Derby beneficiaries include Senior Center, Boys and Girls Club

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

BREWSTER – In the wake of another successful run of the Brewster King Salmon Derby that held its 12th annual contest last August, derby organizers Lori Kratzer and Randy Moore are spreading the contributions around the city as they have done in years past.

On Oct. 10, Kratzer and Moore presented a check for $2,000 to the Brewster-Pateros-Bridgeport Senior Center, a gift that came at a good time for the facility.

"We really need the funds," said Center President Kathy Lowry. "I think we will use that for helping defray the cost of our new roof next spring."

Kratzer and Moore donated another $2,000 to the Brewster Boys and Girls Club and Director Brian Paine.

"We have also earmarked the same amount to the city of Brewster," said Kratzer, "as they are planning to turn a couple of trees in the Co-SEE DERBY FUNDS ON PAGE 2

Cities alert winter water users to guard against frozen pipes

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

BREWSTER – As the seasonal calendar turns its page to November, residents hereabouts begin giving some thought to winter water conditions and particularly, freezing pipes.

This year, as Brewster public works personnel near the completion of the installation of new water meters, city water users will be able to monitor their winter water bills on a monthly basis, thanks to the upgrade.

"We are almost done with installation of the radioread meters," said Brewster Public Works Director Lee Webster. "We have about 47 left out of a total of 730."

While the new meters will make the issuance of winter water bills possible, they won't release homeowners from the responsibility of preventing residential and business water service freeze-ups.

In fact, the City of Brewster has an ordinance in its municipal code, specifically 13.04.045 Prevention of freezing, that mandates proactive steps to be taken to avoid such. The ordinance reads in part:

During any period of subfreezing temperatures, the owner or occupant of the premises shall cause a constant flow of water through the meter at a rate sufficient to prevent freezing of the metering apparatus, valves and pipes serving the premises.

This is accomplished by allowing a continuous small flow of water through the cold water tap in the kitchen or bathroom sink. Common sense would imply that a small flow does not mean a fully open tap, and the new monthly bills will reflect little to no change in water consumption.

There is no ordinance in Bridgeport's municipal code that mandates water user responsibilities to prevent freezing pipes. The city does issue reminders with water invoices and correspondence to alert users to coming low temperatures and recommendations to take to prevent pipes from freezing.

Bridgeport Public Works Superintendent Stuart Dezellem also encourages city water users to allow a small flow of water from the kitchen or bathroom tap during low temperature periods to prevent frozen pipes.

Pateros school hosts Thanksgiving dinner

By Mike Maltais Staff writer

PATEROS – The public is invited to enjoy Thanksgiving dinner with Pateros School students on Wednesday, Nov. 15, in the school commons area.

Elementary students will be served from 10:30-11:30 a.m. followed by junior high and high school students from 11:40 a.m.-12:15 p.m. The cost is $4.25 for adults and $2.60 for children.

Linda Ehlenbach, District Executive Administrative Assistant said the school has been hosting the annual Thanksgiving dinner for almost a decade and the turnout appears to get larger every year.

"It gives parents, grandparents siblings, young and old to share a meal with a student," said Ehlenbach, "but even those with no children in the school are welcome to attend,"

Pateros school head cook, Susie Bowles, who began cooking for school following the 2014 Carlton Complex wildfire, estimates last year's crowd approached 350 people. "It's the largest single meal event of our year," Bowles said.

Bowles plans to handle the cooking preparations with help from her assistants and perhaps one volunteer. Included in the menu will be turkey and stuffing, mashed potatoes and gravy, corn or baked beans and mini-pies prepared on site.

Those planning to have Thanksgiving dinner at the school are requested to call ahead at 923-2343.

Carlton teen trains team for Alaska's Junior Iditarod

By MIKE MALTAIS Staff writer

CARLTON -- You cannot say that Carlton teenager Christina Gibson doesn't think big...as in Iditarod big. The 16-year-old home-schooled musher is training to compete in Alaska's 2018 Junior Iditarod, a 150-mile version of the 1,000-mile Iditarod from Anchorage to Nome billed as "The Last Great Race on Earth®."

To add to the challenge, it will not only be Gibson's first experience in Junior Iditarod, but also her first ever visit to "The Last Frontier" Alaska's state name.

The Junior Iditarod is open to teens from 14 to 17 years of age. Teams start at Knik, near Anchorage, and travel 75 miles along the National Historic Iditarod Trail to the Yentna Station Roadhouse," said Gibson. "There, they will camp at a checkpoint with their teams for the required ten hours before leaving and running back toward the finish line in Willow Alaska."

Gibson's main goal "is to compete in and win the worldfamous Iditarod." Along the way she hopes to produce a top competitive mid-distance team racing 100-250 miles while "promoting high standards of care for sled dogs."

Gibson's interest in mushing came early when, as a toddler, she watched the 1995 animated adventure film, Balto, based on the story of a sled dog that led his team in the delivery of serum to combat a 1925 diphtheria outbreak in Nome.

"I believe my mother thought that it was going to be like most other four-year-old's dream...I would eventually move on to the next thing that caught my eye," said Gibson. "That however, didn't happen and when I was 12 and still expressing interest, we finally got hold of some Washington mushers.'

Gibson also credits competitive mid-distance racer and Iditarod finisher, Laura Daugerau, who divides her time between Washington and Montana, with inspiring her.

"Laura has made a huge impact on my life as a friend and teacher," said Gibson. "I wouldn't be running the Junior Iditarod if it weren't for her."

Christina and her mother, Emily, moved from Duvall to Omak in 2014 to caretake some land that later burned in the 2015 Okanogan Complex Fire. The pair eventually settled on the Methow Valley to be "part of a more connected community" and closer to west side friends.

Gibson acquired her first sled dog in 2014.

then into a racing team made up of eight Alaskan Huskies," Gibson said. "Owning and caring for a dog team is not easy; it takes lots of hard work, time, dedication, and money.'

When not working with her team, Gibson enjoys photography, reading and writing which also involves keeping up with her blog "Chasing Whiteout" that can be found on her website, whiteoutracingkennel.com. She is also interested in film and acting and plans to attend college as she continues to pursue competitive dog mushing.

Gibson begins training when the fall temperatures fall below 50 degrees.

"The initial training schedule is one day on, one day off," said Gibson. "We start with low miles, gradually increasing to make sure each dog has a chance to become accustomed to training."

By the time the snow begins to stick she has progressed to a two-day-on, one-day-off schedule.

"Each dog is unique. They have their own personality, their likes and dislikes," said Gibson. "Just like people they have off days, or days they don't feel well."

Speaking like a coach, Gibson said it's her job to take all those unique personalities and help form them into a team that works well together.

"They are incredible athletes that truly enjoy what they do," said Gibson. "I think everyone has their own thought on this, but, when I see my dogs' attitudes at a race, and watch them zero in on another team, I truly

London Planes that border the west side of S. Seventh Street. Public Works Director Lee Webster recently identified both trees as suffering from an arboreal disease that will require the trees to be removed. At Webster's suggestion the city council voted to prune the limbs and hire master tree carver Jacob Lucas of Bonney Lake, WA, to sculpt the trunks into works of art.

Council authorized funds to put up half the costs associated with the pruning and carving project and is raising matching funds, such as those from the Derby, to cover the remainder.

"The dogs live in the moment," said Gibson. "They don't stress or worry about what's coming next, or what challenge may lay ahead on the trail, so I am learning not to either. They have made me a more confident, healthy, and happy person."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vote for juvenile detention and jail facilities

In 2016, hundreds of citizens spoke out against a possible move of Okanogan County's juvenile detention facilities to the Spokane area to be managed by a multi-state business. That proposed move would have also meant a loss of 10+ professional jobs and their contribution to the local economy. The pressure engaged citizens used to dissuade our County Commissioners from "robbing Peter to pay Paul" was effective, and commissioners rightly decided that the people did not want this service nor our children moved more than 200 miles away from families.

Now is the time for voters to say yes to needed juvenile detention and jail facility upgrades that triggered the commissioners' review. The current building was constructed in the 1970s and hasn't had any major improvements. Now, juvenile detention renovations are needed to comply with current state regulations, including additional sign-in rooms, improved security doors, and anti-slip flooring. Other needed improvements are new showers, heating/cooling upgrades, and a backup generator. The last cosmetic upgrades were done over 15 years ago. The current county budget does not have the needed revenue to pay for these upgrades from the general fund, so a levy is necessary. Proposition One is on your mail-in ballot for the November 7th general

Vote yes to keep these needed services in the community and at acceptable standards. Do your part to improve the quality of life in Okanogan County. Put your vote where your heart is - for this county and its future!

Fillies soccer season ends with District loss to Mabton

By MIKE MALTAIS STAFF WRITER

BRIDGEPORT - The Fillies varsity soccer team saw its bid for Bi-District 5/6 advance cancelled at the hands - or rather feet - of visiting Mabton from the Eastern Washington Athletic Conference in a 2-1 home loss last Saturday, Oct. 28.

In a back-and-forth battle between two well-matched teams, both sides got good shot opportunities and numerous near-misses that could have taken the game either way, but neither team could find the net in the first half.

Bridgeport took the lead in the second half off a goal by Esmeralda Garcia as the Fillies' offense ramped up the pressure on Mabton's defenders. Garcia, Lesley Velasco, and Karla Torres, among others gave the Vikings' goalie little time to rest as Bridgeport repeatedly brought the ball into Vikings' territory and attempted shots on goal.

On one play from a corner kick, Mabton's goalkeeper allowed the ball to slip through her fingers and drop behind her in front of the Vikings' goal. She quickly recovered to grab the ball before converging Fillies could get an easy score.

Mabton found two holes in Bridgeport's defense and scored twice in the second half to take the lead and the

A day earlier the Fillies hosted and defeated Lake Roosevelt, 2-1, on two goals by Velasco to end their regular season and win a spot in the District playoffs against Mabton.

"I am proud of the hard work the team put in this year," coach Gabe Gonzalez said.

The Fillies managed a 5-7 league season despite sharing the Central Washington 2B League with two of the state's top-ranked girls' soccer teams, No. 1 Brewster and No. 3 Liberty Bell. Bridgeport will lose six seniors to graduation next June; Velasco, Lupe Cancino, Magally Espinoza, Gina Gomez, Itzel Muniz, and Estefania Sandoval.

Trojans beat Bears, 28-6, in clash of the football coaches

By MIKE MALTAIS STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – For the first time in years the Brewster Bears were the underdogs and on the road to face the Central Washington 2B League leading Manson Trojans in the final game of the regular season last Friday, Oct. 27. Adding to the drama was a showdown between head coaching brothers, Jake Johanson of Brewster and Joey Johanson of Manson.

There was much on the line for the 6-1 Trojans who fought to maintain its hold on the CWB top spot against the attack of the 5-2 Bears anxious to even the league win-loss stats at 6-2 for both teams. In the end, Manson pulled out a 28-6 win to end its season 7-1 with the CWB title.

Coming off consecutive wins over Soap Lake (42-13), Bridgeport (56-10), 2016 league champion Tonasket (24-21), and Waterville (50-16), two of those on the road, the Bears made a strong comeback from 1-2 season start.

"Manson was ready and brought it from the beginning," said coach Johanson and noted that the Bears failed to take advantage of a couple of forced turnovers

"We weren't able to run the ball effectively," said Johanson who pointed to some dropped balls that interfered with continuing drives.

The Bears finished the regular season in a three-way tie with Oroville and Tonasket for third place.

"We have to bounce back and head down to Tri Cities Prep in the crossover," said Johanson. "A win there would put us in the playoffs."

Pateros falls to Entiat, competes for post-season slot

By MIKE MALTAIS STAFF WRITER

PATEROS - In an actionfilled gridiron game that saw the combined score exceed 100 points, Pateros fell to the visiting Entiat Tigers, 74-34 last Thursday, Oct. 26, in the Billygoats final league game of the season.

"We struggled defensively with their read option," coach Marcus Stennes said.

Entiat got on the board with its first touchdown three minutes into the opening quarter, doubled that at the halfway point and went up 20-0 on a pass interception/TD with 6:20 left in the first.

"Penalties hurt us on a couple big plays early," Stennes

The Billygoats scored with a two-point conversion tacked onto a TD under the twominute mark and ended the quarter trailing the Tigers

Pateros fought back in the second quarter with two more touchdowns, but the Tigers added two of their own to maintain a 41-20 lead.

"Offensively, we couldn't get our running game going," said Stennes, "and they were able to pull away in the second Entiat outscored the Billygoats three-to-one in the third quarter and by a TD in the fourth to end its regular season 3-2 in league play and first in the Central Washington 1B.

Nannies bounce back to beat RC in five sets

By Mike Maltais STAFF WRITER

PATEROS – The Nannies varsity volleyball team ended their regular season with a dramatic, come-from-behind 3-2 win over Central Washington 1B League rival Riverside Christian on the road at Yakima last Saturday, Oct. 28. Pateros "struggled at the service line during the first two sets," said assistant varsity coach Ana Vazquez and let the Warriors take a twoset lead, 19-25 and 20-25.

"Strong offense at the net by Sarah Poole in the first set and Taylor Harrild in the second kept Pateros close," Vazquez said.

With their backs to the wall and their 7-4 league record on the line against 6-5 RC, the Nannies rallied behind the strong serving of Samantha White and Anna Williams to win the third set, 25-13.

White and Williams would end the match with 16-18 and 16-23 serves respectively.

"Ashlyn Gonzalez took the lead in the fourth and Taylor Harrild had another big hitting set to force the tiebreaker," said Vazquez of the Nannie's 25-20, fourth-set Gonzalez would end the match with 21 or 23 serving and Harrild finished with a total of 11 kills.

Much was riding on the tiebreaker since the loser would face the undefeated 12-0 Entiat Tigers in the first round of District 6 playoffs.

"Both teams emptied the tank in the fifth with Sarah Poole's three kills leading the Nannies to the victory," Vazguez said of the 16-14 final Poole led the Nannies with a total of 13 match kills.

Lady Bears dispatch Dayton at Districts, advance to semis

By Mike Maltais STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER - The Brewster varsity volleyball team brushed by No. 4 Dayton from the Eastern Washington Athletic Conference (EWAC) in three sets, 25-12, 25-12 and 25-16, in the first round of Bi-District 5/6 play at Wenatchee High School Thursday, Oct. 26, to advance to a semi-final showdown against Tri-Cities Prep at 4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 2.

The win also guarantees the Lady Bears a berth at State.

Brewster was solid from the service line missing on only two serves out of 62. Three Lady Bears including Brooklynne Boesel, 20-20, Marta Martinez, 11-11, and Sammi Emigh, 8-8 had perfect serving with Boesel, Maret Miller and Karste Wright adding 12, 11 and 8 kills respectively.

Tri-Cities defeated the CW2B's No. 3 team, Soap Lake, 3-0, to win the right to face the Lady Bears.

In the other semi-final matches, Walla Walla Valley Academy downed the CWB's second place Tonasket Tigers, 3-1, to advance against the EWAC's undefeated league champion, Kittitas. The Coyotes had little trouble handling CWB No. 4 Lake Roosevelt, 3-0, in their first-round win.

Brewster's trip to Districts was earned by winning every set against CW2B League opponents during the regular season. The Lady Bears combined effective serving with strong defensive digs and overpowering offense at the net to bring a consistent attack to every game.

Brewster's battle for No. 1 in the CW2B came down to its final game in the regular season when the Lady Bears had to cage the 7-0 Lady Tigers of Tonasket on Oct. 24 to emerge as the only unbeaten team in the CW2B.
