lead through the 62-43 final.

Von Oelhoffen led all scorers with 35 points. Michaun Kelpman and Kelsey Ochoa led Brewster with 13 apiece.

In other district 5/6 playoff action, Liberty Bell defeated Lake Roosevelt, 45-26, for third place while Mabton outlasted Waterville-Mansfield for the fifth and final trophy.

The Lady Bears, with a No. 10 RPI ranking as of Monday, Feb. 18, will play in Regional competition, Friday, Feb. 22, at a time and location to be determined.

Brewster stings Hornets in 2B District 5/6 playoff

Editors Note: The Central Washington 2B League co-champion Brewster Bears battled defending two-time state champion Kittitas down to the wire in a 67-55 loss in District 5/6 competition at Chelan Community Gym Friday night, Feb. 15. (See story at www.qcherald.com) They then faced league co-

CHELAN – The Brewster

Bears varsity basketball team tied up third place in the 2B District 5/6 basketball playoffs with a 66-49 win over co-league champion Oroville on Saturday, Feb. 16.

Brewster was coming off the previous day’s 67-55 loss to eventual District champion Kittitas while Oroville lost to Lake Roosevelt, 55-31 in the semifinal round.

The Bears won the game in the first two quarters of play by outscoring Oroville by a wide enough margin that near-equal scoring in the second half did not allow the Hornets to make up any lost ground. Five Bears scored in the first quarter to give Brewster a 15-7 advantage.

Joe Taylor, Isaac Baker and Ricky Vazquez had a solid second quarter and helped put 21 more points on the board while Oroville barely broke double-digits with 10. The 19-point 36-17 lead sustained the Bears through the second half when the Hornets outscored Brewster by a point in both the third and fourth quarters.

Taylor, Baker, Cade Gebbers and Connor Ashworth all hit in double figures in the win. Anthony Jamison and Spencer Martin led Oroville with 14 and 13 points respectively. Brewster and Oroville ended the regular season with matching 14-2 records to share the Central Washington 2B League championship.

In other District 5/6 playoff action, Kittitas downed Lake Roosevelt, 65-48 for the District title. White Swan edged Tri-Cities Prep, 53-30 for fifth place.

The Bears with a Rating Percentage Index (RPI) ranking of No. 5, play in Regional competition on Friday, Feb. 22, at a time and place to be determined.

A new ministry is coming to Pateros Sunday, March 3

SUBMITTED BY LA IGLESIA TRIUNFANTE/THE TRIUMPHANT CHURCH OF PATEROS

PATEROS - La Iglesia Triunfante/The Triumphant Church of Pateros will be launched on Sunday, March 3, 2019, at 2 p.m.

The start up church will be using the facilities of the United Methodist Church, 124 Dawson Street, Pateros, and will be pastored by Brother Jesus Granados and his wife Sandra. They are being sent in as the local pastors of the church by Apostle Timothy Rambo, Senior Leader of the Strategic Life Center of Auburn, Wash.

Pastor Granados says of the event: "My wife and I are eternally grateful to Pastor Richard W. Curtis, the church's board of elders and congregation of the United Methodist Church for their kind gesture of brotherly love in allowing us to launch this ministry there. We have certainly felt their gracious welcome."

La Iglesia Triunfante/The Triumphant Church of Pateros will minister primarily to the Hispanic community of the region, but, Pastor Granados, having pastored bilingual congregations says "Everyone is welcome."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Deception

Planned Parenthood—sounds warm and fuzzy, but in fact it is Planned Extermination—not so warm and fuzzy.

These days an unborn baby's most dangerous place is in its mother's womb, especially if you are poor and a minority. It is no accident many Planned Parenthood clinics are located close to poor and minority communities. Don't be deceived. Planned Parenthood was founded on the idea of creating a voluntary means of lowering the number of the poor and minorities.

And our government gives Planned Parenthood our tax dollars to kill babies and sell their body parts. There has never in the history of the world been a more diabolical plan by a species than to consciously murder its innocent babies by the millions (60+ million to date) and make money from their dead bodies.

But wait, there's more. Planned Parenthood kicks back millions of dollars in campaign contributions to the politicians who support Planned Parenthood, which is a deceptive way for politicians to access federal tax dollars. It's blood money, there's no other way to describe it.

Knowing all this, how does Planned Parenthood continue to exist?

Ladies, you could shut Planned Parenthood down cold if you would refuse to choose abortion as your means of birth control.

There are free organizations willing and able to help women and their families deal with unplanned pregnancies (Care Net here in Okanogan County). Please—choose life.

Icicle Fund accepting grant applications

SUBMITTED BY ICICLE FUND

LEAVENWORTH - The Icicle Fund is now accepting applications for Initiative and Strategic Project grants. The deadline for both programs is March 4. The Fund awards grants to non-profit organizations who develop North Central Washington as a region where nature, the arts, and the area's natural and human history encourage appreciation, understanding and stewardship of this special place. The Fund supports organizations in Chelan, Douglas, Okanogan and Grant counties.

The Fund values projects and initiatives that foster a collaborative atmosphere, connect all peoples to place, and are aligned with the Icicle Fund mission. Through collaboration, the Icicle Fund increases the impact of organizations across this region. When mutually beneficial, exploration of collaborative relationships with one or more of the six Icicle Fund lead organizations is encouraged. Initiative Grants are single-year grants of up to $7,500. The Fund's goal is to contribute to smaller organizations' ability to fill gaps in the community in the areas of arts, environment, and history. Project goals should be accomplished within the 1-year grant period. Strategic Project grants are one or two-year grants of $15,000 or more. Grants are given to innovative, inspiring, and impactful organizations and projects in the areas of arts, environment, and history in NCW. The program goal is to enable organizations to work on a particular mission-centered and strategic project to create a significant, long-term impact on the organization and its local or regional community.

Additional information and application instruction can be found at www.iciclefund.org

Twenty years ago, the Icicle Fund was established by Harriet Bullitt. Today, the Fund remains committed to a sense of place as central to its mission. It is this belief that strong connections to the land and the communities in which we live are nurtured through artistic expression and imagination, an understanding of our past, and experience in and love for our natural landscapes and wildlife.

Proposals due April 17, 2019

SUBMITTED BY USFS

From Feb. 6 through April 17, volunteer organizations, interest groups, local governments, and others can once again submit a proposal for forest improvement projects.
