Heavy rain on saturated soil triggers slides, washouts, closures

By Mike Maltais
STAFF WRITER

PATEROS – Heavy rainfall in the early morning hours of Friday, April 8, - too much for already saturated soil - caused debris slides, washouts and lesser water problems in several parts of Okanogan County late last week.

Drivers from the Pateros-Brewster-Bridgeport areas found road closures or delays on both State Route 153 north of Pateros and State Route 20 west of Okanogan following the Friday morning downpour.

Strong sporadic wind gusts blew a stack of plastic apple bins onto the eastbound lane of State Route 97 impeding traffic near the Triangle shell station in Brewster Friday afternoon.

By mid-day Friday crews had reopened SR 153 three miles north of Pateros to one-lane traffic even though water continued to overflow the asphalt. It was a different story on SR 20 where water undercut a section of roadbed at milepost 221.7, part of a series of curves known as the Seven Devils, according to information posted on the Okanogan County Department of Emergency Management's website, okanoganoem.org/. That portion of SR 20 remains closed pending repair to a substantial portion of highway embankment.

"As of right now, we have 24 roads in the county affected ranging from soft shoulders and undercuts to washouts and roads blocked by debris," said Emergency Manager Maurice Goodall last Monday, April 10.

Goodall said he only listed the most serious locations on the countywide advisory map posted on the emergency management website.

"We got rain; we got snow at higher elevations; everything's saturated," Goodall reminded drivers. "Be careful before pulling over onto road shoulders that look like they might be solid."

"Be totally aware that everything's wet right now," Goodall said.

PATEROS – The latest team of 11 AmeriCorps NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps) volunteers have been busy working with the Okanogan County Long Term Recovery Group (OKLTRG) since their arrival here March 28.

Last Tuesday, April 4, Mayor Carlene Anders presented each team member with a Certificate of Appreciation in recognition of "your assistance in the recovery of survivors from the Washington State Wildfire Disasters of 2014 and 2015."

AmeriCorps members are comprised of 18-to-24-year-old volunteers who serve a 10-month period helping communities with projects including disaster relief, infrastructure improvement and urban/rural improvement.

"After successfully completing 1,700 hours of national service you receive an education award ($5,800)," said team member Zach Steaple from South Bend, Indiana. "That can be used towards college, student loans and what not."

Team member, Cassie Sheehan from Maquoketa, Iowa, said she was looking "for something I could do where I could be outside all day," and decided on a tour

Easter egg hunts fill the coming holiday weekend

By Mike Maltais
STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – Scores of smiling faces filled the American Legion Columbia Post 97 last Saturday, April 8, as the veterans’ organization hosted an early Easter blow-out for area youngsters from mere months old through age 13.

It has been a few years since Post 97 has hosted an Easter event, so Legion volunteer Andie Frisk of Omak, got the go-ahead to organize one this year, and Frisk pulled out all the stops.

Tables filled with candies and prizes, baked goods, hot dogs and soft drinks, games and egg hunts held in the Post’s fences back yard kept youngsters and parents busy from 12 noon until everything was gone.

Frisk said she got help from volunteers and more than half a dozen members baked cupcakes that were given out as Cake Walk prizes.

“We tried to make it fun for everybody,” Frisk said and added that she has heard from several parents who told her what an amazing event it was.

Brewster, Bridgeport and Mansfield will all host Easter Egg Hunts on Saturday, April 15, and Pateros will take over with its own on Easter Sunday, April 16.

Brewster

The Brewster Boys and Girls Club will get its celebration underway at 8:30 a.m., Saturday morning, either inside or outside, depending on weather conditions, with a visit from the Easter Bunny and the opportunity for youngsters to have their photos taken with the big rabbit.

BBGC Director, Brian Paine said the hunt will take place starting at 10 a.m. in the playfield across the street from the recreation center. Youngsters up to 10 years old will be divided into age groups so everyone has a fair chance to find eggs. Special prizes will be awarded to those who hold the winning eggs.

Mansfield

The Mansfield Lions will once again host their Easter Egg Hunt at 10 a.m., Saturday morning in Blue Stem Park.

Bridgeport

The Bridgeport Eagles will hold their Easter Egg Hunt at 11 a.m. in Fireman Park at 10th Street and Columbia Avenue.

Pateros

Howards on the River in Pateros will once again host its Easter Egg Hunt from 10-11 a.m. Easter day in Lakeshore Park next to the hotel.

The Pateros crew, called Silver 7, is made up of volunteers from 11 states including Washington, and works out of the AmeriCorps NCCC Pacific Region. They are completing the third of four rounds at different locations throughout the Region. Silver 7 started at John Day National Forest in Oregon, then served in Las Vegas where they performed homeless counts before arriving in Pateros for the next leg of their tour.

“They have one more round after this but that location is still undetermined,” Anders said. “They leave here May 15.”

Two previous AmeriCorps teams have served with OCLTRG, the first arriving in March 2015.

“We were awarded Sponsor of the Round by the first group,” Anders said and explained that each group voted for the favorite sponsor of its tour.

“We anticipate we will get a round four,” said Anders of an upcoming AmeriCorps team. “We expect them at the end of May and they will leave July 11.”

Anders said OCLTRG holds weekly work planning meetings with Silver 7 “so they go where we need them to go.”

Remains of missing Malott man confirmed

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

OKANOGAN – A body recovered from the Okanogan River last month was positively identified last Friday, April 7, as that of a 26-year-old Malott man who had been missing since Dec. 14, Okanogan County coroner, Dave Rodriguez said.

The remains of Marco Antonio Aguilar-Cendajas were positively identified through dental records used by the King County Medical Examiner’s office.

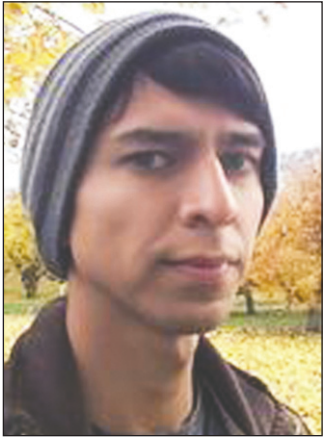

“Initially, the information we got said there were no dental records but we found information contrary to that,” said Rodriguez. “The records were pretty old but they did the job.”

A preliminary examination performed by the medical examiner on March 21 was unable to determine identify or manner and cause of death.

Once those records were located, the coroner’s office returned the body to the King County Medical Examiner where a forensic odontologist, on contract through the Washington State Patrol, and operating out of the King County Dental Examiners Office, reexamined the remains and made the positive I.D., Rodriguez said.

“There are two things I’m tasked to do,” said Rodriguez explaining the role of his office. “that’s to determine the cause and manner of death.”

Rodriguez said there are five different possible manners: Natural death, Homicide, Suicide, Accident, and Unknown.

Marco Antonio Aguilar-Cendajas

Rodriguez listed the manner of death as “unknown” because it is not known what circumstances caused Aguilar-Cendajas to go into the river.

“I could rule certain things out,” said Rodriguez. “There wasn’t signs of obvious violence on him, but that doesn’t rule out foul play.”

Rodriguez said there can be foul play but with no sign of violence.

“When we perform an autopsy the pathologist assists me with coming up with manner and cause,” Rodriguez said.

Because the body had been in river for three months, it was impossible to determine cause, Rodriguez explained.

“But we can rule out gross signs of violence such as broken or crushed bones, gun shot, or stabbing,” said Rodriguez, “but we don’t know what caused him to go into the river.”

PATEROS – Sweet River Bakery, located at 203 Riverside Drive, opened its doors to host the Pateros Chamber of Commerce’s fourth consecutive Business After Hours event at 6 p.m. Thursday, April 6.

The get-acquainted event was the fourth in a series promoted by the Pateros Chamber that began in January at Thomason Law & Justice, February at Howard’s on the River, and March back at Thomason Law & Justice.

Balmy weather conditions allowed visitors to gather in the outdoor dining area facing Lake Pateros where store manager Chris Webb welcomed his guests. Sweet River featured “a tasting of all of their new menu items that they will be rolling out this summer,” Chamber president Libby Harrison said.

Among the new menu items are Strawberry Spinach Salad, Philly Cheesesteak Pizza, a Greek Hummus Sandwich, and fresh Cream of Asparagus Soup.

Owner Al Hymer returned to his Pateros roots from years in Colorado and opened the Sweet River Bakery in 2002, according to the store’s website, sweetriveerbakery.com. Haymer’s youngest son, Alex joined the operation in 2007 to handle day-to-day operations.

“I signed on two years ago,” Webb said of his management role.

Sweet River Bakery is open daily from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Next month, Business After Hours will be held at 6 p.m. Thursday, May 4, at Scratch at the Alta Lake Golf Resort.

Najera makes basketball AP All-State 2B First Team

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – He’s on the pitch at this writing, playing Bears’ varsity soccer, but senior athlete Edgar Najera has already started the year with a distinguished achievement.

Najera was recently named to the Associated Press 2B All-State First Team by Washington state sports writers and editors late last month;

Najera played varsity basketball for the Bears and started through most of four seasons and post-season state tournaments. The five-foot, nine-inch guard averaged 19.7 points, five rebounds and nearly three steals per game his senior year.

During the season just concluded Najera had two of his three highest scoring games in post-season competition. He scored 31 points - nearly half the Bears’ total - in a 84-78 loss to Kittitas Feb. 18. Against Liberty Spangle on March 1, Najera scored 29 of Brewster’s 62 points in the 65-62 loss to the Lancers.

Najera’s other sport of choice is soccer where he also is a four-year letterman. In a recent 5-3 win against Chelan, April 4, Najera scored a hat-trick (three goals) to lead the Bears.

Other AP First Team All-State 2B picks included Player of the Year, sophomore Brock Ravet of Kittitas, senior Luke Lovelady of Life Christian, junior Matt Poquette of Morton-

Bears even the score with 5-3 win over Chelan

STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – The Bears varsity soccer team, led by the hat-trick performance of senior midfielder, Edgar Najera, took avenged an opening season loss to the non-league Chelan Goats with a 5-3 win at home last Tuesday, April 4.

Chelan handed Brewster a 4-2 loss on March 14 and intended to make it two in a row as the 1A Goats took a 2-0 toward halftime.

Coach Jenner Sanon said junior Rodrigo Gomez headed a Najera kick into the net just before the first half ended to put Brewster on the board, 2-1.

Najera scored two of his three goals in the first 10 minutes of the second half to put the Bears up, 3-2.

Chelan knotted the game at 3-3 with more than half the second period remaining but could not convert down the stretch. Meanwhile, junior Felix Nava put Brewster ahead 4-3 before Najera added his third goal in the final minutes of the game.

The Bears remain undefeated at 3-0 in the Central Washington 2B League while Chelan stands at third in the Caribou Trail League.

Brewster was scheduled to play Liberty Bell at home Tuesday, April 11. The Bears will play at Bridgeport on Thursday, April 13, and host Manson at 4:30 p.m. next Tuesday, April 18.

Forest road conditions postpone firewood cutting permit sales

SUBMITTED BY
ROBIN DEMARIO, USFS

WENATCHEE - National Forests provide so much—clean air, water, jobs, food, wood, and more. Each year, thousands of people heat their homes with firewood gathered from the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest.

Due to the record snowpack, state-wide it’s 120 percent of normal according to Department of Ecology’s website, most national forest roads remain snow covered and not accessible via wheeled vehicles.

“Permits for gathering firewood from the Tonasket Ranger District are usually available for purchase beginning April 1,” said Tonasket District Ranger Matt Reidy. “This year, though, there is still a lot of snow on forest roads and they are impassable for wheeled vehicles.”

Currently, that is the situation across most of the Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest.

Ranger district personnel across the forest will assess road conditions as snow melts off. Although the first day of spring has past, winter-like conditions still exist in the forest so it may take a while for roads to melt out and become firm enough to support motor vehicle use.

“Our normal woodcutting season is May 1 through Dec 31,” said Methow Valley District Ranger Mike Liu. “We may open certain areas a little early this year because winter logging operations plowed out certain roads and they are melting and drying out faster as a result, but all other areas are still snow covered.”

In past years, depending upon road and weather conditions, woodcutting permits became available for sale starting as early as April 1 on some ranger districts, but

Forest users are encouraged to contact local ranger district offices for information on current road conditions and the woodcutting permit program. Information is also available on the forest’s website at www.fs.usda.gov/okawen.

Billygoats bounce ba-a-a-ck against Curlew

By MIKE MALTAIS
STAFF WRITER

PATEROS – Displaying a grit beyond their years the young Pateros Billygoats dug themselves out of a hole to overtake and defeat visiting Curlew, 7-6, in the final inning of play last Saturday, April 8.

Coach Bob VanLith characterized the Cougars of the Northeast 1B League as “young, like us.”

With a team comprised of only one senior, two juniors and the remainder sophomores, the Billygoats are experiencing “a lot of growing pains,” VanLith said.

Still, when it counted, Pateros settled down and got the job done.

Starting pitcher, Logan Robinson and reliever, Dakota Poole combined to strike out a baker’s dozen and Curlew’s pitching help with the rest.

Pateros collected six hits and “scored on some walks” VanLith said, before junior Doug Viebrock’s only hit drove in two runs in the seventh, including the game winner.

The young Pateros team faced some powerful opponents early in the season with four of their six league games against undefeated Liberty Bell and Soap Lake.

The Billygoats are in the middle of the Central Washington 2B League with a 2-4 league record and 4-4 overall. They were scheduled to play at Lake Roosevelt, Tuesday, April 11

Pateros will host Bridgeport at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 15, for a doubleheader and play the Raiders at home on Tuesday, April 18.

Bears win battle of unbeaten’s against Soap Lake

By Mike Maltais
STAFF WRITER

BREWSTER – In a battle of the previously unbeaten, the Bears varsity baseball team emerged undefeated in a home doubleheader against Soap Lake last Friday, April 7.

The 6-0 Eagles were fresh from a DH win over the Bridgeport Mustangs and Brewster had manhandled Waterville-Mansfield in their own two-game sweep.

In a pitching duel that kept a lid on the hitting, the Bears won the front half of the DH, 3-1, and the second game, 6-2.

Coach Todd Phillips credits his team’s defense and mound for keeping the Bears on top.

“Our pitching and defense has been getting it done all year,” said Phillips.

Freshman Kade Kelpman threw 12 strikeouts through six innings in the first game, allowed two hits and one run with one walked batter, Phillips said.

Sophomore Isaac Baker fanned five batters through five innings, gave up one hit, one run and walked two.

Sophomore Joe Taylor got the save in both games.

Though both Taylor (3-5) and Baker hit wall on the day, “it obviously wasn’t our hitting,” that won either game, said Phillips. “We didn’t hit poorly but we did run the bases very poorly and that cost us a few runs in each game.”

The Eagles were able to capitalize on lapses in Bears’ base running took advantage of several easy outs.

“Soap Lake’s pitching was solid,” said Phillips. “The best we’ve seen in the regular season.”

While Phillips didn’t rate the Eagles’ fielding and hitting on a par with their pitching, they are “definitely not a team to overlook come playoff time,” Phillips said.

Brewster was scheduled to host 4-0 Liberty Bell on Tuesday, April 11, and will play the Raiders at lake Roosevelt on Friday, April 15. The Bears will travel to Liberty Bell next Tuesday, April 18.

Below: Bears second baseman Cade Gebbers collects the throw down from the catcher, but is unable to get the out as the runner just beats the throw.

Health care question

Dear Editor,

The Swamp is a cute name for, I'm not sure what, but I like the visual it generates about Washington D.C. However, let's get to the point, first, Obamacare is nothing more than RomneyCare gone Federal. Second, at a minimum, the GOP has had from 2010-2017, adequate time to draft a healthcare bill that would deflate and repeal and replace the current ACA, one would think.

The House of Representatives failed in that effort.

The current failure does not suggest that no work has been done by some segment of the GOP to offer a package. What's missing in all the noise is the fundamental difference between the GOP's sides.

That important difference can be simply explained, were one to examine the details and exempt the political party nonsense that covers things.

If I may, here is the major difference: 1. Romney Care is a state program. 2. Obama Care is a Federal Government program, a law that requires all 50 states to comply.

The GOP is currently (and perhaps for the past 10 to 12 yrs) in the mess of trying to decide who leads the party: a. the State's Rights purists, or 2. the Federalists who would not have joined the fight in 1864 against Slavery Ownership Rights by individual states.

Like it or not, this is the fundamental question about healthcare; is healthcare a Federal Govt. supported/provided benefit of citizenry, or is it a service provided or not by each State's opinion in the legislative offices?

As I read your tripe (and yes, that is a throw-away fish), I see you too fail to come to grips with this point. So, let me ask you directly: Bill do you favor a federal or a state level of law in the matter of health care for all Americans? Both sides are legitimate Constitutionally, and both sides have value as well as flaws...there is no perfect solution for issues of such magnitude.

I mean no insult or injury when I ask the question; neither do I intend to open up a different debate. All I'm looking for here is an honest answer. Do you support: A. State's rights for providing healthcare support/insurance, or B. Federal govt. rights to provide healthcare to the citizens of the nation?

Before you ask: I favor, strongly, a single payer, federal system that trumps (no pun intended) all private insurance claims, just to keep you on target to answering my question.

In the federal sense, it is this question nationally that must be answered and it too should be decided whether the nation needs a Romney solution, aka State decided, or an Obama solution, a national solution from the federal government.

majority happy. Isn't that what our government is all about? The majority decides? And, the majority should be the voters, not the insurance companies, the pharama giants, etc. It should be the registered citizen voters, not the dollars of others.

Alex Saliby
Leavenworth

Publisher's response: Short answer – I want a free market solution with minimal involvement from the government. Competition and ingenuity will produce better results than a one size fits all government mandate whether that is mandated by the states or the federal is irrelevant.

National Committee to Abuse while profit off Athletes

What the acronym really stands for Slavery might have been abolished a long time ago, but it seems that college athletics was one caveat to law.

This is illustrated by the continuous exploitation of our college athletes in order to make exorbitant amounts of money off of them with little to no compensation. After all, that is what capitalism is all about right? Obtain a profit at all costs.

Don't let the amateur non-profit designation fool you, the NCAA is big league money. In fact, just the television ad revenue from the 2014 NCAA Tournament totaled $1.13 billion. That isn't enough though.

DEAL WITH IT

Zach
Johnson

No, the NCAA in 2009 decided they needed to increase their revenues in the Final Four by switching from regular basketball stadiums to NFL stadiums. The attendance in the 2008 National Championship was 43,256. Last year's attendance was listed at 75,505. Why sell 43,000 tickets when you can sell nearly double?

So don't be mistaken, the NCAA is a billion dollar corporation and involved in the money-grab business.

As a gesture of gratitude, but more-so a result of a February 2017 lawsuit, the NCAA will pay 40,000 athletes from 11 conferences between $5,000 and $7,000 each for food and the cost of living. Keep in mind this was fought tooth-and-nail from the NCAA side to not give the athletes anything.

This comes just two years after the NCAA conducted a study and found that 80 percent of college basketball players in the top conferences, live below the poverty line despite full ride scholarships. Many of these athletes reported not being able to afford transportation at home and had trouble paying for food and books. In the same study, Duke basketball players - one of the premier basketball programs - were valued at $1,025,656 each for what they bring in for the University. The average team member lived $732 above the poverty line. This all while their coach is among the top paid employee at the University.

If you are asking yourself, why don't these athletes get a side job?

First, a lot do because they need at least some extra money. But really how many hours do you think they are able to work? On average, college athletes practice around 30 hours per week. Keep in mind that is just practice, it doesn't take into account all the time they spend doing extra work either on the field or in the weight-room, time spent doing homework or with a tutor - which are more and more becoming mandatory for college athletes - or in class. Still think they can balance all of that with a little side job and still afford to pay for their own food, books, clothes or cost of living?

And you wonder why there are so many scandals with players receiving money/benefits from coaches and boosters? That actually happens a lot more than what is known or reported. Of course broke, overworked teenagers are going to accept money, food or clothes if offered from a booster.

But these guys are going to go pro right? They'll make enough money to cover what they lost in college, I mean the average NBA salary this year was $6.2 million. Unfortunately that theory doesn't match up with the numbers. On average only a little more than one percent of college players make it to the pro's in their respective sport.

The NCAA runs quite a brilliant scheme. Did you know they even invented the term 'student-athlete' so they could fight insurance claims for injured football players. Pretty slick, huh?

But that seems quite obvious to me. The issue that needs to be investigated deeper is the discrepancy between black men that are full-time degree-seeking undergraduate students and black men that are on the athletic teams. For example, a 2010 study from the Penn Graduate School of Education found that in the big six NCAA conferences (ACC, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac 12 and SEC) between 2007 and 2010, Black men were 2.8 percent of full-time degree seeking students but on 57 percent of the football teams and 64.3 percent of basketball teams.

To me that says that these top and prestigious Universities, which already charge an arm and a leg for tuition, won't admit black students unless they can exploit them.

That is a serious problem.

‘A Good and Faithful Judge’

Fourteen months ago, the sudden passing of Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia left a void on the nation's highest court. Not only did the court lose an esteemed colleague, but the nation lost an eloquent advocate for constitutional limits on government and preserving the rule of law. In the intervening months, the question of who should replace Justice Scalia was put before the American people. Now, with Senate confirmation of U.S. Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Neil Gorsuch,

U.S. Cong.
Dan

a new voice advocating for judicial restraint and original intent has been added to the Supreme Court.

Gorsuch certainly seems to follow in the philosophical footsteps of Justice Scalia. In a speech, he once quoted Scalia's summation of the conservative view of the role of a judge: "If you're going to be a good and faithful judge, you have to resign yourself to the fact that you're not always going to like the conclusions you reach. If you like them all the time, you're probably doing something wrong." Respect for the rule of law means interpreting the law as it is written, not redefining the law according to constantly shifting trends or to support a predetermined outcome. Scalia and Gorsuch shared the idea that the law is to be made by elected lawmakers and fairly upheld in court by appointed judges.

Another important area of legal interpretation is the 'Chevron doctrine' whereby courts have deferred to federal agencies' interpretation of vague statutory language. Ambiguity in the law has given federal agencies tremendous regulatory power if courts must defer to ever-expanding regulatory definitions. In an opinion for the Tenth Circuit,

Judge Gorsuch said: "There's an elephant in the room with us today...But the fact is Chevron...permit[s] executive bureaucracies to swallow huge amounts of core judicial and legislative power and concentrate federal power in a way that seems more than a little difficult to square with the Constitution of the framers' design. Maybe the time has come to face the behemoth." Judge Gorsuch argued that the law should be interpreted by the judicial branch rather than the executive branch, thus protecting the principle of the separation of powers.

We are a republic, 'if we can keep it,' to paraphrase Benjamin Franklin. Our system depends on respect for the separate roles of the executive, legislative, and judicial powers. Otherwise, we are faced with an ever-expanding administrative state that is less accountable to the people. With Justice Gorsuch on the Supreme Court, we again have a guardian of constitutional limits on the power of government.

Cantwell calls for Pruitt to address conflicts of interest regarding clean power plan

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, Senator Maria Cantwell (D-Wash.), Ranking Member on the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee and Senator Tom Carper (D-Del.), top Democrat on the Environment and Public Works Committee, led colleagues in calling for Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Administrator Scott Pruitt to address the apparent conflict of interest regarding his participation in EPA's review of the

Senator
Maria
Cantwell

Clean Power Plan, which Mr. Pruitt formerly challenged in court as Oklahoma's Attorney General.

Senator Cantwell and Senator Carper, along with Richard Blumenthal (D-Conn.), Cory Booker (D-N.J.), Dick Durbin (D-Ill.), Kamala Harris (D-Calif.), Patrick Leahy (D-Vt.), Edward J. Markey (D-Mass.), Jeff Merkley (D-Ore.) and Sheldon Whitehouse (D-R.I.) requested information on Mr. Pruitt's efforts to mitigate the likely conflicts of interest.

The Senators wrote, "Beginning in August 2014, you filed actions in both the U.S.

Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia (West Virginia v. EPA) and the Northern District of Oklahoma challenging the Clean Power Plan on behalf of the State of Oklahoma... We all continue to believe that you should have committed to recuse yourself extensively from a number of matters during your confirmation process.

Nevertheless, your anticipation of, and preparation for, signing of the Federal Register Notice and filing of the Motion in the DC Circuit should have triggered the more limited recusal policy to which you have already and repeatedly agreed."

Prior to his confirmation as EPA Administrator, Mr.

Pruitt said he would "seek authorization [from the EPA's Designated Agency Ethics Officer] to participate personally and substantially in particular matters involving specific parties in which [he] know[s] the State of Oklahoma is a party or represents a party."
