Erlandsen & Associates launches drones for land survey work

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – The sky was clear and the air calm last Nov. 17, so Kris Erlandsen and Jesse Revel of Erlandsen & Associates decided to go flying...and they didn't even have to leave the ground.

The two specialists with the Brewster surveying, planning, and engineering firm launched a high-tech drone from an abandoned gravel pit along Cameron Lake Road on the Colville Indian Reservation to conduct an aerial survey for the Okanogan County Public Works. The pair was gathering aerial imagery on this trip, having already collected the ground data on previous flights.

"They're looking at redoing a stretch of road," explained Erlandsen, "so this is one of the tools in our toolbox."

Make no mistake, the tool box is high-tech and the pricey six-propeller flying gizmo with a gimbal-mounted camera is cutting-edge.

DRONE

Drone use is exploding for both recreational and commercial users as the rapidly evolving technology and increasing battery life allows the lightweight aerialists to take on ever-advanced projects.

“Two-and-a-half miles of road would take one of our surveyors a week to collect all the data,” said Erlandsen pointing to the drone, “and these do it in a hour or two.”

An actual survey of property lines still must be done manually, but the mapping and ground data can now be handled by the drone. The technology used by Erlandsen is called “LIDAR” a composite of light and radar also called Light Detection and Ranging that uses pulsed laser light to measure ranges even through cover like grass and brush. Erlandsen said that translated in one-inch pixels the Cameron Lake Road survey could produce 55 million points of data with a density of some 50-60 points per square meter.

Using six battery rechargeable battery packs that can power the drone for up to 40 minutes, the machine cruises at a maximum ceiling of 120 meters (400 feet). Part of the new technology is the learning curve in the field as operators like Revel, who is a trained land surveyor, make corrections literally on the fly when glitches are encountered that were not envisioned by the manufacturers.

Josh Thomson, Chief Engineer for the county’s public works department acknowledges that drone use is a big-time saver and produces much more data for a given expense.

“We could use this to inventory our pits,” said Thomson of the county’s gravel depots. “We currently survey those with hand-held GPS technology.”

Thomson said the county must be sensitive to property owners and privacy issues when conducting drone work.

“Pend Oreille County just started using one and when they fly a road, they immediately block everything out of their photo area that is private property or not part of their data needs,” said Thomson. “They can then show the public that they are not collecting other than what they need.”

Erlandsen’s company flew a portion of Peter Dan Road near Grand Coulee to survey a landslide when public works was unable to put a person on the still-unstable slope to assess the extent of damage.

Okanogan County Emergency Management (OCEM) Director Maurice Goodall uses drone overflights to survey, monitor, and assess natural disasters such as floods, landslides and other damage spots. Samples of his aerial video can be seen on OCEM’s Facebook site.

Carrying a price tag approaching $250,000, for all the bells and whistles, Erlandsen’s drone is just the beginning for what the company envisions as a major data-gathering arm of its business. In another application, the company is in the development stages of a drone that will conduct multi-spectral imaging to help agriculturalists monitor plant health.

And they even pay the guys for having so much fun.

Winter magic returns to the PAC stage in Omak on Dec. 8

SUBMITTED BY OKANOGAN VALLEY ORCHESTRA & CHORUS

OMAK - Last season Okanogan Valley Orchestra & Chorus presented the video and live performance of the children’s book, “The Snowman”. This was so well received that this concept is to be presented again with the beautiful film of “The Bear”.

The book by Raymond

Briggs has been set to music and animated in a 26 minute film. It is described as a “Christmas adventure for children”. Released in 2000, it is the tale of a young girl who imagines what it would be like to have a polar bear as a pet. From there the girl and her bear embark on a magical journey, flying through the sky and up into the stars. The music is by Howard Blake, composer of

“The Snowman”.

The music for “The Bear” includes vocal performances. The part of Tilly will be performed by Noni Alley. The Bear will be sung by Peter Steffen and Star Bear will be Jonathan McBride. In addition, the orchestra will also perform “Concert Suite from The Polar Express”.

The Chorus brings much holiday cheer with “Nutmacker Jingles”, Beethoven’s “Hallelujah Chorus”, “Patapan Fantasia”, “Holiday Pops Trio”. Plus, the chorus will be joined by the Omak High School Choir for the song “Winter Dreams”. A special performance of Brass-works will take place in the lobby as well.

The concert is at an earlier time than usual, 2 p.m., to give plenty of time for families to enjoy the Omak parade and holiday activities also scheduled for Dec 8.

OVOC is focused on providing interesting programming for the whole family. The entire season is designed to inspire youth to experience music of all kinds as a part of their lives. OVOC provides a live music opportunity at affordable prices: free to all youth 14 and under; $12 general admission, $10 senior. Tickets are available at the door.

Annual Brewster Grange Christmas Bazaar raises scholarship funds

By Mike Maltais
STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – The traffic was steady and the buyers willing at the annual two-day Brewster Grange Christmas Bazaar at the Grange Hall on Grange Road and U.S. 97 just west of Brewster last Friday, Nov. 30, and Saturday, Dec. 1.

Vendors offered everything from clothing items and novelties to food items and gifts, and all toward a good cause. Bazaar spokesman Marge Hagy said the annual event serves as a fundraiser for scholarships that are given to the Brewster, Bridgeport, and Pateros high schools.

“Usually they’re a $500-dollar amount,” said Hagy, adding that the figure may vary, “but never lower than $300.”

Bridgeport hosted the Eagles in a 60-38 home opening win last Friday, Nov. 27, and narrowly defeated the Billygoats, 72-70, on the road last Monday, Dec. 3.

BRIDGEPORT – The Nannies varsity basketball team has a small setback in their home opener against Soap Lake last Friday, Nov. 30, when the Lady Eagles pulled out a 47-36 win over their hosts. Bridgeport got even last Monday, Dec. 3, when they sent Easton home on the short end of a 72-13 score that left the Nannies with one Central Washington 2B League loss as they headed into their third consecutive home stand on Tuesday, Dec. 4, this time against Lake Roosevelt.

Bridgeport will be on the road at Manson on Friday, Dec. 7, and host Tonasket at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 11.

The Nannies had just two CW2B league wins last year and with only two seniors on the roster, have a young team filled out with four juniors and five sophomores.

Coach Stuart Dezellem is again at the helm with assistant Kate Luttrell. Adania Garcia is team manager.

Shockers return eight veterans to varsity basketball roster

By Mike Maltais
Staff Writer

WATERVILLE – The Shockers varsity boys basketball team opened its 2018-19 season with losses to Entiat and Brewster before posting its first win on the road at Republic, 44-23, last Saturday, Dec. 1.

Waterville-Mansfield gave Entiat all it could handle, coming within four points of the Tigers, 55-51 at the buzzer on its Nov. 27 season opener. The Shockers next faced defending Central Washington 2B champion and state fourth-place finisher Brewster on Nov. 30 and had to fight back from a 50-7 halftime to a 75-23 final.

WATERVILLE-MANSFIELD – The Lady Shockers are off to a good early season start with wins over Entiat and Republic on either side of a loss to defending Central Washington 2B champion Brewster. Waterville-Mansfield defeated Entiat, 41-26, on Tuesday, Nov. 27, fell to Brewster, 61-46, on the road, Friday, Nov. 28, and beat the Tigers at Republic, 62-23, on Saturday, Dec. 1.

The Lady Shockers lost three seniors to graduation last June including last season's All-League First Team player Justine Clements. The good news is that the balance of the varsity team is back along with last season's All-League Second Team guard Elizabeth Katovich.

With no seniors, only two juniors, seven sophomores, nine freshmen, and an eighth grader comprising the varsity and JV teams the Lady Shockers are a young team this season, but with good depth to February and made it to the second round of District 5/6 before being eliminated by Lake Roosevelt. The team ended the season with a 7-9 league record and 11-12 overall.

The Shockers were scheduled to host Liberty Bell, Tuesday, Dec. 4, followed by Cascade on Friday, Dec. 7, and Manson next Tuesday, Dec. 11.

Head coach Heath Jordan is back this year assisted by Derek Browning.
