Take a hike on New Year's Day

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

PATEROS/BRIDGEPORT – Got any plans for New Year's Day? How does a nature hike at two area state parks sound?

Alta Lake and Bridgeport State Parks are offering comprehensive hikes with park rangers at both locations at 1 p.m., Jan. 1.

Bridgeport State Park at 235A Half Sun Way, comprises more than 600 acres and 7,500 feet of shoreline along Rufus Woods behind Chief Joseph Dam.

Alta Lake State Park accessible via Otto Road two miles southwest of Pateros, is a 181-acre site on the north end of 220-acre Alta Lake.

Hikers will meet at the park welcome booths. Alta Lake's is at the park entrance and Bridgeport's is a short distance past the entrance gate.

The treks are of moderate difficulty and hikers are advised to dress for the weather conditions. That

BBGC offers Christmas Break Camp

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

BREWSTER – The Brewster Boys and Girls Club (BBGC) at 601 W. Cliff Avenue, is offering area students an opportunity to participate in Christmas Break Camp over the Christmas-New Year holidays.

The camp runs from Wednesday, Dec. 26 through Monday, Jan. 7, and is open to youngsters from the Brewster, Pateros, and Bridgeport school districts and local community Christian schools. Christmas break for Brewster and Pateros is 12 days long. Bridgeport's is nine days.

Parents can choose from two options: $100 per child or $175 per family for all 12 days and $75 per child or $135 per family for nine days. The BBGC will be closed on Dec. 24-25, and Jan. 1, so campers on those days must bring their own lunches. A snack will be provided.

Drop-ins are welcome at $20 per day.

Activities aplenty including arts and crafts, snowman building, cookie decorating, indoor snowball fight, gym games, snow painting, Woo-Ville Hair Day and more will keep campers occupied.

For more information call (509) 689-1192 or email hcarrington@bgcsc.org.

Families flock to Cops & Kids, Christmas Shop, Winter Carnival

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

BREWSTER – If there was anything missing from last Saturday's Cops & Kids, Christmas Shop and Winter Carnival at the Brewster Boys and Girls Club, the youngsters apparently didn't notice.

The three-hour extravaganza opened its doors at 10 a.m. for youngsters and adults alike to meet Santa Claus, shop for gifts from the $1 Kids' and Adults' Shops, create at the craft tables, participate in a variety of games, enjoy refreshments, meet local and state law enforcement officers, and have an all-around good time.

Christmas Shop spokeswoman Avis Erickson said the proceeds from this year's gift shops will be reinvested toward next season's event with the goal of having an even larger selection of $1 presents for shoppers.

The festivities included a kids' Snow Safety Poster with the best ideas and designs winning new sleds provided by the Brewster Marketplace Pharmacy and Hardware.

Santa Claus comes to Bridgeport in a big way

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

BRIDGEPORT – With bells, lights, and fanfare, Santa Claus came to Bridgeport on Monday, Dec. 10, where youngsters by the scores awaited his arrival at downtown Buska Park.

City council member Anthony Jenkins, who oversaw this year's celebration, said more than 150 youngsters along with parents turned out for the gifts, refreshments and fun at the park.

"It was very cold, and we had a little snow," said Jenkins. "This was my first time overseeing the event, so it was a learning curve for me."

The little ones didn't need a learning curve to welcome Santa and Mrs. Claus who arrived on a light-studded fire truck and posed for photos with the kids.

Along with gifts that Jenkins helped hand out, each child received a Build-

Fake news: Flushable wipes DO NOT plug sewer systems

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

day, Dec. 12.

BREWSTER – Last week, public works staffers found an interesting phenomenon in the bowels of the city's sewer system, and Public Works Director Lee Webster was so impressed with the discovery that he told members of the city council at their regular monthly meeting on Wednes-

"Long story short, a whole bunch of wipes plugged up a section of the collection system on Indian and Fourth, which is our force main," said Webster, "and we had probably somewhere between 50,000 and 100,000 gallons of sewage backed up and holding in the collection system."

Smaller blockages were also found in a residential section of Douglas Avenue and at Plaza Way.

Webster said his crew is investigating the possible sources of the wipes and plan to perform some community outreach to educate users on other disposal options.

"The whole wipe thing; just because it says 'flushable' does not mean it's flushable," said Webster. "You can flush a freakin' pillow case, but it doesn't mean it's flushable."

"That was kind of a big deal," said Webster of the size of the obstacle. "You lift a manhole cover and you know it's 14 feet to the bottom and it's right there."

Thanks to a newer vacuum truck equipped high-pressure water nozzle called a jet rodder, city crews were able to break through the large obstruction after repeated attempts.

"I don't think the old rodder we had could have done it," Webster said.

Globs of flushable wipes have been making news for years in cities around the country and in other counties.

Chelan Fruit Cooperative board | Area stakeholders share experiences names Mark Stennes as interim CEO effective Jan. 1

Reggie Collins, current CEO to transition to advisory position

Submitted by CHELAN FRUIT COOPERATIVE

CHELAN, WASH., December 14, 2018 - Today, Chelan Fruit Cooperative board of directors announced that chief executive officer Reggie Collins will transition from his current position to an advisory position effective Jan. 1, 2019. He will also work with Chelan Fresh Marketing on business and strategic opportunities.

Collins joined the cooperative in 2000, starting as the assistant general manager and ascending to the position of CEO in 2004. One of his first acts as CEO was to merge Trout - Blue Chelan with the Brewster, WA cooperative MAGI. The merger created one of the largest apple, pear and cherry cooperatives in the industry. Collins was also instrumental in the creation of Chelan Fresh Marketing with Gebbers Farms.

Chelan Fruit's board of directors has selected Mark Stennes, the company's assistant general manager, to the position of interim chief executive officer, effective Jan. 1, 2019.

"I am delighted that Mark will become our company's interim CEO," said Dave Robison, Chelan Fruit vice chairman. "He has demonstrated exceptional leadership in his roles leading the operations of our company, and he brings the vision and values to lead Chelan Fruit into the future."

"I look forward to leading Chelan Fruit and driving performance for all our growers; working with our employees, our customers, and our growers as we move our company forward," said Stennes.

"The board of directors has a strong focus on succession planning, and Mark's selection enables us to ensure a seamless transition in this important leadership position for our company," said Marrian Peebles, Chelan Fruit's chairman of the board. "The board appreciates the tremendous progress the company has made under Reggie's leadership and we look forward to building on this progress with Mark as our interim CEO."

Emergency Management convenes all-hazards LEPC conference

By MIKE MALTAIS STAFF WRITER

OKANOGAN - County stakeholders whose jobs are to respond to natural and manmade emergencies gathered in the Okanogan County Commissioners' hearing office on Wednesday, Dec. 12, to share stories and information at the bi-annual all-hazards Local Emergency Planning Committee (LEPC) meeting.

Host Maurice Goodall, manager of the Okanogan County Emergency Management office brought the key players together to get to know one another and better define "who's who and who to reach out to" when an emergency occurs.

Okanogan County is preparing to launch its All Hazards Mitigation Plan update, so Goodall is reaching out to area communities and agencies for their cooperation and input.

Joining Goodall was Kent Catline, Washington State Emergency Management HazMat Planning Program Manager, who described his job as "assisting Emergency Managers in Central Washington State with hazardous materials issues."

Catline explained that LEPCs, now required in every U.S. county, stem from a federal mandate that resulted from the 1984 Union Carbide-Bhopal, India, lethal gas leak and, closer to home, the 1978 Love Canal chemical dumpsite disaster in Niagara Falls, New used to address an environmental disaster.

The LEPC mandate, like many that originate at the state and federal level, came with no funding "so it was left with the local communities to sort it out," said Catline, "which makes it a challenge especially for small emergency management agencies like those in most of Central Washington to make do."

Over the years the LEPC has evolved to handle all hazards, natural as well as man-made and thereby address wildfire, floods, active shooters and similar occurrences.

Goodall reviewed the many avenues his office is taking to get county residents involved and keep them informed of both emergency and nonemergency developments. Prominent among those is the Okanogan County Alert System that provides subscribers time-sensitive advisories of hazards affecting specific home addresses or workplaces.

To subscribe to the service, visit www. okanogandem.org and click on the Alert System icon to optin or update your account. Subscribers should annually update or verify account information. Other features on the site include an interactive county map and alert notifications in English and Spanish.

Text notifications issued anywhere in Okanogan County are available by texting OKCOUNTY to 888777. For notifications in Spanish text OKESP to 888777. For advisories about a specific county city or town, text its zip code to 888777. To terminate notifications

Other speakers at the LEPC meeting included Darren Johnson of Tonasket Public Works who described the city's response to an oil contamination spill in its wastewater system last November. Brewster Council approves Title 17 zoning code adjustments

By Mike Maltais STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER - Acting on a recommendation from the city planning commission, the city council approved a resolution containing additions and changes to provisions of Title 17 Zoning in the Brewster Municipal Code (BMC) at its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 12. The new language addresses the status of nonconforming residential structures located within the C1 Commercial, and Heavy Industrial (HI) zones and eases restrictions on what can be done with them.

City attorney Chuck Zimmerman explained that the measures before the council defined dormitory housing and manipulated the language for nonconforming use for homeowners who want to sell their homes, obtain second mortgages, or rebuild after damage can do so.

Zimmerman said that unlike a decade ago when the city's goal was to try to get everything to conform, the current housing shortage puts a premium on the availability of shelter. Under the previous code language, homeowners in the affected zones had prohibitions on remodeling and replacement of nonconforming structures to the extent that commercial lenders would not finance them. The new language makes these structures once again accept-was denied financing and the sale fell through. Responding to concerns of residents who sought redress of an earlier zoning change that restricted what they could do with their properties, the planning commission convened to correct the problem. Over the course of two meetings in October and

November the planning commission revisited the BMC and suggested alterations to the provisions that would resolve the obstacles to future uses of nonconforming structures. City officials conof the planning sulted several local lenders to confirm that the proposed changes would satisfy financing concerns.

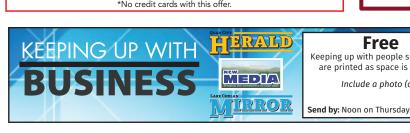

> A final step involves submission of the changes to the Washington State Department of Commerce for its review and comment.

Homeowner Ron Paslay, whose house at 410 Lakeview Drive lies within the C1 zone, inquired what the consequences of the Commerce Department's might be.

Zimmerman predicted that any comment or objection by the state is unlikely and an ordinance should be returned and be eligible for enactment within the next 60 days.

Keeping up with people submissions are printed as space is available.

City authorizes purchase of Sunset Drive well site property

By Mike Maltais STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER-The City Council authorized $155,000 plus some extra funds for the purchase of a nearly five-acre tract of land for a new city water well site during its regular monthly meeting last Wednesday, Dec.

The target property owned by Brewster businessman Said Velasco is 4.7 acres at 1108 Sunset Drive adjacent to the Brewster High School soccer

City officials approached Velasco in November 2017 with a proposal to acquire a portion of his property for one of its new well sites as part of its comprehensive water system upgrade. At the time of the initial discussions, Velasco had four seasonal renters on the property and intended to subdivide the parcel for a possible home site.

Said Velasco

After the city drilled a pilot well and performed tests to assess water quality, representatives advised Velasco that the city wanted to purchase the entire 4.7-acre plot.

At their December meeting, city attorney Chuck Zimmerman advised council members that a MAI (Member of Appraisal Institute) appraisal from Pacific Appraisal Associates of Wenatchee resulted in an appraised value of $145,000 for Velasco's property.

A second appraisal performed by a real estate agent on Velasco's behalf produced a market estimate between $145,000 and $155,000 for the parcel. Negotiations between city officials and Velasco settled on the $155,000 purchase price.

All but one resident who occupied the site have since moved, so the city has arranged to compensate the remaining occupant $2,000 in relocation

At Zimmerman's recommendation, council members voted to authorize Mayor Art Smith to sign a purchase and sale agreement to purchase the property and pay the additional $2,000 relocation costs.

Money for the purchase will come from the city's water

OBITUARY & MEMORIAL POLICIES

NCW MEDIA, INC.

An obituary is a way for family member(s) to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the larger community of the deceased. Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data.

Memorials are another way of letting the community know about the life and memories of the person who has died. A Memorial is different from an obituary. An obituary is usually current while a memorial can be written later.

Obituaries and memorials need to be typed and emailed no later than Friday by 4:00 p.m. to be placed in the next available issue(s). Please call for cost of an obituary and which NCW paper(s) that it will be placed in to.

Cost of the obituary/ memorial is due at the time of placement. Funeral homes and chapels can submit obituaries by Noon on Monday, unless a holiday.

Obituaries are priced per word while Memorial ads are per column-inch. For info call Ruth 509-682-2213, or email ruthk@lakechelanmirror.com

Bears basketball teams come off the road to host Raiders

Bridgeport teams battle tough league opponents this season

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

CHELAN - Following a narrow loss to Oroville, 48-45, on Dec. 7, the Brewster Bears rebounded with a convincing 57-26 win over Liberty Bell on the road, Tuesday, Dec. 11. The second of three road games against Chelan last Friday, Dec. 14, didn't go Brewster's way as the Goats pulled out a nine-point, 69-60 win. The Bears were scheduled to meet Soap Lake, Tuesday, Dec. 18, before returning home to host Lake Roosevelt in a battle of the Central Washington 2B League's top two teams.

The Raiders dropped a game to the same Oroville team that beat Brewster, but the Hornets, at 3-1 so far in league, remain in a tie for second place with the Bears.

The Lady Bears are undefeated, 4-0 in the CW2B with wins over Waterville-Mansfield, 61-46, on Nov. 30, Tonasket, 52-28, on Dec. 4, Oroville, 56-22, on Dec. 7, and Liberty Bell, 45-42, Dec. 11. The 1A Lady Goats got a 52-31 home court win over Brewster last Friday, leaving only Soap Lake, Tuesday, Dec. 18, before the Lady Bears host the league-leading 5-0 Lady Raiders on Thursday, Dec. 20.

BRIDGEPORT - The Mustangs and Fillies varsity basketball teams are facing some stiff competition in one of the toughest 2B leagues in the state this season. Brewster, Lake Roosevelt, Tonasket, Oroville, and Manson are fielding solid boys' teams with the Lady Bears, Lady Raiders and Waterville-Mansfield's Lady Shockers putting up good numbers on the girls' side.

The Mustangs have suffered four consecutive losses, the most recent a 20-point, 76-56, decision at Oroville last Thursday, Dec. 14. Earlier losses against Tonasket, 66-56, on Dec. 11, at Manson, 69-48, on Dec. 7, and a 34-point, 74-40 fall to leagueleading Lake Roosevelt at home on Dec. 4, find the varsity boys in seventh place in the Central Washington 2B with a 1-4 record.

The Mustangs did come out on top of one of the more exciting games of the early season with a two-point 72-70 nailbiter against Pateros on the Billygoats' home court, Dec. 3. The Pateros win followed Bridgeport's season opening victory over the Soap Lake Eagles at home on Nov. 30.

The Nannies have alternated win-loss-win-loss since the start of the season when a 36-47 loss to Soap Lake was followed by a 72-13 massacre of Easton on Dec. 3. The following night, Dec. 4, the Nannies were in turn massacred at home by the Lady Raiders, 56-13.

Next came a 42-30 win on the road at Manson, Dec. 7, followed by a 44-33 home loss to Tonasket on Dec. 11. The Nannies are riding the crest of their most recent 63-25 win over the Lady Hornet at Oroville last Thursday, Dec. 14.

Both the Mustangs and Fillies were scheduled to meet Liberty Bell on the road on Tuesday, Dec. 18. The Mountain Lions have been in a holding pattern in the bottom half of league rankings during the early season and should be a good match for both Bridgeport teams.

Bridgeport will compete in the North Central Washington Tournament at Entiat on Thursday and Friday, Dec. 27-28, and will be on the road until they host Manson on Jan. 1

Pateros boys lead CW1B basketball race

By Mike Maltais STAFF WRITER

PATEROS - With five experienced seniors on the roster and the league's leading scorer as one of three veteran juniors, the Pateros Billygoats are the team to beat in the Central Washington 1B League this season.

The 2-0 Billygoats notched home court wins over CW1B rivals Cascade Christian Academy, 63-27, on Wednesday, Dec. 12, and Moses Lake Christian, 68-51, last Friday, Dec. 14. Earlier in the season Pateros put up some good numbers against non-league 2B opponents Liberty Bell, 53-47, Bridgeport, 70-72, and Soap Lake, 70-71.

Junior scoring leader Ethan Freels led the Billygoats with 26 points over Cascade as Pateros took a 10-point lead in the opening quarter and never looked back.

"We played good defense and transitioned well for some easy baskets," head coach Marcus Stennes said.

The Billygoats were scheduled to meet league opponent Riverside Christian on the road, Tuesday, Dec. 18, and will remain on the road through Jan. 8, when Pateros will host Soap Lake.

"We struggled at the free throw line," said Stennes of the Moses Lake game, "but were able to make some shots down the stretch to seal the game. It felt a lot closer than the score shows.'

Nannies rank among top three teams in CW1B League

By Mike Maltais STAFF WRITER

PATEROS – The Nannies varsity basketball team is taking a 1-1 Central Washington 1B League record into the first third of the season with a dominant 68-22 win over Cascade Christian Academy on Wednesday, Dec. 12, followed by a narrow 47-47 home loss to Moses Lake Christian last Friday, Dec. 14.

Led by sophomore and 2017-18 season All-League First Team player Aleeka Miller-Smith, the Nannies are holding their own in third place in the CW1Bwith six games behind them and more than a dozen to go until the end of the season.

Miller-Smith hit five shots from three-point range as part of her team-high 19 points against Cascade. Sophomore teammate Anna Williams added 18 points.

The Nannies notched two wins and two losses in their first four games of the season, getting the best of non-league opponents Soap Lake, 47-43, and Wilber-Creston, 56-23, but losing to Mount Vernon Christian, 54-34, and Liberty Bell, 53-35.

The Nannies were scheduled to play Riverside Christian on the road Tuesday, Dec. 18, and, along with the Billygoats varsity boys, will compete in the two-day North Central Washington Tournament in Entiat Dec. 27-28.

Jennifer Flores, 40, tries for a lay-in as teammate Aleeka Miller-Smith, 30, watches.
