Royal Lady's new parade float makes sweet debut

By TAYLOR CALDWELL
Ward Media Staff Reporter

LEAVENWORTH - The new theme for the Royal Lady's float, which will represent Leavenworth at 11 Pacific Northwest festivals this year, was unveiled on April 23.

This year, the float's theme is "Treat Yourself to Leavenworth," and is covered with gumdrops, lollipops, and a gingerbread man skating on a taffy river. The "pièce de résistance" is a six-foot-tall double scoop ice cream cone. The large float is accompanied by a smaller float, which resembles an old-fashioned classic car with the same sweet treat theme. The smaller float will be utilized for festivals that are further away.

Each year, the annually appointed Royal Lady of the Autumn Leaves travels to festivals and parades across the PNW, representing Leavenworth's spirit throughout Washington, Oregon, and British Columbia. To close out the festival season, Leavenworth will host each of these locations during its very own Autumn Leaf Festival in September.

The float took approximately two months to build, and was led by Myndi Graham and Scott and Linda Bradshaw. The Bradshaws will accompany this year's Royal Lady Sandy Houston on her six-month-long festivities.

"We wanted to be more whimsical this year, and just have fun with the float," said former Royal Lady Linda Bradshaw.

The unveiling was the first time Houston had the opportunity to see the float. The moment was celebrated with the inaugural chicken dance, with adults and children joining in.

"[The unveiling] was so much fun, because she is so excited to be the Royal Lady," said Bradshaw.

Leavenworth City Council prioritizes arts education and water resources

At its most recent meeting, the Leavenworth City Council proclaimed May as Arts Education Month, recognizing the role of the arts in education and community life.

LEAVENWORTH - The Leavenworth City Council meeting on April 22 focused on key community priorities, including a proclamation supporting arts education and a presentation on the city's future water sources.

A significant portion of the meeting was dedicated to community development and future planning including a presentation on water source feasibility from RH2 Engineering, a crucial step in ensuring the city's long-term water supply amid simultaneous drought and growth.

The council also unanimously adopted Proclamation 02-2025, declaring May as Arts Education Month. Mayor Carl Florea signed the proclamation, emphasizing that "arts learning is a fundamental part of basic education for all Pre-K-12 students regardless of race, geography, ability, identities, and socioeconomic status." The proclamation further acknowledged that "students benefit most when arts learning is designed to be accessible to all, and when curriculum is culturally relevant." The proclamation also recognized the numerous benefits of arts education, including "increased confidence, academic achievement, understanding of cultures and histories, innovation, school engagement, and critical thinking," and encouraged the community to "strengthen efforts that increase access to arts education for every student."

Monica Miller, Executive Director of Icicle Creek Center for the Arts, spoke in favor of the proclamation, expressing her hope that it would spur on the arts in the Upper Valley. Tracey Edou, Cascade School District Superintendent, voiced her gratitude for those who support the arts in the community, emphasizing that art is a critical part of Cascade School District.

The council also unanimously formalized its commitment to LEAVENWORTH - In honor of Earth Day, the Leavenworth Lions Club announced that it will be taking steps to reduce waste when serving community pancake breakfasts in Lions Club Park this year.

From May through September each year, the Leavenworth Lions Club serves an all-you-can-eat pancake breakfast on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month. The proceeds support local and international Lions Club projects, including sight, hearing, and diabetes education and support, providing assistance to local food banks, and providing scholarships.

While it has prioritized recycling in years past, the local chapter wanted to seek out more ways to minimize their environmental impact. After conferring with the local environmental nonprofit Waste Loop and Winton Manufacturing (MFG) Compost Works, the club will switch to using compostable items, including plates, cups, and eating utensils.

According to the local chapter, the move intends to meet one of the goals of Lions Club International: "The environment is our home. The earth sustains human life. Our environment is more than a background, it's our home. And we're committed to caring for it."

The Lions Club pancake breakfast, which runs from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Saturdays, will return to Lions Club Park on May 11.

Chelan County Assessor talks property values at Lake Wenatchee meeting

By CAROLINE MENNA
Ward Media Intern

LAKE WENATCHEE - Chelan County Assessor Wes Cornelius met with residents of Leavenworth and Plain on Wednesday, April 23, at the Administrative Office of Lake Wenatchee Fire and Rescue as one in a series of community outreach meetings this spring. The well-attended meeting, at which County Commissioner Shon Smith was also present, provided a platform for the Assessor to explain the intricacies of property assessment and address specific questions and concerns from local property owners.

For those unfamiliar, a county assessor is a public official responsible for determining the value of properties within a county for property tax purposes. This value is used to calculate the amount of property tax owed by residents and businesses. The assessor also maintains records of property ownership and other relevant property information.

Cornelius, who has been with the office since 2008, highlighted recent positive developments within his department, including an office reorganization aimed at optimizing staff roles and the office being on track for timely issuance of assessment notices. He also noted an approximate 4% increase in county

What we leave behind

Most of us won't leave behind statues or headlines. But maybe — just maybe — a few words we said, a kindness we offered, or a hand we extended will echo longer than we know. I was reminded of that recently while texting with a friend from high school. We were swapping stories, catching up on life after all these years, when he shared something I had never known: how a simple gesture from a neighbor during a tough time had stuck with him. He said he was about 16, struggling with school, confidence, and life in general. One afternoon, a neighbor asked him to help mow the lawn. Afterward, the man handed him a glass of lemonade, clapped him on the shoulder, and said, "You're a good worker. I hope you know that." It was such a small moment — no lecture, no grand advice. Just a quiet affirmation. But all these years later, my friend still remembers it. He said it was the first time in a long time he felt like he was good at something. Like he mattered. A passing comment on an ordinary day. A seed planted. We often think about legacy in big terms — buildings named after someone, awards stacked on shelves, fortunes left behind. But maybe the real legacy lives in quieter places: in encouragement offered at the right time, in compassion extended when it wasn't required, in trust placed in someone still finding their way. It lives in the student who remembers the teacher who said, "You can do this." It lives in the employee who recalls the boss who believed in him when he was just starting out. It lives in the neighbor who made a kid feel seen on an ordinary summer afternoon. Most of the time, we never know the full impact of what we say or do. A small kindness, an extra minute of patience, a word of encouragement — they ripple outward in ways we rarely get to witness. It's tempting to believe that legacies are built with grand gestures. But more often, they are built quietly, moment by moment, conversation by conversation, hand to shoulder, lemonade glass to hand. In the end, maybe what matters most isn't what we leave for others — not wealth, not monuments — but what we leave in them: hope, belief, a spark to keep going. Those are the true monuments we build, one heart at a time. OBITUARY

Anita Louise (Farnsworth) Wisemore

Anita Louise (Farnsworth) Wisemore went to be with her Lord on Christmas Day, December 25, 2024. Born to Simeon Osro and Margaret Magdeline (Meyers) Farnsworth in Ovando, MT on June 8,1925; she was the last surviving child of the couple's 11 children. The family moved several times during Anita's early years until they settled in Leavenworth, WA. She married Royal A. Wisemore, also of Leavenworth, in 1951. Military life took her to Germany, Kentucky, Alaska, Arizona and back to Washington State. During that time they had two children, Kait (Wisemore) Koenig of Tumwater, WA and Jack Wisemore of Bothell, WA. After Royal retired from the military, the family moved to Yakima, WA where Anita raised the children and where a steady stream of friends and extended family came throughout the day

“to have a cup of coffee at Nita's.” In the mid 1980s she moved to Mountlake Terrace, WA to assist her sister Hazel Price in operating Price Ministries, a Christian missions and missionary support organization. Retiring from Price Ministries, Anita moved to Tumwater, WA to live with Kait's family, where she was “Myna”, a nickname from her oldest grandson's mispronunciation of “Grandma”, to the many people who cycled through the house. She was always ready to lend an ear to anyone over a cup of coffee and prayed constantly for those within her orbit. She was preceded in death by her parents Simeon and Margaret (Meyers) Farnsworth, her husband Royal Wisemore and her 11 siblings: Patricia Howerton, Henry Farnsworth, Sylvia Lierman, Benjamin Farnsworth, Margaret Michaelis, Simeon Farnsworth Jr., Martha Tobias, Jennie Troemel, Betty Harris and Hazel Price. She is survived by her two children, their spouses and children: Kait, Bob, Grant (Chloe), and Aidan Koenig of Tumwater, WA; Jack, Jennifer, Isla, and Sophie Wisemore of Bothell, WA and many generations of nieces and nephews. Memorial contributions can be made to Price Ministries at priceministries.org.

Jackie Dean Camp

“Life is eternal, Love is immortal. And death is nothing but a horizon; and the horizon is nothing save the limit of our sight”. – Rossiter W Raymond

Jackie Dean Camp, age 93, was called back over the horizon to his heavenly home early on the morning of April 5, 2025. He was a man of true service and charity to everyone he met, a supportive husband and a loving father and grandfather. We will miss him dearly, but we know he is in a better place, reunited with family and friends already departed, enjoying a painless existence with a full head of hair...

He was a Texan in the truest sense of the word. He loved football, and of course his favorite team was the Dallas Cowboys! He also loved fishing, camping and the outdoors, especially Icicle Canyon.

He is survived by his eternal companion; Loretta June Keas and two of his children; Randall Dean Camp, and Christie Renee Petersen... as well as his Son-in-law Justin James Petersen and his five grandchildren and one grandson-in-law; Matalae, K'leanne (& Charles Shaner), Jaxtin, Lily'rei and Islanei. He reunites on the other side with his parents, Cecil C Camp and Mattie Beatrice Hornbuckle; his sisters, Helen Joan Camp Haley and Johnnie Irene Camp Deel; and his son, Steven Wayne Camp.

He was born on November 14, 1931 in Irving, Texas, as the second child of three children and the only son of Cecil and Beatrice Camp. Growing up in Irving and just a stones throw away from the original Cowboy's Stadium in Irving, and playing football thru his youth and into High School... his love of football was born and this continued to be a passion for Jackie for the rest of his life.

After graduating from Irving High School, Jackie worked for Dallas Power and Light for 25 years. As a youth he developed a mechanically oriented mind and a love for work while helping his father in the family garage; this would also become a main theme of his life.

Jackie loved to water ski and in Texas, with the warm lakes and rivers he honed his skills over the years and became quite an expert. Even later in life, and in the colder waters of the Columbia River, at an age when most men, even younger ones would have some difficulty, Jackie could put on a show. He could take some slack from the line and take off directly from the shore, ski on one ski and make his way perfectly back to shore without hardly even getting wet.

Jackie also loved to bowl and was a very good bowler. He bowled in several different leagues and won many trophies as a bowler. One evening a pretty young woman caught his eye at one of these bowling events and the rest is history as they say. Literally.

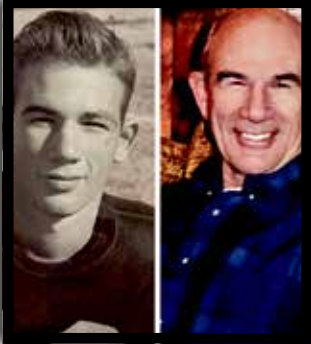

On April 12, 1963 Jackie would marry the true love of his life and the woman he would spend the rest of his life with, Loretta June Keas.

Just a few years after being married, Jackie and Loretta would be tracted into and taught and baptized by missionaries of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (LDS) in October of 1965. In 1970 they would adopt their beautifully joyful daughter Christie Renee, just a few months old at the time. This decision would shape the rest of their lives and their eternity and lead them to the Mesa Arizona LDS Temple to be sealed for time and all eternity as a family on April 21, 1971.

In 1977 they decided to make a cross country move to Leavenworth Washington; thru many hardships and adventures along the way they arrived in Leavenworth and purchased land on Wilson Street off of Icicle Road. 'Icicle Meadows', as they called it would become Jackie's new home for nearly 50 years.

Jackie would begin a decades long service to the community thru his Leavenworth Auto Shop off of Highway 2, this staple of the community would be the 'go to' auto mechanic shop for the valley for many, many years. Developing lifelong friendships as Jackie repaired vehicle after vehicle with his friendly smile and loving nature; a truly honest mechanic, which is soo very hard to find.

His service did not end there, Jackie also served in multiple positions of leadership for the LDS Church in Leavenworth. As a counselor to the Branch President (pastor) of the congregation, to serving as the Branch President for many years, even overseeing the growth of the congregation and the expansion of the LDS church building in Leavenworth. Jackie also served as a high counselor for the Wenatchee Stake encompassing multiple congregations thru out the area. Jackie was always seen with a smile on his face, a twinkle in his eye, and loving concern for everyone he came into contact with while serving in these positions within the Church.

Jackie loved his family and was always willing and able to help any of them in any way that he could. He truly loved his grand children, and was dearly loved by all of them as well. He showed them by example how to live and to love well, to reach out with real Charity, the pure love of Christ to the lonely and forgotten, giving service and showing love to everyone he came in contact with. Jackie was a valiant disciple of Jesus Christ and held a deep testimony and unshakable belief in his Heavenly Father. Jackie truly left his family and everyone who knew him a legacy of love. Love for each of them, a love for others, and especially a love for his Savior, Jesus Christ.

The heavens opened their arms to this caring and loving man and we know he has commenced his work spreading the gospel to those on the other side of the veil. The whispering of the Master could be heard; "Well done, Well done, Thy good and faithful Son".

Well done thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Matthew 25:21

Funeral services will be held on Friday June 13, 2025, at 5 p.m., at the Leavenworth Ward, 10170 Titus Rd., Leavenworth WA 98826. In true Dallas Cowboy fashion, and to his honor, we ask that you wear something blue to the memorial services.

Shine bright daddy. You're watching over me, I know. I love you so much and will miss you everyday. Christie.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Dante Aurilio Boys Soccer Senior

Dante is the heart of the Cascade Boys Soccer Team's defense. A true leader on and off the field, Dante uses his sharp instincts and anticipation to consistently shut down the opposition's top offensive threats, helping the team give up very few goals. He not only defends but also sparks the attack, setting plays in motion from the back line.

Dante is known for his positivity, team-first attitude, and support for his teammates. In addition to his soccer talent, he's also an accomplished hockey player and will be traveling the country after the season to play for development and semi-pro hockey teams. Dante's presence makes the entire team better.

LEAVENWORTH - Cascade defeated Okanogan 2-0 ending the Bulldogs' 11-0 unbeaten streak and bettering their own record to a splendid 8-2.

Dante Aurilio fires a penalty kick with about a quarter-hour to go in the game to finally give the Kodiaks the lead against a vaunted Okanogan squad. The Kodiaks won 2-0, handing the Bulldogs their first loss after an 11-0 start to the season.

Cascade High School students named semifinalists for U.S. Presidential Scholars Program

By TAYLOR CALDWELL
Ward Media Staff Reporter

LEAVENWORTH – Cascade High School students Cruz Martinez and Caroline Menna have been named semi-finalists for the prestigious 2025 U.S. Presidential Scholars Program, one of the nation's highest honors for high school students. The U.S. Presidential Scholars Program annually recognizes and honors the nation's most distinguished graduating high school seniors. Students are nominated across the country based on academic achievement, artistic excellence, or accomplishments in career and technical education, with candidates identified through standardized test scores, nominations by state superintendents, or recognition programs like YoungArts. In December 2024, approximately 6,000 students were nominated to apply for the program. Menna and Martinez were two out of 20 candidates nominated by Washington State. The candidates' applications were evaluated by a review commission based on their academic achievement, personal characteristics, leadership and service activities, and an analysis of their essay. Out of the pool of 6,000 candidates, approximately 650 students were selected as semifinalists. Menna and Martinez are two of the only nine semifinalists from Washington state. The semifinalists will be further evaluated by the Commission on Presidential Scholars. In May, up to 161 U.S. Presidential Scholars for 2025 will be announced. In June, scholars will be invited to Washington, D.C. to be presented with the U.S. Presidential Scholars medallion in a White House-sponsored event. The U.S. Presidential Scholars Program was established in 1964 by executive order of the president in order to recognize and honor the nation's most distinguished high school seniors. In 1979, it was extended to recognize students who demonstrate talent in visual, creative, and performing arts. In 2015, it was extended to recognize accomplishments in career and technical education fields.

Cascade High School students join forces for school's third annual Community Clean Up

By VANESSA IBARRA
CHS Publications Group

LEAVENWORTH — Friday morning, students at Cascade High School (CHS) eagerly prepared for the school's third annual Community Clean-Up in Leavenworth. Students first reported to their advisory classes, where they received trash bags, gloves, and were assigned specific areas to clean. The event was organized by the CHS Interact Club, a student-led organization, sponsored by the Leavenworth Rotary, that promotes leadership, community service, and school involvement. The Leavenworth Rotary Club, a branch of Rotary International, focuses on initiatives like education, peace, health promotion, and humanitarian aid. Rotary regularly partners with Interact to support events like the Community Clean-up. CHS senior Jaxson Groby, Interact's Vice President, helped coordinate the event. He worked with Rotary to secure support and supplies for the clean-up. "I went to talk to Rotary at the beginning of April and asked if they would want to come to our service event. Since Interact is under Rotary, they're our partners. The community gives us so much, so it's always good to give back. It's great for the community to see the high school out taking care of our town," said Groby. CHS has a total of 19 flex classes - a designated time during the school day where students can engage in various activities, including extra help, enrichment opportunities

- across the four levels of students from freshmen to seniors, each of which were tasked with filling at least two trash bags. Students were dispersed to various areas in Leavenworth, including Ski Hill, the Wenatchee River Institute, and surrounding neighborhoods. Equipped with gloves, students combed through their assigned areas collecting rubbish. The event not only benefits the community but also helps students understand the importance of environmental stewardship. CHS hopes to continue this meaningful tradition for years to come.

Vanessa Ibarra is a junior at CHS and on the staff of the school's Publications Group. She will be an editor for the group in the 2025-26 school year.

EAST WENATCHEE — The Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society will present a hybrid program, "Where Did Your Family Tree Grow?", on Monday, May 12, from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

WAGS members Cathie and Brian Wengreen will lead the presentation at the FamilySearch Center, 667 10th Street NE, East Wenatchee, and online via Zoom.

The Wengreens will share "pictures and details of their trip to the Netherlands last year" and broaden the discussion to explore how individuals can uncover the roots of their own family stories.

"Where did your family tree grow? Why would you want to know? Have you ever been there? What could you gain by knowing more about where your family story began?" they ask in their event description.

The meeting is free and open to the public. Zoom information is available by emailing Library@wags-web.org. For general inquiries, call 509-782-4046.

The Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society maintains a library at 127 South Mission, Museum Annex Building, open Tuesdays and Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m. More information is available at www.wags-web.org.

City Council

"welcoming Immigrants" by adopting Resolution 09-2025, thereby affirming Leavenworth's commitment to being a welcoming and inclusive community for people of all backgrounds. The resolution states that

"our community's success depends on making sure that all residents feel welcome," and acknowledges that "newcomers bring energy and innovation to our economy and add to the richness of our community." By formalizing its stance, the City joins a growing number of municipalities nationwide working to foster belonging, trust, and shared prosperity for immigrants and longtime residents alike.

The council also addressed other city business including passing Resolution 12-2025 to voice support for the Salmon Lifecycle Learning Landscape Project at the Leavenworth Fish Hatchery and approving the first round of vehicle fleet purchases for 2025. In short, the meeting highlighted Leavenworth's focus on both planning for the future, particularly regarding water resources, and celebrating the arts and community values.

County Assessor

property prices over the past couple of years, information crucial for understanding upcoming assessments.

The question-and-answer session saw active engagement from the community, with several key concerns raised. One resident inquired about the January 1 valuation date, questioning why it was not closer to the spring selling season for vacation homes. Cornelius explained that while the Washington State law does not strictly mandate January 1, the Department of Revenue has requirements that make it a necessary date for their processes.

The topic of assessment accuracy compared to sales prices was also raised. Cornelius noted that last year, on average, homes in the county sold for 20% more than their assessed value, with an 83% rate. He emphasized the office's goal is for every person to be able to sell their property for at least its assessed value, stating they do not focus on under-appraised properties.

Regarding the frequency of physical inspections, Cornelius explained that while Washington state law mandates every six years, Chelan County inspects each property every four years. This more frequent cycle, done on a rotational basis across different areas (with a handout detailing the schedule), provides a more current comparison of the tax roll to reality and offers a buffer for hard-to-reach areas like Stehekin. Cornelius believes this four-year cycle is fairer to the community. During these inspections, the assessor reviews the previous assessment, looking for signs of deterioration (average maintenance) or significant improvements (above average), which factor into the valuation.

Questions also arose concerning limitations on property tax increases. Cornelius explained that at the county level, property taxes can only increase by 1%. He also touched upon Washington Senate Bill (SB) 5798, which proposes to remove the current limit on property tax increases at the state level, allowing for adjustments based on inflation and population growth, a potential change that has sparked considerable debate.

Finally, Cornelius addressed the technology used in the Assessor's Office, clarifying that unlike some jurisdictions, Chelan County's assessments are largely done manually by staff, utilizing Excel spreadsheets rather than specialized computer programs. He also reiterated the timeline for assessments: the office is currently analyzing sales data from 2024, residents will receive their appraisals in 2025, and they will pay taxes on this new value in 2026, meaning there is a two-year lag between the sales data being reviewed and when those values impact tax bills.

The meeting in Leavenworth was the second of four community outreach sessions planned across Chelan County. The final two meetings are scheduled for:

- The Chelan and Manson areas: 6 to 7 p.m. on May 21 at Chelan City Hall, located at 135 E. Johnson Ave. in Chelan.
- The Cashmere and South Wenatchee/Malaga areas: 6 to 7 p.m. on June 18 at Cashmere City Hall, located at 101 Woodring St. In Cashmere.

Thank you.

The communities we serve passed this Levy with an incredible 77% “yes” vote (at press time).

That overwhelming vote is a demonstration of your trust in our ability to provide you care, and we are honored be there for you when every moment counts.

This Levy passage ensures continued, dedicated funding so we can be there for you whenever you need us - 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

Thank you for giving us the opportunity to serve you when you need us most.

Last week, Cascade Medical asked our community to help fund our Emergency Services Levy. This Levy is vital for our ability to provide Ambulance Services, including Paramedics and Emergency Medical Technicians, and Hospital Emergency Department Services for more than 35 years.

It was time for us to ask for your partnership once again. And once again, as you have done for over three decades, your confidence in us spoke volumes at the ballot box.

In short – we are so grateful. Again – thank you.
