Judge dismisses Carlton Complex lawsuit against DNR

By Mike Maltais Staff Writer

OKANOGAN – In a seven-page decision handed down last Wednesday, Oct. 24, Okanogan County Superior Court Judge Christopher Culp dismissed a lawsuit filed by more than 200 plaintiffs against the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for damages caused by the 2014 Carlton Complex wildfire.

The hearing was held on Oct. 11 at the Okanogan County Courthouse. Representing the plaintiffs at the hearing was Alex Thomason of Thomason Law & Justice of Pateros and Seattle, and Jason Amala of Pfau Chochran Vertitis Amala in Seattle. The DNR was represented by Assistant Attorney General Patricia Fetterly, and attorneys Randy Gimple and Alexander Cheng.

At issue was common law versus state statute. DNR attorneys argued that under the mantle of the “public duty doctrine,” DNR is not liable for negligence because it is a state agency and has an obligation to the public in general and not to specific individuals.

Counsel for the plaintiff sought to hold DNR responsible as an individual landowner and like any other landowner, obligated to prevent fire from spreading to another owner’s property. Under that definition, counsel maintained that the plaintiff’s claims are not subject to the public duty doctrine.

In his opinion, Judge Culp stated “that defendant has no statutory or common law actionable duty to any of the plaintiffs, either in fire suppression responsibilities or as a landowner” because “there is no longer a statutory or common law duty to the individual plaintiffs...whether as a landowner or in fire suppression efforts. This was not always true.”

Culp referenced a 1990 case brought against the DNR wherein the state Legislature in Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 76.04 included the DNR in the landowner category. In that decision the court held “the DNR liable as a landowner under Washington’s statutory and common law...”

The Carlton Complex wildfire started on July 14, 2014, burned 256,108 acres over some 390 square miles and destroyed more than 300 homes, killed nearly 1,000 head of cattle, wiped out 500 miles of fence line, and consumed timber by the millions of board feet.

Career Connection Expo is huge hit with vendors, students

By Mike Maltais Staff Writer

OKANOGAN – The first-ever 2018 Okanogan County/North Central Washington High School Career Connections Expo held at the Okanogan County Fairground Agriplex on Oct. 17, was a success to the extent that future annual Expos are a foregone conclusion.

Through the combined efforts of WorkSource Okanogan County, Career Connect Washington and the North Central Educational Services District high school students from area schools were provided the opportunity to speak to a variety of college, trade, service, military, and business representatives about career options after high school.

Kristi O’Neill a Career Connection Specialist at WorkSource said the Agriplex was full as 82 vendors turned out to speak with some candidates who wanted to gather more information to help them make career choices.

One of those vendors was Sgt. Justin Morris Station Commander with the Washington National Guard who traveled from Moses Lake to attend the Expo.

Morris said he made 51 contacts and has scheduled

Gabe Garcia

10 follow-up interviews. One of those will be with Brewster High School junior Gabe Garcia. Garcia, a volunteer fireman with Douglas-Okanogan County Fire District 6 already has first-hand experience related to fire and rescue missions.

Garcia said he can sign up with the Guard as a junior, complete some of his training through his senior year.

“I want to be stationed in Moses Lake, so they will send me there,” said Garcia. “Then I can attend college there and they will pay me to go to college.”

Garcia said while he’s pursuing a degree in criminal justice and paramedic he will also be part of the Reserve Officer Training Corps

Brewster Food Bank feeds the hungry and struggles to stay open

By Mike Maltais Staff Writer

BREWSTER – With two of the biggest holidays of the year, Thanksgiving and Christmas, just around the corner, the Brewster Food Bank at 301 South Fourth Street is feeling the financial pinch as it continues to serve nearly 100 people every Thursday morning from its facility.

As the only food pantry left in the Pateros-Brewster-Bridgeport area, the Brewster Food Bank serves from 85 to 120 people a week. And each of those served represents four people on the average. Last Thursday the food bank had 95 recipients, according to Neal McKee. McKee assumed day-to-day responsibilities at the facility after long-time director Wynn Webster passed away on New Year’s Day this year.

Tuesday, Nov. 20, two days before Thanksgiving will be another big day when the Brewster Food Bank distributes turkeys donated by the Brewster Kiwanis.

While the Brewster facility gets its food through regular pickups at the Okanogan County Community Action Council (OCCAC), funds to operate from month to month depend upon the generosity of private donors. And there is often too much month at the end of the money.

As of Monday, Oct. 29, the pantry’s bank account had less than $150 to pay this month’s estimated $600 operating costs.

While food donations are always appreciated, “What we are looking for are money donations to keep it open,” McKee said.

McKee said the primary expenses are electricity, water, and mileage costs reimbursed at $.50 a mile for those who make deliveries to the house-bound.

“Several of us volunteer to deliver food,” said McKee. “I deliver food to nine.”

OCCAC provides food to the Brewster Food Bank and seven others in the county at Okanogan, Omak, Twisp/Methow, Oroville, Tonasket, Conconully, and Wauconda.

The only other food bank in the Quad city area was housed in the Foursquare Church on Foster Avenue in Bridgeport until that pantry lost its space on short notice a year ago last September. After 25 years of serving some 200 people twice a month the Bridgeport bank had to disperse its equipment when it was unable to find another spot that could house the service and cover its insurance costs.

Once freezers and equipment are gone and volunteers move on to other activities, it’s hard to reopen and restore what went before. More than a year after the Bridgeport Food Bank

Culp said the Legislature revised 76.04 in 1993 and added a new section “and passed new legislation to effectively overturn that decision.”

Following Judge Culp’s ruling, Thomason offered a succinct analysis.

“The court believed that the written statute eliminates all claims that are under the statute,” Thomason told the Quad. “Our claims are common law claims that are not under the statute.”

Thomason said he is filing a motion asking the judge to reconsider the Oct. 24 decision.

“If he doesn’t then we’ll have the Court of Appeals look at it,” Thomason said.

In the Oct. 11 hearing, both parties and the judge agreed that his decision warranted review and certification by the Court of Appeals.

The Carlton Complex wildfire started on July 14, 2014 and burned 256,108 acres over some 390 square miles after four smaller lightning-causes fires, the Golden Hike, Stokes, French Creek, and Cougar Flat, ignited on DNR land, combined and spread.

At that time the state’s largest wildfire, the Carlton Complex destroyed more than 300 homes, killed nearly 1,000 head of cattle, wiped out 500 miles of fence line, and consumed timber by the millions of board feet.

In mid-October of that year, Thomason filed the first $15 million in claims against the DNR on behalf of 65 landowners, the majority from Pateros and Brewster, who believed the state agency was negligent for its failure to contain the fires in their controllable early stages.

On the third anniversary of the Carlton Complex wildfire, the statutory deadline to file damages, Thomason filed on behalf of additional claimants bringing the total to more than 200 landowners who joined the lawsuit.

“The military doesn’t have a presence in Okanogan County,” Morris said so he is working to arrange regular hours in Omak. He will be at the WorkSource office at 126 S. Main Street from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Nov. 6-8.

O’Neill said the enthusiastic response from both vendors and students to the first Career Expo in the county guarantees that further such annual gatherings will be in the works.

O’Neill can be reached at 509-826-7555 or email KRO-neill@esd.wa.gov.

(ROTC) and will emerge as a first lieutenant in the National Guard.

Garcia said learning about the Guard at the Career Expo helped him find a way to stay near home, pursue a career of his choice, and secure the financial means to pay for his education.

Sgt. Morris said the Okanogan Expo has spurred his interests to have a regular presence in the county.

PATEROS – Tactoberfest, an afternoon gathering of taco aficionados and Halloween celebrants, brought scores of party-hearty adults and youngsters to Lakeshore Drive last Saturday, Oct. 27.

The first annual Tactoberfest, sponsored by the folks at Thomason Law and Justice, left no gravestone unturned as creatively attired contestants competed for the top prize of $1,000 for the best costume.

That prize went to Jackie Shaw of Brewster whose Zombie Bride creation stole the hearts of every prospective groom on the panel of judges.

Organizers adjusted the events as the turnout and participation required at the waterfront gala.

Alex Thomason and his crew pulled out all the stops to make the day a memorable one for all comers. Tactoberfest helped continue the city’s active event calendar now that the Pateros Chamber of Commerce has suspended its activities for the time being.

If crowd appreciation in any indicator, Tactoberfest will be paying a return visit around this time next year.

Leyde seeks position of Douglas County Sheriff

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

WENATCHEE – Leon Leyde, former Washington State Patrol trooper and currently an East Wenatchee police officer, is running for Douglas County Sheriff against acting Sheriff Kevin Morris.

Leyde recently responded to four questions submitted by the Quad City Herald.

1. With your three decades in law enforcement experience, what changes would you bring to the DCSO?

Leyde: A fresh new perspective showing concern for citizens call for public safety. The folks I spoke to in the Bridgeport, Mansfield and Waterville area felt like they were left out and have been for years. I find that interesting especially since my opponent has lived in the Bridgeport area. At a council meeting I spoke at I assured those in attendance that I will attend meetings and events in the area. Deputies, sergeant and all of my staff members will seek out ways to improve public safety in the entire county. Just driving around in a patrol car does not cut it. We all need to take the time we have to reach out find out what the people want. Stopping and talking to our citizens will be encouraged.

2. In your campaign literature you specify placing a member of the DCSO on the Columbia River Drug Task Force. What is your opinion of the CRDTF as currently structured?

Leyde: There is no member of the Douglas County Sheriff's office on that task force and has not been for 13 years according to a retired sheriff and that is not serving our citizens. The citizens of Douglas County deserve to have someone on that task force who has a vested interest in the well being of Douglas County citizens. In 2017 according to data provided to me by the task force there were only 6 cases in Douglas County out of 50+ initiated and investigated by the Columbia River Drug Task Force. My opponent can claim Douglas County is involved in the Task Force because the SRT team responds to help but that is not the same. Any agency will assist with warrants and major cases if within their own county.

3. Another priority you cite is school security. How would you change or improve current school security measures?

Leyde: I have stressed doing things to begin with that do not cost any money. Sitting in the school parking lots completing paperwork of just observing the school activities does not cost a dime. Neither does getting out of a patrol car and walking into the school and saying hello to the students and staff. I do all of these things and have had several people comment about how nice it is and to keep coming. As your elected Sheriff, I will continue to do this and encourage all members of the Douglas County Sheriff's Office to do it as well. I will also reach out to my law enforcement partners and suggest that we train together at our schools so we are all on the same page and we become a cohesive group. I have yet to see this being done. Lots of talk but no action. I will also reach out to the school district leaders and offer the best training we can give them and also best practices so the staff and students are prepared in the event of an active shooter.

4. What is your position on working with federal agencies such as ICE and USCIS when dealing with undocumented immigrants apprehended for violations of law?

Leyde: I believe that if you are here legally and have done everything as required you should never have a problem. If a person is here illegally and does not matter from where, then there are processes in place to send that person back to wherever they came from. I also believe that if a person is here illegally and they have committed a serious crime against a member of our society then they should serve the time here and then be sent back. The victims deserve justice. I would assure that any Federal agency complies with county law and first off they are required to come to the Sheriff since he/she is the lead agency in the county he/she serves. As the sheriff of a rural county with limited funding, it is my job to make sure proper procedures are being followed when assisting any Federal agency or other law enforcement agencies. I will not allow another agency to come in and violate civil rights of our citizens. It is important that our Constitutional Rights are not violated. Douglas County cannot afford the litigation that would follow.

closed shop there are no plans on the books as of this writing to resuscitate it.

The Brewster Food Bank got its start in the basement of the St. James Episcopal Church in the 1980s. When the Episcopal Church closed in Brewster, Catholic Charities took on the food bank and installed it in a remodeled garage on church property where it remains today.

McKee said the food bank works several options to raise funds. Volunteers distribute donation jars, hand-deliver solicitation letters to businesses, and post on Facebook.

"We usually have a fundraiser twice a year," McKee added.

Right now, a volunteer is trying to repair a laptop computer to help with paperwork and data storage. The food bank is also looking for an experienced grant writer to see if that avenue could generate some funding. In the meantime, citizens and businesses are the go-to parties to keep the lights on and the water running.

Parties interested in donating to the Brewster Food Bank can contact McKee by phone at (509) 322-1009, or email nmckee2000@yahoo.com.

"I would like to thank the Okanogan County Republican Party for their endorsement and again thank the WA State Farm Bureau for their endorsement. I am honored by their support."

WHY I'M THE BEST CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF:

I will immediately increase the number of Drug Task Force detectives to combat the ever increasing drug problem of this county.

I will reinstate the property crimes unit which my opponent voted to disband in 2017. When the property crimes unit was active the county saw the highest reduction in property crimes since 2015.

I will continue to integrate law enforcement with youth programs throughout the county providing a positive interaction between Law enforcement and youth.

My professional career has been committed to protecting and serving the citizens of Okanogan County. I've worked as a wild land firefighter, worked at the juvenile detention center, as a Patrol Officer for the Colville Tribal Police, a Detective, Supervisor and Commander of the Drug Task Force, and a current administrator with the Okanogan County Sheriff's Office as the Chief Criminal Deputy. Having already obtained the required training from the Criminal Justice Training Commission in Executive Leadership and having already graduated from Command College, I am the candidate who can make a seamless transition for the future of the Sheriff's office.

$2.3 Billion Energy Tax, Increases Every Year

I-1631's new energy tax would cost Washington families and consumers more than $2.3 billion in the first five years alone. And I-1631's escalating taxes would automatically increase every year – with no cap.

Consumers Pay Higher Gas Prices

Washington already has the third highest gasoline prices in the nation, and I-1631 would drive these prices even higher. An independent study shows that I-1631 would increase gasoline prices by 13 cents per gallon in the first year, with automatic increases every year, indefinitely. These increases would quadruple to 59 cents more per gallon within 15 years.

Unelected Board, No Accountability

There would be no meaningful oversight of the unelected board of political appointees in charge of spending the billions in revenues collected under I-1631. There is no specific spending plan and no requirement to spend funds specifically on reducing greenhouse gases.

Hurts Families and Small Businesses

Families and small businesses would face higher costs for gasoline, heating fuel, natural gas, electricity and other goods and services. I-1631 would cost the average Washington household $440 more per year in 2020, increasing every year indefinitely, reaching $990 by 2035. This would especially hurt those who can least afford it.

- The overall winner in the 5,000-meter race was Jacoby Weiber of Tri-Cities Prep in a time of 16:44.60

The Bears will compete at State on the Sun Willows Golf Course in Pasco at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 3.

Raiders take 32-14 decision

Bears fall to Raiders, take second in CWB-2B football

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

COULEE DAM – The Brewster Bears varsity football team gave it a good effort but came out on the short end of the battle of the remaining two undefeated teams in the Central Washington B-2B last Friday, Oct. 26. Brewster lost to state No. 1-ranked Lake Roosevelt, 32-14, on the Raiders' home field to finish second in the CWB-2B with a 5-1 record and 6-3 overall.

The game got off to a bad start for Brewster when the Raiders recovered a fumble early in the first quarter and scored with less than three minutes off the clock. A two-point conversion gave Lake Roosevelt an 8-0 lead.

The Raiders struck again three minutes before the end of the quarter with a second touchdown and two-point conversion. Following a scoreless second quarter, Lake Roosevelt took a 16-0 lead into halftime.

Lake Roosevelt added another eight points early in the third quarter for a 24-0 lead with the only score in that quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Bears' quarterback Mason Kelly connected with Ernie Nanamkin for a 20-yard TD play. Nanamkin's successful two-point conversion run made the score 24-8.

The Raiders padded their lead with a fourth eight-point effort to put them up 32-8.

Kelly then ran the ball in from the two-yard line to give Brewster its final six points to end the game 32-14.

"Nanamkin had another big day on offense with 151 yards receiving, a TD on six catches and added 72 yards rushing," said head coach Jake Johanson. "Mason was 8-15 for 161 yards, one TD and one interception."

Johanson singled out two other Bears in the championship game.

"Alfredo Nila led the team on defense with 13 tackles and did a good job blocking on the offensive line all night. He is a true competitor and has worked his tail off all season, said Johanson. "Jeff Sonneman also had a good day on the ground for us. He ran tough and ended with 30 tough yards on six carries."

Lake Roosevelt held their first five opponents scoreless this season while scoring 44 points or more in each of those five games. The Raiders only gave up 41 points all season on the way to their undefeated league and season record. Thirty-four of those were scored by Soap Lake (38-20) and Brewster (32-14). The only other CW2B team to score against then was Manson (33-7).

Brewster will host a cross-over game against Mabton at 7 p.m., Friday, Nov. 2. It will be the second meeting with the Vikings this season. The Bears beat Mabton 48-8 on Sept. 14.

The first round of 2B state playoffs begin on Nov. 9.

BRIDGEPORT – Riding wins over Pateros, 8-0, on Oct. 19, and Oroville, 1-0, Oct. 23, the Fillies varsity soccer team took down Lake Roosevelt, 4-1, last Saturday, Oct. 27, in the first round of post-season

District 6 competition.

The win advanced Bridgeport into the semifinal found against undefeated Central Washington B-2B League champion Liberty Bell scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 30 on the Lady Mountain Lions' home pitch. In the other quarterfinal game, Tonasket defeated Manson, 5-0, and was scheduled to face the Lady Bears at Brewster on Tuesday, Oct. 30.

The winners will advance to the championship game on Thursday, Nov. 1, and the losers will play on the same day for third and fourth place in District 6.

Billygoats fall to Wellpinit in final seconds of last football game

WELLPINIT – The Pateros varsity football team came from behind to take the lead in the fourth quarter on the road against the Redskins but lost 62-58 to Wellpinit 62-58 in the final seconds of play last Friday, Oct. 26.

"We came up a little short," said Pateros head coach Marcus Stennes. "We were down big going into the fourth quarter but didn't give up and were able to come back and take the lead with 53 seconds left but couldn't get a stop."

Scoring a combined 120 points between them both used up the entire field and the clock before the game was decided in the last minute of play.

"Ivan Ceniceros had a big day for us at quarterback passing and running," Stennes said.

Ceniceros connected on 13 of 26 passes for 289 yards and two touchdowns and rushed for 216 yards on 16 carries for five more.

Kobe Thrixton caught 7 of 10 passes for 112 yards and a TD.

The Billygoats fell behind by a touchdown in the first quarter, 16-8, but gained ground on Wellpinit in the second period, 22-18, to go into halftime trailing the Redskins by four points, 34-30. Wellpinit held Pateros scoreless in the third quarter while scoring two more TDs to extend its lead by 20, 50-30. In the final quarter the Billygoats came roaring back with four touchdowns and 28 points to Wellpinit's 12.

"This is our final game of the season," said Stennes. "We finished 4-4-1."

Lady Bears advance to District 5/6 volleyball semifinals

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – The Lady Bears varsity volleyball team, champions in the Central Washington B-2B League won their opening round of District 5/6 play to advance to the semifinals scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 1, at Royal High School in Royal City.

Brewster defeated White Swan in three straight games, 25-15, 25-11, and 25-19, last Thursday, Oct. 25, for the right to meet Tri Cities Prep in a loser-out game at 4 p.m., Nov.

1. Tri-Cities defeated Lake Roosevelt, 3-0 to advance.

While the Lady Bears battle the Lady Jaguars, Kittitas will face Walla Walla Valley Academy with the winners squaring off for the District 5/6 title at 8 p.m. The Coyotes blanked Manson, 3-0, and Walla Walla ran over Soap Lake, 3-0, to make the semifinal round.

"It was kind of a strange match where I felt we never really settled into a rhythm," said Brewster head coach Marcy Boesel after the White Swan game. "We will work hard this week to get better and to prepare for Thursday's second round of the Regional tournament."

Brewster was undefeated, 8-0, in League and went 13-2 overall with its only losses to Almira-Coulee-Hartline and Chelan.

Stats:
Brooklynne Boesel: 14/14 serving, 2 aces, 6 digs, 17 assists, 13 kills.
Anah Wulf: 18/21 serving, 5 aces, 3 digs, 2 assists, 3 kills.
Sammi Emigh: 9/9 serving, 3 aces, 3 kills.
Karste Wright: 9/11 serving, 1 ace, 7 digs, 13 assists, 11 kills, 1 block.
Elizabeth Stam: 9/10 serving, 2 aces, 5 digs, 1 assist, 5 kills, 1 block.
Karina Martinez: 9/9 serving, 3 aces, 5 digs.

Give a hand and get involved with your Senior Center

I wrote an article that appeared on Page 1 of the October 4 Quad and broached the possibility of the Pateros-Brewster-Bridgeport Senior Center closing due to shrinking membership, declining participation, and operating costs. I did so in the knowledge that while its closure is not imminent neither is its future secure.

The story initiated the desired results. Readers made inquiries. City officials convened. Discussions were started. Resolutions were proposed. Less than a month later the clear consensus is that the city wants the center to remain a vital part of Brewster.

Those who do not avail themselves of the Pateros-Brewster-Bridgeport Senior Center may be unaware of all the services it provides.

- In 2017 the Center served nearly 6,200 meals and more than 600 delivered to shut-ins. The meals were prepared and delivered by the nonprofit group Okanogan County Transportation and Nutrition that also serves meals at senior centers in Twisp, Okanogan, Omak, Tonasket, and Oroville. OCTN also delivers meals to home-bound seniors in Okanogan, Chelan, Douglas, and Ferry counties.

MIKE MAKES WRITE

- More than a few of those over 60 years of age were unable to pay the suggested donation of $4, yet nobody was denied a meal.

- Currently, the Center is operating on reduced hours and is open for lunch three days a week, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. The meal cost for those under 60 years of age is $8.50, with a suggested $4 donation for those 60 and older.

- The OCTN bus that serves the Center provided almost 3,600 rides in 2017 and nearly 3,400 of those were for seniors. The bus also logged 12,000 annual miles in monthly rides to Omak and Wenatchee.

To support these and other services the Center charges a modest $10 annual membership fee, has a rummage room that is open on the three lunch days every week, sells ads to local businesses for display at the Center, and collects a nominal fee from OCTN for use of the kitchen facilities.

One of the Center's past major fundraisers, the Howard Gamble Memorial Golf Tournament, was discontinued this year. The Center has been the recipient of a generous donation from the annual Brewster Salmon Derby for the past two years. Additional support comes from citizens, businesses, and the cities served by the Center.

In the past 13 months at least four community services in the Quad coverage area have permanently or temporarily shuttered.

The Bridgeport Food Bank that served some 200 peoples twice a month lost its lease and closed in September 2017 (Quad, Sept. 21). After being in operation for a quarter century, the food bank shows no signs of reopening.

The Bridgeport American Legion, founded in 1950, announced last July that the chapter is folding its flag this year for lack of membership (Quad, July 5).

The Pateros Chamber of Commerce that counted among its recent noteworthy achievements the replacement of the Pateros Sign, suspended meetings last August (Quad, Sept. 6).

Lake Woods Golf Course, started in 1963 that once boasted half a hundred members, closed its doors on Oct. 21 (Quad, Oct. 11).

The Pateros-Brewster-Bridgeport Senior Center cannot be relegated to the same fate.

Along with Brewster, senior centers operate throughout the county in Twisp, Omak, Okanogan, Tonasket, and Oroville. They are more than just places for old folks to gather. They are an acknowledgement by grateful communities that their aging residents who helped build the area are recognized, respected, and wanted.

If you are free for lunch during the mid-week, why not stop by the Pateros-Brewster-Bridgeport Senior Center, grab a plate and get to know some of the regulars who frequent the place. Put an extra buck or two in the kitty to cover the value of the company. Who knows, you might discover that it's one of the few spots left in town where you can share a table with classy folks that have a wealth of stories and knowledge to share.

You might even learn something.

Science in our Valley series to focus on Environment, Pharmaceuticals, and Health Sciences

SUBMITTED BY NORTH CENTRAL EDUCATIONAL SERVICE DISTRICT

WENATCHEE - Scientists, and science educators, in the Wenatchee Valley have been gathering for the past year for a weekly research seminar series to connect with one another and bring their research to the community. This fall the community of local researchers from Washington State University, Wenatchee Valley College, the regional United States Department of Agriculture labs, among several others will welcome a pair of research scientists to learn more about the state and national issues that have impact locally.

On Nov. 7, at the WSU Tree Fruit and Research Extension Center will welcome Dr. John Roll. Dr. Roll is a professor and the Senior Vice Chancellor at the WSU Health Sciences campus. He will speak about the WSU Health Sciences programs and the Opioid crisis in Washington and across the United States. The presentation is scheduled from 4-5 p.m. at the WSU Tree Fruit and Research Extension Center.

On Nov. 14 the Science in Our Valley Series will feature, Dr. Juan VillaRomero. Dr. VillaRomero is an EPA Star Fellow, and research scientist from UC

Berkeley. His presentation will explore the tools and databases that have brought poly- and perfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) to the forefront of discussions focused on drinking water quality, and the regulation of toxic substances to deal with the issue of environmental quality and public health. Dr. VillaRomero's presentation will be held at the Wenatchee Valley College Grove Auditorium from 4-5 p.m.

Both presentations are free and open to the public. Educators who wish to attend the series can earn STEM clock hours for attending these seminars through the North Central Educational Services District.

The Science In Our Valley Seminar Series is hosted through a collaborative partnership between the Apple STEM Network, the United States Department of Agriculture Research Station, the North Central Educational Service District, Wenatchee Valley College, the Washington State University Tree Fruit Research and Extension Center, and is foundational to the BRIDGE Research and Innovation District.

The Science in Our Valley Seminar series is free to attend and open to the public. The content is intended for a 'science-based' audience including researchers, postdoctoral scientists, graduate students, undergraduate scientists, K-12 educators and science enthusiasts.

The Apple STEM Network is a three-dimensional alliance of K-12, Higher Ed and community partners. We represent a diverse region with tremendous potential for STEM industry in agriculture, energies and innovation. With our collective effort we intend to: provide a constructive support system for educators who aim to meet the rising challenge for all students to develop 21st century skills and STEM literacy, to integrate community mentorship, promote authentic project-based learning and field experiences for all levels of education, and engage students in exploring the world of opportunities on the horizon through STEM.

The North Central Educational Service District is a resource to the 29 districts within the four-county service area, providing professional and timely tools to meet the needs of individual schools and districts, and a reliable point of education-related information for the communities served. The NCESD is a respected resource to other ESDs throughout Washington State.

Diamond has the qualifications, experience

Having Dr. Ann Diamond as a candidate on our November Election Ballot is an opportunity to place a non-partisan official in our State Government. Dr. Diamond has the qualifications and experience to help steer the process in Olympia. As a doctor, she has insight on how to cut medical and insurance costs, and knows from experience the challenges that small businesses face every day.

Dr. Diamond has positive energy and is a person that listens to both sides of issues. She is articulate and truly focused on representing District 12. She is the ideal candidate to elect as our State Representative for District 12.
