BBGC hosts membership drive, plans for two May fundraisers

The sign hanging outside the entrance to the Brewster Boys and Girls Club makes it clear that memberships are a bargain this year.

BREWSTER – Boys and Girls Club Director Brian Paine is already busy this year promoting a membership renewal drive and planning for the club's major fundraiser just months away.

With some 250 members on the BBGC rolls now, Paine is trying to recruit additional participation with a $30 per person drive that started at the beginning of the year.

Also in the works is the first annual Lake Chelan Wine and Jazz Festival being organized by Siren Song Wines in Chelan, the Lake Chelan Chamber and other winery and business participants.

Siren Song hosted a pre-function Night on the Veranda event prior to last year's BBGC Golf Tournament and will be doing that again this year, said Paine. What's new this year is a three-day festival on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 18-20, leading up to the golf tournament at Gamble Sands Resort on Monday, May 21.

"All net proceeds will go to the Boys and Girls Club this year," Paine said.

With the BBGC expanding with a new facility in the Malaga area of Wenatchee, Paine believes that Chelan is a logical site for a Boys and Girls Club of its own some-time down the road.

"They're ideally located about in the middle of us and Wenatchee," Paine said. "That's one community that is on the Boys and Girls Club radar."

Paine said another project the BBGC is working on is a fiber optics connection so the club can begin having computers available for kids to use.

Sunday fundraiser supports Corona cause

BREWSTER – Vendors, shoppers and supporters stopped by the commons at Brewster High School last Sunday, Jan. 28, to participate in a fundraiser for a young Brewster boy who is battling bone cancer.

While 10-year Yahir Corona, son of Erika and Orlando Corona undergoes treatment at Children's Hospital in Seattle, family friend Jamie Descoteaux, a nurse practitioner at Bridgeport Family Health Center organized the four-hour Sunday event at Bridgeport High School to help raise funds to defray family expenses.

"Yahir's mom is my translator at family Health Center," said Descoteaux (pronounced Dakota). Along with an assortment of LuLaRoe clothing, other vendors included Sean and Mistie Madsen, owners of M&S Custom Vinyl from East Wenatchee who displayed T-shirts decorated with a "FIGHT" logo designed especially for Corona's funding campaign.

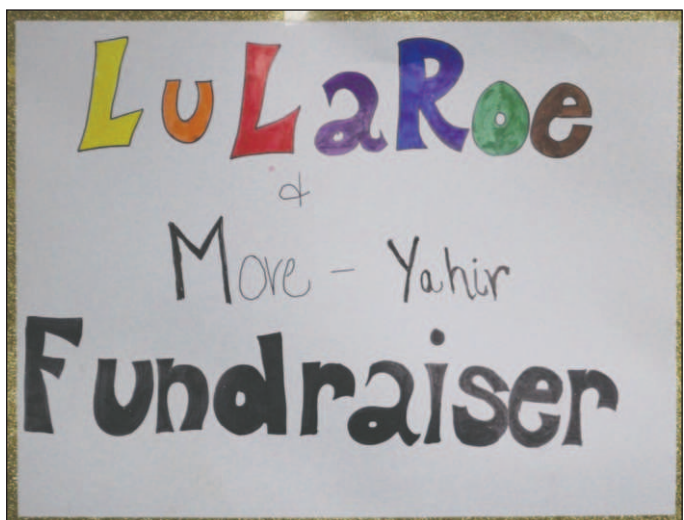

Descoteaux has also created an account under the name Hope for Yahir at Wells Fargo Bank.

Snow removal comes in two sizes in the City of Pateros. There's the large John Deere 310SC with front-end bucket and the S150 Bobcat mini-me with its smaller bucket.

Split Rock enjoys second life as roadside billboard

Split Rock, also known as Yeager Rock by Mansfield old-timers, is a two-story, 400-ton glacial erratic that sits prominently along State Route 172 about 3.5 miles east of The Town at the End of the Rails. This time of year, a light dusting of snow cannot conceal and seems to complement the Mansfield High School senior class graduation years that decorate the haystack rock's rough surface. A photo of the landmark once appeared in National Geographic magazine.

Bridgeport council swears in three members, gets down to business

By MIKE MALTAIS

BRIDGEPORT – Before the City Council could conduct any business at its regular monthly meeting on January 17, it had to first swear in three council members, so the votes would be official. Incumbent Jackie Hentges, Position 3, who also serves as Mayor Pro Tem, incumbent Matthew Schuh, Position 1, and new council member Anthony Jenkins, Position 2, took their oaths of office from city clerk/treasurer Judy Brown.

Members held a public hearing relating to efforts to recover city expenditures connected to property on 440 Tenth Street and discussed options to insure reimbursement if the property is sold.

Members also approved Resolution 18-01, pertaining to an increase in garbage collection rates that will be incorporated into the city fee schedule, and Resolution 18-02, Personnel Guidelines.

Anthony Jenkins

Matthew Schuh

Ordinance 18-683 relative to regulations on junk vehicles in the city limits, is a topic that has been under composition and debate since last summer. Council member Matt Schuh requested that the issue be delayed until the February meeting so that absent council members Phil Lee and Sergio Orozco could be present to participate in the discussion.

Public Works Director Stuart Dezellem reported that some leaks in the city's water system have been detected and need attention.

"We're up to 50,000-80,000 gallons a day over normal," said Dezellem "so we have to find the leaks in the system and get those worked on."

Dezellem said he would hire a leak detection specialist in late February or early March to perform a system check.

Low visibility and icy roads notwithstanding

Snowmobilers in scores gather for Mansfield Sportsman Poker Run

MANSFIELD – A day unfit for man or beast was weather made to order for a group of hardy snowmobilers who found their way to the Mansfield Sportsman Club for the annual Poker Run last Saturday, Jan. 27.

Navigating poor visibility and icy road conditions, sled drivers by the score descended on club headquarters located about one-half mile west of Mansfield on State Route 172. Once arrived, riders signed up for the four-stop circuit that took them west from the clubhouse to the crest of McNeil Canyon, then north a distance and back to the starting point.

Signups began at 9 a.m. and cost $20 per poker hand with $5 for each extra card.

Along the route riders picked up poker cards to see who would finish the course with the best hands. Cash prizes were awarded for the top three hands.

Last year the event drew some 80 riders who purchased 96 poker hands, said club member Jesse Shafer.

Wayne Brewster of Mukilteo and Orondo brought his Ski-doo for its first run on the Mansfield course.

The gathering has attracted as many as 200 riders in past events.

There are always more needs than there is money to go around, but Shafer said most of the proceeds go to community causes.

A good portion every year to Dollars for Scholars and North Central Washington Fair for 4H and FFA support," said Shafer. "Waterville FFA is coming up every other Saturday for trap shoot practice so it helps offset the cost of targets for them."

Club members hope to apply a small part of the proceeds to help maintain the pioneer-era school building that members moved to its current site in 1945 to begin a new life as club headquarters.

"We've got to get some electrical work done," said club president Norm Tupling. "If you run a couple things in the kitchen and got the trap lights on and you're running the trap machines, breakers start poppin'."

Bridgeport robotics team puts best technological foot forward

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

BRIDGEPORT – The Bridgeport school robotics teams are creating, computing, cogitating, and mechanizing their way through another season of innovations and competitions, according to instructor, Ian Hughes.

Bridgeport's five-student teams are comprised of 18 high school students and 25 middle schoolers who have participated in seven middle school and eight high school events so far this season.

"We have competed against Wenatchee, Oroville, Westside HS, Quincy, Evergreen MS, Highland, Wahluke, Mt Stuart, Foothills, Orchard MS, and a number of private teams." Said Hughes. "The competitions are hosted by Central Washington University and some of the schools they work with on the GEAR UP grant."

According to the website <https://www2.ed.gov/programs/gearup>, the GEAR UP grant is designed to increase the number of low-income students who are prepared to enter and succeed in post-secondary education. GEAR UP provides six-year grants to states and partnerships to provide services at high-poverty middle and high schools.

GEAR UP grantees serve an entire group of students beginning no later than the seventh grade and follow the group through high school. GEAR UP funds are also used to provide college scholarships to low-income

Hughes said the larger schools like Wenatchee "and some of the private teams" have proven to be the toughest competitors.

Competition has been on hiatus until February when Hughes said activity will again ramp up.

"This year we are competing in VEX "In the Zone" (Highschool) Hughes said, and referenced website: (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1Yo\_mlR1VJU) for those who want to learn more about the competition.

Bridgeport will also compete in VEX "Ringmaster" (Middle School) which can be viewed on website (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=L7suUU57fsU>).

Mini-Mustangs rule the court

BRIDGEPORT – In a game they needed to win to remain in contention for a chance at a post-season slot, the Mustangs varsity basketball team let one slip away to the visiting Raiders from Lake Roosevelt, 68-54, last Saturday, Jan. 27.

The win elevates the 8-6 Raiders to a third-place tie with Tonasket in the Central Washington 2B League, two games behind second-place Oroville.

Freshman Karla Torres helped keep the Fillies in the game with two points in the third quarter.

Bridgeport dropped to seventh place at 5-9, a game behind Manson.

Both teams played close during the first half of the first quarter, but Lake Roosevelt's six-point, 15-9 lead going into the second quarter gave an indication of what the remainder of the game was going to look like if the Mustangs did not force more turnovers or hit more of their shots.

The Fillies had an even tougher time against the taller Lady Raiders who took advantage of their rebounding strength and defense to turn possessions into scores. Lake Roosevelt held Bridgeport to single-digit scoring in all four quarters while hitting in double digits though all four to take a commanding 65-25 win at the buzzer.

The 9-5 Lady Raiders are chasing Liberty Bell for fourth place in the CW2B while the 2-12

Fillies are out of post-season consideration.

Bridgeport was scheduled to play the top-ranked Bears at Brewster on Tuesday, Jan. 30, and will host Liberty Bell starting at 6 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 1, to close out the regular season.

Poole chosen for 2018 All-State Volleyball Tournament

By MIKE MALTAIS, STAFF WRITER

PATEROS – Senior varsity volleyball player Sarah Poole has been chosen to participate in the 2018 All-State Volleyball Tournament. The All-State Tournament will be held March 10 at Auburn Riverside High School and will showcase the state's best senior players.

Poole's selection to the Central Washington 1B All-League First Team made her eligible for consideration for the All-State team. The Washington State Volleyball Coaches Association selection committee made the announcement of Poole's nomination last month.

"Sarah's selection is very well-deserved," said her coach, Gene Dowers. "She completed the 2017 season as the State's best server and, in addition to being elected to the All-League Team by the league's coaches, she was voted by her teammates as Pateros' 2017 Most Valuable Teammate and Most Inspirational Player."

Poole's season point production also made her the team's Most Valuable Player.

"For a kid that's got to put her volleyball shoes on to stand five feet, five inches, she's got a pretty big game," said Dowers. "Lots of that comes from having a big heart for volleyball

Dowers said that it has been fun to follow Poole's growth in the game and in the community, "particularly as she followed her father and older brother into the Volunteer Fire Department." It's good to see her get some recognition for what she's made of herself."

On Friday, Jan. 19, hundreds of thousands of demonstrators joined together and walked along the National Mall in Washington, D.C. for the 45th annual March for Life. While marchers gathered outdoors, inside the House of Representatives, work was being accomplished on pro-life legislation. The House was debating H.R. 4712, the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors

U.S. Cong. Dan Newhouse

Protection Act, which would ensure that children who survive an abortion, or an attempted abortion, are given proper medical treatment. Even before the March for Life had ended, members of Congress responded to the call to strengthen our nation's laws to protect unborn children. In solidarity with pro-life marchers on the Mall, I joined my colleagues to approve H.R. 4712.

I cosponsored and voted to support the Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act in order to ensure that innocent children are provided the same medical care that any other newborn would receive. The legislation protects the mother of any child born alive from prosecution, and it provides the mother with a civil cause of action.

As described in our Declaration of Liberty, life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness are the God-given rights of all people. A society that cherishes the liberty of all must be reminded that unborn children deserve their chance at freedom. Whether we maintain the sanctity of life as one of our highest priorities shows if we hold the words of our founding documents to be true.

This year, President Trump was the first president to address the March for Life live via video. As the President said, "The March for Life is a movement born out of love. You love your families, you love your neighbors, you love our nation, and you love every child, born and unborn, because you believe that every life is sacred, that every child is a precious gift from God."

The next stop for the bill is the U.S. Senate, and President Trump has promised to sign it into law if it is approved by both houses of Congress.

The current Administration has been an ally for the cause of life not only by supporting legislation, but also through protecting religious freedom in federal regulations and appointing judges who respect life. The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) just announced the creation of the Conscience and Religious Freedom Division of the Office For Civil Rights and a proposal to revise regulations to enforce federal conscience and religious freedom protections. The Division of Conscience and Religious Freedom would protect conscience rights and religious freedoms of doctors, nurses, and other medical professionals who decline to participate in abortions.

Life is the most precious gift we have, and it is the duty of the strong to defend the weak. Unborn children are not capable of speaking in their own defense, which is why I support laws to protect them.

OBITUARIES

Burt Edward Workman

Burt Edward Workman was born May 13, 1926 in Richwood, West Virginia, Greenbrier County. Burt passed away January 21, 2018 in his home at Bridgeport, Washington, Douglas County.

Burt was raised by his grandparents James E. Workman and Sarah A. Workman. At the age of 3 years or so, his grandparents moved west to Green Mountain, Woodland, Washington, and then to Port Orchard, Washington to attend a single room schoolhouse on Glenwood Road. Years later he attended South Kitsap High School, where Burt played football and track. Burt was offered a scholarship to the University of Washington to play football, but instead on June 5, 1942 chose to take a training job as Mechanical Learner at Puget Sound Naval Shipyard. On December 7, 1942 his position changed to Apprenticeship. Burt left the shipyard on April 10, 1944 to join the Marines (USMC). Burt did his basic training at Camp Pendleton Marine Corps Base and while there was selected to represent the Marines in a service boxing match. Burt made it to the championship round and came in 2nd for his weight class. Burt was honorably discharged from the Marines on May 20, 1946 and then re-entered the shipyard to complete his apprenticeship. Burt was eventually sent to the Subic Bay repair facility in the Philippines. There he worked as a Shop 56/99 Pipe Fitter General Foreman and was promoted to Shop 06 Tool and Die Makers Superintendent from 1967-1969. Burt returned home with his family and retired as a Shop 56 General foreman on December 3, 1979 with 34 years of service.

Burt was married to Lois May Calkins on March 22, 1949 at Clark County, Washington.

Burt and Lois had two children, Cheryl Ann Kelly (Workman) and Gerald Burton Workman. Burt has 9 grandchildren; Steve Elliot, Chad Welfl, Travis Workman, Scott Kelly, Rachael Crooks, Chris Kelly, Josh Allen, Heather Carrington, and Megan Workman. Burt has 15 great grandchildren; Dalton Brillhart, Jordan Brooks, Tyler Kelly, Taylor Kelly, Jasper Kelly, Amelia Crooks, Lachlin Crooks, Kaydence Carrington, Rilynn Carrington, Koye Carrington, Reinstin Carrington, Saymara (Workman) Carrillo, Lilianna (Workman) Carrillo, Gabriella (Workman) Carrillo, and Sawyer (Ericson) Allen.

Burt belonged to the following organizations; the American Legion 1947-2018, member of the Vaqueros Horse Club Woodland, Wash., Kitsap Saddle Club 1953-unknown, Boy Scouts of America Troop Leader in the Philippines 1967-1969, and the Assembly of God Church Deacon. Burt's hobbies consisted of working on old cars, restoring old saddles and spurs, camping, fishing, and hunting.

Burt was preceded in death by his grandparents, his mother Onieta Steph, half-brothers Roy and Bill Cheplak, and daughter Cheryl Ann Kelly. Burt loved life, but foremost his family, his friends, his Country, the United States Marine Corps, and his God. Burt's favorite quote was (God is Real). Burt/Dad/Grandpa/Great Grandpa will always be remembered for his story telling, writings, and his books. He will be greatly missed by everyone.

COMMUNITY BULLETIN BOARD

The Quad joins the Digital age

The Community Bulletin Board has been a popular feature ever since we bought the papers nearly 18 years ago. But times have changed and we are changing as well. We have launched our new digital classified ad section and it is a powerful tool for promoting your events. You can include photos, videos and more information.

Non-profits can still post a free notice in the paper – up to 100 words, but events that have an entry fee or are a fund raising project will have to pay for an ad. The cost is not significant $10 for 30 days and $20 if you want it to be a featured ad. A featured ad posts at the top of the listings and rotates among other featured ads on the home page.

Check out the new site at NCWMarket.com. You can set up an account and post your ads 24/7. If you have lots of local events you want to post you can even set up a subscription account that allows you to post a number of ads every month and change them daily if you would like for no additional charge. Free notices should be emailed to heraldads@qcherald.com, subject line: Bulletin Board

Subscribers - Help us, help you!

The digital age runs on email. So help us make sure we have your correct email address. Just send an email to Publisher@LeavenworthEcho.com. Make sure to put your name, phone number and paper subscribed to in the email so we can find you in our subscriber files.
