Chelan Parks Vision 2030 plan takes root at council meeting

By Mike Maltais
Ward Media Staff Reporter

CHELAN – Parks, Recreation, and Community Services Director Paul Horne delivered the second and third pillars of the Chelan Parks Vision 2030 Plan to the city council at its April 23 bi-monthly meeting. The three pillars are 1. Exemplary Parks (Places), 2. Engaged Community (People), and 3. Operational Sustainability (Organization).

Horne discussed the first pillar at the previous council meeting and included Places:

- Destination playgrounds
- Promenades and boardwalks
- Outdoor amphitheatres
- Marina
- Lakeside Park Land and Water Conservation Grant
- RV park and golf course
- Trails and greenways

Engaged Community

“This focuses on community engagement as an end in itself,” said Horne, “not as a means to an end.”

Horne said his department is launching its new recreation software to help keep citizens engaged in recreation informed, allow online registration and payment, sign up for newsletters, and more. The new software will also free up staff from some of those functions.

“Design meetings, planning meetings... we’ve always had good turnout for these,” said Horne. “People care about their parks.”

The Parks Department has been working with SCJ Alliance to produce a Parks and Recreation System (PROS) Plan. The PROS Plan provides a strategic roadmap for the parks system for the next six-year Capital Improvements Projects (CIP) cycle. These plans are typically updated every six years, and much has happened in Chelan in the eight years since the adoption of the 2016 plan.

In June 2023 the city council approved the SCJ Alliance Professional Services Agreement for the Parks and Recreation System Master Plan Project. The following month council reviewed the Parks and Recreation Open Space (PROS) Plan survey questions. An administrative report was issued on Feb. 27 this year and later approved it on April 9.

Horne previewed the 43-page Chelan Parks Vision 2030

“Out of our last strategic retreat we heard that recreation is vital to the community,” said Horne. “It’s a core part of the Parks and Recreation mission...and we want to step that up.”

Horne noted that park signage is currently on the minimal side and needs more work.

Parks has also been good at introducing new trees to the system.

“We planted four different species of trees to add variety and diversity to the (Don Morse) park,” Horne said.

Those were installed in fall 2022 and include:

- Forest Pansey Redbud – A flowering deciduous with brilliant scarlet-purple spring blooms, maturing to maroon.
- Kentucky coffeetree – A pest-free, pollution-tolerant deciduous that bears leathery, reddish-brown seed pods.
- Dawn Redwood – A deciduous, not evergreen, with striking golden-orange fall foliage. Thought to be extinct for millions of years, it was later rediscovered in China.

Chelan supports Link Transit low emissions grant application

By Mike Maltais
Ward Media Staff Reporter

CHELAN – The city council approved a letter of support at its April 23 bi-monthly meeting for a Link Transit application to the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) for its 5339(c) Low- or No Emission Grant Program. The grant is a competitive opportunity introduced in 2015 to support the U.S. transition to low- and zero-emission public transit fleets.

The city’s letter of support says in part:

“The City of Chelan recognizes the benefits of having our region’s public transportation operate electric buses. With funding provided by this Low-No Grant, Link will continue to build sustainable transportation solutions to serve their growing urban and rural communities in more comfortable, reliable, and quieter vehicles.”

The FTA website transit.dot.gov/low no Last February the FTA made available $1.5 billion in fiscal year 2024 funding to support state and local efforts to buy or modernize buses, improve bus facilities, and support workforce development. Of this, $390 million in funding is authorized under the Grants for Buses and Bus Facilities Program.

The funding opportunity advances FTA’s priorities of strengthening U.S. bus manufacturing, containing vehicle costs, and accelerating the delivery of new vehicles. This funding opportunity also introduces streamlined application requirements for tribes requesting less than $1 million, making it easier for tribes with relatively small requests to apply.

Eligible projects include:

- Purchasing or leasing low- or no-emission buses.
- Acquiring low- or no-emission buses with a leased power source.
- Constructing or leasing facilities and related equipment (including intelligent technology and software) for low- or no-emission buses.
- Constructing new public transportation facilities to accommodate low- or no-emission buses.
- Rehabilitating or improving existing public transportation facilities to accommodate low- or no-emission buses.
- Additionally, 0.5 percent of a request may be for workforce development training and an additional 0.5 percent may be for training at the National Transit Institute (NTI). Applicants proposing any project related to zero-emission vehicles must also spend 5 percent of their award on workforce development and training as outlined in their Zero-Emission Transition Plan unless the applicant certifies that their financial need is less.

The city letter of support goes on to state that Link will use the grant funds to “purchase five new battery electric vehicles that will replace gasoline powered vehicles on a one-on-one ratio, increasing the percentage of Link Transit’s electric fixed-route fleet to 73 percent.”

The letter adds that “The Washington State legislature set a standard for all transit agencies to use 100 percent electric or biofuel to power their fleets. “This investment would put Link Transit on a pathway to achieve that measure and continue to connect people and communities, foster commerce, operate seamlessly across boundaries, and provide travel options to achieve an environmentally conscious system.”

Manson School District opts to maintain 5-day school week

Ward Media / Lake Chelan Mirror

MANSON – The Manson School Board has decided against pursuing an Economy Efficiency Waiver for the 2024-2025 academic year, which would have allowed the district to switch to a four-day school week.

The decision comes despite recent legislation expanding the number of districts eligible to consider such a change.

Board members felt unprepared to discuss the potential shift in the school calendar and have chosen not to include it in their meeting agendas at this time.

However, the board may revisit the topic in the fall of 2024.

Superintendent Tabatha Mires

stated, “The board remains focused on strategic planning and budgeting. We appreciate the input from all stakeholders, which was carefully considered in the decision-making process.”

The Manson School District will continue to operate on a five-day school week for the foreseeable future.

Cultivating community through parks and innovation

As I reflect on the stories in this week's Lake Chelan Mirror, I'm struck by the power of community engagement and forward-thinking initiatives to shape our region's future.

From the Publisher

TERRY WARD

The Chelan Parks Vision 2030 Plan, presented at the recent city council meeting, exemplifies the vital role that parks and recreation play in fostering a vibrant, connected community. By focusing on "Engaged Community" as one of its three pillars, the plan recognizes that involving citizens in the planning and enjoyment of our parks is not just a means to an end, but an end in itself. When people feel invested in their shared spaces, they build stronger bonds with each other and with the place they call home.

This spirit of community engagement is also evident in the upcoming meeting hosted by the Lake Chelan Trails Alliance, which aims to gather support for the development of trails on Chelan Butte. By inviting public input on the future of this iconic landmark, the Alliance is ensuring that any plans reflect the community's long-term desires and values. It's a powerful reminder that when we come together to shape our environment, we create not just physical trails, but pathways to a shared sense of purpose and belonging.

Equally inspiring is the city's support for Link Transit's low emissions grant application. By championing sustainable transportation solutions, Chelan is demonstrating its commitment to both environmental stewardship and improved quality of life for residents. Quieter, more reliable electric buses don't just reduce emissions - they create a more pleasant and accessible transit experience for all. It's the kind of forward-thinking investment that lays the groundwork for a greener, more connected future.

Of course, no reflection on community would be complete without honoring those who have helped shape it over the years. The selection of Earl and Judi Stanford as the 104th Manson Apple Blossom Festival Grand Marshals is a fitting tribute to a couple who have dedicated themselves to serving and celebrating their hometown. From building parade floats to leading church projects, the Stanfords embody the spirit of engaged citizenship that makes our communities thrive.

As we look to the future, initiatives like the Only7Seconds "No More Lonely Youth" campaign remind us of the pressing need to foster connection and belonging, especially among our young people. By activating participants, raising funds, and amplifying stories, the campaign aims to create a world where every youth feels seen, heard, and valued. It's a powerful call to action for all of us to be more intentional in building meaningful relationships and support systems.

So let's take inspiration from these stories and recommit ourselves to cultivating community in all its forms. Whether it's through engaging with our parks, shaping our shared spaces, supporting sustainable initiatives, honoring local heroes, or reaching out to those who may feel alone, each of us has a role to play. Together, we can create a community that is not just a collection of individuals but thriving and connected - a place where everyone feels a true sense of belonging.

Guest speaker will be Wen Chen, expert on Chinese/US affairs. The Chinese Communist Party (CCP) quickly gained financial power after China joined the World Trade Organization. During the past 20 years, the Chinese government built up business ties with Hollywood and over 30 mainstream media worldwide to tell a better story about China. Hundreds of universities, including the college board, outsourced Mandarin teaching to the Chinese government. The Chinese consulates actively manipulate Chinese Americans and business owners who may steal intellectual property or influence elections. The U.S. lawmakers cannot stop at "condemning human rights abuses in China." They must take serious actions to prevent American businesses from sponsoring the CCP. We also need serious measures to protect academic and press freedom. Guests and non-members are welcome. Men are welcome. Food, wine and beverages available for purchase. Contact club president Pam James, 425-343-2911 for more information.

Earl and Judi Stanford - 104th Manson Apple Blossom Festival Grand Marshals

By MANSON APPLE BLOSSOM FESTIVAL COMMITTEE

In 1902, Obed Stanford, Earl's grandfather, who was only 19 years old, came to Manson from Iowa and established a homestead which was located in the upper Joe Creek area. This was the beginning of the Stanford family in Manson, and it has continued since that time - some 122 years ago.

Earl Stanford was born to John and Nellie Stanford, Obed's son and wife, in a picker's cabin on Washington Street in Manson in 1934, 90 years ago. He was one of six children.

Earl grew up in Manson and graduated from Manson High School in 1952. He was the first in his family to go to college.

He attended WSU and graduated with a BA degree in Physical Education, coaching, and a teaching certificate.

Judi Pool Stanford was born in Sequim in 1941. She attended school in Sequim and then moved with her family to the north end of Seattle, graduating from Shoreline High School in 1959.

She spent two years of college at UPS in Tacoma and graduated from the University of Washington with a BS degree in Physical Education, science, coaching, and a teaching certificate.

Earl and Judi were married in 1969 and taught in the Northshore, Bellevue, and Shoreline school districts.

In 1975 they decided to quit their teaching jobs and move back to Earl's childhood town of Manson.

Earl and Judi Stanford, grand marshals for the 104th Manson Apple Blossom Festival parade are pictured with this year's royal court. Left to right are: Princess Liliana Narvaez, Earl, Queen Isabelle Harris, Judi, and Princess Natalee Reyna.

Judy taught school and coached in Manson for two years as Earl began his new career as an orchardist in an orchard on Washington Street that they purchased from Jean and LaRue Barkley.

Their daughter Patty graduated from Manson High School in 1976.

Patty Stanford McClellan still lives in Manson and carries on the Stanford heritage.

During this time, Earl and Judi became very active in the Manson community. For several years, they helped build the Manson Apple Blossom floats.

Earl would often drive the floats through the parade and also drive them all the way to Wenatchee for the Washington Apple Blossom parade.

Judi also helped build the floats and chaperoned the royalty.

Earl also helped organize and line up the parade participants before the parade began.

This was before the age of cell phones, so he was often seen riding up and down the parade route on his four-wheeler, trying to keep the radio station informed about who was in the lineup. Earl also served as president of the Lake Reclamation Board of Directors and was also a member of the board of directors of Blue Chelan, his local apple warehouse. He was an elder at North Shore Bible Church and was in charge of the building project when they built their church at 123 Wapato Point Parkway. Judi was involved in teaching women's Bible studies and leading the women's ministry program at North Shore Bible Church. She also volunteered at Chelan Valley Hope for 12 years and enjoyed selling real estate here for ten years. In 1999, they had the pleasure of seeing their granddaughter, Monica McCabe, crowned Manson Apple Blossom Queen. Early and Judi sold their orchard and retired in 2000 after Earl was diagnosed with a health condition and was not able to continue with the physical work.

"We have many happy memories to have spent so many years of our life in this wonderful community. There isn't a more beautiful place that we could call home.

We are very grateful to have been selected to serve as the Grand Marshals of the 104th Manson Apple Blossom parade. We feel very honored to represent this community on this special day. Thank you for selecting us to carry on this wonderful tradition."

a reddish-purple shade in the spring, shift to dark green in summer, and turn yellow to orange-red in the fall.

Horne added the Hornbeam in response to a Mirror inquiry about the varieties that were planted. All the newcomers seem to like their Chelan home.

"They all look healthy and seem to be doing well," Horne said.

Urban foresters have advised Horne that, with some additional steps, Don Morse would have enough diversity to reach the threshold of being considered an arboretum.

Expanding on the arboretum threshold, Horne said that one of the criteria for reaching arboretum status is having a minimum of 25 unique tree species.

"While seeking official arboretum status for the RV Park or Don Morse Park is not a priority at this time, we will continue to add variety to our tree mix for patron's enjoyment, and for the ecological benefits of avoiding a monoculture," Horne said.

They were planted in the fall 2022 Arbor Day celebration.

"We'll have our celebration this year again in the fall," added Horne. "While Arbor Day is officially in the spring, planting trees in the fall seems to be the best practice."

Operational Sustainability

Preparing for the unexpected is as important as planning for the expected.

"We've had growing revenue for the last four years with the exception of 2020 when we were forced to close the RV for Covid," said Horne. "We lost about $500,000 that year."

To weather such setbacks, the Capital Reserve Fund serves as a tree reserve fund to provide funds for grant matches and to capitalize on targets of opportunities as they arise."

Thriving Together NCW launches North Central Washington wellbeing survey

Ward Media
Lake Chelan Mirror

EAST WENATCHEE - Thriving Together NCW, a regional nonprofit dedicated to advancing health and wellbeing, announces the launch of a survey designed to gather information from residents in Chelan, Douglas, Grant, and Okanogan Counties related to their overall wellness. The goal of the survey is to better understand the factors keeping individuals from reaching their full health potential to best support organizations and individuals alike in addressing these challenges. Results from the survey will help Thriving Together NCW understand the barriers and challenges unique to the region directly from the residents who live here. It will also provide insight as to who in the region is suffering, struggling, and thriving the most. The survey takes about 5 minutes to complete and provides an opportunity for residents to directly engage in building a more inclusive and resilient region. All responses are anonymous and will be treated with the utmost confidentiality to ensure the honesty and openness of participants. "We believe that we learn best by engaging the community in identifying what makes them thrive. By understanding what community members are struggling the most, we can come together to engage those communities and create solutions that work," said Thriving Together NCW's Executive Director, John Schapman. "The North Central Washington Wellbeing Survey is a vital tool that will help us pinpoint areas and populations we should be engaging with the most and work with those communities to tailor our efforts towards creating lasting positive change."

Survey results will be utilized to identify strengths and areas of opportunity across the region, providing valuable insights for community leaders, policymakers, and healthcare providers to better understand the communities they serve and ultimately support guiding resources to areas where they are most needed. Thriving Together NCW encourages all residents of Chelan, Douglas, Grant, and Okanogan Counties to participate in the survey, as their input is integral to shaping the future of North Central Washington's health and well-being.

Pat "Duane" Dunbar

July 2, 1948 - April 18, 2024

Pat "Duane" Dunbar, 75, passed away on April 18, 2024, at Central Washington Hospital. He was a man of many trades, renowned for his work ethic, meticulous attention to detail and, most of all, his dedication to family. Duane, affectionately referred to as "Dunny" by many, especially his wife, brought warmth, joy, humor and friendship to everyone he met.

Pat "Duane" Dunbar

Duane was born in Ozone, Arkansas. He and his father, Manley Dunbar, braved the world together from the time Duane was two years old, traveling from Arkansas across the country and working harvests throughout Duane's youth. Eventually, Duane and his father settled in Chelan, Washington where he attended high school and, as fortune would have it, met the love of his life, Doris. Duane and Doris graduated in 1968 from Chelan High School and were married the same year. Their full and rich life together blessed them with 3 children, Jeff, Greg and Kim.

Family was everything to Duane and he always put 110% into everything he did. Duane was truly talented at everything he did. If there was a sport, Duane could do it - and usually better than anyone else while making it look effortless. If something needed to be fixed, he could fix it. If something could be built, he could build it. If someone needed help, he was always there - especially for his family and friends.

Duane's commitment to family was evidenced in his work career. He spent many years working hard to support his family, starting in his youth selflessly working alongside his father in order to make ends meet, taking a year off from high school as a teenager in order to support his father who suffered from significant health problems, and later working at Kelly's hardware and eventually owning and operating several businesses. In the last 30 years of his working career, Duane worked as a pipefitter, focusing on design, installation and oversight of fire suppression systems and other construction-related projects.

In 2012, he retired from Local 669 of the Pipefitter's Union. After retirement, Duane enjoyed taking care of his yard, fixing anything and everything around his house or those of his family, having coffee with his wife under the gazebo and spending time with family. He took his role as Papa very seriously and was dedicated to all things related to his grandkids; teaching them how to fix things, driving them around on the lawn tractor, watching plays, ballet recitals, football games, soccer matches and being present wherever their interests took them.

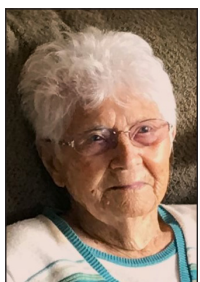

He is survived by his loving wife of 55 years, Doris Dunbar, his son and daughter-in-law, Jeff and Marianne Dunbar, son Greg Dunbar and daughter Kim Dunbar, 4 grandchildren, Tre de Imus, Lily de Imus, Carolyn Dunbar and Luke Dunbar. He was preceded in death by his father.

A Celebration of Life service will be at 2:30 p.m., Thursday, May 16, 2024, at the Chapel of the Valley, 378 Eastmont Ave., East Wenatchee.

Following the Celebration of Life service there will be a small gathering at the family's home. Friday, May 17, 2024 at 1:00 p.m. will be the interment at the Chelan Fraternal Cemetery at 55 Union Valley Rd, Chelan. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to The Human Fund or Chelan Valley Hope/Food Bank. Arrangements by Chapel of the Valley, East Wenatchee, WA - www.chapelofthevalleyincw.com

Robin June Cooke

Robin June Cooke was born in Eureka, Kansas on June 30, 1925.

Robin spent most of her youth in Santa Barbara, California. It was there that Robin met Robert Lawrence and they were married shortly after high school. They had their oldest son Bobby and then moved to Stevens Pass. In that setting they welcomed Joel and Tom to their family. Eventually Robin and Robert went in different directions.

Robin later married Bob Cooke. Robin, Bob and the boys loved camping at Wapato Point. Robin and Bob eventually purchased a cabin on Lake Chelan that had cold running water, limited electricity, and an outhouse. They rebuilt it into a beautiful home with all of the modern conveniences where they lived for over 50 years. In 2005 Robin and Bob moved into town. At the lake house and in town, Robin had a warm heart, loved people, and welcomed family, friends, and those in need into their home. Robin and Bob had many wonderful years together before his death in 2013.

A few years after Bob passed away, Robin crossed paths with Ken Polson. They found they loved spending time together and Ken became her partner in life until his death in 2021.

In her life Robin worked successfully as a restaurant manager, school bus driver, buyer for Aston Drug/ Aston's Cards and Gifts, and as a realtor for many years. She actively supported several other causes to support members of the community.

In 2022 Robin moved to Vancouver, WA to be close to family. Robin enjoyed her last years of life and peacefully passed away on April 20, 2024. Robin was preceded in death by her husband Bob; parents Marley and Grace; two brothers Jimmy and Vince; one sister Daphne; and one son Joel (Nancy also deceased). She is survived by three sisters, Doty, Sally, and Janis; two sons, Bob (Norma); Tom (Kristin); seven grandchildren; several great grandchildren; one great great grandchild; and several nieces and nephews and their children.

We love Robin and will miss her dearly.

Friends are invited to join the family to help celebrate Robin's life. Please join us at Riverwalk Park in Chelan on June 1, 2024, at 4:30pm.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Chelan Senior Center.

Frances Louise (Cathey) Draggoo

Frances Louise (Cathey) Draggoo, loving wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother was born on December 27, 1923 in Priest River, Idaho. In the next 100 years she lived a full and happy life. The six members of the Cathey family (now all deceased) moved to Chelan in the early 1930s. During the Depression father Wilson Cathey labored in the fruit and lumber industries while his wife, Maude, was a homemaker raising four children; Oliver, Donise, Frances, and Lester. Doing odd jobs while growing up (babysitting, taking in laundry, delivering papers and collecting money from Spokesman Review subscribers) allowed the kids to help the family survive. An excellent student and outstanding singer and pianist, (she recorded an album at 18), Frances graduated from Chelan High school in 1942. In 1943 she worked at Boeing on B-17s as a "Rosie the Riveter". The day before Mom died she and all other "Rosies" were honored with a Congressional Gold Medal. Frances studied at Seattle Pacific College in 1944 and joined the Navy WAVES serving at Jacksonville Naval Air Station. On September 20, 1946 she married Eli Victor Draggoo in Chelan, Washington. Their dedicated partnership lasted 56 years until Vic's passing in 2002.

Their union produced four children, each born in a different state. Eldest son, Tom, was born in Fort Monmouth, NJ, followed by Roy in Sacramento, CA, Jim in Chelan, WA, and Vicki in Albuquerque, NM. Dad retired as a Lieutenant Colonel from the Air Force in 1962, at last settling the family in Chelan.

Mom's transition to domestic life was smooth as she actively supported the musical/sports/drama and educational talents of her children. She shared her joy of music by teaching her children how to sing and harmonize, she loved fishing and camping with her family, she served for years as a counselor for the Methodist Youth Fellowship in Chelan, she enjoyed writing and sharing her poetry, pinochle parties, recurrent family reunions, and became interested in photography winning blue ribbons and cash prizes at many local fairs and contests. For decades her keyboard expertise and prolific song writing talent became a staple at weddings, funerals, and church services. She accompanied students in musical competitions and always loved playing for her family and friends. In her 80's Frances became proficient with her cell phone. She mastered the art of recording herself singing and playing on the piano. These recordings were shared via text to dozens of friends and family on a daily basis. This skill allowed her to remain connected with everyone during the long period of Covid isolation. As her vision diminished she never gave up singing and recording her 30 second bits to text cheer, joy, and words of encouragement to others. Frances lived independently in her Chelan home until just before her 100th birthday.

After moving to Blossom Valley Assisted Living in Wenatchee she continued to share her kindness, love, and humor with the caring staff and residents often playing the piano in the lobby. She established many new friendships and treasured her time there. As a lasting tribute shortly before her death she received a Quilt of Valor honoring her military service. She was proud of her service to her country and accepted the quilt with sincere gratitude.

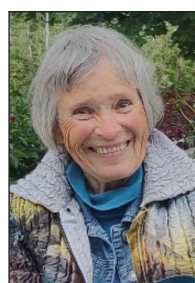

Her quiet "I Can" attitude began at a very young age and continued throughout her life.

She is survived by her four children, Tom (Teri Sue), Roy (Carol), Jim (Judy), Vicki (Dale) Hoffman, grandchildren Wyatt, Kevin, Brett, Matthew, David, Jenna, Elizabeth, Andrew, Christopher and 17 great-grandchildren.

Our heartfelt thanks to Blossom Valley and Hospice for their considerable care and loving attention to Mom's safety, dignity, and spirit. A memorial gathering will be held at a later date. In lieu of flowers please consider giving to your favorite charity.

Community meeting to showcase support for Chelan Butte Trails

Ward Media
Lake Chelan Mirror

Chelan - The Lake Chelan Trails Alliance is inviting the public to attend the second community meeting regarding the Chelan Butte Acquisition Feasibility Study.

The meeting, which aims to gather support for the development of trails on Chelan Butte, will be held at the Chelan Senior Center, 534 Trow Avenue, on Thursday, May 9 at 7 p.m.

Chelan Butte, an iconic landmark in the Lake Chelan Valley, offers recreational opportunities for both residents and visitors. However, nearly 900 acres in the middle of the Butte are privately owned by a single entity.

The Trust for Public Land (TPL) is currently conducting a feasibility study to explore potential public acquisition options for the preservation of the Butte.

The TPL aims to capture the values and uses that the Chelan community envisions for Chelan Butte, ensuring that the study reflects the community's long-term desires for the area.

The Feasibility Study has several key goals, including:

1. Detailing a vision for public use of the Butte
2. Determining a feasible ownership structure
3. Identifying financing options for both the purchase and ongoing maintenance of an open space area on the Butte

Attendees of the upcoming community meeting can expect an update on the study's progress. The meeting will also provide an opportunity for the public to offer input on how they would like to see the open space on Chelan Butte utilized. Additionally, potential funding mechanisms for this project will be reviewed.

The Lake Chelan Trails Alliance encourages all interested individuals to attend the meeting and show their support for the future of Chelan Butte and its trails.

Project Description: Conditional Use Permit for Adaptive Reuse of public buildings CMC 17.56.350
This project will be a mixed adaptive reuse of the old Lake Chelan hospital.
The first level, which consists of about 14,000 square feet, will continue to be used by Roots Community School, who have been an integral part of this space for about a year. Approximately 30% of the total floor area will be circulation space.
The third level, which consists of approximately 10,000 square feet, will see the second largest interior change, also being converted into a Coworking Office Space. Like the second level, this floor will be remodeled to consist of both private rentable offices as well as open concept coworking space.
