City council pushes projects forward, OK's city hall

By MIKE MALTAIS
Ward Media Staff Reporter

CHELAN – Following the selection of former mayor Bob Goedde as its choice among eight candidates to fill the District 2 position, the city council turned to the remainder of agenda items including city rates and fees, priority project funding, committee assignments, and an aviation fuel lawsuit.

The latter item, part of the council consent agenda, was addressed earlier at the Jan. 2 workshop and approves a $1,000 contribution to an action joined by more than three dozen large and small airports accusing the state of improper diversion of aviation fuel taxes.

Rate and Fee Resolution

Parks and Recreation Director Paul Horne reviewed a rate and fee resolution with increases that roughly align with the four percent rise in the Consumer Price Index. Among the changes:

- Annual parking passes increased from $20 to $25 for Chelan residents and $40 to $45 for residents of the Chelan Valley.
- Seasonal launch permits at the Lakeshore Marina will increase from $20 to $30.
- Putting course adult rates—applicable after 7 p.m.—will go from $12 to $15.
- Recreational programs will range from $35 to $75 per program, up from $30 to $40 previously. AAU card purchases will increase from $17 to $20.
- Picnic shelter rates will increase from $45 to $50 for four hours of use and from $85 to $95 for eight hours of use.

Golf fees

A 2020 study formulated a five-year plan to incrementally raise season pass rates while still providing good value to pass holders.

- Annual Pass Single from $900 to $975.
- Annual Family from $1,500 to $1,600.
- Annual Single Twilight from $500 to $550.
- Annual Family Twilight from $700 to $800.
- Daily green fees will increase from $38 to $44 for off-season play and $59 to $70 for peak season play. Daily green fees and annual passes are the most significant course rates. Other rates either remain the same or reflect marginal increases.

One-of-a-kind thrill

Luge like nowhere else on Bear Mountain

A line of luge enthusiasts prepare to launch down the 5K run atop Bear Mountain at the Loup Loup Ski Bowl.

By MIKE MALTAIS
Ward Media Staff Reporter

LOUP LOUP SUMMIT – Winter outdoor sports lovers searching for that one-of-a-kind thrill ride will find just what they are seeking in their own backyard on Bear Mountain at the Loup Loup Ski Bowl.

Bear Mountain Luge Sledding opened for the season last Saturday, Jan. 13, with its brand of excitement not found anywhere else. Luge – a French word meaning “sledge” – employs small single or double occupancy sleds that riders sit on, control with their hands, and use their feet for breaking.

“The Loup is one of the first and only resorts in the Western US to offer luge sledding,” A Loup media release said.

Combine that with a ride in the back of an open-air snowcat to ascend 1,200 feet to reach the starting point of the five-kilometer course and you have a pair of experiences unique to the Bear Mountain variety.

Loup Loup Ski Education Foundation (LLSEF) board secretary Steve Nelson and wife, Julie, came up with the novel and inspired idea for the luge program, now in its eighth year.

“It’s kind of a total experience,” said Nelson. “An initial education, a little clinic to tell everybody how to do it, then everybody loads in snowcats – how many people have ridden snowcats? .01 percent of the population – and then the guided trip down by our luge guides.”

With twists, turns, and plenty of speed, the course is a thrilling adventure for all ages.

“Speed is whatever the sledder wants because you control it yourself,” said Julie who manages the program. “It’s really for those who are more adventurous to go faster.”

For those adventurous types, whose daring exceeds their skill there is a border fence just like the kind used on ski racecourses to catch errant riders.

Not surprisingly many of the sledders are return clients and multi-generational family groups that have found the perfect experience that any age can enjoy safely. Nelson said the two types of people he hears from the most are the repeat customers and those who have been trying for years to get a reservation.

“This is primarily a European type of sport,” said Nelson, “We’re very unique and nobody else has really caught on.”

The 2-1/2-hour experience costs $50 per person and includes sled, helmet, luge sledding instruction, open air snowcat ride up Bear Mountain, and guided sledding down five-plus

First baby of the new year

By AGUSTIN BENEGAS
Lake Chelan Health Hospital

CHELAN - In 2024, the New Year's baby, Mateo Eduardo Roa, made a prompt entrance on Wednesday, January 3, at Lake Chelan Health Hospital (LCHH). Born in one of the four Labor and Delivery Suites, Mateo, adorned in a custom blanket and hat with his name, joined the Roa and Gomez family at 2:41 p.m., measuring 21 inches and weighing 8 pounds 3 ounces.

Edith Gomez and Eduardo Roa, parents to three children, eagerly anticipated Mateo's arrival at the new hospital, particularly noteworthy as their two other children were born in the former Lake Chelan Hospital.

Mateo's siblings were excited to meet their new brother and curious about “how the baby was born,” remarked Edith.

Although residing in Omak, the couple maintained their connection with their Chelan-based doctor and chose the new hospital for Mateo's birth. Notably, Lake Chelan Health Hospital witnesses the arrival of almost 100 newborns each year.

The family received warm congratulations and were presented with the New Year's Baby Basket by Lisa Marshall, a dedicated Registered Nurse with seven years of service at LCHH, and OB Manager Julianna England. The New Year Baby Basket was generously donated by Hospital Guild B.

CHELAN - Chelan Valley Housing Trust (CVHT) recently received a $7,500 grant from Washington Federal Bank earmarked for the building Emerson Harbour Townhomes.

"We know how crucial affordable housing is to Chelan and love what Chelan Valley Housing Trust is doing to make a difference in our community," reports Ken McLain, WaFd's Central Washington Regional President.

"Supporting the Chelan Valley Housing Trust is important to WaFd Bank because we want to see everyone in the community thriving where we live and having access to affordable housing is crucial to that success," added April Wiggins, WaFd's Branch Manager.

CVHT is building these six 2-bedroom/1-bath homes located on Nixon and Emerson Streets in Chelan. These homes will be attainable for local wage earners making 120% Area Median Income or less, according to Scott Meyers, the trust's Executive Director. It is anticipated that homes will be finished this spring.

Chelan Valley Housing Trust's Mission is to develop stable and secure housing that is attainable to Chelan, Chelan Falls and Manson wage earners.

Championing local milestones and the importance of shopping local

In this week's edition of the Lake Chelan Mirror, nestled on page A4, lies a unique celebration of local business resilience and longevity - our 'Honor Roll of Business.' This feature is not just a list but a visual narrative showcasing businesses in descending order based on their years of service. It is an homage to their persistence and a symbol of their integral role in our community. But there's more to this feature than just acknowledgement. It underscores a crucial message: the importance of shopping local. Each business listed represents a decision by someone in our community to choose local over distant alternatives. This choice strengthens our local economy, fosters job creation, and nurtures the community's unique character. Shopping local isn't just a catchphrase; it's a commitment to sustaining the vibrancy and health of our economy. When we choose local businesses, we're not just buying a product or a service; we're investing in our community's future. Local businesses are more likely to recycle a much larger share of their revenue back into the local economy, enhancing the whole community's economic base. The endurance of these businesses, highlighted in the Honor Roll of Business, also reflects their ability to build and maintain trust within our community. These are the enterprises that have weathered economic storms and adapted to changing consumer needs while remaining steadfast in their commitment to our region. These local businesses contribute much to the community. They sponsor local sports teams, support school events, and participate in charity drives. Their presence goes beyond the storefront; they are part of our community's fabric and are vital in shaping our local culture and identity. As you peruse the listings on page A4, remember that each name is a call to action. It's a reminder to support those who have invested in our community, provide local jobs, and contribute to North Central Washington's unique charm. Your choice to shop local is a powerful tool in building a strong and sustainable community. Ward Media is proud to highlight these local pillars. We believe that recognizing their milestones is as important as understanding the impact of our shopping choices. Together, we can ensure the prosperity and vibrancy of our local business community for years to come.

From the Publisher

CHS Blackhorn Drama Guild officers address school board

Ward Media Staff Reporter

CHELAN - Student officers from the Blackhorn Drama Guild, Chelan High School's student drama club, delivered one of their most significant performances on Jan. 8 when they addressed members of the Lake Chelan School Board's regular bi-monthly meeting. Guild president David Kelly and vice president Chloe Desgroseillier, accompanied by advisor, Cynthia Bertomeu, spoke about club activities, the upcoming stage production, and how guild membership has affected them. Kelly said this year's membership includes 43 students, 16 of whom will have acting roles and many more as potential stage crew members. Desgroseillier explained the mission behind the club. "We seek to encourage confidence and build relationships," said Desgroseillier. "Theater has a role for everyone from the quiet crewmembers diligently completing tasks behind the scenes to the with the onstage cast...Through our performances we entertain, educate, and sometimes even enlighten our members and our audiences on social issues. We strive to create a pace of expression and belonging." Both student officers spoke about how the drama club has benefited them. "I have become much more confident in my abilities," said Kelly. "I've been less harsh on myself and a lot more outgoing as the years have gone on." Kelly said he is happy to be the club president and "to be able to contribute to the legacy of drama." Desgroseillier echoed similar feelings. "Drama club has helped build my confidence," said Desgroseillier. "I feel welcome and accepted there and I have so many friends." Board president Kim Thorpe recounted her daughter's reaction after taking her to last year's Blackhorn drama production. "It was fantastic," said Thorpe. "My daughter was talking about it and saw you guys out in public somewhere and said, 'They're from the play! They're from the play!' so, lo, you inspired a little eight-year-old for that." Kelly highlighted recent club activities such as a concessions booth at the FFA Harvest Festival, and a Sasquatch Hunt in downtown Chelan. The guild is preparing a production of "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz" on Feb. 23-24, in which Kelly will play the Scarecrow and Desgroseillier, the Wicked Witch of the West. Mike Maltais: 360-333-8483 or michael@ward.media

MANSON - The Manson Chamber of Commerce, under the leadership of Executive Director Tom Tochterman, conducted its first official act of business with a Board Retreat, Jan. 3 and 4, in the conference room of North Cascades Bank, in Chelan. Fletcher Ellingson, author of "The Practice of Feeling Good" facilitated the first day of retreat.

The first item to take note of is the expansion of the Chamber's Board from five to nine. "Given all the projects and events the Manson Chamber hosts or sponsors, it was clear that doubling the size of the board was warranted. Our community is blessed with great volunteers that get the work done. We need additional help with advance planning, both financial and logistical; the board settled on its size from a board of five members to nine," stated Tochterman.

"The retreat was very productive," said Past President Kim Ustanik. "Fletcher helped organize our ideas and goals, charting a course for 2024, providing first-class benefits for Manson Chamber members."

"Enhancements for 2024 include a stronger focus on the value of membership to our current and future members, a frequent outreach program where each member of the Board is assigned a set of businesses to network, a fresh look at the type of municipal services our community needs, and a way forward to acquire them, and the creation of small group meetings to plan specific enhancements to strengthen our business community. It's like the old African proverb, if you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far, go as a group," said Tochterman. Returning Board members include Kim Ustanik of Mountain View Lodge, Bill Swayne of Chelan Ridge Winery, Erik Cooper of Vibe Cellars and Mariah Koester of Four Lake Winery. New Board members in 2024 include Kevin Cameron of Chelan Lookout, Becca Hines -of Succession Wines and Alta Cellars, and Janice Vyborny of Fresh Off the Press. Two seats remain open and appointments are expected soon. The current Manson Chamber of Commerce originally began as the Manson

Washington Outdoors Report

It's once again show season

By JOHN KRUSE
Special to Ward Media

Opportunities become limited for many hunters, anglers and outdoors enthusiasts during the winter months which is why promoters host sportsmen's shows as well as other consumer shows this time of year. Here's a line-up of what's happening in Washington and beyond for 2024:

TACOMA RV SHOW – Jan. 14-18, The Tacoma Dome, Tacoma

Fifteen area dealers will have a large selection of RVs for sale at the Tacoma Dome this year. Trey Carskadon with O'Laughlin Trade Shows says there are large inventories of motorhomes, trailers, toy haulers and more and attendees should expect to see show specials with prices significantly below MSRP. Better still, the Boeing Employee Credit Union will be on hand with special financing rates available if you decide to purchase an RV at the show. www.tacomarvshow.com

TRI-CITIES SPORTSMAN SHOW – Jan. 26-28, HAPO Center, Pasco

The 30th annual Tri-Cities Sportsman Show, put on every year by Merle and Bev Shuyler, promises to be a good one, attracting attendees from both Eastern Washington and North Central Oregon. Attractions this year include a border collie performing team and the return of the Sportsman Show Marketplace, where individuals rent a table inside the show and sell new or slightly used fishing, hunting and outdoors gear to attendees.

Children will enjoy the air rifle range, balloon archery shoot, face painting and catching trout at the luncheon lake. Kid's day is Sunday with a dollar off of admission and free fishing. Adults can wander the HAPO Center, visiting over 125 booths, or take in the Northwest Big Game Antler Display, the Fly-Tying Theater, axe throwing demonstrations and hourly seminars by experts sharing tips for regional fishing and hunting success. Consider dropping by the Northwest Outdoor Writers Association booth as well. I'll be there from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday. www.shuylerproductions.com

WASHINGTON SPORTSMEN'S SHOW – Jan. 31 - Feb. 4, Washington State Fair Event Center, Puyallup

Washington's largest show starts the last day of January with hundreds of retailers, manufacturers, guides, outfitters, boat dealers, RV dealers and more all in one place for the outdoors consumer. Well known hunting personality Randy Newberg is back this year hosting daily seminar sessions as will survival expert Brett Stoffel, who hails from the Wenatchee Valley. Other seminar speakers include me. I'll be in the Blue Fishing Theater Saturday at 11 AM sharing my top Northwest fishing destinations for 2024. I will also have a booth at the show promoting our radio shows that air on stations in this region.

Additional reasons to attend this show include the "Fistful of Cheaters" promotion put on by area Toyota dealers where you definitely win free cheaters for steelhead fishing and with any luck, additional prizes. Addicted Fishing will be premiering a new movie on Saturday night, the Wall of Kings trophy taxidermy will be available for viewing and youth will enjoy the free kid's trout fishing pond. www.thesportshows.com

SEATTLE BOAT SHOW – Feb. 2-10, Lumen Field and Bell Harbor Marina, Seattle

If you are into boating, this show is for you. Featuring all sorts of pleasure and fishing craft, a free shuttle will run you from the Lumen Field Event Center to the Bell Harbor Marina at Pier 66 so you can take it all in. In addition to daily promotions and demonstrations of various types, there will also be a bevy of seminars covering both fishing and boating. www.seattleboatshow.com

PACIFIC NORTHWEST SPORTSMEN'S SHOW – Feb. 14-18, Expo Center, Portland

The second biggest sportsmen's show in the nation doesn't take place in Washington but it's close, located at the Portland Expo Center on Marine Drive just south of Vancouver off of Interstate 5.

In addition to featuring the main attractions and speakers mentioned for the Washington Sportsmen's Show, Steve Rinella of MeatEater fame will be a speaker on the 15th from 2 to 4 PM. Leupold will have their popular movie night on Saturday, Born and Raised will be premiering a new film featuring an Alaska backcountry hunt and you'll also find a big kayak sale which includes a 30-foot indoor demo tank where you can see how the kayak you are interested in feels on the water. Last but not least, Candy Yow will be hosting a "Ladies Day Out" from 2 to 4 PM on Friday. www.thesportshows.com

SEATTLE RV SHOW – Feb. 15-18, Lumen Field Event Center

If you can't make the Pacific Northwest Sportsmen's Show

consider a trip to Lumen Field in Seattle for the Seattle RV Show. Twenty local dealers will have 400 different RVs for sale from 50 different manufacturers. www.seattlervshow.com

CENTRAL WASHINGTON SPORTSMAN SHOW – Feb. 23-25, Yakima Sun Dome

Purchased from Merle and Bev Shuyler in 2022, Josh and Jennifer McClanathan are putting their own mark on this long-running sportsmen's show. Some of the changes include new exhibitors, a 30-foot-long water demo tank that holds some 5,000 gallons of water, and a BowSim 4D archery simulator. Fly anglers can learn to cast at the casting pool and learn to tie flies at the Fly-Tying Theater. There are also plenty of activities for the kids ranging from an air rifle range to luncheon lake where young anglers can pay $5 to reel in trout. Sunday is Kids Day with free fishing and rumor has it Smokey the Bear will put in an appearance or two during the weekend. www.jlmproductionsllc.com

BIGHORN OUTDOOR ADVENTURE SHOW – March 14-17, Spokane Fair and Expo Center

Boasting some 300 exhibitors there is plenty of room to roam and visit all of them inside Washington's second biggest show, put on every year by the Inland Northwest Wildlife Council. This organization not only does on the ground work such as building ADA accessible hunting blinds, but also lobbies on behalf of hunters and anglers at the state level. This show, now in its 62nd year, is an important fundraising event for the organization. www.inwc.org

Caden Griggs

Boys Basketball
Junior

Core Value: Integrity
Coach Comments: "Caden has been extremely focused and positively mastering his role on the varsity team as a non-starter."

Finley Brandt

Girls Basketball
Sophomore

Core Value: Growth Mindset
Coach Comments: "Finley started playing basketball with us about a year ago. She was extremely hard on herself when she first started and it would impact her ability to play. Finley has had the most improvement in our entire program. She is our JV team captain and leads her team by being able to quickly flush a mistake and go win the next play."

Ron Hooten

Wrestling
Senior

Core Value: Passion
Coach Comments: Hooten has been very focused this year. He is a leader in the practice room and always pushes our younger wrestlers. His passion is contagious and is commonly spread throughout our team."

Tanner Orestad

Boys Basketball
Freshman

Core Value: Accountability
Coach Comments: "Tanner has had perfect attendance this season. Also a freshman he has had an extremely mature approach to playing both JV and Varsity during games."

Chelan Goats defeat Tonasket Tigers in intense matchup

Ward Media / Lake Chelan Mirror

CHELAN — In a thrilling encounter Saturday at the Chelan High School gymnasium, the Chelan Goats secured a hard-fought victory over the Tonasket Tigers, finishing with a score of 58-52. The game, characterized by its intense pace and strategic maneuvers, showcased the Goats' tenacity and skill on the court.

The match began with Chelan winning the tip-off, setting the tone for the rest of the game. The Goats quickly established a lead with a series of successful field goals and free throws, ending the first quarter with a score of 11-3. Chelan's defense was equally impressive, limiting the Tigers' scoring opportunities. Tonasket, however, showed resilience in the second quarter. Despite Chelan's continued scoring, including a notable three-pointer, the Tigers managed to narrow the gap, ending the half at 26-13 in favor of Chelan. The third quarter saw Chelan maintain their lead, though Tonasket's defense put up a strong fight. Chelan's strategy of rotating players frequently seemed to pay off, keeping the team fresh and dynamic. The quarter concluded with Chelan leading 41-25. In the final quarter, Tonasket attempted a comeback, narrowing the lead with crucial three-pointers and free throws. However, Chelan's consistent performance and strategic fouls held the Tigers at bay. The game concluded with Chelan securing a six-point victory. Key players for Chelan included Zach Noyd, Luca Faletto, and Dom Solorza, who were pivotal in both offense and defense. The team's ability to adapt and respond to Tonasket's strategies was a crucial factor in their win.

Trojans split Oroville win, Brewster loss

MANSON - It was a give-and-take first week of the New Year for the Trojans varsity basketball team. The luster of a 76-38 win over Oroville on Jan. 2, was tarnished by a 72-40 loss to visiting Brewster just two days later.

Despite a strong opening quarter behind the 10 points of team-high scorer Kaiden Zener, Manson found itself trailing the Bears by seven going into the second. Brewster lengthened its lead by nearly 20 heading into halftime as Manson looked for a second half defensive strategy that would counter the scoring of the Bears' 6'5" forward Cort Gebbers who had scored 19 of his game-high 25 points in the first half.

While Gebbers was held to only six points in the second half, a few teammates stepped in to take up the slack and allow Brewster to lead the third quarter, 14-10, and the fourth, 17-8.

Zener led Manson with 19 points. Chris Vazquez and Zahir Sanches scored four apiece, Quinn Williams had two points, and Vince Strecker, one.

The loss puts Manson fourth in district at 1-1, and 7-5 overall.

LEAVENWORTH - P.E.O. Chapter JF, Leavenworth, is now accepting applications for the Upper Valley Scholarship to support women seeking higher education. This needs-based scholarship is designed for women in Chelan or Douglas County who are returning to an accredited university, college, or technical school in Washington.

The scholarship targets women aged 30 or above, especially those resuming their education after a gap of at least two years. It will cover school expenses and be paid directly to the educational institution in the Fall of 2024.

Eligible institutions include any fully accredited colleges, universities, or technical schools in Washington. The scholarship is also open to those attending out-of-state online accredited schools. Successful applicants must confirm their enrollment for the funds to be released to the school's financial department.

Applications must be submitted by April 30, 2024. Recipients can reapply annually until they complete their education programs.

For more information and to request application forms, interested applicants should contact the Scholarship Committee at peoleavenworth@nwi.net.

Public Notices

Notice of Availability of Draft Environmental Assessment and Opportunity to Comment for Proposed Improvements at the Pangborn Memorial Airport in East Wenatchee, Washington
The Chelan Douglas Regional Port Authority (CDRPA) and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) announce that a Draft Environmental Assessment (EA) has been prepared in accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969 guidelines to analyze the potential environmental impacts of proposed airfield improvements to the Pangborn Memorial Airport (Airport). The federal regulatory agency with jurisdiction over civil aviation is the FAA, which must review and approve all proposed facilities and development on airport property to ensure compatibility with safe airport operations. The draft EA has been prepared in accordance with FAA Order 1050.1F Environmental Impacts: Policies and Procedures and FAA Order 5050.4B NEPA Implementing Instructions for Airport Actions, and other FAA guidance. The CDRPA proposes to rehabilitate and adaptively re-use the Airport's existing General Aviation (GA) Terminal building to address known building deficiencies and potentially hazardous conditions in order to meet the needs of existing and future users (Proposed Action). The GA Terminal building is a historic property eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places, and its rehabilitation required the Airport, FAA, and Washington Department of Archaeology and Historic Preservation to develop a Memorandum of Agreement to mitigate for adverse effects to historic properties. A Section 4(f) Evaluation has also been prepared in accordance with Section 4(f) of the U.S. DOT Act of 1966 (now codified at 49 U.S.C. § 303), which protects significant publicly owned parks, recreational areas, wildlife and waterfowl refuges, including public and private historic sites. This evaluation explains the purpose and need for the project, provides a discussion of alternatives, and determines that there are no feasible and prudent alternatives that would avoid the use of the Section 4(f) property. Through implementation of mitigation measures, the FAA determines the Proposed Action will have no significant impact on historic and Section 4(f) resources. The CDRPA and the FAA welcome public comments on the Draft EA. The Draft EA will be available in hard copy for public review for a period of 30 days at the Wenatchee Public Library (310 Douglas St., Wenatchee, WA) during business hours Sunday through Saturday from January 15, 2024, through February 15, 2024. The document can also be reviewed digitally from the Airport's website, www.flywenatchee.com. For individuals who cannot review the document at the Library or cannot access the Airport's website, a hard copy of the document or electronic copy provided on a USB flash drive may be mailed by sending a request to Vince Barthels at vbarthels@ardurra.com or by phone at (509) 951-9564. Public comment on this document is invited for a 30-day period extending from January 15, 2024 through February 15, 2024. Written comments regarding the draft EA will be accepted during the 30-day period as follows:

□ Postmarked by February 15,

2024, if mailed to Vince Barthels at Ardurra, ATTN: Pangborn Memorial Airport EA Comments, 1717 S. Rustle Street, Suite 201, Spokane, WA 99224, or, □ Emailed by 11:59 PM PDT on February 15, 2024, to vbarthels@ardurra.com (a confirmation reply will be sent). The responsible FAA official for information purposes is Valerie Thorsen, Assistant Manager, Seattle Airports District Office. She may be reached by email at Valerie.Thorsen@faa.gov. Martin Luther King, Jr. DAY OF SERVICE

"Everybody can be great because everybody can serve."

Service was at the heart of Martin Luther King's philosophy. He urged Americans to take action to improve the lives of others.

In 1994, Congress passed the King Holiday and Service Act to support efforts to make the King holiday a day of service. Since then, millions of Americans have honored the memory of Dr. King by making Martin Luther King Day as a "day on" instead of a "day off."

People across the nation spend Martin Luther King Day volunteering to make their communities better places. Some will plant community gardens, clean up parks or beaches, and others will read to children or the elderly.

- Take a look at this list of MLK, Jr. Day Service ideas. Then look at each picture. Number the project you think each kid chose in the circles.
1. Clearing an elderly neighbor's sidewalk.
 2. Collecting canned goods for a food bank.
 3. Help coach a younger child's team.
 4. Help a neighbor with some yardwork.
 5. Play a game at the senior center.

Are you getting too much magnesium?

84-year-old Martha was halfway down her driveway to get her mail when she tripped and fell onto the asphalt. Luckily, her neighbor across the street witnessed her fall, rushed to help, and called 911 when she couldn't get up.

Her head, heart, lungs, and kidneys checked out fine, but the magnesium in Martha's blood was too high, which can cause muscle weakness. When asked if she was taking any magnesium supplements, Martha said no. "I only take a thyroid pill for my thyroid and a pain pill at night for my arthritis."

I asked her, "Do you take any laxatives?"

"Why, yes, nearly every night. My pain pill helps my arthritis, but it binds me up, so I take a laxative for that."

"Which one?"

"It's in a blue bottle. Phillips®, I think."

"Do you take anything for stomach acid, burning, or indigestion?"

"Sometimes. I like the mint flavored Mylanta® chews."

"How about other supplements? Do you take anything for sleep?"

"Sure. There's a powder called CALM that helps me sleep. I mix some in my chamomile tea at bedtime."

Although she wasn't taking a magnesium supplement, Martha was getting magnesium through taking Phillips® Milk of Magnesia as a laxative, Mylanta chews as an antacid and CALM powder for sleep.

Magnesium is a mineral that's essential for the function and maintenance of nerves and muscles and for making new bone cells. Too little magnesium interferes with correcting calcium or potassium deficiency. It can lead to osteoporosis and high blood pressure, while too much magnesium causes diarrhea, muscle weakness, and sedation.

Magnesium hydroxide is a milky liquid and a significant ingredient in the antacids Maalox® and Mylanta®. It's also the main component of Phillips Milk of Magnesia®. Magnesium is also available as magnesium citrate, a clear, effervescent solution of magnesium with sodium bicarbonate and citric acid added to make it bubbly.

Magnesium citrate and magnesium hydroxide are marketed laxatives. Magnesium relieves constipation by helping pull water out of your body into your intestine and colon as it travels through. The extra water helps to soften your stool and relieve constipation in as little as 30 minutes to 3 hours.

Although these magnesium-based laxatives work inside your intestines, some of the magnesium can also get into your bloodstream. Up to 20% of the magnesium in each dose of milk of magnesia or citrate of magnesia can be absorbed, increasing your magnesium blood level, like what happened to Martha.

Martha also was getting magnesium in her CALM for Sleep powder.

Epsom Salts are another form of magnesium. When mineral waters in Epsom, England, underwent evaporation, they produced a nearly pure form of magnesium sulfate. Today, Epsom Salts are made by evaporating water from the sea. After extracting the more desirable sodium chloride (table salt) from seawater, the brine that is left is nearly pure magnesium sulfate.

Soaking in a concentrated salty solution of Epsom salts dissolved in hot water can help decrease swelling and relieve aches and pains. Magnesium chloride is also available as a spray to rub in to relieve muscle cramps. Your body can absorb magnesium chloride through your skin if you soak in it or spray it on.

I find that soaking in Epsom Salts is helpful when dealing with a deep splinter. Instead of digging around after it, soaking the area first shrinks and softens the skin around the splinter, making it much easier to see and remove.

Here are 5 Tips on Take Magnesium Safely:

1. Watch out for multiple sources.

In addition to taking a magnesium supplement, your body can absorb magnesium from other sources. Some antacids, liquid laxatives, supplements for sleep, and Epsom Salts all contain magnesium.

2. Know the signs of getting too much magnesium.

If you notice diarrhea, cramping, weakness, or low blood pressure, you may get too much magnesium, like Martha.

3. If you have kidney problems, avoid getting extra magnesium.

Avoid taking magnesium-containing antacids, laxatives, supplements, or using magnesium soaks or sprays if you have kidney problems or are under the care of a kidney doctor.

4. Change up your laxatives.

If you need a laxative regularly, avoid magnesium.

Instead, use powdered Miralax® (polyethylene glycol 3350), which is more effective than milk of magnesia and magnesium citrate without the risk of getting extra magnesium.

5. Don't mix magnesium with antibiotics.

Avoid taking magnesium between 1 hour before and at least 2 hours after certain antibiotics. Magnesium and other minerals like iron and calcium will attach directly to certain antibiotics, preventing you from absorbing the entire dose.

Council

The council unanimously adopted the resolution.

Priorities & Funding Sources

City Administrator Wade Farris explained that councilmembers discussed priorities they would like to focus on in 2024 during their strategic retreat last September. At its last meeting, the city hired a federal lobbyist to help with project funding. During the council workshop held on Jan. 2, the council created a 2024 priority projects list.

"We have two routes of funding," explained Mayor Erin McCardle at the workshop. "We have direct appropriation from our state legislature and our ask of grants and support."

Priority projects include:

1. Stormwater Comprehensive Plan
2. East Chelan Reservoir (TIF District)
3. Northshore Trail
4. City Hall
5. Imagine Downtown
6. Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) access
7. Electrical upgrades for the RV Park
8. Ballfield improvements and lighting
9. Golf course irrigation
10. Street Corridors (pedestrian access in downtown core)

The city has until a Jan. 26 deadline to submit its legislative appropriation requests.

McCardle asked the council to focus on number 4, the city hall, to meet the application deadline.

"What we are looking for tonight is consensus on the city hall project that we can come back on the 23rd with a completed application for this that you can look at, vote on, and approve," said McCardle.

Councilmembers gave their consent. Projects will be voted on during the Jan. 23, city council meeting.

Committee Liaison Assignments

Each year, committee liaison assignments are reviewed so council members can select those on which they would like to serve. These also were discussed during the workshop.

"We have three empty spots right now," said McCardle, "the Cascadia Conservation District, the port (Chelan Douglas Regional Port Authority Board), and the planning commission."

Following McCardle's request for preferences, the committee liaison assignments now include:

Mayor McCardle

General Sewer Plan

Public Works Director Jake Youngren explained that the city completed its draft General Sewer Plan in 2021. The Department of Ecology issued an approval letter on Dec. 13, 2023, and the finalized plan is ready for adoption. The council unanimously approved.
