Pateros City Council special session addresses bid award, records grant

By Mike Maltais Staff Writer

PATEROS - The city council met in special session at 7 a.m. Monday, May 28, to address several issues of a timely nature.

Council members approved Ordinance 762, a non-exclusive Franchise Agreement with Pateros CA, LLC, that operates controlled atmosphere facilities, for the location of pipelines transporting hazardous liquid on certain city owned rights-of-way and authorized Mayor Carlene Anders to execute said agreement.

Council members awarded General Industries of Spokane the contract to construct well house No. 3, after the contractor submitted the lowest of five bids for the project.

General Industries bid $758,034.05, that was $5,000 below the next lowest bid of $763,903.97 tendered by POW Contracting, Inc., of Pasco. The range of bids was between a high of $919,667.54 and General's quote.

Council members approved a $4,000 grant from the State Auditor's Office (SAO) to organize the city's records room. The grant will allow the city to review all its records, archive those that warrant retention and destroy those that have passed the retention date. The records update will help the city with public records requests and decrease liability issues.

In other business, city engineering consultant Ben Varela of Varela & Associates of Spokane, gave council members an update on the city's ongoing water project.

Council also scheduled a public information meeting regarding the design and construction of well house No. 4 to coincide with its regular monthly meeting on July 16. The informational meeting will be held at 5 p.m., one hour before the regular council meeting convenes at 6 p.m.

Columbia Post 97 Honor Guard makes the Memorial Day rounds

By Mike Maltais Staff Writer

PATEROS - On Memorial Day, Monday, May 28, nearly 50 flags decorated the drive leading to the Pateros Cemetery with its commanding view overlooking the confluence of the Methow and Columbia rivers.

Buried there among other veterans is James W. Meadows, who served in World War I, and Vern E. McAlvey whose memorial stone described Mac as "a cowboy at heart."

At 9 a.m. sharp, American Legion Area Three Commander Denny Pittman gave the order for the Columbia Post 97 Honor Guard to form up for the first of six ceremonies that would take place in as many sites concluding at post headquarters in Brewster at noon. It's a ritual the aging Legion members perform every Memorial Day from Pateros to Packwood and Fort Okanogan to Locust Grove cemeteries. At each the colors are presented, a citation recited, a wreath dedicated, a three-round volley fired, and taps played before the small group moves on to its next appointed round.

At 9:30 a.m. a small caravan of vehicles stopped at midpoint on Brewster's Bridge Street Bridge - closed temporarily for the occasion by Brewster Police and State Patrol - where Pittman dropped a wreath from the east side railing into the brown, roiling waters of the Columbia River to honor Navy and Coast Guard dead. As the wreath passed beneath the bridge, circular whirlpools of water seemed to mimic the shape of the floating memorial as they escorted it swiftly downstream.

An eight-mile drive up Central Ferry Canyon Road led to the access to Packwood Cemetery on Dyer Hill where memorials can be found amid the purple lupine, balsamroots and bitterbrush, many shaded by mature bull pines.

Ernest Shenyer, who served in the U.S. Navy, is buried there; so is World War II Marine Marion A. Hogan. Not far away is Patrick M. Fitzgerald who served with the Air Force in Vietnam; Wayne Robert Dorchuck, U.S. Army, Korea, and Eugene Edward Housden who saw action in WWII with the U.S. Army. The service for those and other Packwood vets began at 10 a.m. and was witnessed by a small crowd of friends and relatives gathered to pay their respects.

It's a shade more than 17 miles from Packwood to the Fort Okanogan Memorial Cemetery north of Monse on U.S. 97, so the ceremony commenced there at 11 a.m. That's where Army veteran John G. Cook, who served in Korea, is buried, not far from another Korean War veteran, Army Sgt. Donald L. Woodward, whose memorial includes a cross fashioned from horseshoes. A half-dozen visitors watched the service as a light south breeze blew under a near-cloudless sky.

The largest crowd of the morning waited at Locust Grove Cemetery in Brewster, resting place of U.S. Army paratrooper Dick R. Boesel, and Karl Goehry, forever 20 years old. Francis Eugene Stevens, who served with the Army Air Forces in WWII can also be found there.

The flag-lined drives and exquisitely manicured grounds served as fitting final venue where dozens gathered to watch Pittman place a wreath at the base of the half-mast flag and then raise the colors to the top of the pole. Following handshakes and some hugs, the Honor guard convened at post headquarters where, at noon, an arrangement of flowers was placed before the service colors at Legion Park to a concluding volley and taps.

Inside the legion hall a framed reminder hanging among other memorabilia reads:

New food service setting up shop in Monse

If you are wondering whatever happened to the little red burger trailer with the checkerboard stripe that was parked along N. Bridge Street in Brewster, it is now located near the Monse General Store in Monse. Manny and Martin Hurtado purchased the little eatery that is now serving a variety of tacos, burritos, tortas, grilled dogs, hamburgers and sides as the owners work on perfecting their menu. While a Grand Opening is pending, Puerto Nuevo Taco Shop is doing a brisk business as the only food vendor for miles around.

Bears place second to Tri-Cities Prep in state championship final

By Mike Maltais
STAFF WRITER

CENTRALIA – The league and district champion Brewster Bears varsity baseball team met a familiar adversary in the state championship game on Wheeler Field last Saturday, May 26. Contesting Brewster for the state crown was the team the Bears defeated in the District 5/6 playoffs in Wenatchee on May 12: Tri-Cities Prep from Pasco.

The always tough Jaguars had denied Brewster the District title last year and after losing to the Bears this year, battled through the state round of 16, Elite Eight and Final Four rivals to emerge as the one remaining obstacle to Brewster's well-served championship. As it turned out, TCP again played the spoiler, avenging a 12-6 district loss with a 14-7 win for all the marbles at state.

"(The) last game didn't quite go like we'd hoped obviously, but the kids still have a lot to be proud of," said head coach Todd Phillips. "We accomplished a lot, met some of our goals. Time for us to hit the weight room, get in the batting cage and have a good summer of baseball to prepare to take home the right trophy next season."

Brewster defeated St. Georges, 5-3, in the round of 16 in Yakima, May 19, while TCP was dealing Liberty Bell at 12-1 loss. The Bears then blanked Asotin, 4-0, in Elite Eight play to make it into the Final Four on Friday, May 25. The Jaguars stopped Colfax, 5-1, to advance as well. At Centralia the Bears beat Adna, 7-1, while TCP dispatched Kalama, 11-6, to set the stage for the rematch.

Phillips, who was voted the Central Washington B-2B baseball Coach of the Year in a mid-May meeting of league coaches and athletic directors, said he was "humbled to be voted as the coach of the year by peers, I am not sure if I deserved the reward this season, but I do feel that it is a team award. I do not win it if it's not for the players coming to practice every day and working to be better."

The young Bears team will lose only one key player, senior Caiden Riggan.

Lady Bears state run ends with win, two losses in elimination rounds

By Mike Maltais
STAFF WRITER

YAKIMA – After fighting back from a 3-0 deficit, the Brewster High School girls' varsity softball team saw their dream for a state title dissolve with an opening round loss to Onalaska, 5-4, Friday, May 25, in a round of 16 game that had to go into extra innings to determine the winner.

The Lady Bears recovered from scoreless early innings to tie the game with the Loggers, 3-3, in the fourth inning that held until Onalaska broke the deadlock with an extra-innings run. The loss dropped Brewster into the race for third or fourth place if they could get by four rivals standing in the way.

Brewster recovered its momentum with a 13-3 victory over Liberty to advance to the round of eight and Pe Ell. The Trojans knocked the Bears out of state, 13-1 and would go on to claim third place with a 123-4 win over Adna.

Brewster ended its season with both the Central Wash-
